In Memoriam.

BILTON.—In loving memory of Willie Bilton, who died at Redfern, September 1st, 1900. Inserted by his nephew and nieces, Tom, Florrie, and Amy Anderson. "Safe in the arms of Jesus."

BILTON.—In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Willie, who passed peacefully away at Redfern, September 1, 1900, aged 19 years and 10 months.

The midnight stars are shining upon a silent grave,
Where sleepeth, without dreaming, our Willie we could not save.

Inserted by his loving parents, brothers, and sisters.

CORREY.—In loving memory of our dear son, James Arthur Bawden, who died at Cabarita on August 31st, 1900.

The trial was hard, the loss severe,
To part with one we loved so dear;
But our sad loss was our dear one's gain,
We know we'll meet in heaven again.

Inserted by his loving father and mother.

CORREY.—In loving memory of our dear brother, James Arthur Bawden, who died at Cabarita on August 31st, 1900.

Sudden was his death, the pain severe,
That took our brother away from here.
God healed his pain, He did His best,
He took our brother home to rest.

Inserted by his loving brothers and sisters.

CORREY.—In sad and loving memory of Arthur, who departed this life August 31, 1900.
Until the day breaks and shadows flee away.
Inserted by Sadie.

DWYER.—In loving remembrance of my dear mother, Mary Ann Dwyer, who departed this life, August 30, 1879. Sweet Jesus have mercy on her soul. Inserted by her loving daughter, Cissie.

GRIESSBAUER.—In sad memory of my beloved husband, Charles William, who died Aug. 31st, 1900, at his late residence, 5 Craigend-street, Darlinghurst, Sydney, Australia, after three days' illness, aged 38 years and 8 months. "Sweet Jesus have mercy on his soul." Son of the late C. G. Griessbauer (Uhthoff), Stanley Gardens, W. London. Inserted by his loving wife, Elizabeth Eleanor, 5 Craigend-street, Darlinghurst, Sydney. London papers kindly copy.

HOOKWAY.—In sad but loving memory of John Hookway, who died August 31, 1894. At rest. Inserted by his widow and children.

JOHNSTON.—In loving memory of our dear daughter, Ethel May Johnston, who died at her parents' residence, 6 Cleveland-street, Darlington, August 30, 1900, aged 13 years 6 months. Thy will be done.

Grieve not for me, dear mother,
For I was only lent;
In love I lived, in peace I died;
Thou asked my life, it was denied.

Inserted by her loving parents, sister, and brother.

MOON.—In loving memory of my dear husband, who departed this life August 31, 1895, at his late residence, 13 Phillip-st., Waterloo. Inserted by his loving wife and affectionate children, E. V. Moon.
As the ivy clings to the oak, so does my memory cling to thee.

SMITH.—In loving memory of our dear mother, Rosina Smith, who died at 112 Liverpool-road, Ashfield, August 30th, 1900. Inserted by her two daughters, L. Dray and A. Smith.

TEMBY.—In loving memory of William J. Temby, who died at Charleville, Queensland, August 31st, 1899. Inserted by his loving sisters, E. Temby and J. Temby.

TOELLE.—In sad but loving memory of my dear husband and our father, Henry Toelle, who departed this life August 31st, 1900. Inserted by his loving wife and family. At rest.

VICKERY.—In loving memory of my dear wife and our mother, Clara Louisa Vickery, who departed this life September 1st, 1900. Inserted by her loving husband and sons, Arthur and Norman. Deeply regretted.

WHITTY.—In sad but ever loving memory of our dear mother, Sarah Whitty, died August 30th, 1893; and our dear brother, David, died 1st May, 1897. Inserted by Joe, Tom, and Alf.

In sad but loving memory of my dear Sister, Jane Gertrude Clifton, who died August 31, 1896. Inserted by her loving sister, Mrs. J. Hammond.

Sleep on, dear sister, take thy rest,
The pain and suffering are o'er;
And thou hast left a troubled world,
To reach a peaceful shore.

LADY HUNTWORTH'S EXPERIMENT
LADY HUNTWORTH'S EXPERIMENT,

An Original Comedy in Three Acts,
by R. C. CARTON.

EXTRACTS FROM THE LONDON PRESS:—

"Times" says:—"The whole has an air of frankness and freshness and good humour. The audience last night heartily enjoyed 'Lady Huntworth's Experiment.'"

"Daily Telegraph" says:—"Without a shadow of doubt it kept the Criterion audience thoroughly alive last night. 'Lady Huntworth's Experiment' is a clever play. The brightness of its dialogue, and the deftness of his construction have conspired to put another feather in Mr. Carton's cap."

"Daily Chronicle" says:—"The story is eminently original. A very entertaining piece."

"Daily Mail" says:—"Possesses everything that a brilliant dramatist can give—wit, characterisation, purity, charm."

The BOX PLAN for the Opening Night (Saturday next) of "Lady Huntworth's Experiment" will be on view at ELVY'S on MONDAY MORNING AT 10 O'CLOCK.

IT IS ARTISTIC,
IT IS DISTINCTIVE, and
IT IS ORIGINAL.

THE SOLE AGENCY FOR THESE SUPERB PIANOS IS IN THE HANDS OF

NICHOLSON AND CO.,
GEORGE-STREET.

IS THE PIANOLA MECHANICAL?

NO! NO! NO!

Let us clear the ground once for all on this important question. If there is one thing more than another that the PIANOLA IS NOT it is just this,

IT IS NOT MECHANICAL.

All technique is mechanical, even when the media used are your own fingers, and just so far as the mere playing is concerned it makes no difference whether the fingers employed are your fingers or the Pianola fingers. Everything the body does is mechanical, because it is done by human mechanism.

BUT the mind makes use of you fingers to express what you have in your mind—TASTE, FEELING, SYMPATHY, and all the delicate nuances of light and shade that only mind can express and delight in. So whether you go through years of patient drudgery and practice to supply the mere lifeless fingering, or you get a PIANOLA to do it for you, you will start from that point where the mind catches up the composer's meaning and paints the tone-picture with truth and judgment.

In the one case a life-long study to produce indifferently what the PIANOLA will do in a few minutes perfectly and faultlessly; in the other case, a life spent in enjoying to the full all that music expresses without the physical fag of studies and scales.

Call and See the PIANOLA, AEOLIAN, and ORCHESTRELLE. Our Showrooms are at your disposal, and we are performing all day on these Instruments. If you cannot call, send for Catalogue A, giving further particulars and illustrations.

THAT LAST THREE POUNDS—IS BRAINS.

Brains!
That's it.
That's what counts.
You can't think with your Feet,
However big and heavy.
All men are similar
Up to a Certain Point.
There,—
They part company.
The difference is Brains.
One Man,
Editor of a Melbourne Paper,
Whose self-esteem
Was far more weighty
Than his Thoughts,
Once boasted that he tipped
The Scales
At only three Pounds less
Than George Reid's weight.
He seemed to think
That Reid is great
Because he is heavy.
But that three Pounds—
The three Pounds that he lacked
Was Brains.
Brains make all the difference
In Men—
And in Photographers.
Up to a Point,
Photographers are all alike.
You cannot tell until you try,
Then you are surprised
That the Photographs from
The Crown Studios
Are so much better.
Some are cheaper,
Many are dearer. But!
We have that last three pounds
Of Brains;
The art of knowing what to do
And doing it.
It's only one—ONE step from
The Sublime to the Ridiculous
In Photography.
That last touch,
The last Pound of Brains,
Makes what you want,
Artistic Photographs.

Shakespeare, King Edward, Kipling you see,
Embodied by the Great Henry Lee,
Then Kelly and Ashby, the dude and the clown,
Tumblers and acrobats of world renown.
Charles Sweet, the musical burglar, appears,
To be received with hearty cheers.
The Picks and Joe Gassman are next in line,
And as laugh-provokers they greatly shine.
Next, Arthur Nelstone, of the London stage,
Whose eccentric dancing is all the rage.
Now come forth the Sisters Mahr,
Who can kick as high as the distant star.
The Tobins are the next you see,
Who play and sing sweet melodie.
Then Francis Gwynne, the soprano great,
Whose pictured song a story relate.
Then Allan Shaw, the "Coin King,"
Who makes money from nowhere spring.
Now the fire-dancer, Astrelleta's her name,
Whose wonderful work is known to fame.
Last, but not least, there is to be seen
The Projectoscope, Edison's picture machine.

PROMINENT COMMERCIAL FIRMS who are PATRONS OF STOTT AND HOARE'S BUSINESS COLLEGE, the Representative Australian Institution for Teaching SHORTHAND, TYPEWRITING, BOOKKEEPING, and all Business Subjects.

The following list shows a few only of the Sydney firms who have employed past students of Stott and Hoare's Business College. A full list would include nearly all the most prominent firms of Sydney.

There are many parents who would willingly pay a premium for the privilege of getting their sons or daughters into positions offered by these houses.

The patronage of Sydney's leading business houses is a pleasing recognition of the value of the College's educational methods.

IMPERIAL HOTEL, ARMIDALE.
For SALE, the BUSINESS, Furniture, Stock, Lease, License, and Goodwill of the well-known IMPERIAL HOTEL, Armidale.
The "Imperial" is the Premier Hotel of the north, being one of the best, if not the best, country hotel outside of Sydney.
It is a comparatively new two-story brick building, containing 40 bedrooms, 10 parlours, 2 dining-rooms, 3 bathrooms, 1 billiard-room, in addition to ample kitchen accommodation, pantries, &c.; 5 splendid sample-rooms, 10-stall brick stable, coachhouses, feedrooms, &c.; 9 years' lease to run at small rental; guaranteed takings over £100 per week, occupying the very best business corner in Armidale.
This hotel has only been erected 11 years, and was conducted by the late Mr. John Kickham for 8 years, and during past 3 years by Mrs. Kickham. The business is increasing every year, and a suitable energetic man can make a certain fortune in a very short time. Everything is in perfect order, well furnished from top to bottom, and will be sold as a going concern. To bona-fide buyers entirely satisfactory reasons will be given why Mrs. Kickham desires to sell out of such a good-paying business.
This hotel is so well and favourably known all over the State of N. S. Wales that it is unnecessary to say anything further. Inspection invited. Every information given on application to the agents,

THE CRIME OF SCAMDEN MILL.

BEING THE STORY OF A NOTABLE YORKSHIRE MYSTERY,

And containing the several narratives of those persons who were chiefly concerned therein. The whole collated and arranged by Mr. Wilberforce Strafford, Solicitor, and now first made public.

By C. DUDLEY LAMPEN.

THE DUTCH CLOCK

From my very soul I felt an indescribable loathing of the man as he concluded his story. It was all plain enough to me now, and my suspicions had been proved to be correct. Strangely enough, too, my courage began to revive. I despised these cold-blooded heartless villains, and resolved that if I must die, I would die game.

"Have you anything to say?" asked Borio, after a few minutes silence. "Because in less than a quarter of an hour we must leave you," and he looked at his watch.

"I do not know what you intend to do with me," I said, "but I have one piece of information to give you—I have seen the foot."

I hardly know why I told them this, but the effect on them was immediately apparent.

They turned pale and looked at each other in amazement.

"Where did you see it?" they asked together.

"In my own house, Scamden Hall. It was brought to me."

"Brought to you! Who brought it?"

This I declined to tell them. Had I said too much? I dreaded the possible consequences to Lucy Shaw; and they were such desperate men, and now so deeply immersed in crime that I dare not say anything that might involve her.

"You will gain no object by your refusal; and it is very important that we should know by whom the foot was discovered," said Borio presently, with a menacing look.

But I was firmly resolved that nothing should compel me to betray the Sexton's daughter. "I shall give you no further information," I said, now regretting that I had mentioned the foot, "but I warn you that if you do me any bodily harm the law will avenge me."

"The law!" sneered my affectionate relative. "Ha! we shall soon be beyond its reach. As for yourself, you will soon be beyond its aid. Look here!" So saying he rose, and stepping across the room, opened the door of a cupboard. It was a large one, and being exactly opposite the lamp, I could quite plainly see its contents. First there was a sort of box strongly made, about a yard high. He dragged it out and placed it before me.

"Pretty article, isn't it," he remarked with his Satanic smile. "Well, allow me to explain! You see this?" and he pointed to a small hole near the bottom of the box. "See! I insert the rod,"—he took an iron rod about seven feet long from the cupboard, and fixed it to some arrangement within the hole. The other end projected till it almost touched the wall of the room, so that the point was exactly under an old-fashioned Dutch clock, which ticked away vigorously, and, as I noticed, now pointed to a quarter to one.

"Watch me!" he said, holding his foot over the end of the rod. He then brought it down upon the rod, gently pressing it towards the floor.

It needed but a slight touch, and suddenly the lid of the box collapsed, while at the same time the sides fell out, and the whole structure sank flat on to the floor.

"What do you think of it, eh?" inquired the Spaniard, with a cunning leer.

But I did not reply, for I was both too weary and too uneasy to enter further into conversation with them.

Borio looked at me meditatively for a few moments, and then beckoned his companions from the room. I heard them conversing in low tones in the passage. Presently they returned.

"We have decided to give you one chance for your life," said Borio, "and it is on condition that you tell us how you obtained sight of the foot."

"That I refuse to do," I replied; and I adhered to my determination in spite of their united threats and persuasions, till at length they desisted.

"It's time we were off," said Jack Selwyn, at length, "and since we can do nothing with this stubborn mule we may as well do the job and be gone."

An hour earlier I should have been overcome with horror at the thought of death; but their words as I have said aroused both my indignation and courage. If I must die it should be as a brave man. I glanced round the gloomy little room. There was no means of escape; besides I was firmly secured to the chair. True, there was a small window which faced, so I supposed, the kitchen of the next house—an empty one. I might escape by that way if only I could get free of my bonds. But what could I do with handcuffed wrists and rope-bound arms?

"The finale of this interesting drama is now about to commence, Sir Charles!" said Borio, with another of his bows. As he spoke he began to loosen the rope which bound me to the chair.

"What do you intend to do?" I said.

"I intend to blow out your brains,—unless you obey me, he replied, taking a revolver from his pocket, and holding the muzzle close to my head.

As it was plain that resistance on my part would be useless, I had no course but to submit to whatever treatment they might choose to inflict.

* * * * *

It was about four o'clock in the afternoon, as near as I could guess, and the light of the winter's day was rapidly fading outside the window of the little back kitchen. My head reeled so that I could hardly balance myself on the box-like structure which stood in the middle of the floor. But move I dare not, for my neck was encircled by a hempen line which only allowed the most scanty amount of play, while a fall from the little platform on which I had been placed might mean instant death, either by strangulation or by dislocation of the neck. Unless help came to me very soon I must fall.

Yet I felt thankful for this respite, a resite as wonderful as it was unexpected, for the clock had stopped!

How it came about I will now relate. I can vouch for the fact that the stopping of that old Dutch clock was my salvation, and as I write now I can only affirm that I believe a Divine Providence directly interposed on my behalf.

CURRENT LITERATURE.

A CENTURY OF LAW REFORM.

The Council of Legal Education arranged for the delivery towards the close of last year and the early months of 1901 of lectures recording and illustrating the improvements made in English law and in its administration since the year 1800. These lectures have now been published by Messrs. Macmillan and Co. under the title, "A Century of Law Reform: Twelve Lectures on the Changes in the Law of England during the Nineteenth Century." The contributors are Dr. W. Blake Odgers, with three papers, Dr. Arthur Underhill with two, and Sir Harry Poland, Mr. Augustine Birrell, Dr. J. Pawley Bate, Dr. A. T. Carter, Mr. A. H. Ruegg, Mr. Montague Lush, and Dr. T. B. Napier, with one paper each. With such a list of gentlemen learned in the law the reader may expect a capable exposition of recent changes in English law—and assuredly he will not be disappointed.

The England of 1800 was but little removed from barbarism in the matter of the treatment of offences against person and property. There are now in England four capital crimes—high treason, murder, piracy with violence, and setting fire to the Queen's ships, dockyards, arsenals, naval and military stores. In 1800 there were more than 200 capital crimes. "Nearly all felonies were capital," writes Dr. Blake Odgers. "If a man falsely pretended to be a Greenwich pensioner, he was hanged. If he injured a county bridge, or cut down a young tree, he was hanged. If he forged a bank note, he was hanged. If he stole property valued at five shillings; if he stole anything above the value of one shilling from the person; if he stole anything at all, whatever its value, from a bleaching-ground, he was hanged. If a convict returned prematurely from transportation, or if a soldier or sailor wandered about the country begging without a pass, he was hanged. And these barbarous laws were relentlessly carried into execution. A boy only 10 years old was sentenced to death in 1816; whether he was actually executed I cannot say." Persons convicted of treason and other crimes of particular moment were executed with particular barbarity, the details of which could hardly be even mentioned now. It is true that the punishment of women convicted of high treason had been altered before the beginning of the nineteenth century from burning to hanging; but up to the beginning of the reign of George IV. women were publicly whipped. Executions of course were public, and readers will remember Dickens's letters to the London "Times" on the subject, when he described the behaviour of the crowds that had assembled to witness the execution of the Mannings in 1849. A person was put in the stocks as late in the century as 1872, and in 1830 a man convicted of perjury had to stand in the pillory. Up to 1824 suicides were buried in cross roads with a stake driven through the body, and it was not until after 1809 that scolding women might cease to dread the "ducking-stool." Nor were juries treated with much consideration, though so great powers were given them over the persons of their fellow-countrymen. The bailiff was sworn to keep the jury "without meat, drink, or fire," and it is recorded that on one occasion a juror asked the officer for a glass of water. Mr. Justice Maule was on the bench, and when the bailiff preferred the request his Lordship said: "Well, it is not meat, and I should not call it drink; yes, you may." It was not until 1870 that jurymen were no longer starved into a proper frame of mind for the discharge of their duties. There still exists the "Jury of Matrons," empanelled when a convicted criminal pleads approaching maternity as ground for respite. Such a jury gave a decision against the prisoner in 1847; but the surgeon of Newgate, who was of a contrary opinion, urged delay, which events justified. "Notwithstanding my enthusiastic reverence for trial by jury in criminal cases," comments Sir Harry Poland on this incident, "I should not regret to see the abolition of the Jury of Matrons; but who dare propose such an interference with the rights of women?"

In civil cases suitors were not much better off than persons accused of offences. Up to 1845, for instance, no contracts, except negotiable instruments, were assignable, and only the original parties could sue on them. A man whose leg was broken in a coach accident might sue the proprietor for damages, but if he was killed outright his family had no redress. Title-deeds were described by Lord Westbury as "difficult to read, impossible to understand, and disgusting to touch." There were no such things in the beginning of the century as limited liability companies, and each partner in an ordinary trading concern was personally liable for the whole of the debts of the firm. There was no bankruptcy court, and when legislation was introduced on the subject the bankrupt was always alluded to as "the offender." Only traders could avail themselves of the bankruptcy laws, and for all others it was, as Dr. Odgers crisply puts it, "the deliberate policy of our law, that if a man was hopelessly in debt he must be locked up and deprived of all chance of earning any money with which to pay his creditors." And he goes on to tell us that he remembers very well the time when "bankruptcy was defined—and with substantial accuracy—'as that state of things which exists when, a man being unable to pay his debts, his solicitor and an accountant divide all his property between them.'" It is satisfactory to be assured on this excellent authority that such a definition has no truth in it now.

In 1800 Procedure in Chancery was more complicated than it had ever been. The threat of the dissatisfied beneficiary that he would "throw the estate into Chancery" was generally enough to bring other parties to a compromise. Chancery Bills of Complaint had not improved since John Wesley, in 1745, characterised one that was served on him as a "foul monster." "A scroll it was," he goes on, "of 42 pages in large folio to tell a story which needed not to have taken up forty lines, and stuffed with such stupid, senseless, improbable lies, many of them, too, quite foreign to the question, as I believe would have cost the compiler his life in any heathen court either of Greece or Rome, and this is Equity in a Christian country." Then there was the ingenious process of "scraping the defendant's conscience," a valuable privilege in days when parties to an action were not admissible witnesses. "It frequently happens," a solicitor testified before the Chancery Commission of 1826, "that it is necessary to scrape the defendant's conscience by continuing to amend the Bill. I have attended a Bill against one of the first merchants in the City of London three times in one of the plainest cases that ever was. At last he could not evade the questions put to him, and paid my client the £1000 in dispute."

Those cheerful persons, John Doe and Richard Roe, Thomas Goodtitle and William Styles, flourished until more than half the nineteenth century had passed away. If a person wanted to make a claim for possession of land, the writ issued recited the doings of John Doe and Richard Roe. John Doe was the claimant, and he said that the owner of the land in question had given him a lease which had not yet expired of a certain tenement. Then, as Dr. Blake Odgers tells the story, "came Richard Roe, and 'with force and arms, that is to say, with swords, staves, and knives, entered into the said tenement, with the appurtenances, and ejected the said John out of his said tenement, and other wrongs to him did.' A bloodthirsty villain this Richard Roe would seem to be. But no! a little later on in this dramatic story you will find him acting in the most kindly and considerate way. For now the imaginary Doe has issued a writ against the imaginary Roe. And the imaginary Roe thereupon reflects that he is but 'a casual ejector;' he never really was in possession of the land. But he gratuitously takes the trouble to find out who is now in possession; and here at last the real defendant appears upon the scene. To him says Richard Roe: 'Look here, I have been made defendant in an action of ejection at the suit of one Doe, who claims that he is entitled to the possession of this farm. I have no interest in the matter; I cannot very conveniently appear in court, because I don't exist. So I shall have to let judgment go by default; and then the sheriff will put Doe into possession and turn you out. But I thought it right to come to you first and tell you this; and, if you like, you can appear in court instead of me, and procure yourself to be defendant in my place.' The defendant invariably thanked him and acted on his advice. Accordingly on the proper day the defendant, and not Richard Roe, appeared in court, and obtained the leave of the Judge to be made defendant in the place of his fictitious friend; and this prevented judgment being signed in favour of Doe, which would infallibly have led to the defendant's being turned out of his farm. But this leave was only granted on one condition—namely, that in the forthcoming legal proceeding the defendant should never seek to deny the existence of the lease to Doe, or the forcible entry of Roe, or his ouster of Doe."

A very interesting chapter is Mr. A. H. Ruegg's lecture on "Changes in the Law of England affecting Labour," with its concise information about the rise of trades-unions, factory and other remedial legislation of the kind. The "truck system" has been so long abolished that we read with surprise of a case in the King's Bench so late as 1823 of a workman having to accept as wages such things as calico, ribbon, cord, a hat, an umbrella, dimity, silk handkerchiefs, foreign watches, a tea chest, a brooch, a parasol, an old mourning pall, half a bushel of Dutch onions. Dr. Arthur Underhill's lectures on "Changes in the Law of Real Property" are naturally more technical than most of the other chapters. "International Law, Private and Public" is ably discussed by Dr. J. Pawley Bate. The book is altogether a valuable contribution to the social history of the nineteenth century.

THE OXFORD ENGLISH DICTIONARY.

Perhaps as good an illustration as any other of the all-round usefulness of the "New English Dictionary on Historical Principles," edited by Dr. James A. H. Murray (Clarendon Press) is furnished in the number just to hand. This is part of Volume V., and ranges from "Jew" to "Kairine." How many of us know what "Kairine" is? Dr. Murray informs us that it is "a chinoline compound, oxy-methyl-quinoline tetrahydride, sometimes used in medicine as a strong antipyretic." It is the particular value of this dictionary to ordinary persons that it includes every word in the language—obsolete, archaic, and modern. It shows us how each word has been used by classical writers of English. There is the word "jovial," for instance. Some of us are reminded, others are informed, in the illustrations of the uses of this word, that it had to do with Jupiter. Thus, in the year following the end of the spacious times of Great Elizabeth, Drayton wrote of the eagle as "princely, jovial, fowl," meaning not thereby that the eagle is prone to uproarious dissipation above all "fowl," but that it is especially Jupiter's. How the adjective came to mean what it now means is admirably set forth in this dictionary, which contains the material for many a romance of words. Again, there is the word "jolly," with its gradations. Or the word "jingo." Those of us whose memory can go back a quarter of a century cannot but remember how great was the vogue of G. W. Hunt's song, as sung by Macdermott in London music-halls, with the chorus: "We don't want to fight, but, by Jingo, if we do." The dictionary tells us all about this word "jingo," and about its previous history, and its history to now. These are but instances of the many interesting features in each volume of the dictionary.

UNITED AUSTRALIA.

The "Eminent Federalist" of the August number of "United Australia" is Mr. Alfred Deakin, Attorney-General in the Federal Government. The portraits of the gentlemen whom "United Australia" delights to honour are interesting now; before many years they will be intrinsically valuable. We know exactly how the great protagonists in our fight looked. Whether we agreed with them or not, we all—federalist and anti-federalist alike—are interested in finding and keeping good portraits of men who bore a prominent part in the establishment of the Commonwealth. But "United Australia" gives us more than portraits. In the number before us there are articles of much interest on matters of Australian concern. Thus, there is a project now on foot for the handing over of the Northern Territory of South Australia to the Commonwealth. Full information is furnished about the Territory by Mr. V. L. Solomon, now a member of the Federal House of Representatives, and formerly member for the Territory in the South Australian Assembly. Mr. W. E. Abbott, of New South Wales, contributes a thoughtful article on "The Election of Senators," and the vexed question of kanaka labour is discussed by Mr. John Arthur, of Queensland. There is a sympathetic notice of the late Dr. Andrew Garran, which will be highly appreciated by the many admirers of the deceased gentleman.

SOME STORIES.

"Mrs. Musgrave and Her Husband," by Richard Marsh (John Long), is a vivid narrative of extraordinary events. The evil genius of the book is Dr. Byam, an expert in lunacy with strong views as to its hereditary quality. In order to put a stop to the transmission of the disease in at least one family, he swears away the life of a madman, named Gardner, who had murdered his wife. But Gardner had left a daughter, the Mrs. Musgrave of the story. Her Dr. Byam pursues with dishonourable proposals, and she murders him. Her husband takes her to the Continent to enable her if possible to escape arrest; but they are followed by a friend of Byam's who has undertaken to avenge his murder. He is killed by Mrs. Musgrave's husband, who then, when the police are knocking at the door, administers poison to her and himself and their baby. The story is told graphically throughout.

"Love, the Atonement," by Frances Campbell (Digby, Long, and Co.), is the pretty story of a charming young Irish girl, the daughter of Lord Innismory, who has been brought up in all the romance of Brian Boru's country. Her mind is saturated with the poetry of the Irish legends, and she seems to herself and to those about her to live more in the past than the present. She marries a Colonel Wynne, a man who is as remarkable for his adventures amongst the ladies as for his personal beauty. He is appointed A.D.C. to Lord Delamore, the Governor of an Australian colony, whose capital is "Brithane," and here he falls into one of those affairs of the heart with sad results for his young wife. Life in the colony is pleasantly described, and the departure of the first contingent for South Africa gives historical interest to the book. The "atonement" is complete, though the poor heroine has to suffer heavily in bringing it about.

"An Obscure Apostle," by Eliza Orzeszko, translated by C. S. de Soissons (Greening and Co.), is well entitled "a dramatic story." The scene is laid in a Jewish community called Szybow, dominated by an enthusiastic fanatic who can see no good in anything modern. The "Obscure Apostle" is Meir Ezofowich, also a devout Jew, but one who believes that his people should not hold themselves aloof from the Christians around them. The story of the struggle between these two is powerfully told, and some of the scenes are intensely passionate. As a study of a phase of life which is very real, the book would be interesting altogether apart from its undoubted merits as a story.

"Quincy Adams Sawyer," by Charles Felton Pidgin (Unwin's Colonial Library), describes the adventures of a young Bostonian in a country village. He soon has the rustic community in a tumult, being enabled by his wealth and beauty to upset the courting arrangements which had existed before his arrival. The society is considerably mixed, as befits a democratic country, and some of the characters are amusing.

Messrs. Macmillan and Co. forward their "Globe Poetry Books" in three parts—Junior, Intermediate, and Senior. The selection is excellent throughout, and the notes at the end of each little volume will be found very useful.

The Rev. Joseph King preached one night this month a sermon which he now publishes under the title "A Christian Contribution to the Question of a White Australia." His position is that the Commonwealth, from the very necessity of the case, cannot be purely white; that it includes thousands of men belonging to dark-skinned races; that it is the duty of the Commonwealth to protect and to educate these races. Mr. King deals in an interesting and thoughtful way with the problem.

"Tales of the Birds," by W. Warde Fowler (Macmillan and Co.) is a charming little book, full of pretty fancies and interesting facts.

The fifth edition of "The Alcock Book of Billiards," edited by Henry Upton Alcock, and revised by the greatest living master of the game, is now to hand.

Messrs. George Newnes publish Dr. Conan Doyle's "Rodney Stone" in their popular edition.

The Rev. S. G. Fielding's new book, entitled "The New Vicar of Wakefield" (which is descriptive of colonial church life, lay and cleric), is, we understand, to be published by Messrs. William Brooks and Co., in Sydney and London, in October or November next.

PUBLICATIONS RECEIVED.

From Messrs. Macmillan and Co.: "A Century of Law Reform: Twelve Lectures on the Changes in the Law of England during the Nineteenth Century," by W. Blake Odgers, Sir Harry Poland, Augustine Birrell, and others; "The 'Globe' Poetry Books," in three parts, junior, intermediate, and senior; "Tales of the Birds," by W. Warde Fowler; "Selections from the Poems of S. Weir Mitchell; "Sartor Resartus," and "On Heroes, Hero-Worship, and the Heroic in History," by Thomas Carlyle.

From Mr. William Heinemann: "Cottage Folk," by Mrs. Comyns Carr; "Tony Drum," by Edwin Pugh.

From Messrs. Longmans, Green, and Co.: "Modern Bridge," by "Slam," with the "Laws of Bridge," by "Boaz."

From the Wesleyan Book Depot: "Practical Christian Sociology," by Rev. Wilbur F. Crofts, with an introduction by Joseph Cook.

From the authors: "A Christian Contribution to the Question of a 'White Australia,'" by Rev. Joseph King; "A Cry for Justice and the Conspiracy of Silence," by Rev. John W. Owen.

From Messrs. Archibald Constable and Co.: "The Story of Eva," by Will Payne.

NEW MUSIC.

Messrs. Elvy and Co. forward new songs. "Pipe and Tabor" is a ballad by Joseph L. Roeckel, quaintly in the old English style, and of considerable originality. W. H. Jude's "Eternal Love" is a sacred song with the refrain "Benedictus qui venit in nomine Domini." The words refer to our old friend "the organ's solemn tones," and accordingly the music is devotional and carefully harmonised. The refrain, if broadly and smoothly given, would prove effective. "Lady Fair," by Frederic Norton, is a vivacious love-song with a well-marked melody, and is altogether attractive. Ralph Harner's "The Priest of Normandy" is a ballad in the jovial style, with rolling phrases for a bass voice. "Two Little Irish Songs," by Hermann Lohr, under the same cover. The first of these is "To my First Love," the words excellent, the music appropriately quaint. The second, "You'd Better Ask Me," is a setting of a well-known verse, and though not sufficiently tuneful, could be made good use of by a singer of humorous power. "If Only You Love Me," by Barry Norman, is a pretty, sentimental ballad of an ordinary type.

Messrs. Lee Johnson and Co. forward from San Francisco some good coon songs. "Close Your Dreamy Eyes for Mammy" is a tender plantation lullaby by Lee Johnson, which has been sung by Josephine Gassman, now at the Palace Theatre. "Mamma's China Twins" and "Your Money's No Good," by the same composer, have also won wide acceptance at the variety theatres.

The "Labour Question" is, we know,
A problem hard to solve;
But if its progress is but slow,
Results in time revolve.
But in the case of cold or cough
Results are swift and sure,
If we but take to drive them off

MUSICAL AND DRAMATIC NOTES.

It seems strange that "Le Chalet," the principal opera of Adolphe Adam, should never have been produced in Australia. This omission is to be rectified at the Criterion Theatre on Monday, September 16, when, with Mr. Aug. W. Juncker as sole musical director, M. F. Aengenheyster, of Pleyel House, will manage a performance of the charming little work in aid of the French Benevolent Society. "Le Chalet" was originally staged in Paris in 1834, when Mme. Pradher, M.M. Inchindi and Couderc respectively created the soprano, tenor, and bass (or baritone) roles. The one-act comic opera at once became popular throughout France, where it is still regularly performed. In England, partly because it only occupies half the evening's programme, less has been heard of it. It was, however, probably one of the last presented before the late Queen Victoria, as it was performed before her Majesty at Windsor Castle in July, 1899. The libretto of "Le Chalet," which is by MM. Scribe and Melesville, shows how Daniel, a well-to-do young farmer, is tricked by the Swiss villagers into believing that the heroine, Betly, has consented to marry him. When he comes confidently to claim her, the young girl is indignant, and vows she will never lose her liberty in marriage. She acts in this way, despite a letter from her brother Max, a sergeant in the French army she has not seen from childhood, commanding her to secure a legal protector during his absence. On the return of Max from the wars, his sister does not recognise him, and by intimidating her by a cavalier courtship he forces her into the arms of Daniel, and all ends happily. The Australian cast will bring forward Mme. Aengenheyster as Daniel, Miss Nana Macredie as Betly, and Mr. W. Burns Walker as Sergeant Max. As Coppee's comedy "Le Passant" is to be performed by Mmes. Aengenheyster and Segur the same evening, the French Benevolent Society's programme should prove strong.

Signor Ignazio Bozzoli has given several fine impersonations, including that of Rigoletto, during the present Italian season, though he will probably be best remembered for the pathetic way in which he employed his noble voice in "Eri tu" ("Un Ballo"). This young singer, who is a native of Ferrara, after leaving school went to Rome to read for the Bar, with which end in view he passed the earlier examinations and secured his first diploma. During this period, his singing attracted a great deal of attention in society, and he was urged to study music seriously, which he did by entering for three years at the Conservatorium at Rome. His teacher was Persichini, an eminent professor, to whom many of the greatest artists in Italy owe their training. It is rather a curious fact in connection with this Italian company that, just as Signorina Bassich began her career as a mezzo, and after a time was elevated into a soprano, so also Signor Bozzoli modestly entered upon his career as a basso. He made his debut at Bologna three years ago in this capacity in "Norma" and in Wagner's "Die Walkurie," and then sang at Trieste in "Samson et Dalilah" (Saint Saens), "Falstaffe" (Verdi), and "Tannhauser." However, connoisseurs considered his voice too soft and light, and he accepted the flattering command of "Friend, go up higher," by studying afresh as a baritone at Milan. His old master being dead, he entered under De Falka, a once-famous tenor, and his voice responded so well to the calls made upon it that in six months he was ready with a new repertoire.

Signor Bozzoli made his debut as a baritone at Messina, where he sang in six operas, including "Ruy Blas," composed by Marchetti, director of the Roman Conservatoire. One of his best engagements subsequently was at Perugia in "Lohengrin" with a company which included Signor Vignas as the tenor and Signora Falconis as the soprano—both artists of note—with Signorina Marcomini, now appearing here, as Ortrud. At the San Carlo Theatre, Naples, Signor Bozzoli sang in "La Boheme" with Bonci, the tenor who made such a sensation at Covent Garden last year, and he appeared in several other works at the world-famous opera-house. Signor Hason engaged the young baritone after hearing him as the Baron Scarpia in Puccini's new opera, "La Tosca," at Padova, where also he sang the baritone role in Mascagni's new Japanese opera, "Iris." Signor Bozzoli, who has a very bright future before him, possesses a large and resonant voice, unusually free from tremolo, and at times very expressive, though not overburdened with "color." His high G at the end of the prologue to "I Pagliacci" is one of those things which no regular opera-goer would care to miss. In this connection it is interesting to record that Signor Leoncavallo did not originally take the voice so high. At one of the final rehearsals, however, the composer showed M. Maurel, the great French baritone, that such an alteration would have a fine effect, but Maurel, who was not in voice that morning, merely shook his head. Nevertheless, when the first night came Maurel was inspired by the enthusiasm which broke forth at the close of the beautiful aria, and he thereupon "rang up the curtain" with the interpolated note. This electrical effect is now nearly always made, though the composer expressly states that he does not wish to force the alternative note upon any voice it does not suit.

In Melbourne theatrical matters have been moving on smoothly, but uneventfully. The revival of "The Sign of the Cross" has so far proved the most popular event of Mr. Wilson Barrett's season at Her Majesty's Theatre, and has accordingly held the stage a second week. This evening "The Silver King" will be staged. "The White Heather" has also run its course at the Theatre Royal, where Mr. Bland Holt will this evening produce "Riding to Win" for the first time in Australia. Mr. Charles Arnold withdrew "Why Smith Left Home" last night, and this day gives the two first performances in Australia of J. M. Barrie's idyllic comedy, "The Professor's Love Story." Mr. Arnold's last three nights will begin on Monday with "What Happened to Jones." Next Thursday there will be an entertainment at the Princess Theatre in aid of the Homes of the Dramatic and Musical Association. It seems that 44 cottages have been erected upon the Old Colonists' grounds, whilst £3000 has been bequeathed to build more cottages. More land being required, the association, which own four acres adjoining, has agreed to hand it over to the Old Colonists' Home on condition that four cottages be set apart for old professionals. Mr. George Coppin will appear as Mr. Mould in "Not Such a Fool as He Looks," in order to raise part of the £1500 required to complete the proposed arrangements. Next Saturday Maurice Barrymore's drama, "Nadjeska," will be produced at the Princess Theatre, with Miss Edith Crane as the Countess Nadjeska, and Mr. Tyrone Power as Prince Zabouroff. "A Message From Mars" is running at the Bijou Theatre, and Mr. Harry Rickards occupies the Opera House as usual.

One of the saddest and most "wasteful" tragedies that have ever been recorded in theatrical circles is the suicide in London of the sisters Yeoland on July 17. The elder sister, Miss Edith Yeoland, described as a tall and handsome girl of great vivacity, intelligence, and education, had just terminated an engagement in "Sweet Nell of Old Drury," whilst Miss Ida Yeoland had been in Sir Henry Irving's company, and quite recently had replaced Miss Evelyn Millard as Lady Ursula, during the few final nights of a revival of "The Adventure of Lady Ursula." This young lady, who was about 21 years old, was said to be of an affectionate and unselfish character; and both sisters bore an unblemished reputation. However, there was a little trouble about securing a re-engagement. On the morning of the tragedy Miss Ida Yeoland received a letter from America, which caused her to remark that "another engagement had fallen through." She added, "I do not know why we should have these disappointments. I seem to be cursed." An hour or so later the two sisters took poison.

Writing on this subject to Mr J. C. Williamson, Mr. H. H. Vincent remarks that both sisters had an appointment to see him at the St. James's Theatre on Tuesday at 11 o'clock, the morning on which the sad event took place. He had ready an engagement for the elder sister, and there was a fair prospect of work for the younger as well. Neither of them had been out of work more than two months, so that none of the managers could understand the reason for a tragedy which was deplored on all sides. Australian playgoers will remember that Mr. H. H. Vincent was here for some years as general stage manager for Mr. Williamson, returning to London some 10 years ago. He has ever since been stage-manager and adviser for Mr. George Alexander at the St. James's Theatre. Now as the result of a friendly arrangement made during Mr. Williamson's brief stay in London last June, Mr. Vincent will sail for America on October 31, and after doing business in New York for his principal will visit Chicago. During this time he will witness the great spectacular production of "Ben Hur" at M'Vicar's Theatre, and will probably form the company for the Sydney season. Mr. Vincent will sail from San Francisco on December 5, in order to resume his former position with Mr. Williamson in this city and in Melbourne.

The Williamson Opera Company passed through Sydney from Brisbane, in charge of Mr. Gerard Coventry, on Wednesday, and after a few hours' rest went on by special train to Melbourne. There again no pause of consequence was made, as another special left at 9.15 p.m. for Adelaide. The whole company, to the number of more than 100 people, reached Adelaide shortly after midday yesterday, and this evening will appear in "Florodora."

"Lady Huntworth's Experiment," R. C. Carton's last new comedy, is to be produced by Mr. Robert Brough next Saturday at the Theatre Royal. Originally produced at the Criterion Theatre, London, during April, 1900, the bright and laughable play ran some 200 nights. As in "Why Smith left Home" there was a "cook-lady," so in the new comedy there will be a "lady-cook." She will, however, "wear her rue with a difference," and will prove no vulgarian, but a properly authenticated countess, who sinks her identity in her maiden name of "Caroline Rayworth," and poses as housekeeper to the Rev. Audley Pillenger. Mrs. and Mr. Brough will create these characters.

BRITISH AND FOREIGN BIBLE SOCIETY.

WAVERLEY BRANCH.

The annual meeting of the Waverley branch of the British and Foreign Bible Society was held at the Waverley Wesleyan Church, Bondi Junction, on Monday evening, August 21. The Archbishop (Dr. Saumarez Smith) presided, and delivered an address. The secretary (Rev. F. Firth) read the annual report of the local branch, showing the amount collected £16 14s. The Rev. R. T. Hills, district secretary, spoke of the work of the society in South Africa, China, and Polynesia. The Rev. John Macaulay, M.A., moved a resolution expressing thanks to God for the success of the past year, and the hope that the Churches unitedly would meet the financial requirements of the society. The Rev. A. J. Small seconded the resolution, and in doing so referred to the great help given by the Bible Society to the mission. No fewer than 70,000 Bibles or New Testaments had been printed for Fiji during the past half century. The motion was carried. The officers were reappointed for the ensuing year. The Revs. R. East, R. Noake, B.A., and E. King also took part in the meeting. Special music was rendered by the church choir under the direction of Mr. J. S. Huthnance. The collection during the meeting amounted to £3 17s. A vote of thanks was accorded to the Archbishop for presiding.

PADDINGTON-WOOLLAHRA DEBATING CLUB.

Alderman T. J. West presided at the meeting of the Paddington-Woollahra Debating Club, which took place at the Paddington Town Hall on Tuesday evening. There was a large attendance of members. Mr. R. Wilson opened a debate upon the subject, "That trades unionism is essentially unaltruistic, and if not checked will become oppressive." Mr. S. A. Byrne led in the opposition, and was followed in the discussion by Messrs. R. Cunningham, J. Platt-Hepworth, J. B. Ward, W. Finch, H. M'Laughlin, E. M. Dickenson, A. Parkhill, and C. Witt. The voting being equal, the chairman gave his casting vote in favour of the motion.

THE BOROUGH OF RANDWICK.

ITS FINANCIAL POSITION.

At the meeting of the Randwick Council on Tuesday night the council clerk, Mr. E. H. Strachan, presented a statement of receipts and expenditure for the half-year ended August 3. The aldermen were much interested in the report, and it was decided to hold over discussion on it until the next meeting. The present year had started with an overdraft of £716 18s 11d. The receipts from all sources for the half-year were £5005 17s 6d, and the expenditure £3423 0s 10d, the receipts thus exceeding the expenditure by £1642 16s 8d. After deducting the amount of overdraft it left a credit balance of £925 17s 9d. The amount received in general rates was £3201 3s 11d; lighting rates, £1079 18s 7d; special street-watering rates, £96 0s 11d—a total of £4377 3s 5d. Contributions towards works—kerbing, guttering, asphalting, &c.—were £105 10s 1d, and the receipts also included an item of £437 15s derived from the sale of land at the corner of High and Bourke streets. The expenditure in the four wards totalled £1107 12s 5d, and the balance, £2313 8s 7d, was made up of—interest, £889 13s 10d; sinking fund, £100; gas, £558; salaries, removal of house rubbish, Fire Brigades Board, &c. The total amount of general rates levied was £4686, and the amount received during the half-year £3031 3s 11d. Of the arrears for this and previous years the council clerk anticipated receiving a good percentage in the next few months, probably £1800.

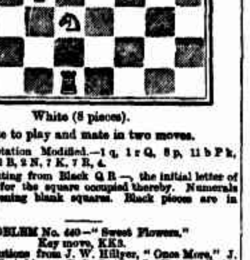

Great assistance had been afforded the council by the A.M.P. Society foregoing the payments of a portion of the amount payable to the sinking fund account, which enables the aldermen to expend about £500 more on works. The receipts from all sources in West Ward amounted to £1643, and the expenditure thereon on works was £426; for Middle Ward £948, and expended £372; South Ward £558, and expended £216; and Coogee Ward £594, and expended £89. Compared with the corresponding period last year the rates received were £82 13s less, yet the expenditure this half-year exceeded that of last by £586 15s 4d. This was attributable to the fact that men were employed on full time constantly. Vouchers, the council clerk was pleased to say, had been sent in for the payment of the 2s 6d in the £ grant by the Government, which amounted to £572 12s 8d, and the receipt of the money would be of great assistance to the council in carrying out some of the numerous necessary works. Attention was drawn in conclusion to the great number of new houses that were being erected in the borough, as it meant increased revenue to the council.

NOTES.

The "Sydney Morning Herald" seventh international problem tourney is now current. The prize we offer for the problem which the judge, Mr. Glynn, of Ryde, New South Wales, deems best is five guineas. Should he so recommend two special prizes will also be given. The conditions are:—1. Competitors may send in as many original problems in diagram, accompanied by full solutions, as they please. "White to play and mate in two moves." 2. Each problem to have a motto, and not the composer's name; the name and address to be enclosed in a separate sealed envelope with the like motto. The seal will not be broken until the awards are made. 3. Each problem to have but one author, not to have competed in any other tourney nor been published before. 4. Problems to be addressed to the editor, the "Sydney Morning Herald," Sydney, Australia, and reach this office by December.

The selection of inter-State teams is materially facilitated by the holding of an annual State championship tourney. There are so many players of very similar strength who are still appreciably weaker than the first flight that a system of play off for places, while theoretically the fairest, is subject to practical drawbacks owing to the demands on the competitors' time. The benefit of an independent means of ascertaining the relative strength of a number of leading players is immediately evident in such circumstances. Any player who does not enter for the championship of the State cannot fairly grumble if his claims are postponed to those of such as have kept themselves in evidence and in match form by the only method which for practical purposes is of any efficacy for match play—and that is match play.

The Sydney School of Arts Chess Club has arranged to hold a series of team matches on Wednesday evenings.

B team match played at School of Arts, North Sydney, on the 28th instant:—

The Chess Championship of Australia.—There seems some ground for hoping that a tourney will be held in Sydney next year to determine the blue ribbon of Australian chess. Of course it is eminently desirable that the project should receive substantial pecuniary support, and it will be the business of all who are interested in the furtherance of the pastime to see that the promoters receive proper encouragement when the time comes. In a country where liberal subscriptions are always available for every pastime from a dog fight to cricket, chess can hardly be the only one without backers. The prospects of a serious contest between Messrs. Jacobsen, Wallace, Ealing, and Hall should give great interest to the scheme.

(a) Mr. Jordan said this was the losing move. In this the champion erred. This move is sound book play.

(b) This appears to be a loser.

(c) At this stage it struck me that Mr. Jordan was done. He was playing four boards simultaneously up to this point, when he suddenly seemed to conclude that three was enough, as he repeatedly passed my board and completed the other three games, which took little short of an hour. I knew I had a win on, but I wearied, and was somewhat irritated by the champion's style of simultaneous play, he having kept me waiting an hour for this move.

(f) When the game was drawn I remarked to Mr. Jordan that I should have won. He was very positive in his denial, arguing that I could not have won at any stage. He set up the position at (f), at which position I made no attempt to win. "Where then," said Mr. Jordan, "do you think you could have won?" I set up the position at (d), which stands—Black, 3, 7, 11, King on 15; White, 12, 20, 30, King on 25; and I said, "I could win from this." The champion demurred, and I demonstrated the win against him as follows:—

g30—26	25—30	15—10	30—25	26—30	17—13

26—22	Black wins.

(g) 25—22, 10—14, (h) 22—26, 7—10, 26—23, 10—15 wins.
(h) 30—25 loses also.—J. A. B.

NOTES.

The premier contests on account of clubs not coming to an agreement as to the number of players to be played have not been gone on with. When the council meets they will have to fix a time for each match home and home. The club in default will have to abide by the loss.

A very interesting analytical bout was played during the week between Messrs. Roberts and Mills. The latter holding the opinion that when the following moves were made in the Switcher opening—11-15, 21-17, 9-13, 25-22, 8-11, 29-25—that White's game is so nearly a loss, if not one, that White had better not make them. Mr. Roberts maintains that white can draw easily, and is willing to back his opinion.

In the tournament for the Leeds Club Trophy there were 16 entries. Mr. W. Stephenson won the first prize, and now becomes a member of the first team in the Leeds Draughts and Chess Club matches.

At a meeting of the London Draughts Association recently held, at which every member of the association was present, it was unanimously resolved that all future tournaments should be conducted under English Association rules, with the addition of the self-timed five minutes per move rule, and an arbitration rule in regard to beats unfinished after a specified time.

The final round for the London Challenge Gold Medal Amateur Championship was contested between Mr. C. Dixon (London Club) and Mr. J. Tadgell (unattached), Mr. Tadgell winning by 3 wins 1 draw to 1 draw. Mr. Dixon is entitled to challenge the winner, and it is understood that he will do so. It is reported, also, that Mr. Hitheray, Mr. Jacobson (the holder of the London Annual Championship Junior Cup), and Mr. Reigler are all anxious to have meetings with Mr. Tadgell.

Mr. H. M. Angell and Mr. W. J. Bowe played a match on May 20 for the Championship of the Pacific Coast. The terms of their agreement were that they should play from 9 till 12 in the morning, and from 1 till 5 in the afternoon, and that the winner of the majority of won games should be officially declared the champion. The number of games played was 3, and the score was—Angell, 11 wins; Bowe, 2 wins; and 18 draws.

The elucidation of the late William Steinitz, for 28 years chess champion of the world on problem solving, is equally applicable to checkers:—"The study of problems is extremely useful for the purpose of developing strength in practical play; precision must be exercised absolutely, whereas in the game the winning process may often be effected in various ways. Exact calculation is often required in actual play, and the study of compositions when the utmost power of the forces has to be employed in the fewest number of moves is, therefore, a splendid training for the purpose."

BRIGHT'S DISEASE,

WARNER'S SAFE CURE
WILL GIVE YOU BACK GOOD HEALTH.

These diseases are, one and all, caused by the retention in the system of urea, uric acid, and other urinary and biliary poisons, which it is the function of the kidneys and liver to remove. When the kidneys and liver, from any cause, are unable to do their work these diseases result.

WARNER'S SAFE CURE is a Scientific compound which possesses the marvellous property of being able to restore the kidneys and liver to health and activity.

WARNER'S SAFE CURE restoring, as it does, the kidneys and liver to health, these organs extract from the blood the poisons which cause the diseases. The poisons are naturally expelled from the body, and the diseases are cured.

HAVE TO HIDE THE BOTTLE.
"IF NOT, THE CHILDREN WOULD TAKE IT ALL AT ONE DOSE, THEY LIKE IT SO WELL."
There are many reasons why Scott's Emulsion is the best of all household remedies. In the first place it is common in every household at one time or another for the health of some member of the family to decline. From any one of a hundred or a thousand causes the system becomes undermined. Then at the first exposure there is a cough or cold, or bronchitis, or some other ailment which needs prompt attention. Scott's Emulsion is the best known specific for coughs, colds, and bronchitis, and all other forms of inflammation of throat or lungs, but as a specific is only a small part of its usefulness. To get down deeper into the cause of these local affections and treat the system as a whole is the best use to which Scott's Emulsion can be applied.
In writing about the general use of Scott's Emulsion for colds, a gentleman from Preston, Lancashire, says:—
"38 Euston-street, Preston, "Lancashire, England, "May 3rd, 1899.
"Dear Sirs,—I cannot speak too highly of Scott's Emulsion; it has done my children more good for colds than anything they have ever taken. You may be well assured that Scott's Emulsion will be well recommended by us to friends and others. We have to hide the bottle; if not, the children would take it all at one dose, they like it so well.
"Yours faithfully,
"(Signed) GEORGE JENNINGS."
In Mr. Jennings' letter we find another reference to the fondness of children for the taste of Scott's Emulsion. In fact, in the majority of letters which we have received from those who describe the benefits derived by their children from Scott's Emulsion there is a special reference to the avidity with which children take this preparation. This fact alone is most satisfactory, because as a rule children dislike taking medicine, but in reality it is of minor importance compared to the perfect form in which Scott's Emulsion offers cod-liver oil to digestion. Where the plain oil upsets the stomach and deranges digestion, Scott's Emulsion will have a favourable effect upon it. In fact, this preparation stimulates the appetite, and by its ease of absorption it is quickly taken into the blood, where it is used to improve the condition of the whole system. Scott's Emulsion is a standard remedial agent endorsed by all physicians.

LIFE IN LONDON AND THEREABOUT.

CHRONICLED BY HENRY W. LUCY.

The Prorogation—The Liberal Party—Earl Russell—Leader of the Parliamentary Bar—The Paralysed House of Commons—The Closing Season.

LONDON, July 26.

Writing in this column a fortnight ago, and referring to the then "persistent rumour attributing to the King intention of proroguing Parliament in person," I stated that no intimation of his Majesty's intention in that direction had reached his Ministers. It was added "they do not anticipate verification of the report." The rumour died hard, is indeed only to-day entombed by the semi-official announcement that the Prorogation Council will be held on August 12, preparatory to his Majesty leaving for the Continent. This will be a pageant the less for the London people, but there have not been lacking opportunities of seeing the King face to face. Unlike Queen Victoria, who habitually shrank from crowds and State ceremonies, Edward VII. loves them. Not otherwise like his Imperial nephew, he is punctilious about the minutia of ceremony, personally superintending its order, and sharply examining the result.

It is certain that, for some years at least, his Majesty will open Parliament in person. Proroguing it is quite a different thing. The stage is coincidental with a general condition of lassitude in the political and social world. The day of prorogation is generally anticipated by the bulk of members, who leave town a day or two in advance. Society has already taken wings to itself and fled. Of course the King's appearance on the scene would ensure the attendance of an exceptionally large number of members of both Houses. But it would be secured only at some personal inconvenience, and the fracture of ordinary engagements.

A profound sensation was created in political circles on Monday when announcement appeared in the "Times" that Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman had left town for Marienbad. For many years at the close of the session he has been accustomed to conduct Lady Campbell-Bannerman to that health resort which, amongst other attractions, has of late included the society of Mr. Labouchere. But since he accepted the post of Leader of the Opposition, he has naturally inevitably awaited the conclusion of the session. It was felt that this abrupt withdrawal from the troubled scene could only mean a throwing-up of the sponge. It turns out to have been a misrepresentation. C.-B., most faithful and chivalrous of husbands, was merely escorting his wife as far as Frankfort, and is back in town to-day.

This readiness to accept the worst construction on a simple movement faithfully reflects the unrest in the Liberal camp. It is felt that the meeting at the Reform Club effected nothing. As a right hon. gentleman on the front Opposition bench says: "Things are as they were, only more so." C.-B.'s resignation has not been accomplished; it is only deferred. Only rare good-nature, unselfish loyalty to the party, has made postponement possible. The next time C.-B.'s authority is flouted he will go, and the many-shepherded flock will find itself faced by the necessity of making a fresh selection. In journalistic circles it is said that the Strand is strewn with ex-editors of the "Daily News." There are four alive at this day. The record, unique in its way, promises to be beaten in the case of leaders of the Liberal party following in succession to Mr. Gladstone. Recurrence of change narrowing the radius of choice of course makes it increasingly difficult to find an acceptable man.

Earl Russell is making himself as comfortable as possible in his quarters at Holloway. He is assisted by the utmost leniency on the part of the authorities compatible with observance of the law. Since his sentence there has been a distinct revulsion of public feeling in his behalf. It dates from the delivery of his address to the Peers. The House of Lords knows little save what it has read in the police and divorce Courts' reports of this inheritor of an honoured name. He was very little seen at Westminster, and has yet to make his maiden speech in the House of Lords. The matter of his address, not less than the delivery of it, agreeably surprised his peers. One of the Judges present at the trial tells me that when the legal Lords withdrew to consider their verdict, sentence of three months' imprisonment having been agreed upon, the Lord Chancellor said, "Has any learned lord more to say?" "If," the Judge added, "anyone had ventured to suggest that a month's imprisonment would have met the justice of the case, there would, I am sure, have been unanimous acquiescence. Nobody spoke, and the thing was done."

The death of "Sam" Pope literally and professionally creates a wide gap at the Parliamentary Bar. Since the Claimant disappeared from the scene Mr. Pope was the biggest man in public life. One who came nearest to him in width and girth was Mr. Murphy, Q.C., a distinguished Irish barrister, who modestly puts down all his success in life to the fact that he was born on St. Patrick's Day. Before Mr. Murphy some three years ago retired from the Bar, he and Sam Pope occasionally met on different sides of particular cases. Mr. Justice Mathew, wittiest of living Judges, once said of them they spent the greatest part of the day in trying to walk round each other. I remember a year or two ago meeting Mr. Pope slowly waddling down the corridor leading to the Ladies' Gallery from the gallery flanking the Committee Rooms of the House of Commons. I asked if he were going to make a call at the Ladies' Gallery. "No," he said, "I'm only going to borrow their lift." It must have been a terrible strain on the exceptionally small lift that waits on the visitors to the Ladies' Gallery. It served Sam Pope through many sessions, though this year he has been obliged to make his journeys thither to and from the committee rooms in a bath chair of the proportions of a hansom cab.

The first Parliament of the new century, still in its lustiest youth, is in a very feeble way. It seems that if prorogation does not come soon the House of Commons will die of inanition. In no instance has the fatuity of things been shown in more naked light than that which has flickered round the Education Bill. One day last week it was announced in a morning paper that occasionally enjoys the confidence of the Treasury Bench, that in order to avoid fresh discussion on the report stage, the bill would be carried through without amendment. Considering that the measure, small in bulk, affirmed a principle revolutionising national education, taking note of the fact that there were nine pages of amendments, this seemed simply preposterous. What is the House of Commons for, if when bills are laid before it it is not carefully to consider them and, where necessary, introduce amendments? If a bill was laid on the table with intimation from the leader of the House that it must be passed exactly as it stood, valuable time might be saved by foregoing the farce of debate on second reading, and abolishing committee.

It turns out that the announcement was absolutely true. Three sittings were occupied in committee of the bill when nine pages of amendments were studiously gone through. Not a comma or a semicolon of the bill was altered, and there being no amendments to report there was no report stage. These tactics saved a day's sitting, but whether it was worth the price paid, the bringing of Parliamentary institutions into contempt, is a question that may be worth a moment's consideration.

The tropical state of London has been broken in upon by a welcome fall of rain, more sunshine than a thunderstorm. Whilst it lasted it proved a serious time for people bound to the oar in London. There is no doubt the heat was the direct occasion of the cutting-off of Sam Pope. Most of the theatres are closed. For the few companies that remain it has been a terrible time. Mr. Weedon Grossmith, whose piece is still running strong at the Avenue, broke down on Saturday, and after a gallant effort had to give way to his understudy. One courageous Judge, casting aside his wig, has in that fashion of modified comfort daily dispensed justice, authorising barristers practising before him to go as they please.

The wave of hot weather has hastened the close of the season, not to be revived by the termination of the season of public mourning following on the death of Queen Victoria. It is curious to note how this week not only do invitations to social functions abruptly cease, but ordinary correspondence falls away almost to zero. Though many have departed on holiday bent town is still full. But people seem to have ceased writing to each other. The change from a busy bustling season is inevitable. What is curious about it is the unanimity of its inauguration, and the completeness of its away.

ON WET WEATHER.

The rain it raineth every day.

There are some people so blessed by the gods that their spirits remain cheerful and equable even during the rainy season. As a concession to weaker mortals they admit it is disagreeable, but still go placidly about their business, and, in the fact that the rain is doing good to the country, find consolation for the inundated condition of the city. Happy happy people! We whose spirits, whose temper, whose very affections, even, seem to be regulated by the rise and fall of the ever-restless mercury, look on with unavailing envy, and, in despair of attaining such a fine serenity above the whirl of moods, dejectedly wish we were dormice to curl ourselves up and sleep the stormy season away. For who amongst us, who are yet in the probationary stage of the virtues, can do our duty and love our fellows when meteorological alarms and excursions are constantly sounding? Or care for things spiritual when westerly winds are blowing? Above all, who of us can practise the minor graces of life with soaked skirts flapping about our ankles, and a wet wisp of hair that has yielded up all curl hanging over one eye? Once past the age when to sail paper boats over the garden paths, or, indeed, simply to get wringing wet, was a rare and lovely joy, it requires much diligent searching on the part of ordinary folk to find happiness in a thorough downpour. In the first place it involves us in such physical discomfort. Look at the expression of damp misery visible on the faces of all we meet. For, truly, to live mushroom-wise, overhung by an umbrella, and encased in a macintosh, makes life a grim and sordid round, to which only one more horror can be added, and that is——goloshes. For to attempt to be gay and light-hearted in a macintosh and goloshes is as disastrous as endeavouring to be coquettish before breakfast. Caoutchouc's the only wear this weather, and we begin to understand why Guy de Maupassant made the extraordinary statement that Englishwomen always smell of indiarubber! Then it seems to me an additional grievance that these uninteresting articles of clothing swallow up, at the very outset, the little store of money that in obedience to a thrifty impulse we have laid up against a rainy day. Besides, to be really effective our wet weather toilette should include pattens—or the Shakespearian equivalent chopines is the prettier word—they alone can keep us out of the mire. Why cannot somebody reintroduce the fashion of wearing them? Think of Pitt-street at noon with everyone click-clacking along in pattens! It would be charming!

Even if our duties do not take us out of doors, who can do any work this weather? A fine layer of blue mould overspreads all one's ideas; my very pen and ink seem chilled and sulky. Good housewives, I believe, devote bad days to performing long-deferred tasks, such as gluing together all the china ornaments broken since the last stormy interval, or in furbishing up their linen presses and relabelling all their jams. Those who are undomesticated, but virtuous, write up their arrears of correspondence—the Fates help my friends, if, seeking to prove myself of the latter order, I wrote to them just now. My letters would be veritable jeremiades, based on the assumption that everything that is is wrong. The only way of bridging over the bad weather that commends itself to a mercurial temperament is to sit in an easy chair before a good fire, with a pile of new magazines or an entrancing book, and a box of bonbons or a pipe according to the sex of the mercurial one. But most of us must, of stern necessity, go through our usual duties, following as cheerfully as may be the plan of those who live in Spain, who, so the old nursery rhyme tells us, when it's raining—let it rain! The lowest depth of misery is perhaps to spend the rainy spell in a country boarding-house, with, for fellow-boarders, a family of six spoilt children, only one post a day, and, worst of all, no books. Before now have I not seen a storm-bound country house party reduced to such literary fare as "The Boy Buccaneers of the Baltic," or the "Elsie" books, compared to which "The Wide Wide World" and "Queechy," are realistic and sensational novels.

Certainly wet weather develops the latent turn for tragedy that seems to reside in all of us. For one who thinks it will clear there will always be found half a dozen to groan and quote awful portents. When a ray of sunshine does come out, or a rainbow spans the evening sky, why may I not cheer myself with the belief that I may cast aside my wet weather garments and walk abroad untrammelled without those of mine own household taking upon themselves the role of Cassandra? When I have with care avoided the weather reports in the newspapers, and resolutely shut my eyes each time I passed a barometer, why must my friends rise up and tell me of some extraordinary depression that heralds a gale, or that water spouts are seen along the coast, and a cyclone is imminent? This sympathy with the climatic conditions is so evidently a part of human nature, that one might almost advance as a formula: "Tell me the average rainfall of a country, and I will tell you the philosophy of its inhabitants." For myself just now, I acknowledge no cult but that of Schopenhauer, while "The Sorrows of Werter" and Blair's poem "The Grave" seem the most fitting literature for my time of relaxation. But truly these have been no "singing showers" that have visited us lately, but a sullen downpour that untunes all our nature. The constant drip, drip, drip seems to call back to memory all the unpleasant things we would fain forget, harping on one dismal string till our nerves are jangled. Old grievances we thought long dead start up as full of life as ever, new grievances assert themselves, while, if we are under the ban of some great sorrow, the heavy grey clouds seem to close in upon us and shut out all hopes of consolation. And our friends among the dumb animals share our melancholy. When is a homeless dog ever more forlorn than when, wet and shivering, he crouches on your doorstep, and asks of your charity for a little shelter. While those most pitiful of creatures, the omnibus horses, who look as though never in their lives have they known what it is to have a good meal, have yet one more misery added to their lot in the slipperiness of the wet roads. Furthermore, to cite a special case, our kitchen cat—an hysterical creature at the best of times—is in disgrace as a result of the rain. I met her indeed on the stairs, fleeing from the wrath that pursues her in the shape of a feather-duster. On inquiry I am told that the kitchen cat will do nothing all day long but sit by the fire and wash her face—a sure sign of continued wet weather—therefore is she chastised and driven forth. There seems to me some confusion here between cause and effect, and if I were not so depressed I would intervene for justice' sake, but who troubles to be just when the rain-gauge is registering an incredible number of inches in the twenty-four hours?

Yet these days I am decrying, these rainy days when all the trees look like weeping willows, and we can scarcely tell where the city ends and the harbour begins, have a wonderful fund of beauty in them notwithstanding. In the early morning the moist-laden atmosphere steeps every object in a soft harmony such as we are accustomed to associate with the country that produced such men as Rembrandt and Pieter de Hooch, and the modern Dutch landscapists Mauve, Maris, and their compeers. While if the sun deigns to come out for ever so short a time the sea in the distance gleams like frosted silver, and in the ordinary asphalt pavements you can see such gorgeous colours, such blues and purples, as only the impressionists have dared to paint. Or can anything be more glorious than the effect of wet evenings in the city, the flooded roads mirroring the primrose flames of the western sky till they shine like the golden pavements Dick Whittington saw in his dreams. The street lamps and the shop windows throw out long ladders of shimmering light; and the coloured "carboys" at the chemists' make a perfect kaleidoscope of various hues. The whole town gains a mysterious charm, and, with very little effort, I can fancy myself back once more in water-paved Venice. Unhappily the illusion is only too soon dispelled, but so lovely is it while it lasts it almost atones for the long day of dejection. Then, again, if the monotonous rain ends in a wild storm, such as is raging to-night, it has a fearsome beauty of its own that we would not like altogether to miss—a beauty that has inspired musicians and poets of all schools and ages. It needs a word or tone poet to interpret all the voices of the storm that now seem audible. Fierce gusts of rain fling themselves against the window, which shakes as if some wild spirits were seeking to find entrance. Now they pause to gather strength, now they hiss and shriek in a wild crescendo of fury, and, underlying it all, never ceasing, is a low plaintive murmur. It seems as though I have only to open my window, and, looking out, I shall see the Walkure riding through the air on their winged steeds; or the Demon Huntsman and his spectre pack tearing across the land to vanish in a flash of lurid light. On such a night as this poor Lear, crazed and broken-hearted, his faithful fool shivering and crouching by his side, defied the rough elements, finding in their buffeting a relief from his own gnawing pain. On such a night also the Flying Dutchman, hopeless and desolated, landed to seek yet once more for a woman's unswerving love. It is indeed a night for all wild legends and stories, and yet, impossible as it seems just now, most likely as the night wears on, all the fury and rage will subside; and, best of all, perhaps, when the morrow comes it will bring with it again the bright sunny weather, "in the guise," as says an old French poem, "of a white flower returning to the earth."

THE WOOL TRADE.

Little has been done in the way of wool-selling during the past week, though there is a strong demand for merino sorts, and a much larger quantity than has been dealt with would be easily absorbed were it available. The recent wet weather has interfered with the drying operations of the scourers, and supplies have therefore been on a reduced scale, but German buyers, principally, have been eager operators, and values as established at the last auctions have been well sustained. So far as can be seen at present, the sales to be held in the Sydney market on 16th, 17th, and 18th proximo promise to show very satisfactory results, though what takes place at the London September series, opening on the 17th of that month, will exercise an influence which will be felt for good or ill during the earlier portion at least of the colonial selling season. A large proportion of the quantity, nearly half, to be offered at the London September series consists of crossbred wool, so that the comparative scarcity of merino should favourably affect the latter description, and the effect should be reflected on this and other Australian markets.

The earlier clips, first instalments of which are now arriving in the warehouses, show a fineness of fibre which will be appreciated by our Continental friends, and there is also a lightness of condition owing to the generally dry time during which the wool has been growing. In the later districts recent rains and consequent increase of green feed must be expected to show their effects, and wools from New England and Monaro especially, from any district in fact where the increase of feed has had its effect prior to shearing, will show a heaviness of condition as the result of an increased flow of yolk. "Weight will tell" is a truism which applies to nothing so much as wool. An uneven staple is to be expected in many places this year.

South-western and north-western districts are principally supplying the instalments of new clip which are coming to hand, the wool, as might be expected, showing fine quality, brightness, and fair growth and with little detriment in the shape of seed or burr.

The selling arrangements for next month in Sydney are as follow:—Monday, September 16: 1, Dalgety and Co., Limited; 2, Australasian Mortgage and Agency Company, Limited; 3, Pitt, Son, and Badgery, Limited; 4, New Zealand Loan and Mercantile Agency Company, Limited. Tuesday, September 17: 1, Co-operative Wool and Produce Company, Limited; 2, John Bridge and Co., Limited; 3, Hill, Clark, and Co.; 4, Winchcombe, Carson, and Co., Limited. Wednesday, September 18: 1, Harrison, Jones, and Devlin, Limited; 2, Pastoral, Finance Association, Limited; 3, Goldsbrough, Mort, and Co., Limited.

From present appearances there would seem to be every probability that country scouring establishments will not this coming season be short of water for the conduct of their operations, but times have been when such places have been sorely hampered by the shortness of their water supply. Town establishments are never inconvenienced to the same extent, and whatever the season in the interior Botany and other suburban washeries can always rely on having an abundance of the aqueous fluid.

Reference is made in the mail advices to hand this week to the subject of dumping and the effect the process has on the appearance of wool, especially when in the greasy state. As has been previously mentioned in this column, wool to appear to advantage should be subjected to as little compression as possible. The lighter it is pressed and the sooner the buyer sees it after it is shorn the better. Better to use a few extra woolpacks and produce bales erring on the light side than to cram in every available pound. The appearance of the wool and the greater appreciation of the buyer in the price he pays will amply repay for the slight extra expense. Locally offered wools are of course principally benefited by such treatment, as, when wool is dumped and compressed into narrow limits in a ship's hold, all light pressing on the station goes for nothing.

WOMAN'S FRANCHISE BILL.

On Wednesday night Mr. P. J. Gandon delivered an address in the hall of the School of Arts on "The Woman's Franchise Bill: Why it should be rejected by the Upper House." The lecturer spoke of the functions of the Upper House as including an intention to check hasty legislation, and maintained that it would be doing its duty in this instance by rejecting the Woman's Franchise Bill. As regarded the ethics of woman suffrage, he said it was extraordinary to find that the Women's Christian Temperance Union should have taken up a movement that was anti-Christian. He argued that law rested on an absolute basis of physical force, and that being so woman's rights were non-existent. Four little States in America had woman suffrage, but not a single reform had it worked for mankind, and he contended that absolutely the Parliament in New Zealand was degenerating as a result of the system. It had not done anything in South Australia. Women, he said, were not prepared for the vote, and did not want it. At the close there was some discussion, in which several ladies took part.

HEBREW BENEVOLENT SOCIETY.

BAZAAR AT THE MASONIC HALL.

During the week a grand bazaar has been held in the Masonic Hall, Castlereagh-street, in aid of the funds of the Hebrew Benevolent Society of New South Wales. The opening ceremony was performed by the Rev. Rabbi Davis, who referred to the work that was being carried on.

Mr. E. C. V. Broughton, M.L.A., on behalf of the committee, made a presentation of a smoker's companion to Rabbi Davis.

The hall has been prettily decorated, and a number of stalls have been arranged artistically round the room. The stalls are replete with useful and ornamental articles, which have found a ready sale. The bazaar has been well patronised, and each evening a musical entertainment has been carried out under the direction of Mr. J. Cooper. The arrangements were under the supervision of Messrs. J. Cooper, S. Morris, and Alfred Fox. The ladies' committee was headed by Mrs. S. Rosenthal, and much of the success is due to their efforts.

HEARNE'S BRONCHITIS CURE,
THE FAMOUS REMEDY FOR COUGHS, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA, AND CONSUMPTION,
HAS THE LARGEST SALE OF ANY CHEST MEDICINE IN AUSTRALIA.
Those who have taken this medicine are amazed at its wonderful influence. Sufferers from any form of Bronchitis, Cough, Difficulty of Breathing, Hoarseness, Pain or Soreness in the Chest, experience delightful and immediate relief, and to those who are subject to Colds on the Chest it is invaluable, as it effects a Complete Cure. It is most comforting in allaying irritation in the throat, and giving strength to the voice, and it neither allows a Cough nor Asthma to become chronic, nor consumption to develop. Consumption has never been known to exist where "coughs" have been properly treated with this medicine. No house should be without it, as, taken at the beginning, a dose is generally sufficient, and a complete cure is certain.
BEWARE OF COUGHS!! Remember! that every disease has its commencement, and Consumption is No Exception to this Rule.

SERIOUS CONSEQUENCE.

A GENERAL RESTORATION.

THE CASE OF MRS. F. MARTIN.

(By a Special Reporter.)

If the inhabitants of Sydney were all wealthy people, with nothing but the promotion of their own happiness to think about, would they be content to while away their time in the many picturesque spots surrounding the city, or would they go "farther and fare worse?" People upon whom fortune does not smile too lavishly are philosophical in patronising the many beautiful picnic resorts within easy reach of their homes, and the experiences sometimes resulting are worthy of a more romantic period. A pleasure excursion to Botany some time back had a sensational termination, for the details of which we are indebted to Mrs. Flora Martin, of No. 11 Suttor-street, Alexandria. "It was a small family party," explained Mrs. Martin to the writer, "composed of my husband, a married couple, some children, and myself. We were fond of taking a trip to Botany, where we used to sit admiring the noble expanse of water, whilst the young ones played on the sandy beach. On one particular day my sister-in-law and I were strolling leisurely along with the youngsters, where the tide had a few minutes previously run out, when I stepped on to a treacherous bed of quicksand and suddenly began to sink. Before my husband could reach me I had almost disappeared from view, my head being the only part visible. It was a lucky thing that my screams were heard, otherwise I would have been smothered. My husband ran to my assistance, and with considerable difficulty extricated me in a fainting condition from the jaws of death. My baby was then only three months old, and I was not very strong. The shock my system sustained had a disastrous effect upon my enfeebled condition for months afterwards.

"For nearly three weeks I did not stir out of my bed. My doctor ordered me to refrain from any exertion, which was scarcely necessary seeing that I was in such a condition of helplessness. I was so weak and nervous that the slightest start brought on a shivering fit, besides making me give spasmodic jumps. The first two weeks in bed were quite sleepless. I could not drive from my brain the thoughts of the narrow escape I had. Lying awake night after night my mind wandering back to that day of horror, and the most exaggerated imaginations followed each other in quick succession until they made me tremble convulsively. I could take no solid food of any description, and the milk diet upon which I relied to keep me alive, failed to agree with me. After the light things which I slowly took in small quantities I was immediately seized with pain in the stomach and in the left side. There was a choking feeling in the throat, and the stifling sensation resulting filled me with dismay. I was afraid my breathing was going to cease altogether. I believe this distressing symptom arose from the leaden feeling of oppression on my chest. At any rate, the sufferings entailed by forcing down any nourishment were so unbearable that I did not eat a quarter as much as my body required. Consequently I lost all my flesh. There was not a streak of colour left in my cheeks, and I was so irritable and nervous that I did not care to see anyone, and sometimes could not bear the sound of my child's voice. Being so restless in bed, and not getting any better, I decided to try and get about a little."

"Did the change do any good?"

"No. I got worse and worse as I grew older. I suffered from bad headaches, and I was very often sick. Boring pains over the eyes were very troublesome, and fits of dizziness made me reel and almost fall to the ground. Every morning, on rising from bed, a dreadful fit of nausea, accompanied by violent vomiting, attacked me with unerring regularity. A bitter fluid arose from my stomach, and my throat felt parched. Liberal draughts of water during the day did not ease my feverish thirst, which, I think, was induced through a continual feeling of faintness. My weakness prevented me looking after the housework, and the inability to exercise my limbs produced great weariness. Constipation was another ailment, my tongue being unclean and unwholesome. Just below my ribs the flesh became very tender, and behind my left shoulder I felt sharp, darting pains. A sensation of chilliness in my feet and limbs was often followed by flushings of my face, and then a dry, hacking cough came on."

"You had a perfect complication of ailments."

"I thing I had all the ills imaginable rolled into one severe attack, and it was only natural that I became low-spirited and despondent, besides being discontented with everything and everybody. I was always in dread of trouble arising, and had a melancholy desire to be alone. Even talking fatigued me; reading was out of the question, as my eyes were too dull and heavy. From downright exhaustion I occasionally fell into a short doze, and then I had dreams of a frightful character, which made me dread falling asleep."

"What did your doctor say?"

"He said I was suffering from excessive nervousness, and that my digestive organs were greatly impaired. He gave me a lot of physic, which did no good. My nerves were still shattered, and my frame was reeking with pains. My husband again came to my rescue. I was more dead than alive when he brought home a bottle of Clements Tonic. Until then I had not found a remedy to relieve my troubles. Clements Tonic gave relief immediately. It gave tone to my nerves, enabled me to eat and sleep, and destroyed all my aches and pains. My health was soon perfected by Clements Tonic, and that is why I desire my cure to be made public, which you can publish in any way you like."

STATUTORY DECLARATION.

I, Flora Martin, of No. 11 Suttor-street, Alexandria, Sydney, in the colony of New South Wales, do solemnly and sincerely declare that I have carefully read the annexed document, consisting of three folios, and consecutively numbered from one to three, and that it contains and is a true and faithful account of my illness and cure by Clements Tonic, and also contains my full permission to publish in any way my statements, which I give voluntarily, without receiving any payment; and I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing the same to be true, and by virtue of the provisions of an Act made and passed in the ninth year of the reign of her present Majesty, intituled, "An Act for the more effectual abolition of Oaths and Affirmations taken and made in the various Departments of the Government of New South Wales, and to substitute Declarations in lieu thereof, and for the suppression of voluntary and extra-judicial Oaths and Affidavits."

Flora Martin

Declared at Alexandria this 28th day of September, one thousand nine hundred, before me,

GOING NORTH.

ABOUT THE EAST.

SOME REFLECTIONS.

THE COLOURED INVASION OF AUSTRALIA.

THE BATTLE OF THURSDAY ISLAND.

By A. B. PATERSON.

THURSDAY ISLAND, Aug. 10.

The man who leaves Australia on a search for literary "copy" is an idiot: there is more to be written about ourselves, and particularly about our own northern coast, than about any part of the world. We Australians are apt to think that in other parts of the world there are mysteries yet unfathomed and subjects as yet untouched, while really all the untouched subjects and all the interesting phases of life are with us. We are the newest people, and all the novelties are here. The rest of the world is trodden dusty with the feet of many men, and the trail of the English globe-trotter is over it all.

Get on a China-going vessel and go North. At Queensland you come on to the first of the new subjects. Away inland the people are fighting the battle with drought and heat and crippling losses—a more bitter battle than ever was fought in South Africa. We talk of the "magnificent undeveloped resources of our Northern Territories." But, so far, our Northern Territories have proved little else than a sink to pour southern money into.

Away out on the Diamantina and neighbouring districts the "squatters" have lost all their stock and most of their money trying to make something of those "undeveloped resources." They have been paying the Queensland Government hundreds of pounds to fetch water on the railway to the dying sheep. At Lake's Creek and similar freezing works all along the coast they cannot get enough stock to keep their works going. We talk about "our glorious country" and all that sort of thing, but a few years in Northern Queensland make one doubt whether it is so glorious after all.

A country without a rainfall is a treacherous ally. On the coast there is quite another state of affairs. Here the rainfall is certain, and the miles of sugar plantations turn their silver leaves to the breeze with every passing wind. The pearl-divers go out from the little northern havens to strip the bottom of the milky-looking sea of its pearlshell and the precious pearls—for a good pearl is the most valuable ornament there is. And as you get north of the Tropic of Capricorn you find everywhere the Oriental settling down calmly and starting to outbreed the white man, for north of Capricorn the Caucasian has no chance to hold his own against the man from the East.

PORTS OF CALL.

As the vessel gets into the warm water of the North, nosing her way up a great sea-lane, of which one fence is the Barrier Reef and the other the Australian continent, she calls now and again at Northern Queensland ports, up muddy slimy rivers where the alligator lies basking on the banks and the shark circles in playful glee round the vessel as she wallows along through the tea-coloured fluid that does duty for river water in Northern Queensland. Down to the wharfs come the typical Queenslanders, long, wiry, heavily moustached, taking life easily, hurrying for no man. The very wharf labourers bring down hammocks, which they sling in the shed, and in which they sleep peacefully through smoke-oh and knock-off time.

There is a general atmosphere of no-hurry about everything, and in time it communicates itself to the ship. The Chinese saloon-boys—clad in spotless linen, with long black pig-tails, and with faces of absolute innocence—knock off work and go aft to their quarters and gamble like fiends till the (white) chief steward constitutes himself an Anti-Chinese Gambling Act, and descends on them and throws their dominoes and counters overboard. No white man can understand the game that they play, but the China-boys, even though they cannot understand each other's language, can all play every gambling game. They will allow their own lawful "bosses" to do anything with them. For instance, an engine-room officer can cuff his firemen to his heart's content, and they never dream of objecting, but a deck-officer must not interfere with firemen, and so on through the whole lot.

A MATTER OF WAGES.

The sugar question is the question of the hour up here, and the second engineer, who once worked as an engineer on a sugar plantation, is a great authority on the subject. He says: "White men can do the work all right. There's no climate in Australia too bad for a white man to work in. I had white men driving engines and stoking furnaces in the hottest weather in the canefields, and they never felt it; and if they could shovel coal into a furnace all day I reckon they could go out and weed cane in the fields. They don't cut the cane in the hot weather, and it's only in the trashing and weeding that they have to work in great heat. But I don't think it's as bad for a white man to work there all day as for a white woman to work in a stuffy shop in the broiling heat standing behind a counter all day long. It's all a matter of wages, not a matter of climate. Some of the white men that come north looking for work only mean to work long enough to get money for a spree, and things haven't got so far in Queensland yet that the men are forced to take jobs they don't like. So the kanaka is used, you see. But it is all a matter of wages, not a matter of climate. There are gold mines in Western Australia, any amount of them, that would pay with Chinese labour, but the stuff is too poor to pay white men's wages. If they have kanakas for the sugar why not have Chinese for the gold mines?"

Here there is a babel of talk from the assembled engineers and passengers, each man talking as suits his pocket—some in favour of black labour and some against it. But the second engineer holds his ground steadily—"It's all a question of wages, not a question of climate. I'll bet all I'm worth that a hundred colonials will work alongside any hundred kanakas any time of year—but they won't do it for the same wages." Here the doctor comes into the argument, and says that there is a deeper question than the wages underlying it all. He says that white men can perhaps live and work in the tropics, but that white women cannot rear healthy children there, and that in time the white race will die out in the tropics unless constantly reinforced from the south. Here a cabin passenger breaks in and says, "How is it that the men of North Queensland are the finest and biggest men in Australia?" The doctor says: "So they are; but they have only been there a few years. The town of Mackay is only 35 years old; there isn't time to see the race-deterioration yet." With which observation he goes forrard.

SPRAY FROM THE EAST.

That is about an accurate summing-up of the sugar question. So far as the men are concerned it is all a question of wages; so far as white women and children are concerned it is a question of race-survival, in which the fittest race—i.e., the Oriental—will undoubtedly win. It would be a terrible pity to see the sugar industry come down; not only does it directly employ thousands of whites, but indirectly thousands more, who live by supplying the northern towns, are dependent on it. Maize and various supplies are grown all over the Darling Downs and sent northward to the sugar fields. These people would feel the loss very heavily. If the black labour must go, one has visions of the fields being worked by gangs of men from the south relieving each other at stated intervals and returning to their families; but that way lies State socialism, and seven-bob-a-day, and general chaos and uncertainty. So I draw back affrighted, having no Morrison's pill to cure the sugar difficulty.

The kanakas are curious people. They are as a rule deeply religious, but they vary their religion with tribal fights. It is a mistake to suppose that they are purely nomadic. Many of them have wives and children, and have settled down as coloured fellow-Australians. But whatever danger there may be from the kanaka is as nothing compared to the danger of the Oriental invasion. One has'nt got to go far from Sydney to find the East; in fact the East is coming down this way quite fast enough. In New South Wales we have as yet only just a dash of spray from the ocean of the East, a few pioneers and scouts of the army of Orientals. But along the Queensland coast the further north you go the more Oriental the towns become. In Brisbane the Easterners are hardly noticeable among the white population; in the sugar districts south of Rockhampton the foreign element consists mainly of kanakas; but north of Rockhampton the coast towns are already hotbeds of Oriental fecundity. In every Queensland coast town there is the eastern quarter where Chinese, Japanese, Malays, Cingalese, Hindoos, South Sea Islanders, and a wretched remnant of aboriginal blacks are all herded together living in their own way, and, judging from the numbers of children one sees round these quarters, they are by no means stationary in numbers. As one goes northward the size of the "Eastern quarter" of the town increases, till at Thursday Island and Port Darwin it becomes the "Eastern three-quarters" of the town. In these towns the little Chinese children play about in the streets dressed in their outlandish Chinese costumes; the little black pickaninnies of the kanaka roll about in the dust, happy as sandboys, side by side with the saddle-coloured offspring of the Malay and Manila man. The fact that a few thousands of these people have settled on our coasts does not trouble us much. They can do little harm in our time. But the same was said of the first few pairs of rabbits let loose in Australia.

THE PEARL SHELL INDUSTRY.

But consider what a subject for Kipling in the importation of the Islanders, their plantation life, their tribal fights; and better still is the story yet to be told of our coast blacks not yet quite spoilt by civilisation. But better than all stories yet to be told of Australia is the story of the pearl-shelling. Go to Thursday Island where the fleets rendezvous and you will hear enough stories of the pearling to occupy you for a week. Tales of Chinese buying pearls in the old days from the natives for a bottle of grog and selling them for a few pounds. A well authenticated case is one where a Chinaman sold a pickle-bottle full of small pearls for £12 to the wife of an hotel keeper; she afterwards realised them for £1700 in Sydney, and if they were worth that in Sydney they were worth much more in the world's markets. Thursday Island holds more different nationalities for the number of people than any other place in the world, and occasionally little differences crop up among them. Hear now the story of the great battle of Thursday Island fought among the pearlshellers and related to us by a Thursday Island policeman with so rich a brogue that we at once christened him Mulvaney the second:—

"'Tis the purr-lin' they live by: an' I think the purr-lin's nearly done, and whin that's done Thurrsda' Islan' is done! But now there's hundthreds of 'em goes out in the boats—five to sivin men in each boat—and they're away perhaps three months, perhaps six months, at a time. An' each little lugger has her own divin' outfit, and the crews is all Japanese, an' Chinese, an' black boys, an' Malays, an' Manila men, an' Portigese; an' on some of the boats that they call swimmin' boats their divers is just th' aboriginals from Prince o' Wales Island, that goes overboard without a diving-dress at all; and great divers they arre. But the boats is all belongin' to different fleets—there's Aplin Brown's fleet, an' Smith's fleet, an' Farquhar's fleet, and each fleet has its schooner that goes round an' collects the shell from the luggers, and gives 'em tucker and tabaccy, and the like o' that. An' o' coorse they leaves their wimmen at home whin they goes out, an' 'twas over the wimmen that the row starrted. They've a terrible set on the wimmen some o' them chaps; they'll take a fancy to a gurril (girl), an' maybe they'll come in from a six months' cruise wid a forty pound cheque, and if she'll promise to marry 'em she can have twinty pounds of it off of 'em straight away. All the young gurrils up there, their fingers an' wrists is nothin' but rings, an' bracelets, and joolyery."

"What sort of girls are they though," said the third engineer, who was a Londoner, and new to the Australian coast? "Are they Japanese, or Chinese, or white girls—or what are they?"

"All sorts," said Mulvaney the second authoritatively. "They're all sorts. There's the Japanese and the Chinese and the Malays, and the Island boys—thim is kanakas—they most all have their own wives; and thin there's numbers of young gurrils growin' up now that was born in the Islan'. An' so th' unmarried men they're for ever fighting and quarrelling over these gurrils. And then it so happened that whin the fleets were out some men was sent in sick from the boats, and their mates that fetched 'em ashore, whin they wint back to the fleet they started talking what the wives and gurrils was doin' while the husbands and sweethearts was away; an' they're terrible jealous, all these coloured people, ye understan'."

A FIGHT BETWEEN COLOURED RACES.

He paused to light a large odoriferous pipe, and before the minds of his hearers there rose a vision of all these black, yellow, and brown Jagoes coming in from the sea to their wives and families and their courtships, flush of money, and having no particular reason to behave themselves, except in so far as the six large policemen of Thursday Island constituted a reason; and one could easily imagine what a time the police would have if trouble arose among the coloured semi-aquatic crews of the pearling fleet.

"The talk over the wimmen starrted it," he went on, "and they passed the wurrd somehow round the fleets that the black byes (kanakas), and the Manilas was to fight it out whin the boats next came in. The Japanese nor none of the others was in it. They had it all med up while the boats was outside, but o' coorse they cudd'nt fight out there, bein' only a few min to each boat, and the fleets all scattered. But whin they came in they sint to the Governmint Risident,—that's Mr. Douglas—to say that they wanted to have a battle, an' had he any objeckshins. So whether he was away or not, I dinnaw, but wurrd was sint back to thim that he would attend to the matter at three o'clock. So they undershtood that they could begin to fight at three o'clock; and so about three they marched up the main street, about two hundthred of the black byes on one side and about two hundthred Manila men on the other, and none of us knew a wurrd about it. I'd jist walked down the sthreet myself, and it was as quite as a graveyarrd!"

"What had they to fight with?" said the third engineer. "Blue metal, bricks, rifles, assegais—what?"

"Knives mostly they had. Ivery wan of 'em carries a knife—about a six inch blade, wid a point like a needle. Kill a bull wid 'em you could. Well, they're not allowed to come ashore to get dthrunk if they have the knife. They must leave it aboord the boat; but this time they all had them; but whin the fight first started they did'nt use thim much. Mostly they used sticks and stones and pieces of lead about the size of a hin's egg wrapped in a bit of lashin' an' fastened round the wrist. So the minyut the two lots met at it they wint—sticks whackin', and stones flyin', and lead swingin'. And there wasn't a windy within a hundthred yards had a pane of glass left in it in three seconds afther they started. But, augh!—the Manilas had no chance at all wid the black byes. Two hundred of the black byes would have bate four hundthred Manilas. Ye see, the black byes from the Straits—that's th' Australian blacks—and the South Sea Islanders—that's the kanakas—they agreed to go in together and fight the Manila men. An' all the Manila min had knives, and they musthored at the back of the big joo'ler's shop at the corner; and the black byes had piles of stones in the road all ready to pelt 'em wid. An' whin the Manilas come out the byes wid the stones beat 'em aisy. The shtones flew like hail. A man with a shtick or a knife has no chanst agin a black man wid a shtone. So whin the Manilas see they was bate they drew the knives and one stabbed a black man and he dropped dead. The knife wint into him like butther. An' another Manila he knifed a black man and the knife bounced off his ribs and tore his chest open, and he fell, all over blood, and the Malay jumped on him whin he fell, an' he never died afther all. So whin the Malays see they waz gettin' the worst of it they run into the houses to hide, and the black byes after thim; an' all the people that lived in the houses—Japanese and Chinese and white people—they run out roarin' an' yellin' an' run for their lives. An 'twas well they did, for by this time they didn't care who or what they struck. And thin we got wurrd of it and we run down—six of us wid our revolvers—and whin we got there, no matter where you'd look, divil a thing wud you see but a Manila runnin' for his life and a black man hot fut after him wid a rock in his fisht. An' the windows of the big joolyery shop—tremenjus big windows—was all smashed to smithereens, and the show cases of joolyery lyin' in the gutther, and clocks and watches all along the sidewalk. And just thin a Manila man kem up the sthreet runnin' like a hare and a black man wid a shtone not tin yarrds behind him. An' the Manila man he dodged into the backyard of th' Imperyal Hotel, and as he did the black man threw the stone at him, an' it missed his head just by the half of an inch, an', without the wurrd of a lie, the shtone wint clean through the side of a four hundthred gallon iron tank!"

DISARMING THE MEN.

"My oath!" ejaulated the little Sydney jockey boy, who was going north in charge of horses. "He couldn't fling a rock, could he? Wot price if he'd landed the Manila on the crust with it!"

"We set in thin, kitchin' hold of every man we could see and takin' the knife from him and breakin' it. An' we broke a couple of hundthred knives before we finished. An' they all knew us and wouldn't resist us, though if they seen wan of the inimy the divil himself would'nt shtop 'em but they must be at him. So the Manilas they run for their boats and off to the luggers, and they wouldn't come ashore any more. An' the Island boys they sint wurrd that they had bate the Manilas in the afternoon and was ready to fight the Japanese in the evening. So Misther Douglas he called out the military—there's a fut there, y' understan'—and we was patrollin' the streets all night and dthraggin' Manilas out of ivery kind of hole and corner and sendin' 'em off to their ships, and there's never a man ruz a hand to another from that day to this; an' that was the end of the battle of Thursda' Island—wan killed and sev'ril severely wounded; but it's the wurrst place in the worrld for a policeman, for one day ye have nothin' to do at all only walk up and down, and the next day there's a hurroosh starts, and ye fin' some brindled vaggybond blind dhrunk, howlin', tearin', and ragin' because some other fellow is speakin' to his gurril; and we have to go in and get the knife, or maybe the revolver, away from them. We had three of our min wounded in the station with knife wounds in one evening, so we did. An' whin we fetched the Manila min for trile the most anny of 'em got was eighteen months' harrd labour!"

A picturesque locality is Thursday Island, and it is a beautiful sight to watch the little white-sailed pearling luggers go out, dancing over the blue waters, to search for pearlshell; in fact, it is a place where every prospect pleases and only man is vile; and it is the existence of this and similar depots of Asiatics along our coasts to which the attention of all thinking people is invited. We know what troubles the Americans are having over the black question, and these Asiatics will assuredly be all over Northern Australia within the next few years.

CHURCH NEWS.

CHURCH OF ENGLAND.

The Rev. Charles Edward Amos, who has been incumbent of St. Matthew's, Botany, since 1895, and who was appointed chaplain of the Coast Hospital, Little Bay, in the following year, has been appointed chaplain to H.M. Gaol, Darlinghurst, in succession to the Rev. Minor-Canon Rich, deceased.

Arrangements in connection with the forthcoming Diocesan Festival are progressing satisfactorily. A great number of tickets for the tea are in circulation. The precentor has charge of the musical portion of the programme. The Rev. Luke Parr, who enters upon the duties of organising secretary of the Church Society on Monday, is endeavouring to make the festival worthy of the society the anniversary of which it represents.

The memory of the late Archdeacon Wilson, who spent many years of faithful service as incumbent of Holy Trinity, Dubbo, is to be perpetuated by the parishioners furnishing the church with a handsome brass lectern.

Archdeacon Gunther preached on Sunday morning last at St. Saviour's, Redfern, in support of the effort which is being made in the parish to extend its work in connection with the Church Century Thanksgiving Fund.

On Wednesday evening the prizes gained by successful scholars in connection with Christ Church Sunday School, Enmore, were presented by the Rev. B. Rook, of St. George's, Glenmore-road. Addresses were delivered by Mr. Rook and the rector (the Rev. C. C. Dunstan). There was a large attendance of teachers and of the parents of the scholars.

On Friday week the new mission hall of St. Thomas', Lilyfield, was dedicated for Divine service by the Archbishop. Archdeacon Langley and the Revs. J. Dixon, F. W. Reeve, James Macarthur, and W. J. Roberts took part in the service. On Sunday last the opening services were continued, when the Revs. J. Dixon and W. J. Roberts preached afternoon and evening respectively. On Wednesday evening a tea meeting and social gathering of the residents was held. There was a large attendance, and Canon Boyce delivered an encouraging address.

The Archbishop will this afternoon open a new parsonage erected at Dural, in the parish of Castle Hill.

The eighth annual concert and gymnastic display of St. Paul's Young Men's Institute, Redfern, was given on Tuesday evening in the Parish Hall, Cleveland-street. In an interval in the proceedings Canon Boyce, as president, referred to the good work done by the institute, which, he said, had a membership of over 100 young men.

On Tuesday next the annual sale of work in connection with the Church Missionary Association will be held in the Y.M.C.A. Hall. It will be opened at noon by Miss Snowdon Smith. A quantity of Oriental work from missionary centres will be a feature of the sale.

ROMAN CATHOLIC.

To-morrow Cardinal Moran will open and bless a new church at Picton.

The Very Rev. Father Le Rennetel, S.M., this week concluded a 10 days' mission at Camden. It was his intention to extend the mission over three weeks, but the recent heavy rains caused its curtailment.

Last week's European mail brought an honour to Monsignor O'Connor, Vicar-General of the Armidale Diocese, in the form of a gold cross of the first-class order "Pro Ecclesia et Pontifice." The translation of the brief says:—"His Holiness has deigned to confer the cross 'Pro Ecclesia et Pontifice' of the first-class order on Monsignor Patrick Joseph O'Connor, in acknowledgment of his devotion to the Church and its Supreme Head." Monsignor O'Connor has laboured in the Armidale diocese for upwards of twenty-five years. Bishop Torreggiani, of Armidale, is the only other prelate in Australia possessing a similar distinction.

On Wednesday morning Father Rouillac sailed in his 19-ton schooner, the Eclipse, on his return to the Solomon Group to resume mission work. The authorities would not allow him to navigate his small craft, so he had to engage a certificated officer.

The Rev. M. A. Flemming, of St. Benedict's, is convalescent after a severe illness.

PRESBYTERIAN.

The Moderator of the Presbyterian Assembly of New South Wales, the Rev. Dr. Cameron, who is on a visit to Dubbo, laid the foundation stone of a new Presbyterian Church at Trangie on Wednesday last. The Rev. John Walker accompanied Dr. Cameron.

On Thursday the Rev. H. S. Buntine, minister-elect for St. Mary's Presbyterian Church, arrived in Sydney by the steamer Rosedale from the north. He will be inducted to the new charge during next week.

The Rev. T. J. Curtis, of St. Luke's Presbyterian Church, Redfern, has been presented with £20 and travelling requisites by members of his congregation and some other friends.

The Rev. Lewis Davidson, M.A., of Edinburgh, who was a delegate from the United Free Church of Scotland to the celebrations in connection with the consummation of the union of the Presbyterian Churches of Australia and Tasmania, accompanied by Mrs. Davidson, left by the steamer Westralia on Saturday last for Wellington, New Zealand. They will join the R.M.S. Sierra, leaving Auckland on September 7, for America, and expect to reach Edinburgh about the middle of October.

It is expected that the Rev. Andrew Dunn, a minister of the United Free Church of Scotland, will arrive to-day by the R.M.S. Oroya on his way to Queensland. Mr. Dunn comes commissioned to the Presbyterian Church, Queensland.

The Rev. Dr. Bruce, convener of the Presbyterian Home Mission Committee, has so far recovered from his recent illness that yesterday he was able to go out for the first time since the attack.

To-morrow the Rev. Charles W. Willis, who was inducted on Tuesday evening last to the charge of the Pyrmont and Ultimo Presbyterian Church, will conduct his initial services both morning and evening. At the morning service Communion will be dispensed. On Tuesday evening the 38th annual tea meeting will be held at the church, when a welcome will be accorded to the new minister. There will be special music on the occasion.

An organ recital and sacred concert was given in the Newtown Presbyterian Church on Wednesday evening last by Mr. Walter J. Durie and members of the Balmain Presbyterian choir.

CONGREGATIONAL.

Yesterday the Rev. A. J. Griffith, M.A., concluded his work as secretary of the Congregational Union, and to-morrow he will close his pastorate at the Waverley Congregational Church. On Thursday next he will leave by the express for Brisbane, whither he is proceeding to take the pastorate of the Brighton-road Congregational Church.

To-morrow night the Rev. Charles Whyte, M.A., pastor of the Bourke-street Congregational Church, will preach on the subject of "Esther, the beautiful Queen." On Tuesday evening the choir of the church will render Bradbury's sacred cantata bearing the same title.

Missionary Sunday will be observed to-morrow at the Petersham Congregational Church. The Rev. Thomas Lord (of the L.M.S., Madagascar) will take the morning service; and the Rev. William Allen, the evening.

WESLEYAN.

It has been decided by the General Committee of the Wesleyan Century Fund to hold a demonstration in connection with the fund early in November. It is proposed that the "demonstration" shall take place in the Town Hall, to be followed by a public meeting in the Centenary Hall.

In connection with recent negotiations for the visit to Australia next year of the Rev. Hugh Price Hughes, information has come to hand of the breakdown of that gentleman's health. He has been enjoined absolute rest for six months.

"Market Days," a Wesleyan yearly institution in Parramatta, will be commenced on Wednesday and concluded on Saturday next week.

To-morrow at Wesley Church, Chippendale, there will be a continuation of the Sunday school anniversary, including special singing by the scholars and the choir. The Rev. John Nairn will preach, both morning and evening, his subject at the last-named service being "Our children and their relation to the Church."

A memorial service will be held in the Homebush Wesleyan Church on Sunday next for the late Mr. W. Arnott. The service will be conducted by the Rev. B. J. Meek.

LONDON MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The annual Young People's Demonstration in connection with the London Missionary Society was held in the Y.M.C.A. Hall last night. The Rev. C. White, M.A., was in the chair, and the hall was crowded. A missionary cantata entitled "Boys and Girls in Other Lands" was rendered by a number of children. The performers were attired in the costumes of India, Madagascar, and other lands. This was followed by a series of lantern views shown by Miss Harband, B.A., of Madras, the Rev. T. Lord, of Madagascar, and the Rev. Thomas King, organising secretary of the London Missionary Society in Australia. The demonstration was an artistic success.

THE COMMONWEALTH PARLIAMENT.

THE SENATE.

MELBOURNE, FRIDAY, AUGUST 30.

The President took the Chair at half-past 10 o'clock.

THE CUSTOMS BILL.

This Bill was further considered in committee.

On the second schedule relating to scale of fees for warehouses,

Senator CHARLESTON (S.A.) moved an amendment providing for a fee of £100 when only half the services of lockers are required.

The VICE-PRESIDENT OF THE EXECUTIVE COUNCIL considered that the matter could be dealt with on the basis of hourly payment and that the amendment was superfluous.

Senator SIR F. T. SARGOOD (Vic.) said that the amendment would give effect to a practice which had prevailed in Victoria for many years. He thought, however, that a fee of £100 was rather liberal.

Senator MILLEN (N.S.W.) thought that legislation should be made as little distasteful as possible, and as such a system as that advocated had been in operation in one of the important States without causing any inconvenience it might be followed.

Senator GLASSEY (Q.) thought that after all the matter might very well be dealt with by regulations.

Senator MILLEN said that there was no power to make regulations to deal with the matter.

After further discussion, the Vice-President of the Executive Council agreed to accept the amendment.

Senator Sir F. T. SARGOOD submitted a further amendment providing for a fixed fee of £50 where the whole services of a locker were not required, in place of giving the Minister power to charge up to £50.

Senator MILLEN said that the amendment was in the interests of the larger bondhousemen, but he distinctly repudiated the idea that a large bondhouseman was more honest than a small one.

The amendment was negatived.

On the section in the interpretation clause stating what officers the term "Collector" shall include,

Senator PULSFORD (N.S.W.) moved the omission of the words, "And any officers doing duty in a matter in relation to which the expression is used."

It was decided to retain the words.

The VICE-PRESIDENT OF THE EXECUTIVE COUNCIL, in moving that progress be reported, said that the Minister for Customs had had an interview with a deputation which brought an important matter before him. This might involve a new clause, and without expressing an opinion as to what he intended to do, he thought it desirable that they should have a consultation on the subject. On Wednesday he hoped he would be in a position to say what course the Government was prepared to adopt.

Progress was reported, and leave given to sit again on Wednesday.

BEER EXCISE BILL.

The VICE-PRESIDENT OF THE EXECUTIVE COUNCIL moved the second reading of this bill. He said the provisions contained in it were those with which they were all perfectly familiar in the different States. The object of the measure was to provide that manufactures should be carried on under supervision and control, and that no beer should leave the brewery without paying duty by means of a stamp.

The second reading was agreed to, and the bill taken into committee.

Senator GOULD (N.S.W.) sought for information as to whether uniform Customs and excise duties would take effect at the same time.

The VICE-PRESIDENT OF THE EXECUTIVE COUNCIL said he was not in a position to afford information on the subject.

Senator DOBSON (Tas.) regarded the provision in clause 9, allowing cancellation by the Minister of the license on the conviction of the holder, as too severe. He asked the Minister if he could see his way to modify it.

The VICE-PRESIDENT OF THE EXECUTIVE COUNCIL took the view that the Minister should have power to cancel the license because that would not be a too severe punishment for some offences.

Senator CLEMONS (Tas.) suggested that cancellation should only attach to a second offence.

Senator GOULD (N.S.W.) expressed the opinion that cancellation should only apply to offences for which a penalty exceeding £20 was provided.

Senator GLASSEY (Q.) could not believe it possible that a Minister would be so gross as to cancel a man's license for a trivial offence. He urged that large discretion should be given to the Minister.

Senator DOBSON (Tas.) moved that the liability to cancellation should only exist on a second conviction.

The VICE-PRESIDENT OF THE EXECUTIVE COUNCIL declined to accept the amendment, and said a more severe provision would be found in the Queensland law.

Senator NEILD (N.S.W.) did not see that this was any reason why the representatives of other States should accept a harsh law.

Senator PEARCE (W.A.) reminded the Senate that death had occurred from drinking impure beer. He considered it necessary that great power should be vested in the Minister.

Senator M'GREGOR (S.A.) was glad to see that the Criminals' Protection Association—(oh)—

The CHAIRMAN: I must ask the hon. gentleman to express himself differently. The words are not strictly in order.

Senator DOBSON (Tas.) withdrew the amendment, and the clause was agreed to.

On clause 27,

Senator DOBSON (Tas.) moved an amendment to enable a permit to be granted to enable a brewer to remove beer to his delivery store when it was more than a mile from the brewery.

The amendment was granted.

On clause 37, which provides for a refund of the duty when the beer has become bad before more than an eighth of it has been withdrawn from the vessel,

Senator DOBSON (Tas.) moved an amendment omitting the one-eighth provision.

Senator M'GREGOR (S.A.) regarded the clause as a great protection to the public. He had drunk beer in tied houses and free houses, and it was not so good in tied houses as in the free. What was there to prevent a bucket or two of water being put in? (Laughter.)

Senator Sir F. T. SARGOOD (Vic.) said the more he looked at the clause the more dangerous it appeared. He had been told by an expert that there was a great temptation to fill the cask up with anything.

Senator MILLEN (N.S.W.) said there was nothing to prevent the brewer from filling up the cask with bad beer after he got it.

Senator DOBSON altered his amendment to provide for the substitution of one-half for one-eighth.

The amendment was negatived by 16 votes to 9.

On clause 46, access to brewery and books,

Senator Sir F. T. SARGOOD (Vic.) said that it had been represented to him that an officer would have an opportunity of making himself acquainted with the trade secrets of the brewery, and he could either sell that information or start in opposition. There should be some means of protecting the brewer from robbery.

The VICE-PRESIDENT OF THE EXECUTIVE COUNCIL observed that if the law were to be carried out the officer must have access to every portion of the brewery. There was no desire, however, that officers should pry into the mysterious secrets of beer-making, and he would omit that portion of the clause which stated that the officer should note the making of beer.

The clause as amended was agreed to.

On clause 56,

Senator SMITH (W.A.) moved that the provisions of the Victorian Act prohibiting a brewer from having cocculus indicus, grains of paradise, or other drugs on his premises, be inserted.

The VICE-PRESIDENT OF THE EXECUTIVE COUNCIL was of opinion that the matter would be more properly dealt with in the Health Act.

Senator SMITH withdrew his amendment, with a view of introducing it in a separate clause later on.

The bill was passed through committee.

ADJOURNMENT.

The House at 4 p.m. adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

MELBOURNE, FRIDAY, AUGUST 30.

The Speaker took the chair at 10 o'clock.

MOTIONS.

Mr. SOLOMON (W.A.) moved that returns be furnished showing the cost and locality of all freehold property purchased from each State by the Commonwealth to date, and detailed estimates of all properties to be taken over from the various States.

The motion was agreed to.

Sir M. D. M'EACHARN (Vic.) moved for a return showing the average time occupied in the transmission of mails from London to Sydney during the last six months compared with the time occupied during the last six months that mail steamers were calling at Albany.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. WILKINSON (Q.) moved for a return showing the names and dates of appointment, previous and present rank, records of service and salary of sergeants of instruction, Queensland Defence Force, on March 1 and August 1, 1901, respectively.

The motion was agreed to.

Sir J. L. BONYTHON (S.A.), for Mr. Glynn (S.A.), moved for a return showing the military history and present status and rates of pay of each officer in the permanent forces.

The motion was agreed to.

THE DISTILLATION BILL.

The bill was further considered in committee.

Clauses 61 to 74 and 76 to 83 were agreed to.

On the motion to report progress,

Mr. M'COLL (Vic.) urged the Government to give the greatest possible consideration to the postponed clauses relating to vignerons. The clauses, he said, were of the greatest possible interest to a large number of producers throughout the Commonwealth, and as this was the first measure relating to production dealt with in the Federal Parliament the method of dealing with it would be taken as an indication of the attitude to be adopted towards producers.

The MINISTER FOR CUSTOMS begged to assure hon. members that every sympathetic care would be taken to conserve the interests of the producers.

Progress was reported.

SERVICE AND EXECUTION PROCESS BILL.

The debate on the second reading of the Service and Execution Process Bill was resumed.

Sir JOHN QUICK (Vic.) thought the bill an excellent one, but urged that the utmost care should be taken to ensure the bringing back of runaway husbands and parents who tried to shirk their responsibilities by removing to another State.

Mr. M'KAY (Vic.) supported the bill. He hoped every care would be taken to see that warrants were properly backed; otherwise injury might be done to individuals.

The second reading of the bill was agreed to, and the bill was committed.

Mr. THOMSON (N.S.W.) said that the Sydney Chamber of Commerce had some doubts as to whether it was intended to allow persons or proceedings to be removed from one State to another on the mere authority of a justice of the peace. Substantial injury might accrue under this practice, and he hoped that the point would be considered.

The ATTORNEY-GENERAL assured the hon. member that such was not the case. Proceedings could only be taken on documents that were properly backed by a responsible judicial authority, and justices of the peace could not be so regarded.

Clauses 1 to 9 were passed with slight verbal amendments.

On clause 10, relating to proceedings where no appearance is entered,

Sir JOHN QUICK (Vic.) secured the insertion of words recognising service on the principal officers of the corporation as service on the corporation.

Mr. CONROY (N.S.W.) thought the words relating to proceedings brought in one State on contracts entered into in another State somewhat vague and misleading.

The ATTORNEY-GENERAL promised to further consider the matter.

The clause was agreed to.

Clauses 11 and 12 were agreed to.

On clause 13, allowing a summons issued by any Court, Judge, or justice of peace being served in any part of the Commonwealth,

Mr. CROUCH (Vic.) thought the clause, or at least as much of it as related to justices of peace, should be struck out.

Mr. EDWARDS (N.S.W.) thought the clause very dangerous.

Mr. CONROY also objected to it.

Mr. PIESSE (Tas.) considered the power given was too great to be entrusted to justices of the peace, who, with the best intentions, would often inflict serious injustice, since there was no provision made for time as in the case of civil process, where up to 45 days was allowed. Here, where men's liberty might be involved, there was absolutely no extension of time.

The ATTORNEY-GENERAL said that the whole scope of the bill must be regarded under this clause. A man might be fined in his absence, but he could not be touched until certain other procedure provided or in the other clauses had been followed. It was not to be presumed that the Courts would deal unfairly with defendants in their absence.

Mr. CONROY said the trouble was power was given to justices of the peace, who were not always trained men.

Mr. THOMSON (N.S.W.): That is the whole contention.

The ATTORNEY-GENERAL said he would postpone the clause with a view of arranging that subsequent proceedings should only be taken by the authority of Judges or stipendiary magistrates.

The clause was postponed.

On clause 14, relating to subpœnas to witnesses,

Sir JOHN QUICK (Vic) moved,—"That summonses of that kind could only be issued for indispensable witnesses." The danger of inflicting injustice was very great.

Mr. ISAACS (Vic.) said that the power proposed to be given was very great. He would like to see the power restricted to very special cases, and then only given to Judges of the superior Courts. One instance of injustice would greatly shake public confidence.

The ATTORNEY-GENERAL said that under the Chinese law witnesses were treated as possibly more guilty than accused, and therefore there might be some reason for objecting to the Chinese procedure. In Australia it was a public duty to give evidence, and although some inconvenience might be caused at odd times, yet the interests of justice were paramount. He would postpone the clause.

Mr. BRUCE SMITH (N.S.W.) pointed out that though the first part of the clause was safe enough yet no warrant should be issued for the arrest of a witness who, say, was about to leave Perth for Rockhampton, without careful consideration. It might easily be that the evidence was such that it might be taken on commission. Power should be given to a Supreme Court Judge to decide this matter.

The clause was postponed.

Clause 15, relating to proof of service, and clauses 17 and 18 were verbally amended and agreed to.

On clause 19 relating to registration of judgments within 12 months,

Mr. BRUCE SMITH (N.S.W.) thought that some reason should be given for the change from six years to one year.

The ATTORNEY-GENERAL offered to make the time two years.

An amendment to that effect was made and the clause agreed, as were also the following clauses.

The ATTORNEY-GENERAL moved the insertion of a new clause empowering a Judge to compel a plaintiff to give security for costs.

This was agreed to.

The ATTORNEY-GENERAL moved the insertion of a new clause to define clearly that the jurisdiction of Courts would be the same as if the summons had been served in the same State as the writ was issued.

The clause was agreed to, and the schedules were passed with slight verbal amendments.

Progress was reported.

THE DEFENCE BILL.

The Defence Bill was further considered in committee.

Mr. WINTER COOKE (Vic.) suggested that owing to the limited time at their disposal that afternoon they should postpone the further consideration of the measure.

Other members expressed a similar view.

The MINISTER OF DEFENCE said he was surprised that after so much talk there was so little amendment. He moved that progress be reported.

Mr. WILKINSON (Q.) supported the proposition for postponement.

Mr. M'DONALD (Q.) thought that the Minister should have been present to hear the second reading speeches on such an important bill.

Mr. G. B. EDWARDS (N.S.W.) complained that members had not been informed that this bill would come on that day. He thought it would be wise if the Government retired the bill and sent it to a special committee. ("Oh, oh!").

Mr. WATSON (N.S.W.) said the blame of delay was clearly attributable to Ministers, who were unable to keep to the programme that they announced on the previous day.

The ATTORNEY-GENERAL said that the attack on the Government was unjustifiable. The House was bound not by the statements made by Ministers, but by the notice paper.

Mr. WILKS (N.S.W.) said the Attorney-General's contention was absurd. To take the Defence Bill in a thin House would be out of the question.

Progress was reported.

NATIONAL DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

The debate on Sir John Quick's motion to establish a national department of agriculture and productive industries was resumed.

Mr. SKENE (Vic.) said that though he was in entire sympathy with the motion, he did not think it possible to in any way at the present time deal freely with the question. Victoria was doing much to establish a system of small holdings by its closer settlement schemes. Agricultural education that would help these small farmers would be of the utmost value. In Victoria and New South Wales they had fully 50 per cent. of the population clinging to the large towns. Their object should be to induce the people to go outside their urban districts and become producers. He moved as an amendment,—"That steps be taken to induce the State Governments to co-operate with the bureau by placing the services of their Departments of Agriculture at the latter's disposal."

Mr. KIRWAN (W.A.) did not feel enthusiastic about adding to the responsibilities of the Commonwealth Government until time and experience had shown how they would deal with the duties already cast upon them. It would be time enough to deal with this subject in a few years. He referred the mover of the motion to his own notes on the Constitution Act, which declared that agriculture was one of the subjects that should be left to the State Governments. The motion came as a surprise to people who agreed with the annotators. Delays were sometimes dangerous, but in this case the postponement of the motion for seven years would mean wisdom and safety. (Hear, hear.)

Mr. RONALDS (Vic.) supported the motion, and advocated a system of rural scholarships.

Mr. KENNEDY (Vic.), while supporting the motion, hoped that more attention would be paid to practical than to theoretical education in any scheme of agricultural instruction. Victoria had had some costly lessons in irrigation and other theoretical subjects, which, although of use, yet need not be repeated.

The debate was adjourned.

ORDER OF BUSINESS.

The ATTORNEY-GENERAL indicated that next week the Government purposed to take the Postal, Distillation, and Service and Execution of Process Bills. When those were completed they would go on with the Immigration Restriction Bill.

Mr. WATSON (N.S.W.) hoped the Immigration Restriction Bill would be taken right through. He also wished to know if something could not be done with regard to the construction of new post and telegraph offices, works which could only be done out of capital.

Mr. SPEAKER stated that as the cost of printing a return giving statistics relating to manufactures in various States would be £245, it was proposed to save expense to print only new matter and have it bound up with previous returns. (Hear, hear.)

The ATTORNEY-GENERAL indicated that the House would not adjourn for "show" week.

ADJOURNMENT.

The House at 4.5 p.m. adjourned until Wednesday at 2 p.m.

SOCIAL.

The following paragraph, taken from the "Lady," will doubtless be read with interest by many:—"Queen Alexandra once again showed the keen interest that she takes in the nursing profession by receiving a large gathering of its members at Marlborough House. The nurses, who all belonged to the Royal National Pension Fund for Nurses, of which the Queen is President, numbered over 1100, and included representatives of the army, navy, and plague nursing services, as well as of the principal hospitals in the country. The picturesque ceremony took place in the grounds of Marlborough House. The Queen stood under a canopy, and had with her the King and Princess Victoria, and little Prince Edward of York. All the nurses passed singly before the Queen, and were greeted with a sweet smile, and over 500 of them received certificates from her Majesty's hands. Afterwards tea and refreshments were served in the grounds, and the nurses spent a most pleasant time."

There is every prospect of the September race week being very gay, and if the weather proves warm and fine no one will be able to complain of Sydney being dull during the next fortnight or so. His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor and Miss Darley have issued invitations to a garden party at Government House on Tuesday, September 10. The members of the Australian Club will give a ball on Wednesday, September 11, and the Union Club ball is to take place on Friday, September 13. Besides these entertainments, there will be several large private garden parties, and several dances; also the ball in aid of St. Vincent's Hospital. Mr. Le Hunte, C.M.G., Lieutenant-Governor of British New Guinea, is at present in Sydney, and during his stay here will be the guest of Sir Frederick Darley, the Lieutenant-Governor.

An English correspondent writes that "Lord and Lady Jersey entertained, in the beautiful grounds of Osterley Park, 600 boys and girls and the staff from the various homes and ships of the National Refuges for Homeless and Destitute Children, of which society Lord Jersey is president. The large party, which was under the charge of Mr. H. Bristow Wallen (secretary), included the 200 girls of the Sudbury and Ealing Homes; the boys of Fortescue House, Twickenham; boys from the Farm and Shaftesbury Schools, Bisley; and the young sailors of the Arethusa and Chichester training ships. The excellent brass bands of the homes and ships added to the enjoyment. A special feature of the proceedings was the presentation by Lady Jersey of good conduct prizes given by the Duchess of Cornwall and York."

A marriage has been arranged, and will take place in London in October, between Captain Victor Scratchley, D.S.O., King's Royal Rifles, only son of the late Major-General Sir Peter Scratchley, R.E., K.C.M.G., and Miss Anna Clementina Harvey, youngest daughter of the late John Harvey, of Singapore.

As the novelty of book teas has worn off (says "Woman"), fruit teas and flower teas have come in as substitutes. They are carried out on similar lines to their predecessor. Flowers suggested by a contemporary as easily represented by symbols are the sunflower, buttercups, crane's bill, and love-in-a-mist, while there are dozens of others, of course, which would lend themselves to the game. As for fruits, the pineapple, greengage (a "green" gauge), strawberry, &c., stand out as "readable," while there is scope for much ingenuity in their representation. The prizes given for the best device and for the longest list of correct guesses might, appropriately, take the form of bouquets of flowers and baskets of fruit.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hayes celebrated their golden wedding-day on Friday, the 23rd instant, when they entertained a number of friends and relations at a musical evening in honour of the event.

Mrs. W. H. Palmer gave a pleasant "At Home" at the Mosman council chambers last Saturday afternoon in honour of the marriage of her youngest daughter, Edith, with Mr. W. Addison Freeman. Miss Gertrude Palmer provided a capital musical programme, assisted by Miss Ethel Liggins (contralto), Miss Ruth Harper (mezzo), Mr. G. S. Arthur (baritone), Mr. Alfred Norman (tenor), and the Mosman string quartette. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Boesen, Mr. and Mrs. W. Freeman (father and mother of the bridegroom), Mr. Sydney Moss, Miss Moss, Mrs. W. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Garling, Mr. Ambrose Freeman, Miss Lucy Freeman, Mr. Robert Debenham, Mr. and Mrs. Sear, Miss Alda, Mrs. Liebius, Mrs. Laing, Mr. and Mrs. Maplestone, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Norman, Miss Emma Freeman, Mr. Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. Flavelle, Mr. and Mrs. Peake, Mr. Black, Rev. E. C. Beck, Mrs. Selby, Mr. Fisher.

A ball in aid of the Marrickville Cottage Hospital was held at the Petersham Town Hall on Friday night, August 23. A committee having for its principal executive officers Mrs. Trindall as hon. secretary and Mesdames W. and D. Chenhall as hon. treasurers had taken the matter in hand, and carried it to a successful issue. The hall was decorated with greenery and bunting, and the floor was in capital order for dancing. Amongst those present were Mesdames Winter, Chenhall, P. Russell, Trindall, Turner, Russell-Jones, Langley, Ashdown, Ross, Misses Trevor Jones, Mitchell, Talbot, Westcott, Brown, Bonke, Tillock, Johnson, Reid, Laing, Cleeve, Bright, and Trivett.

An enjoyable tea was given at Shadler's rooms on Friday, 23rd instant, in honour of Miss Theo. Britten. Amongst those present were Mrs. and the Misses Faur, Miss Mabel S. Ward, Misses Edith and Mildred Aarons, Miss Woodburn, Miss Harper, Miss Light, Miss E. Lawrence, Mrs. Hardy, Mrs. Harris, Messrs. Watt, Tyndal, Chatteland, Dr. Armstrong, Britten, Innes, Halloran, Mort, Vere, and Macabe.

A juvenile dance was given at the Paddington Town Hall on Thursday, August 21, by Miss L. Wright. It was made the occasion for the presentation of the prizes and certificates obtained at the Young People's Industrial Exhibition. Owing to the inclemency of the weather Lady Graham, who was recovering from influenza, was unable to be present, and Mrs. Peter Robinson presented the medals and certificates. A beautiful shower bouquet was presented to her by three little children, the Misses Hazel Hayward, Millie Larking, and Edith Stewart. The prizewinners were Maggie Williams, Kathleen Hewlett, Misses Stella and Paula Sheehan, Ada Dean, Gerty Carroll, Elsie O'Reilly, and Emily Sheldon.

The Paddington Town Hall presented an animated scene when the Waverley annual ball took place, the proceeds of which were in aid of the Poor Clares, Waverley. Extensive preparations had been made for the success of the gathering by an energetic ladies' committee, of which Mrs. E. W. O'Sullivan was the president. The others forming the committee were Mrs. D. A. Barlow and Miss M. Hegarty (joint hon. secretaries), Mrs. J. G. Carroll and Mrs. R. Daly (joint hon. treasurers), with Mesdames Tracy, Corrigan, Nolan, M. Maddigan, O'Hagan, Ryan, D. Curtain, Owen Carroll, Curbarron, and the Misses Barlow, Craven, English, Phibb, Flannery, Curtain, and Roach. The hall and supper room decorations were carried out by the ladies in an effective manner.

The Lodge Wentworth seventh annual ball took place at the Paddington Town Hall during the week, and was attended by a large number of members of the Masonic craft and others. The proceedings were carried out with considerable enthusiasm. Wor. Bro. Thomas Palmer again ably carried out the duties of hon. secretary, and had associated with him as the ball committee the worshipful masters, past masters, officers, and brethren of the lodge. The principals included Bro. Claude Leplastrier (Worshipful Master), Bro. G. F. Davies (senior warden), Bro. E. E. T. Kersey (junior warden).

At the invitation of the Mayor and Mayoress of Annandale about 125 couples attended a ball given in the Colonnade Hall, Johnstone-street, on Thursday. The function was a success. The hall was decorated and illuminated, the work having been carried out by Messrs. Dare and Son. The walls and stage were gaily festooned with lace curtains and floral art muslins, relieved with fernery and palms. At the door the guests were welcomed by the host and hostess. The Mayoress was attired in duchesse satin, with net and sequin trimmings. Refreshments were partaken of from 9.30 o'clock, Mr. Baumann being the caterer.

In the Masonic Hall, Summer Hill, a pretty dance was held on Thursday evening by the pupils of the Misses Scott, there being a good attendance of pupils and their friends. The hall was attractively decorated for the occasion, and with the added colour of the costumes of the fair dancers presented a bright appearance. The programme consisted of 15 items.

Miss Gladys Morlais Jones, daughter of Rev. J. Morlais Jones, of Lewisham, England, was married on July 11 to Mr. F. Beasley, M.A., Fellow of Merton College, Oxford. The wedding took place at the King's Weigh House Chapel, London. The officiating ministers were Revs. J. Morlais Jones and J. Morgan Gibbon. Mr. Brynmor Jones, K.C., M.P., gave away the bride (his cousin), and after the ceremony a reception was held at 27 Bryanston-square, the house of Mr. and Mrs. Brynmor Jones. The bridegroom's late father was minister at Redfern Congregational Church for many years.

A wedding was celebrated at St. Stephen's Church, Newtown, on the 21st instant, when Mr. Thomas Robert Miller, of the head office of the Bank of New South Wales, and youngest son of Mr. William Miller, was married to Miss Fanny Eleanor Elizabeth Thompson, eldest daughter of Mr. Florance Thompson, of Sydney. A large number of guests and spectators witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Canon Taylor. The bride was escorted by her father, who gave her away. She wore a dress of ivory-white silk, trimmed with white lace, pearls, and orange blossoms, the skirt being draped on the left side and caught with a gold buckle. A gold and pearl brooch set in pearls and turquoise and gold bracelet (gifts of the bridegroom) were also worn. She carried a white shower bouquet. The chief bridesmaid was Miss May Thompson (of Melbourne), sister of the bride, who was dressed in white silk, trimmed with bebe ribbon, with large white chiffon hat trimmed with red roses. The Misses A. and S. Miller (sisters of the bridegroom) and Miss Eva Rainford were the other bridesmaids, and wore white hailstone muslin, trimmed with white satin and bebe ribbon, and similar hats to the principal bridesmaid. They also wore gold brooches set in pearls, the gifts of the bride and bridegroom, and carried shower bouquets of red roses with red ribbons. Mr. J. S. Miller acted as best man, and Mr. J. Thompson (brother of the bride) and Mr. F. M. Ridge were the other groomsmen. After the ceremony a reception was held in the ballroom, L'Avenue, Newtown, where Mr. and Mrs. Miller received the congratulations of their friends and refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Miller left during the afternoon for Kiama, where the honeymoon is being spent. They were the recipients of many handsome presents. Amongst the guests were:—Mr. and Mrs. W. Rigg, Miss Rigg, Mr. and Mrs. W. Miller (father and mother of the bridegroom), Mr. L. Miller (Ulladulla), Mr. W. B. Rigg, Mr. and Mrs. A. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Miss Annie Miller (Gerringong), Mrs. and Miss Fuller (Shellharbour), Mr. and Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Carruthers, Miss Miller (Scone), Mr. and Miss Ritchie (Parramatta), Miss Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Chapman (Concord), Mr. and Mrs. W. Eves, Mr. and Misses S. and M. Healey, Miss Webb, Mr. and Mrs. Hill, Miss Tilson, Mr. and Mrs. Shute, Mrs. and the Misses Thomas, Mrs. and the Misses Hickey, Miss M'Cartie, Miss R. M'Cartie, Miss Naden, and the Rev. Canon Taylor.

MASONIC BALL.

The officers and members of Lodge St. John, Manly, held their annual ball on Thursday night at the Victoria Hall, Manly. About 70 couples attended, and expressed themselves pleased with the function. The hall was prettily decorated. The Grand Lodge was represented by R.W. Bro. J. G. Moon, G.S.W.; Wor. Bro. D. Moon, G.J.D.; and Wor. Bro. J. Snape, G.D.C. All the members of the lodge St. John were present. The Wor. Master (Wor. Bro. E. S. Wilson), the Senior Warden, Bro. D. W. Custer, the Junior Warden, Bro. R. St. Ausell, and Bro. E. Carter acted as Masters of Ceremonies.

Among those present were Wor. Bro. S. C. Sadler, P.G.J.D. (Tasmania), and Mrs. Sadler; Wor. Bro. E. H. Johnson, P.M. 1761, E.C.; Wor. Bro. H. Phipps, P.M.; Wor. Bro. G. Badmington, P.M.; Bro. A. Farr, J.D., Lodge St. John; Bro. W. Mingay, I.G., Lodge St. John, and Mrs. Mingay; Bro. E. Luce and Mrs. Luce, Bro. E. Carter and Mrs. Carter, Bro. C. Massey, Bro. H. Campbell and Mrs. Campbell, Bro. CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOUR CONVENTION.

Arrangements have been completed for the Christian Endeavour Convention in Sydney, which is to be commenced on Thursday next with the council meeting. On Friday night a public meeting will be held, at which the subject will be "Twentieth Century Christian Endeavour Societies," the appointed speakers being the Revs. Dr. Fordyce and W. Woolls Rutledge. The junior rally will be held on Saturday afternoon, and in the evening the subject of "Twentieth Century Citizenship" will be considered. The Rev. W. G. Taylor will speak on "Its Perils," and the Rev. J. Green on "Its Possibilities." A conference and free parliament, to be presided over by the Rev. William Allen, will be held on Monday afternoon, the subject being "The C. E. Society, a Place for Training the Young Christian." The president's annual address will be given on Monday evening. The Revs. Dr. Porter and E. Tremayne Dunstan will speak on "Twentieth Century Churches as Influenced by Christian Endeavour." On the Tuesday afternoon there will be a conference on "Our Machinery," and on the same evening the Rev. M. Reavley will preach the convention sermon. During the convention a conference will be held on "The outposts of our movement," the subject to be introduced by the Rev. J. Crookston, of Newcastle. The close of the convention will be marked by a river excursion on Wednesday.

CORPORATION OF ACCOUNTANTS OF AUSTRALIA.

MERCANTILE LAW.

The second lecture of the second session of the Corporation of Accountants of Australia was delivered at the offices of the corporation on Thursday evening last by Mr. Richard Windeyer, B.A., barrister-at-law, on "Mercantile Law." Mr. Wilfrid Docker, president of the corporation, occupied the chair, and there was a very large attendance of the members, associates, and their friends.

Mr. Windeyer referred to the circumstances under which the ancient common law was evolved, and showed how later, with the development of modern civilisation in Europe and the growth of trade, the mercantile communities found it necessary in regulating their relations to disregard the strictness of the common law. From this necessity the whole body of mercantile usage took shape and gradually secured recognition in the King's Courts, and was engrafted on the common law. The different kinds of negotiable instruments were then described, and the law regulating the rights and liabilities of the parties to such instruments explained. The means of enforcing negotiable instruments, and the various defences that might be set up against them, were dealt with. Shipping documents received consideration at the hands of the lecturer, and matters connected therewith, such as freight, demurrage, and vendors' right of stoppage in transit.

ALLEGED ADULTERATION OF BEER.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—We wish to draw attention to a statement contained in the papers laid on the table of the Legislative Assembly in connection with the recent beer prosecutions. One of the reasons given for withdrawal was "because of the fact that an understanding had been arrived at with the leading brewers that they would at once make extensive and important improvements in their processes, which would dispense with the use of antiseptics, and result in the manufacture of a pure beer."

As the oldest and largest brewery in Australia, the public naturally look upon us as one of the "leading brewers" referred to, and we wish most emphatically to deny that we ever entered into any understanding to make "extensive and important improvements in our process." This brewery is conducted on the most modern lines, and no expense is spared to secure the manufacture of an article of the highest possible quality.

In drawing attention to this matter we do not in any way wish to disparage the articles produced in other breweries, but we deem it only fair to ourselves, and in justice to our customers, to draw attention to the very ambiguous statement made in the House, as in no instance was a summons issued against any publican drawing our beer, although 14 out of the 30 samples tested were brewed and supplied by us.

WOMAN'S FRANCHISE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—May we ask the insertion in your columns of copy of petition presented to the Legislative Council by the Hon. J. H. Want when the matter was last before that Chamber? Owing to the sudden prorogation it does not appear on the records. It was intended that the petition should be accompanied by some thousands of signatures of women of all classes obtained within a few weeks by the Woman's Anti-suffrage League, but this course was deemed by some honourable members as unnecessary. I am, &c., P. T. GANDON,
Hon. Secretary Anti-suffrage League.

"To the Honourable the President and Members of the Legislative Council of New South Wales in Parliament assembled:—

"The humble petition of New South Wales Anti-Woman's Franchise League respectively showeth—

"1. That the great mass of the women of New South Wales deem themselves properly and adequately represented at the ballot-box and in Parliament under the existing policy, and they are not desirous of political equality with men.

"2. That proposals for extending political equality to women have been put forward from time to time in New South Wales and elsewhere, but the public has never been brought to regard the question as one of practical politics.

"3. That public opinion has never been definitely expressed on the subject in this colony, nor has it been brought to test in a general election.

"4. That the women of New South Wales who do not belong to the active minority by which the proposal is being pressed forward are ill-disposed to take part in public agitation, which they regard as an occupation for which they are not qualified; and so only one view of the question has been canvassed.

"5. That petitions to your honourable House were prepared when it was observed that the proposal had been made a question of practical politics by the introduction of the Women's Franchise Bill into Parliament; and such petitions have been sent to the city of Sydney and some of its suburbs and country towns of New South Wales for signature. Already a very large number of signatures of women have been obtained upon these petitions praying that the proposed bill will not become law.

"6. That, owing to the fact that your petitioners are not identified with associations which are actively represented throughout the colony they are greatly handicapped in obtaining an expression of public opinion by the signing of petitions or otherwise, and their difficulties in this regard are intensified by the facts that the great majority of women are not disposed to take part in political agitation of any kind, and that your petitioners' association has been only brought recently into existence, and is without funds or organisation.

"Your petitioners therefore humbly pray that your honourable House will delay in dealing with the matter until an adequate expression of public opinion has been obtained thereon."

THE PRETTIEST CHILD IN ENGLAND cannot be kept so unless in perfect health. To keep a child healthy and thereby happy it does not need the strong medicines commonly given (any more than strong food)—they are a mistake. Nature has supplied a gentle remedy in California Syrup of Figs—an ideal medicine for children—pleasant as figs and sugar are, and invariably successful in removing trouble without creating it. It ministers exactly to all complaints of the stomach, liver, kidneys, and bowels—only, however if it is the genuine California Syrup of Figs. Imitations of it are as hurtful to children as adulterated food. The genuine bears the name and trade mark of the California Fig Syrup Co. Of chemists, 1s 1½d and 1s 9d.—Advt.

MR. WRAGGE'S FORECAST FOR THREE DAYS.

New South Wales.—Cloudy conditions will obtain in the southern districts, but over the remainder of the State fine weather will prevail; some showers are probable in Riverina and extreme south-east before Monday. Sea moderate; southerly winds in coast parts; westerlies in southern regions; variables elsewhere.

Western Australia.—Some cloud in the coastal districts, otherwise fine. The disturbance "Jebus" will affect the southern coast regions before Monday, bringing more rain and squalls from the north-west and west.

Northern Territory and Central Australia.—Fine throughout under south-easters.

South Australia. Somewhat unsettled in southern districts, with rain, but fine inland, later becoming unsettled, with more rain as "Jebus" approaches; sea moderate.

Queensland. Fine weather will prevail throughout the State, with the exception of some cloud along the coast, and showers, chiefly north, from tropics; south-easterly winds blowing fresh in the Gulf and Torres Straits, with areas of fresh to rough sea, moderate otherwise.

Victoria and Tasmania.—More or less cloudy in seaboard parts, with some rain, but improving slightly, then again becoming unsettled under "Jebus," with squalls from north and north-west.

New Zealand.—Fine throughout, showers on the east coast of southern island.

New Caledonia.—Cloudy, with passing showers under S.E. winds.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 31, 1901.

In connection with the complaint of Lord Kitchener that some of the Yeomanry were unsuitable, it is stated that several substitutes underwent the riding and firing tests when the incompetent men were enrolled in England.

Sharpshooters north of Ladybrand captured five Boers and many horses at a farmhouse used as a Boer remount depot.

In commenting upon the recent Boer treachery British newspapers recommend that more mounted men should be sent to Lord Kitchener to vigorously bring the war to an end and prevent acts of savagery and embitterment.

The "Pall Mall Gazette" says that one execution for murder is preferable to many proclamations.

The claims by foreigners for injuries suffered during the war amount to £315,048 as direct damages and £818,473 as consequential damages. The Commission has ignored the latter, and the direct claims have been considerably reduced owing to the absence of many of the claimants.

A cable received from Colonel Lassetter states that the Mounted Rifles have reached Klerksdorp after successful marches. The Colonel adds that he is proud of the achievements of his men.

Mr. James Blyth, in an article in the "Chamber of Commerce Journal" on the vintages exhibited at the Paris Exhibition, says that with proper attention to soil, climate, and fixation, wines of the highest excellence, approaching the finer growths of Europe, can be produced in Australia and South Africa.

The Commonwealth, Mr. Blyth says, will largely contribute in the near future to the world's supply of burgundies, clarets, hocks, and sparkling wines.

New Zealand, he adds, may also possibly contribute to the supply of these wines, whilst South Africa will produce ports, sherries, and Madeiras.

The municipality of Capetown has decided to commemorate the Royal visit by establishing mining and engineering scholarships in the University of Cape Colony.

A bad Nile season is expected. The river is falling rapidly between Khartoum and north of Duem.

The Porte's various concessions to the Germans have caused heartburnings to Russia.

The departure of M. Constans from Constantinople on the eve of the Czar's visit to France is regarded as a veiled warning to Germany.

Military activity existing in Bessarabia, and the Pan-Slavist propaganda in the Balkans have caused unrest in Hungary and Roumania.

The Hungarians are clamouring for an inquiry into the value of the Austro-Russian agreement of 1897.

The Kaiser insists upon Prince Ch'un's ultimate obeisance.

Prince Ch'un is remaining at an hotel on the Swiss side of the Rhine. General Hoepfner, who has been sent to receive him, is staying at an hotel on the German side of the river.

The German Emperor has disapproved of the address which Prince Ch'un proposes to present, the ground of objection being that it is not expressive of the expiatory character of the mission.

The Australian bowlers will return to Australia in the steamer India.

It is probable that a team of English bowlers will visit Australia in September, 1902.

The committee appointed by the Admiralty to inquire into the victualling of warships has recommended the carrying out of certain reforms. It is proposed to make the number of recognised meals on ships five per day instead of three as at present.

The value of the estate of the late Empress Frederick is about £550,000. Her Majesty left to each of her children, including the German Emperor, 1,000,000 marks in cash.

A disaster has occurred on the steamer City of Trenton, on the Delaware River (U.S.). The boiler exploded. Eleven persons were killed and 25 others were injured.

Three more miners have been rescued from the Donibristle Colliery, Fifeshire. One miner had been imprisoned for 36 hours. Hope of rescuing the remaining eight is abandoned.

To facilitate land settlement in Queensland a bill has been introduced into the Legislative Assembly of that State providing for the granting of new leases of Crown lands.

The steamer Titus arrived in Sydney yesterday after a trip through the Islands.

The Deputy-Commissioner in the Solomons was reported to have punished natives who had been engaged in head-hunting expeditions.

The Titus brings news that a severe tidal wave took place at Santa Cruz, the lives of several natives having been lost.

At the last meeting of the Sydney Labour Council it was resolved to forward a letter to the Parliamentary Labour party asking for an explanation of the absence of the members of the party from a deputation of restaurant employees who had waited upon the Premier.

Mr. Fraser, the assistant chief inspector of stock in New Zealand, who recently visited Australia, reports that the agricultural methods in Victoria are superior to those of this State.

The Minister for Mines yesterday promised a deputation that he would have a bill introduced into Parliament at the earliest possible moment granting certain relief asked for in connection with the gold-dredging industry.

A new merchandise and live stock rates book has been issued by the Railway Commissioners.

In reply to a deputation representing the Council of the Churches yesterday, the Premier said the number of hotels in the Rocks resumed area would be reduced by at least two-thirds, but reasonable compensation must be given just as much as in the case of a grocer's shop.

Mr. See stated yesterday that he intended to bring in a bill to put the liquor traffic on a better footing.

The Minister for Works has received three offers from firms for the manufacture of steel rails.

At St. Peters last night Mr. Rigg, ex-M.L.A., was presented with an illuminated address.

Mr. Reid, in making the presentation, said he regretted that the opportunity afforded by the institution of the federal system of government had not been seized upon by the various State Governments to exercise those economies of unnecessary expenditure which might have been expected.

The Senate yesterday further considered the Customs Bill in committee, and the Beer Excise Bill was read the second time and passed through committee.

The House of Representatives dealt with the Distillation Bill in committee. The Service and Execution Process Bill passed its second reading and was taken into committee. Additional speeches were made on Sir John Quick's motion for a national department of agriculture.

About 70 hands are now employed at the Parramatta woollen mills. Nearly 100 hands are engaged at the factory connected with them.

At Homebush last night Mr. Perry, Minister for Education, officially opened the Homebush School of Arts.

At a meeting of the newly elected council of the Public Service Association on Wednesday night Mr. J. W. Turner, principal of the Training College and head master of Fort-street Model Public School, was unanimously re-elected president.

Business was very dull on the Stock Exchange yesterday. The market was unchanged.

In the Mining market a fair volume of business was transacted with a firm tone generally. Prices of Western Australian companies were well maintained. Local silver companies had marked advances in several instances.

The import market experienced a further speculative turn, operations of a large character being carried through in some articles which are considered likely to become dutiable under the federal tariff.

THE FEDERAL CAPITAL.

Both in the Federal Parliament and in our State Assembly the question of the capital is constantly claiming attention in one shape or another, and something is always happening to keep it well to the front. A prolific cause, responsible for much of the notice the subject receives, is the friction between the Federal Parliament and the State Legislature of Victoria over the occupancy of the Parliamentary buildings in Melbourne by the first-named. The members of the State Legislature quickly felt the inconvenience of their courtesy in offering the hospitality of these premises to the homeless Federal Houses, and the use federal senators and representatives put the building to adds poignancy to their original dissatisfaction. Their federal guests do more than legislate in the palatial edifice at the top of Bourke-street. They also live there, it is said,—or some of them, at any rate. The use of the billiard-room bulks largely in the controversy. Then there is the question of the library. The State Parliament would like to retain the entire control of that, and as may be readily understood this involves a matter of great concern to the Federal Ministry and Parliament, especially during the course of the constructive work on which they are engaged. But these are only some of the instances of friction which might be quoted, and on the whole it has been made quite evident that the Victorian politicians regret their compact with the federal authority, and would like to become masters in their own house again as soon as possible. But then it seems hardly fair to turn the Federal Parliament out just after it has been installed in its first habitation, and when it has so much important work to do. To remove to the Exhibition Building in Carlton Gardens now would not only mean a serious waste of time, but it would cut members off from access to the Parliamentary library which they find so helpful. Then, again, the Parliament will have to make another move when the capital is ready, and there certainly does seem reason in the argument that as the Victorian Legislature has made its own bargain it ought to stand by it, consoled as it is by the reflection that Melbourne is the meeting-place of the Federal Parliament until it removes to its permanent home within a federal State of its own.

It is very desirable, of course, that our first Federal Parliament should be permitted to do its important work under conditions of comfort and convenience, and if these cannot be provided without unnecessary friction in Melbourne the only remedy is to set about making the home of the Parliament at once. This is to be desired on other grounds, so that if the Victorian State politicians remain dissatisfied they will be serving more than a selfish end by urging on this question of the capital. Looking at the matter from the point of view of the mother State, we ought not perhaps to be too grieved over the restlessness of our neighbour's State Legislature to return to its accustomed premises, and certainly it is not open to them to say that the delay is due to any action on the part of New South Wales. Replying to Mr. Carruthers in the Legislative Assembly this week, Mr. See stated that the State Government had given every facility and afforded every opportunity to the Federal Government to make choice of a site for the capital. Three sites have been offered, and the surrounding country reserved. Mr. See has expressed his Cabinet's readiness to act similarly with any other proposed or designated site. Then there is the assurance, sufficiently generous to show the absolute good faith of this State in the matter, that whatever site the Federal Parliament may select, the Government of New South Wales will not offer any opposition to that selection. Obviously, then, if there is delay it does not come from us, nor can it be said to be suggested by any obstacle, imaginary or real, placed in the way of a settlement by the interests of the State which is to relinquish territory for a federal area. Now and then, too, we get expressions of opinion from federal members in favour of an early decision. It is just possible that there is more friction entailing inconvenience to members of both the federal Houses than we are aware of. That would help to account for the wish of one of the Queensland representatives to have the meeting-place of the Parliament removed to Sydney at once, until some temporary arrangements could be made at the site of the capital. Of course the temporary meeting-place of the Parliament has been fixed by the Constitution itself, and members are hardly likely to set about amending that. But it is clear that it would better serve the interests of members who have to travel from Queensland if the Parliament could find a place for its meeting at an early date somewhere in New South Wales.

The conclusion of the whole matter is that the time is evidently near when the federal authority will have to bestir itself about this question of the capital. It is true that Mr. Barton and his colleagues are involved in a heavy press of legislative work just now, and that helps to excuse the delay so far. Then there is a project to give members of the Senate and House of Representatives an opportunity of personally visiting and inspecting the sites offered to Parliament for its acceptance. Originally it was thought that these visits might be made in October, but the federal tariff will be in hand by then, and members under these circumstances will hardly ask to be spared from their legislative duties. The tour will have to be postponed until the recess, in all probability, and that is not expected to come much before Christmas. But in the meantime the Federal Parliament is giving signs of interest in the question of the capital. Mr. Bruce Smith, for instance, has a motion on the list affirming that no time should be lost in deciding on the site; but as the motion then goes on to affirm the desirableness of obtaining full information as to the relative fitness of sites offered and suggested, and reports from experts as to accessibility, climate, water supply, soil, scenery, suitability for building purposes, proximity to settlement, and cost of acquirement, it would seem that he foresees a good deal of delay yet. This State has already gone to a great deal of trouble to make inquiry into all these matters through Mr. Commissioner Oliver, who made personal inspections and took the evidence of experts with a view to collecting the very best data for the judgment of the Federal Parliament. The information thus obtained has been reduced to system and published in a convenient form so that all interested in the question may consult it. There does not appear any real reason why this valuable labour should be set aside and the whole process gone over again. The sites eligible for the purpose of a federal capital are, after all, few in number, and the figures and facts concerning them do not change. Indeed, so far as the question of information is concerned, there is no reason why the Parliament should not proceed to make its decision at once.

WHITE SAILORS FOR AUSTRALIAN SHIPS.

The success which attended last year's operations of the Sobraon in the direction of supplying apprentices to Australian ships will be considered satisfactory as far as it goes by all who desire to see our ships manned by Australian crews. There were particular circumstances favouring this development last year, but it may be hoped that the good results achieved will be followed up each succeeding year. For various reasons the calling of the sea is not so popular with Australian boys as it might be, and anything which would increase its popularity is desirable. Nor must it be supposed that the unpopularity of the sea as a profession is confined to Australians or even to the British. A cablegram which we published the other day set forth that the German Emperor is bringing thousands of schoolboys to Kiel, there to inspect the vessels of the navy, and to kindle in their minds enthusiasm for the service. The mere fact that the Emperor has deemed it wise to establish this pilgrimage may be taken as proof that German boys look no more kindly on the sea than Australian or British boys look. Indeed the circle may be indefinitely extended, and within its compass may be found the United States of America as well as France and Italy. The fact is, that boys and young men and their parents or guardians find that better practical results can be obtained by following other pursuits. It behoves us as Australians to consider the matter carefully, whether we have regard to the manning of the ships of war which may be necessary for the protection of the Commonwealth or of the mercantile navy, without which our island continent would be isolated from the markets of the world.

We can learn the true facts of the case most readily by studying the state of affairs in regard to the mother country. "The trident of Neptune," said a French naval officer the other day, "is the sceptre of empire," and of no country can this be more surely stated than of the British Empire. Yet in the United Kingdom we find a constantly decreasing number of British seamen. "Fifty years ago," writes Lord Brassey, "we had 200,000 British seamen in our mercantile marine; we have scarcely half that number at the present time. Our British A.B.'s and firemen in the over-sea trade will soon be outnumbered by foreigners and lascars. For the trade through the Suez Canal to India and the Far East the men of the tropics are better adapted than those of our northern race. British seamen and firemen must suffer—it is almost inevitable that they should deteriorate—if serving continually under the rays of a vertical sun. In other branches of trade it would be well if our ships were manned more fully than at present by British subjects. The falling off in numbers is the more deplorable because it is mainly among the younger men. The state of things is grave, and calls for the attention of statesmen." And yet the whole thing lies in a nutshell. It is a question of wages and treatment. "I am convinced," writes to a London newspaper a man who had eight years' experience of life in the mercantile service, "I am convinced you will never get a good class of man, or a good supply, unless you improve his food, his pay, and his living and sleeping accommodation, and also his general treatment." Another correspondent—an officer this time, with twelve years' experience—says that the root of the whole matter lies, firstly, in food, and secondly, in general comfort of quarters provided. Significant in this connection is the cablegram which is published in our issue to-day, stating that an Admiralty committee has recommended increasing the number of meals on board ship from three, as at present, to five daily. We want a good class of men to fill positions as officers and A.B.'s on board our ships; yet we offer no inducements. On the other hand, boys and men of the class we require find without searching that their services are more highly appreciated in current coin of the realm on land than at sea. Naturally enough—who shall blame them?—they choose the more profitable calling, and they leave the positions of officer and A.B. to whoever cares to apply for them.

The importance of having British crews for British vessels stands out particularly in the matter of war ships. It would hardly be a stress on the imagination to predicate the time, if present circumstances continue, when the crew of a British or Australian man-of-war, as the case may be, composed mainly of foreigners, should be asked to fight a ship against the country to which large numbers of these foreigners belong. Even civilians can understand the difficulty of such a position. And the same consideration applies, though in a modified form, to the manning of merchant vessels. We all of us hold, though perhaps we are not prepared to admit it directly in so many words, that it is upon the men, as well as upon the ships, that the safety of vessels depends. Holding this we go further and claim for men of British race preeminence in nautical matters. Indeed, it has been proved on thousands of occasions that in the time of danger the seaman of this stock is the man who unobtrusively does heroic work and blushes to find it fame. How are we to preserve this breed of heroes in its natural element? For one thing, as we have seen, the material advantages offered to seamen must be at least equal to those offered to men who follow other walks of life. In simple justice they ought to be greater, for there is the element of risk to be considered. And next, every encouragement should be given to institutions for the training of boys for the sea. There should be schoolships at the ports, and the good work done by them should be supplemented by actual sea-training. The best authorities urge that sailing ships should be employed for the training of seamen, inasmuch as amongst other advantages these render necessary an alertness and a degree of attention which are unnecessary in steamships. The apprentices thus educated—serving first on the training ships, afterwards in the Royal Navy, and later in the mercantile marine—would become valuable members of a community which largely depends for its very existence as a free nation on the efficacy and patriotism of its sailors.

Mr. A. B. Paterson's Tour.—Our special commissioner to the East, Mr. A. B. Paterson, is en route to his destination. His experiences along the northern coast of Australia are described in a letter sent from Thursday Island, and published on page 7.

"Life in London."—Mr. Henry W. Lucy's letter from London, published to-day, deals mainly with political topics. References are also made to the imprisonment of Earl Russell, the death of "Sam" Pope, and the tropical conditions that had prevailed in the metropolis.

Ministerial Visit.—The Minister for Works left Sydney last night for the Wagga district, in company with Mr. M'Laurin and Mr. Gormly, Ms.L.A., and other visitors, with the view of declaring open to-day the Rock to Lockhart railway. The party will afterwards visit Narrandera and Hay, and will return to Sydney on Wednesday morning.

A Case Under the Traffic Act.—Yesterday, in Chambers, before Mr. Justice Cohen, an appeal was heard in the case of a cabman named Fletcher, who had been convicted and fined on an information based upon the seventh section (2nd sub-section) of the regulations under the Metropolitan Traffic Act. The evidence showed that Fletcher had driven a fare to a shop in Oxford-street, and was waiting for his return, as instructed, when a constable directed him to move to a place opposite the shop. As Fletcher believed he was within his legal rights in remaining where he was, he ignored the request, and he was summoned for permitting his horse and vehicle to stand longer than was necessary for loading or unloading goods or to take up or set down passengers. He was fined, and appealed on the ground that under the circumstances of the case he was not liable. His Honor granted a prohibition to set aside the conviction on the ground that the magistrate came to an erroneous conclusion.

Art Society's Exhibition.—Yesterday the trustees of the National Art Gallery announced their decision in regard to the purchase of works at the Art Society's Exhibition, which they carefully inspected on Thursday. The new pictures in this way added to the State collection will be Frank P. Mahony's "A Spring Morning," for £200; Albert J. Hanson's water-colour "The Weary Horses Seek the Stream," for £31 10s; and W. C. Piguenit's black-and-white study, "The Mill Stream," for £31 10s. Those interested in art matters will not fail to remember that Messrs. W. Lister Lister and Arthur Collingridge (president and vice-president of the Art Society), being trustees upon the Art Gallery Board, are necessarily, and voluntarily, excluded from the circle of exhibitors whose works were open to selection. The three pictures chosen are referred to in our criticism upon the new exhibition, from which it will be gathered that visitors to the private view to-day will find a great deal to interest them. The general public will be admitted to the galleries on Monday, when Rear-Admiral Sir Lewis Beaumont will formally open the show.

Death of Mrs. Gother Mann.—The death took place yesterday of Mrs. Mann, relict of the late Captain Gother Kerr Mann, of the Royal Engineers. Mrs. Mann was the eldest daughter of the late Mr. Frederick A. Hely, of Engehurst, and she was married on January 3, 1838, to Captain Mann. The diamond wedding was celebrated on January 3, 1898.

The Railway Department announce by advertisement that commencing to-morrow an improved service of trains will be run on the Illawarra line on Sundays.

On Wednesday next the General Gordon excursion trips on the Hawkesbury River will be resumed.

It is announced in our advertising columns that a complimentary concert will be given at the Town Hall on Saturday, September 14, to Miss Hetty Holroyd, on the eve of her departure for Europe. The entertainment will be under the patronage of his Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor, the Premier, the Mayor, and other leading citizens.

Dr. Ashburton Thompson, chief medical officer of the Government, and president of the Board of Health, is again ill, and is an inmate of a private hospital.

It is elsewhere announced that St. Canice's Fair will be opened at the Cardinal's Hall by the Cardinal at 3 p.m. to-day.

The time table for extension of the railway from Byrock to Brewarrina is advertised in this issue.

The Hon. S. H. Hyam, M.L.C., has been appointed a member of the Fisheries Commission.

An announcement appears in our business columns to the effect that Messrs. Orme, Keigwin, and Co. are the agents for supplying Apollinaris water.

Attention is directed to an announcement in another column of a concert tendered by the North Sydney Orphans in aid of the funds of the North Shore Hospital, to be held in the local School of Arts on Monday evening.

The Australian Church congregation in Sydney will celebrate its third anniversary to-morrow, when the Rev. George Walters will preach. Next week a fancy fair will be held, the opening ceremonies being undertaken by Mrs. J. H. Lasdau, Mrs. Robert Brough, and Miss Freeman.

A performance by Mr. L. De Groen's Vice-Regal Military Band will be given in aid of the funds of the North Sydney Hospital in St. Leonards Reserve to-morrow afternoon.

The Railway Commissioners notify that slight alterations will be made in the Leichhardt and Annandale time-table commencing from Monday next. Also that the reduction in the through fare recently approved on the Willoughby line will be brought into force on and from to-morrow.

His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor, Sir Frederick Darley, G.C.M.G., will, on Tuesday next, at 3.30 p.m., distribute at the Chamber of Commerce, Royal Exchange, the certificates and prizes won at the late examination for Junior Commercial Certificates issued by the Sydney Chamber of Commerce.

Messrs. Kealy and Philip, of George-street, have sent us a translation of Richebourg's "Le Million du Pere Raclot," by S. Lasker, B.A., and J. A. Browne, being the subject set for special study in French to the Sydney University junior examinations, 1902.

Mr. Hawthorne, M.L.A., has received a memorandum stating that there is no need for a deputation to wait on the Minister for Works respecting the proposed tramline from Balmain West (Weston-road) to Petersham Railway Station, as he has already decided to provide for that line when the next tramway vote is submitted.

An announcement appears in our advertising columns to the effect that certain roads in the Centennial Park will be closed to horse and cycle traffic until further notice.

A commemoration dinner in honour of Henry George will be held on Monday evening at Quong Tart's Elite Hall, Queen Victoria Markets, and will be followed by a public meeting, at which it is proposed to establish an Australasian Single Tax League.

Mr. John Upward, chairman of the City Railway Extension Association, writes, explaining that a great deal of trouble had been taken in arranging details connected with the deputation regarding city railway extension, which was to have waited on the Minister for Works, and much disappointment was experienced at the receipt of an intimation that Mr. O'Sullivan was unable to receive the deputation. Mr. Upward adds: "I would urge upon the Minister to give us a reply at our next interview—one way or the other—that will point some finality to our labours, and will once and for all do away with the possibility of a representative committee dealing with an important public question being made the innocent means of disappointing a large body of citizens, as was the case on Wednesday morning last."

The committee in charge of the movement in connection with the testimonial to the Rev. Dr. Dill Macky has convened a public meeting to be held in the Protestant Hall on Monday night, when an address, &c., will be presented to him. Senator J. T. Walker will preside.

About the time of the Commonwealth inauguration some of the Scandinavian residents of Sydney conceived the idea of endeavouring to raise a fund sufficient for the permanent endowment of a cot in the Hospital for Sick Children, Glebe, to be named "The Scandinavian Commonwealth Cot." A considerable sum of money has been subscribed, and in order to supplement this sum it has been decided to hold a fete in the Town Hall on September 25 and the three following days. The fete will include a bazaar, art union, tableaux, fancy dancing, glee singing of Scandinavian songs, a children's fancy dress ball, lime-light views of Scandinavian scenery, with views of Australian snow scenery and the recent snow-shoe carnival at Kiandra, &c.

The weekly meeting of the Sydney Literary and Debating Society was held last Thursday evening at the Queen's Hall, Pitt-street. Mr. M. J. Wilson moved,—"That a wheel tax should be imposed on all vehicles in lieu of the present system of licenses." Alderman Lindsay Thompson took the chair. Messrs. M. J. Wilson, R. V. Hodgson, F. Crolland, R. Wilson, F. J. Bartlett, Levey, Connolly, Steel, and Vider took part in the discussion. The motion was carried unanimously.

Elizabeth Sheddon, 42, residing at Cleveland-street, city, was standing on a table yesterday cleaning some windows at her residence, when she fell to the floor and fractured her right arm. She was taken to Prince Alfred Hospital, where her injuries were attended to.

Ernest Robinson, 17, of Mount-street, Redfern, was riding a horse along Sewer-street yesterday when he fell off. He was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital and admitted suffering from shock to the system and bruises.

At the Railway Institute on Wednesday evening a lecture, illustrated by lantern views, was delivered by Mr. E. C. Haviland, on "Western Australia."

The Rev. H. W. Trickett, organising secretary of the Church Missionary Association, lectured upon "Mission Work" at St. George's Church, Paddington, on Tuesday evening.

THE WEATHER.

A CHANGE TO MILDER CONDITIONS.

No sooner had the boisterous cyclonic storm which proved so generous to the continent in its rainfall passed to the east than a wet anti-cyclonic system appeared. The latter was characterised by light winds at Sydney from the north-west. Showers fell in the west, and up as far as the foothills of the dividing range on the western slopes. Locally the weather was promising for rain, though nothing worth recording fell.

STATION REPORTS.

The A. E. and M. Company, Limited have received the following advices:—Brookong station, via The Rock, 29th: 80 points. Galore, 60 head station, general rain since Saturday. Boolcarrol station, Narrabri, 28th: 161 points since 19th. Thackaringa station, Thackaringa: 111 points 29th, making 270 points since 15th. To-day is cloudy. It was showery early in the morning.

MILTON, Friday.

The rainfall this week was 83 points.

ORANGE, Friday.

The weather continues dull and threatening. Fine weather is now wanted.

TINGHA, Friday.

Heavy rain set in here on Sunday morning, and continued till about 10 p.m. The creek came down a banker at 4 p.m., sweeping all before it, and rose so high that it entered some of the outbuildings on the bank, and it is considered to be the heaviest flood we have had for the past 10 years. It continued raining at intervals till about 9 p.m. last night, but this morning is bright and fine, with a sharp frost, and every indication for fine weather for a time. Farmers are at a standstill owing to the boggy state of the ground, 5 inches of rain having fallen.

QUEENSLAND ELECTORAL LAW AMENDMENT.

A REMARKABLE PROVISION.

BRISBANE, Friday.

A bill to amend the present Parliamentary Elections Act was read a first time in the Legislative Assembly last night. The bill provides for granting the franchise to women and prevents double registration. It simplifies the method of obtaining registration, and makes provision for obtaining a transfer from one roll to another. Plumping is forbidden, but the use of the contingent vote is retained. Provision is also made for voting through the post. The most striking clause of the bill is the one giving two votes to every man who is the father of at least two children born in lawful wedlock in Queensland, whether his children are alive or dead, or resident in Queensland or elsewhere, or whether he is a widower or not, or divorced or not.

COMMONWEALTH NOTES.

IN THE SENATE.

(FROM OUR SPECIAL REPORTER.)

PARLIAMENT HOUSE, MELBOURNE, Friday.

The Senate this morning, on the motion of Senator Glassey, ordered a return showing the number of females employed in each State, with particular reference to the numbers in the Post and Telegraph departments.

The Customs Bill was further considered in committee. The second schedule was amended so as to provide that where the services of a locker were required for half time, the fee should be £100 per annum. Senator O'Connor said it had been the intention of the Government to push the bill to a conclusion, but the Minister of Customs, in consequence of representations made to him, had some new clauses in preparation. Progress was therefore reported.

Senator O'Connor moved the second reading of the Beer Excise Bill, and the motion was agreed to without debate. The bill was considered in committee, and reported with amendments. The Senate rose at 7 minutes past 4 p.m.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

The House of Representatives commenced business at 10 o'clock this morning with less than the quorum of 25 members. A motion by Mr. E. Solomon (W.A.) for a return showing the cost and location of all freehold property purchased by the Commonwealth from each State to date, and detailed estimates of the cost of all properties taken over by the Commonwealth, was agreed to. A return was also ordered showing the average time occupied in the transmission of mails from London to Sydney during the last six months, as compared with the time occupied during the last six months in which mail steamers were calling at Albany.

In committee the remaining clauses of the Distillation Bill were agreed to, with the exception of clause 75, imposing a penalty of £50 for the offence of selling wine or spirits unlawfully, which was postponed. Progress was then reported, on the understanding that the Minister would consider the postponed clauses in connection with amendments that had been moved and suggestions made during the discussion.

The next order of the day was "Post and Telegraph Bill in committee." Mr. Barton explained that the amendments and new clauses entailed a considerable amount of drafting work, which would be ready on Wednesday. Progress was therefore reported.

Sir John Quick continued the debate on the second reading of the Service and Execution Process Bill. He was followed by Mr. M'Cay, and the second reading was agreed to. The measure was considered in committee, and a couple of clauses to which strong objection was taken having been postponed with a view to alteration, progress was reported.

After the luncheon adjournment, the House went into committee on the Defence Bill. The Government was urged to postpone the measure on the ground that it was brought on without sufficient notice. Mr. Page said that several of the members who wished the business to be postponed were those who had censured the Government for not proceeding as fast as possible with legislation. Mr. Wilks showed that Mr. Page misapprehended the case. Members were willing and anxious to get the work done, but the Government had given no indication that the Defence Bill was to come on, and the committee was therefore unprepared. After 35 minutes' talk, progress was reported. The other orders of the day and notices of motion were postponed. Mr. Skene resumed the debate on Sir John Quick's motion affirming the desirability of the establishment of a National Department of Agriculture and Productive Industries. Speeches were made by Mr. Kirwan, Mr. Ronald, and Mr. Kennedy, and Mr. Alan M'Lean moved the adjournment of the debate. The House adjourned at 4.5 p.m.

THE FEDERAL COMMANDANT.

The Premier is not yet in a position to make known the name of the federal military commandant. His attention was drawn to-day to a statement in the London "Daily Chronicle," wherein it was alleged that the Colonial Office had made representations to the Federal Government that the salary attached to the office should be £5000 per annum. The reason given in favour of such a high salary was that the federal commandant would have to entertain largely. Mr. Barton said there was no truth whatever in the statement that the Federal Government had made such a representation. The salary of the commandant would be an adequate one, but it would not be anything like £5000 per annum, and there would be no obligation whatever upon the officer in respect to entertainments.

KANAKA LABOUR.

Mr. Barton stated this afternoon that the Pacific Island Labourers Bill will probably be circulated late next week or early the following week. There is no chance of it coming on for the second reading next week. The Premier would give no indication as to the principles of the measure, but said that it would deal fairly with Queensland and should satisfy the people of that State.

THE FEDERAL TARIFF.

The Ministers resumed consideration of the tariff in Cabinet this afternoon, and sat till late this evening. It is proposed to devote the whole of to-morrow and Tuesday to the work.

FEDERAL CITY SITES.

Some two weeks ago Mr. L. Biddulph, licensed surveyor, the promoter of the Carcoar-Garland Federal capital scheme, roughly levelled the creek beds north of the Blayney-Harden railway line. He finds that with an embankment 15 chains long and 50ft. high, an immense artificial lake, available for Federal city purposes, having its two extremities and wharfs for holiday steamers, &c., at or near the Mandurama and Lyndhurst railway-stations, could be constructed. The water surface would be three and a half miles long and from one-eighth to half a mile wide, and generally deep water. Those good streams, the Grubbenbong and Mandurama Ponds Creeks, would feed the lake, and the dam would be placed below their junction. The soil and rock are good holding ground. The State House and the Governor-General's residence on Lyndhurst Hill would overlook the lake, as well as two other lakes to the west of Lyndhurst Hill. The Great Junction dam (the first in this State of its class) is situated only four miles north-west of Lyndhurst.

AN ISLAND CRUISE.

ARRIVAL OF THE STEAMER TITUS.

A QUEER CELEBRATION AND HEAD-HUNTING.

A TIDAL WAVE.

Messrs. Burns, Philp, and Co's. steamer Titus arrived yesterday from an island trip. The steamer left Sydney on July 3, after being weather-bound two days in Watson's Bay. She carried bad weather right across to Norfolk Island, and had to pass Lord Howe Island on this account. She reached Norfolk Island on the 10th, sailed the same day for Vila, reached on the 13th, and after landing cargo and mails proceeded for Santa Cruz, but ran into heavy S.E. weather, and had one of her whaleboats washed out of the davits, so was compelled to go straight for the Solomons, reaching there on the 17th. The steamer remained in the Solomon group until August 10. While there she met H.I.M.S. Cormoran bound from New Britain to Samoa, and which had gone to the Solomons for coal. The Titus also spoke the labour vessel Lochiel. Everything was found allright in the group, and trading was good.

Mr. Mahaffy, the Deputy-Commissioner, had been busy punishing the natives at the western portion of the group who had been concerned in head-hunting expeditions. He captured several fine canoes and a large whaleboat, and taught the natives a severe lesson. He hoped in a short while to stop the custom of head-hunting altogether.

At Rubiana great preparations were being made by the natives for an immense feast. Scores of natives were working night and day preparing the food, which was expected to be ready in about a fortnight after the steamer left. Old residents at Rubiana said that it would be the biggest feast in their recollection. The natives said it was to celebrate the giving up of head-hunting at Rubiana Lagoon, where the custom used to be very rife.

While at Aola, the Titus assisted Captain W. H. Pope to dismantle his old vessel, the Sarah Beattie. After taking the spars out of her, she was hauled alongside to be used as a wharf. After leaving the Solomons, the Titus called at Santa Cruz, where news was received of a severe tidal wave, several natives' lives being reported as lost. From Santa Cruz the steamer returned to Vila, reaching there on the 17th instant, taking in a quantity of maize and copra. While there the steamer Mambare arrived from Sydney. From Vila the steamer proceeded to Norfolk Island, reaching there on the 23rd, sailed the same day, and had good weather until approaching Lord Howe Island, when they encountered a N.E. gale and mountainous sea, but, fortunately, it did not last long, and no damage was done, but they had again to pass by the island, having no possible chance of making a call.

SPECIAL CABLES.

FROM THE "HERALD'S" LONDON CORRESPONDENTS.

FRANCE AND TURKEY.

REAL CAUSE OF THE RUPTURE.

LONDON, Aug. 29.

It is stated that the real cause of the rupture between France and Turkey is the interposing by Turkey of constant obstacles in the way of French commercial interests.

A VEILED WARNING TO GERMANY.

LONDON, Aug. 30.

The various concessions made by the Porte to Germans have exasperated Russia.

The incident of the withdrawal of M. Constans, the French Ambassador, from Constantinople on the eve of the Czar's visit to France is regarded as a veiled warning to Germany.

RUSSIAN MILITARY PREPARATIONS.

UNREST IN HUNGARY.

LONDON, Aug. 30.

Military activity which is displayed in Bessarabia, the Russian province on the Roumanian frontier, and the Pan-Slavist propaganda in the Balkans have caused unrest in Hungary and Roumania.

The Hungarians are clamouring for an inquiry into the value of the Austro-Russian agreement of 1897.

[In 1897 the essential difference of views between the British and the Austrian Cabinets afforded the occasion of a rapprochement between Austria and Russia, and after this was effected the two countries laid down a joint programme for matters in the East, which they were jointly carrying out. It was agreed between the two Powers that both strove after maintenance of the status quo, that Russia rejected the idea of any conquest in the Balkan Peninsula as decidedly as Austria, and that on both sides the firm resolution existed to respect the independence of the single Balkan States and the right of themselves to mould their destiny, with the exclusion of any preponderant influence upon their internal affairs. The two Powers then came to the conclusion that their interests did not conflict, that they, the two Powers first to be affected by Eastern troubles, had on the contrary every reason for holding together and remaining in touch with each other with the object of preventing the degeneration of movements as they might arise, and so putting an end to the speculative spirits in the Balkans who always tried to play the two Powers one against the other. The Austrian Minister for Foreign Affairs, in making this announcement of the position, added that presupposing that these principles would be strictly adhered to, Austria would always be ready to foster the closest understanding with Russia, and considered that such a relation with her was a new and potent guarantee of European peace.]

THE ROYAL TOUR.

COMMEMORATION AT CAPETOWN.

LONDON, Aug. 30.

The municipality of Capetown has decided to commemorate the visit of the Duke and the Duchess of Cornwall and York by the founding of mining and engineering scholarships in the University of Cape Colony.

THE LATE EMPRESS FREDERICK.

LONDON, Aug. 29.

The value of the estate of the late Empress Frederick is 11,000,000 marks (£550,000). Her Majesty left to each of her children, including the German Emperor, 1,000,000 marks cash.

EGYPT.

A BAD NILE EXPECTED.

LONDON, Aug. 30.

A bad Nile is expected. The river is falling rapidly between Khartoum and north of Duem, which is 150 miles south of Khartoum.

A bad Nile means that the flooding of the river will be below the usual height and the consequent soil deposits restricted.

COLONIAL WINES.

PAPER BY SIR JAMES BLYTH.

PRAISE OF AUSTRALIAN VINTAGES.

LONDON, Aug. 30.

Sir James Blyth has an article in the current number of the "Chamber of Commerce Journal" on the vintages exhibited in the Paris Exposition.

Sir James Blyth says that with proper attention to soil, climate, and fixation, wines of the highest excellence, approaching the finer growths of Europe, can be produced in Australia and South Africa.

The Commonwealth of Australia, he says, will largely contribute in the near future to the world's supply of burgundies, clarets, hocks, sauternes, and sparkling wines. New Zealand may also possibly contribute to the world's supply in these wines.

South Africa will contribute ports, sherries, and madeiras.

TERRIBLE BOILER EXPLOSION.

ELEVEN PEOPLE KILLED.

LONDON, Aug. 29.

A disaster occurred on the steamer City of Trenton yesterday on the Delaware River, United States. The boiler of the steamer exploded. Eleven persons were killed and 25 others were injured.

RETURN OF AUSTRALIAN BOWLERS.

PROBABLE VISIT OF A BRITISH TEAM.

LONDON, Aug. 29.

The Australian bowlers will return to Australia in the steamer India.

Mr. John Young has entertained the leading English bowlers in London.

It is probable that a team of British bowlers will visit Australia in September, 1902.

THE FIFESHIRE COLLIERY DISASTER.

LONDON, Aug. 29.

Three more miners have been rescued from the workings of the Donibristle Colliery, Fifeshire. One of the rescued had been imprisoned for 36 hours. Hope of rescuing the remaining eight has been abandoned.

A subsidence of moorland caused the entombment of 14 coalminers in the colliery. Five of the miners were rescued the next day, but a fresh subsidence led to the entombing of two of the rescue party, and four other rescuers it was feared had perished.

TASMANIA.

LAUNCESTON, Friday.

Dr. Wilmot, the Government veterinary surgeon, has been instructed to visit Scottsdale district at once and investigate the supposed outbreak of anthrax among cattle. Several more deaths of cattle have occurred this week.

GERMANY.

PRINCE CH'UN'S MISSION.

A DEADLOCK.

LONDON, Aug. 30.

The German Emperor has disapproved of the address which Prince Ch'un proposes to present to him, regretting the murder of Baron von Ketteler. The grounds of the German Emperor's objections are that the address is not expressive of the expiatory character of the mission.

With regard to the obeisance to the German Emperor which Prince Ch'un and his suite are expected to make, and concerning which the Prince has telegraphed for instructions to the Emperor Kwang-hsu, the German Emperor insists on ultimate obeisance being made by the mission.

Prince Ch'un remains in an hotel on the Swiss side of the Rhine, while General Hopfner, who was sent to receive the mission on its setting foot on German soil, is staying at an hotel on the German side of the river, pending a settlement of the points at issue.

THE NAVY.

VICTUALLING OF SEAMEN.

LONDON, Aug. 29.

The committee appointed by the Admiralty to inquire into the victualling of warships has recommended the carrying out of certain reforms. It is proposed to make the number of recognised meals on ships five per day, instead of three as at present.

["The scale of victualling in his Majesty's Navy at present is (writes a correspondent in a recent issue of the "Times") virtually what it has been for the last half-century, if not longer; and though the quality of the provisions may have been improved, the meat ration—salt beef, salt pork, and preserved beef—is considerably out of date, as well as of comparatively inferior nutritive quality, when one realises the modern improvements in meat preservation, securing greater nutritious properties as well as more attractive and appetising characteristics. The meal hours, according to 'the custom of the service' at sea, are universally condemned as unsatisfactory—a breakfast of biscuit and ship's chocolate; a dinner at noon of salt beef and suet raisin pudding, or salt pork and pea-soup, or preserved boiled beef and preserved potatoes; a tea of biscuit and tea cooked, possibly boiled, in the ship's coppers with the sugar, and issued between 4 and 5 p.m. On such a dietary, provided at such times, the seamen and marines have to keep their night watches on deck, the stokers in the stokeholds. It is obvious that this diet is inadequate (and, indeed, it has proved so on long voyages, fortunately a rare event in these days of steam), and that the meals are insufficient and the meal hours unsuitable when the night work is considered. In such circumstances the men have to supplement their rations with extra diet, at their own cost, from the canteens established in most ships now, or from sea stock taken on board, though the facilities for their doing the latter are very scant in modern men-of-war.

"The Lords of the Admiralty, having realised these facts, last year appointed a departmental committee, with Vice-Admiral Ernest Rice as chairman; Rear-Admiral J. Fellows, C.B., Mr. R. H. Yorke, C.B., Director of Victualling, Captain E. E. Bradford, R.N., Deputy Inspector-General of Hospitals and Fleets G. J. Irvine, R.N., Staff Paymaster F. Harrison Smith, R.N., as members; Mr. H. Morris, of the Naval Victualling Department, as secretary. It was observed by those appearing before the committee that the Director of Victualling was careful to impress the supporters of a liberal ration with the fact that an increase in its cost of one halfpenny, when the number of officers (for all officers in the navy have the same ration as the men, or its 'savings' value), seamen and boys, coastguard, and Royal Marines was considered—viz., 118,635 for 1891-92, and the number is progressive yearly—would entail an addition of £90,732 to the Naval Estimates.

"As it is known that Vice-Admiral Rice's committee's report has been for some time under the consideration of the Lords of the Admiralty without any notification of the alterations of the ration or of the meals that they approve of, it is inferred that a difficulty with the Treasury is the cause of delay. Surely at the present day, despite the heavy demands for increased personnel and material for the navy and army, the oppressed taxpayer will never hesitate to meet the necessary expenditure to provide his Majesty's bluejackets and marines with meals and a dietary that requires little or no supplementing at their own expense."]

LAUNCH OF THE ESSEX.

LONDON, Aug. 30.

The armoured cruiser Essex has been launched at Pembroke.

[The Essex is one of what is known as the County class. She was laid down at Pembroke on January 1, 1900. When completed she will have a displacement of 9800 tons. Her length is 440ft., her beam 66ft., and here mean draught 24½ft. The armament of the Essex will consist of 14 6in. 45 calibre guns, 10 12-pounders, three 3-pounders, and an indefinite number of Maxims, probably eight. She will also have two torpedo tubes, 18in. submerged. The turrets are destinctive, and are so far peculiar to the County class that the guns in each can be trained together and fired as one piece, says a writer in the "Engineer," or else used independently.]

QUEENSLAND.

BRISBANE, Friday.

The fourteenth annual meeting of the shareholders of Quinlan, Grey, and Co., Limited, Brisbane, was held yesterday afternoon. The report and balance-sheet, which were adopted, showed that considerable progress had been made during the past year, the profits amounting to £9500.

WESTERN AUSTRALIA.

PERTH, Friday.

At a meeting of the Opposition yesterday it was decided not to challenge the Government until the inquiry into the railways suspensions was concluded.

NEW ZEALAND.

WELLINGTON, Friday.

Mr. Fraser, Assistant Chief Inspector of Stock, who returned from a visit to Australia, says he found that Victoria has made wonderful progress in dairy farming, and that Victorian methods were somewhat similar to our own, but the system of grading butter carried out by the Government there differed from ours, and to our advantage. He says no grading was done by the Government in the mother colony, and Victoria was decidedly ahead of New South Wales generally in agricultural methods.

In the financial debate in the House of Representatives Mr. Meredith, a Government supporter, wanted to moved that the Estimates be referred back to the Government with instructions that they be reduced by £50,000, but the motion was ruled out of order.

THE STEEL RAILS CONTRACT.

OFFERS TO THE MINISTER FOR WORKS.

The State Minister for Works has received three offers from firms for the manufacture of steel rails. One is from a combined colonial and English firm, the second from the Blythe River Company (the original tenderers), and the third from an American firm. All the tenderers offered to pay the minimum wage and trades-union rates. Two of these wished to have fixed prices for the rails. The following letter from the American firm makes other stipulations. The Cabinet, however, have decided to do nothing in the matter till they know what the new federal tariff will be:—

"Sydney, August 28, 1901.

"Sir,—We are requested by several gentlemen now in Sydney who represent an American (United States) syndicate to place the following matters before you, and ask a favourable reply:—

"(a) The syndicate are willing to invest a sum of 5,000,000dol. and probably 10,000,000dol. in the erection and equipment of an iron and steel plant in this State, such plant to be of the most modern up-to-date description.

"(b) To undertake the production of iron and steel rails equal in quality and possibly superior to those produced in any other countries.

"(c) To as far as is practicable manufacture such productions from coals, limestones, fluxes, iron ores, &c., as are mined in the State of New South Wales.

"(d) To recognise the minimum wage of 7s per day, and the trade-union rates for skilled labour prevailing at date of signature of contract.

"At the same time it should be understood that no similar contract will be given by the Government of the State of New South Wales to any other person, firm, or syndicate, except under this minimum wage proviso.

"(e) To work strictly under the Shops and Factories Act or Acts now existing in this State.

"In return for this will you please reply to the following questions:—

"(1) Will the Government of New South Wales guarantee to place an order for, say, 200,000 tons of iron or steel rails made under the foregoing conditions with the syndicate, at London or New York rates, plus freight, lighterage, wharfage, insurance, and other charges; deliveries to be received of not less than 25,000 tons per annum?

"(2) All deliveries to be taken from the works unless otherwise mutually arranged."

THE WAR IN SOUTH AFRICA.

BOER TREACHERY.

ACTS OF SAVAGERY AND EMBITTERMENT.

LONDON, Aug. 30.

In commenting upon the Boer acts of treachery and upon the proclamation threatening punishment, the "St. James's Gazette" and the "Westminster Gazette" recommend that more mounted troops should be sent to Lord Kitchener, together with a liberal supply of remounts, in order to vigorously end the war and prevent acts of savagery and embitterment.

The "Globe" says that in order to bring the war to an end Lord Kitchener only needs to have the waste of men made good.

COMPENSATION FOR FOREIGNERS.

THE AMOUNTS OF THE CLAIMS.

LONDON, Aug. 30.

The applications which have been forwarded by foreigners, who were resident in South Africa to the South Africa Compensation Commission, claiming compensation on account of injuries suffered by the war in South Africa, amount to £315,048 for direct damages and £818,473 for consequential damages. The latter have been ignored, and the direct claims have been considerably reduced, owing to the absence of many claimants.

SHARPSHOOTERS CAPTURE BOERS.

ENEMY'S REMOUNT DEPOT.

LONDON, Aug. 29.

Sharpshooters north of Ladybrand in the Orange River Colony, captured five Boers and many horses at a farmhouse which was used as a Boer remount depot.

THE INCOMPETENT YEOMEN.

LONDON, Aug. 29.

In regard to the complaint of Lord Kitchener that some of the last contingent of Yeomanry had to be taught in South Africa to ride and to shoot before he could send them into the field, it is stated that several substitutes underwent the riding and firing tests when the incompetent Yeomen were enrolled in England.

AUSTRALIAN CASUALTIES.

LONDON, Aug. 30.

Privates J. J. Lawrence and F. G. Dow, of the 5th Victorian Contingent, were killed at Schurveberghoek. Private J. Supple, of the same force, was dangerously wounded, and Privates H. F. Brunett and Saddler H. G. Cook, also of the same force, were severely wounded at Schurveberghoek.

VICTORIA CROSS.

The General Officer Commanding has promulgated in a general order the following extract from the "London Gazette" of June 4, 1901:—"War Office, June 4, 1901. The King has been graciously pleased to signify his intention to confer the decoration of the Victoria Cross on the undermentioned officer for his conspicuous bravery in South Africa as stated against his name: Regiment, New South Wales Medical Staff Corps; name, Captain N. R. Howse; act of courage for which recommended—During the action at Vrederfort on July 24, 1900, Captain Howse went out under a heavy cross fire and picked up a wounded man and carried him to a place of shelter."

REWARD FOR DISTINGUISHED CONDUCT.

The following extract from army order (Imperial) No. 163 of 1901 has been published in a general order:—"The following non-commissioned officer has been awarded a silver medal for distinguished conduct in the field—6th Imperial Bushman Corporal Moy." This refers to No. 254, Corporal Patrick Joseph Moy, New South Wales Imperial Bushmen.

VICTORIAN CASUALTIES.

MELBOURNE, Friday.

A cable from the Casualty Department, Capetown, reports that at Schureberg Hock on 23rd instant Private John J. Lawrence, aged 22, and Private Frederick George Dow, aged 22, were killed, and Private John Supple, aged 22, dangerously wounded. Private Herbert Foster Brunet, aged 29, and Saddler Harold Victor Cook, aged 21, were severely wounded. All are members of the Fifth Victorian Contingent.

QUEENSLAND PASTORAL LEASES.

THE AMENDING BILL.

BRISBANE, Friday.

In the Legislative Assembly yesterday Mr. O'Connell introduced a bill providing for the granting of new leases of Crown lands. The bill provides that at any time within 12 months after its passing the Court may certify that the whole or a specified part of land comprised in a pastoral lease of 15 years' duration is not likely to be required for the purposes of settlement reserves, &c., at any time. Three months after such certificate is granted the former lessee if in possession may apply to the Minister for a lease under the Act. Within six months of the passing of the Act the lessee of any holding under the existing pastoral lease may give notice to the Minister that he elects to take advantage of the provision. The Court not earlier than seven years nor later than 12 months before the expiration of the lease shall classify the holdings as follows:—Class 1, a new lease for a term of 10 years, half the land rent to be fixed by the Court; class 2, a new lease for 14 years, two-thirds or the whole of the land rent to be reassessed at the expiration of the first seven years of the term; class 3, a new lease of 21 years, three-fourths or the whole land rent to be reassessed at the expiration of each period of seven years; class 4, a new lease of 28 years, the whole of the land to be reassessed at the end of each seven-year period. If the Court states that a holding is to be divided, the Minister shall divide two parts, one of which, the resumed part, shall, after the expiration of the existing lease, be deemed Crown land. Such resumed part shall be in the following proportion:—First-class, one-half; second-class, one-third; third-class, one-fourth. The whole of the resumed part is to be one block, and as far as practicable separated from the rest of the holding by a straight line. The average qualities and capabilities of the resumed part are to be the same as those of the whole holding. At the expiration of the existing pastoral lease the lessee will be entitled to receive a new lease for a term of 14, 21, or 28 years. Crown land remaining unselected for two years may be leased for a period of five years. The holder of any pastoral lease may select a portion thereof after the expiration of his lease under certain conditions. Grants and leases of Crown lands may be made in exchange for lands surrendered to his Majesty.

FOOTBALL IN NEW ZEALAND.

NEW ZEALAND v. NEW SOUTH WALES.

WELLINGTON, Friday.

The weather is clearing. A record attendance is expected at the match which is to take place to-morrow between New Zealand and New South Wales. The impression that the New South Welshmen have been saving themselves for this match is gaining ground. It is anticipated that they will make a good showing. Their team will not be picked till the last moment.

VICTORIA.

SILVERTON TRAMWAY COMPANY.

MELBOURNE, Friday.

The half-yearly meeting of the Silverton Tramway Company, Limited, was held to-day, Mr. D. E. M'Bride presiding. The chairman said as the meeting was merely a statutory one no statement of accounts would be submitted. The prospects of the company were discussed by the chairman, who said that since the company's inception there had seen repeated reactions such as the present one, and the faces of the shareholders had been very much gloomier than they were to-day. At present there was a slight improvement. Lead had gone down to £11 10s, whereas it now stood at £11 15s. The directors might be questioned as to what dividend they would continue paying. He could only say the shareholders would get every shilling that the directors could pay. They need have no great fear that before long things would take a turn for the better, and that good dividends would result. If the amount of the present dividend could not be reached it would be very closely approached. In reference to the Tarawingee line, which had been taken over by the company, it was found they could just manage to work it without loss, and it was thought advisable to retain it in the company's hands. The whole of the company's property was in first-class condition, having always been kept in order.

At Mornington to-day a man named John Diamond was engaged in dismantling a flagstaff, when he fell a distance of 50ft., breaking his neck.

NEWCASTLE.

RAILWAY NEW FREIGHT CHARGES.

INDIGNATION IN COMMERCIAL CIRCLES.

NEWCASTLE, Friday.

Quite a sensation was created in commercial circles when it became known that the Railway Commissioners had determined to enforce from Monday next a new set of railway freight charges on the Northern line, which it is held will affect the interests of Newcastle. Indignation was generally expressed at the action of the Commissioners, and it was hurriedly resolved to enter an emphatic protest against the proposed new rates. It appears that the Railway Commissioners have decided to reduce the trainage rates on wool for the distance from Newcastle to Sydney from 18s to 4s per ton.

Mr. E. A. P. Whitely, the local manager for Messrs. Gibbs, Bright, and Co., upon being seen in reference to the new rates, said that if the proposed new scale was enforced the result would be that the growers of the Northern and North-Western districts would send the whole of their wool to Sydney instead of to Newcastle for shipment, as hitherto. Growers would thus be able to test the Sydney market, and if their reserved prices were not realised they would then be able to ship wool from Sydney for home markets. The Railway Commissioners, by fixing a differential rate for that portion of the line from Newcastle to Sydney, were aiming a death blow at the shipping trade of Port Hunter. It had further to be remembered that if the wool shipping industry of Newcastle was killed the frozen meat trade of the port would also disappear, for the reason that there would be no inducement for steamships to visit Port Hunter. The rate of 4s per ton proposed to be charged on wool for that portion of the journey from Newcastle to Sydney was ridiculously low, and a loss would necessarily be experienced by the railway department. It was worthy of note, too, that the Commissioners had agreed that this low trainage rate of 4s per ton should cover cartage in Sydney, which averaged 3d per bale, and the department would also bear the cost of untrucking. It would thus be seen that the Commissioners would not be recompensed in any way for the carriage of wool over this portion of the line. The existing charge was 18s per ton, which was regarded as a fair rate, and growers found it to their interests to consign wool to Newcastle for shipment to the markets of the world. It was very evident to all those interested that the Railway Commissioners, in endeavouring to gain a minor advantage by crippling the coastal steamship companies, were prepared to inflict a lasting and serious injury to a great portion of the shipping trade of Port Hunter.

Other commercial men were seen and expressed similar views. It was pointed out that the Commissioners proposed to take action of a similar nature four or five years ago, but that upon an emphatic protest being entered the project was abandoned. Several shippers of wool stated that the enforcement of the new rates would centralise the whole of the wool trade of the State in Sydney, and a great injustice would thus be done to Newcastle.

The action of the Commissioners in giving but two days' notice of their intention to introduce the new rates was adversely commented upon, and during the course of the day telegrams were despatched to the Chief Railway Commissioner requesting that action be withheld until the commercial houses of this centre had had an opportunity of addressing the Commissioners on the subject. The council of the Newcastle Chamber of Commerce at its fortnightly meeting, held this afternoon, discussed the matter at considerable length, and it was eventually resolved to convene a special meeting of the members of the Chamber for Monday afternoon next to consider what course of action should be adopted. It is anticipated that the whole of the commercial firms interested in the question will be represented, and invitations have been extended to State members of Parliament throughout the Northern and North-western districts. In the meantime a communication will be addressed to the Commissioners, pointing out the serious losses to both employers and employees which will result from their contemplated action.

THE SULPHIDE CORPORATION.

The weekly smelting returns of the Sulphide Corporation at Cockle Creek are as follows:—Ore treated, 974 tons, producing 409 tons bullion, containing 235oz. gold, 26,900oz. silver, and 7 tons copper. The shipments of bullion to London during the week include 200 tons per R.M.S. Orizaba, 500 tons per steamer Indradevi, and 100 tons per R.M.S. Roma. A consignment of 750 tons concentrates from Broken Hill Central Silver Mine has been discharged by the steamer Dovedale, and 400 tons have been discharged by the steamer Alala for treatment at the works. The steamer Boveric is due next week with 800 tons of concentrates. A parcel of 30 tons of bagged concentrates from New Zealand has been received by the R.M.S. Monowai to be smelted.

THE WOOL TRADE.

The wool receipts at Newcastle during the week amounted to 68 bales, making a total of 695 bales received since the opening of the season, as compared with 1043 bales at the corresponding date of last year, thus showing a decrease of 348 bales. In addition to the foregoing 239 bales have passed through Newcastle by rail during the season, of which 126 were consigned to Melbourne and 113 to Sydney.

THE COAL EXPORTS.

The barque Sant Anna arrived to-day from Sydney to load a full cargo of coal from Waratah Colliery for Valparaiso, and the steamer Tainan was despatched to Hongkong and Manila, via Sydney, with 1050 tons of coal from various collieries. The following coal-laden vessels cleared at the Custom-house to-day for foreign markets:—Cambrian, barque, for Valparaiso, with 1693 tons of Duckenfield coal; Marion Fraser, barque, for San Francisco, with 3597 tons of Wallsend coal; and Glooscap, ship, for Manila, with 2703 tons of Lambton coal.

In the inter-state trade the following steamships were despatched to-day:—Era, for Melbourne, 3300 tons; Monowai, for Wellington, via Sydney, 1100 tons; St. Mary, for Wallaroo, 4300 tons; and Alala, for Port Pirie, via Sydney, 2200 tons. The schooner Silver Cloud cleared at the Customs for Napier with 426 tons, and the steamship Norkoowa cleared for Melbourne with 2200 tons.

AUSTRALASIAN STUDENT CHRISTIAN UNION.

Mr. E. J. Withycombe, travelling secretary of the Australasian Student Christian Union, has returned to Sydney after visiting the affiliated unions in Victoria and South Australia. The University unions in Melbourne and Adelaide are in a flourishing state, and the majority of the colleges and schools are making progress in the work. Conferences have been held at both Melbourne and Sydney, with an attendance of nearly 200 at each.

KEMPSEY, Friday.

At Unkya a girl, aged 3 years, daughter of Mr. Miles, was burnt to death through her clothes catching fire.

DESTRUCTION OF PESTS.

CARCOAR, Friday.

The Carcoar Pastures and Stock Protection Board met yesterday, and unanimously decided to at once discontinue the bonus for rabbit scalps. The board has paid for up to date this year 70,680 rabbits, 16,630 wallabies, 26,912 hares, 3042 kangaroo rats, 2080 crows, and 19 wild dogs. Poisoning is being carried on very extensively where rabbits are plentiful, and where rabbits are scarce very satisfactory results are obtained by continuous action on the part of owners in destroying cover, and digging out burrows. The Inspector of Stock is of opinion that the pest can be kept within reasonable limits if owners will work together and adopt the methods mentioned.

BLAST FURNACE FOR LITHGOW.

LITHGOW, Friday.

In reference to the question of a blast furnace Mr. W. Sandford, proprietor of Eskbank Ironworks, states that a blast furnace was ordered over a month ago, and from a cable he received on Thursday it appears that a gentleman having very extensive experience in America and England has been engaged, and will be leaving for Australia next month to superintend its erection. It has been decided to erect the furnace in the local racecourse paddock. As there are some hundreds of acres of unworked coal around the spot chosen, a shaft will be put down for raising coal, and coke ovens will be built close alongside. Provision will be made for two or more steel converters, then cogging and finishing mills. In connection with this matter arrangements have been entered into with Mr. Whitney, owner of Carcoar property, for securing the Coombing Park iron deposits. Mr. Sandford hopes to see a blast furnace at work within 12 months from date.

LAND SETTLEMENT.

BALRANALD, Friday.

The ballot for eight settlement lease areas on Poon Boon holding, totalling 24,279½ acres, took place here this afternoon. The land board reduced the number of applications to 166. Following are the results of the ballot:—No. 11, W. B. Hilton, 30 applications; Block 10, Frederick F. Smith, 12 applications; Block 12, James Treacy, 34 applications; Block 2, John David Horsburgh, 29 applications; portion 32, Charles Carmichael, 15 applications; portion 13, Donald Hendry, 11 applications; block 8, Thomas Edward Hickey, 10 applications; block 9, Jons Pertesen, 9 applications.

COOMA, Friday.

At the Crown lands office yesterday the following applications were lodged:—C. E. Smith, conditional purchase, 100 acres, and conditional lease 200 acres; E. F. Jamieson, conditional purchase 40 acres, conditional lease 120 acres.

CARCOAR, Friday.

The local land board, comprising Messrs. C. E. Finch (chairman), W. H. Pratt, and J. J. M'Phee, has concluded a two days' sitting here, during which some 54 cases were disposed of. The principal business consisted of appraisements of capital value, under section 1 of the Amendment Act of 1899. In 14 of the cases the capital value was reduced in quotients of a £, varying from 5s to 17s 6d per acre; the average would be about 13s 4d. Several areas of arable land were dealt with as special leases, ranging from 160 acres to 320 acres. The rentals of these leases range from 1s 3d to 9d per acre per annum. There is a distinct indication of the revival of active selection in the southern end of the district. A large area was applied for on Thursday.

GOULBURN, Friday.

The following annual leases have been applied for:—Patrick Coleman, 210 acres, Tarago, also 570 acres, Willeroo; Andrew Barrett, 320 acres, Baw Baw; Edward Charles Bray, 10 acres, Kiama; Alexander Henderson, 240 acres, Yarralaw.

TAMWORTH, Friday.

At the Lands Office yesterday Horace Manders Barnes, of Limberi, lodged an application for a settlement lease of 5650 acres, parish of Vernon, county of Parry.

THE ATTEMPT TO ROB A BANK.

ALBURY, Friday.

Mr. Lamport's medical adviser found it necessary to perform a minor operation on Mr. Lamport to remove fluid accumulated on the chest. The patient is considerably relieved.

Joseph Minton was again before the police court, and was further remanded.

OLD-AGE PENSIONS.

TAMWORTH, Friday.

Up to yesterday 374 applications had been received here for old-age pensions, and 230 had been granted by the local board.

SOUTH COAST.

NOWRA, Friday.

Mr. M. F. Morton, M.L.A., has been informed by the Department of Public Works that the construction, as urged by him, of a training wall, 200 or 300 ft. in length, to provide against further erosion at Appletree Island, will be included in the complete scheme for the improvement of Crookhaven River entrance.

The Agricultural Society's Village Fair was largely patronised last night. A hat-trimming contest, won by Mr. Arthur Monoghan, excited considerable interest. The Berry Brass Band played selections, and good music was also provided by Mr. Tidd's choir. The takings totalled £160.

PAMBULA, Friday.

Influenza is raging throughout the district. There are victims in almost every household.

The Pambula Oddfellows intend celebrating their anniversary on September 25 by a dance.

A Chinese gardener named Ching Pong was seriously injured when returning from Wolumla. He met with a mob of pigs, and his horse bolted. The Chinaman was thrown out.

WOLLONGONG, Friday.

The Engineer-in-Chief for Harbours and Rivers inspected the local coal-staiths yesterday afternoon, accompanied by Mr. Blomfield, the local officer in charge of the shoots. The visit was made in connection with some repairs and improvement required in connection with those structures.

FARMING IN THE WINDSOR DISTRICT.

WINDSOR, Friday.

The recent rains have greatly benefited the farms in this district, and the farmers are busy ploughing and preparing the ground for the potato crop. Through the success last year with the potato crop the greater portion of the farms are being sown with potatoes, and if the season holds as it has commenced there will be a larger production of that crop this year than heretofore.

The lucerne paddocks are looking very well, and a good crop will be shortly cut, the recent rain coming at the proper time for the spring cut.

BANKSTOWN, Friday.

The bazaar in aid of the building fund of the Church of England here was opened yesterday by Mrs. A. A. Johnston, of George's Hall. There was a good attendance, and the bazaar is a financial success.

BOWRAL, Friday.

At the united quarterly meeting of the Wesleyan and Primitive Methodist churches a recommendation was unanimously carried to the effect that the uniting circuits should be worked for the present by a married minister with a view to affording relief to the debt burdened trusts. It is anticipated that at the end of a couple of years the united circuit will be able to support a second minister.

Genuine regret has been expressed here at the death of the Hon. S. A. Stephen, who resided for some time at his country residence, Elvo, Burradoo, near Bowral. The late Mr. Stephen was a liberal supporter of St. Simon and St. Jude's Church of England.

BRANXTON, Friday.

Yesterday (the second day of the Singleton Show) 256 fares were issued at Branxton, and 2601 tickets collected from the special trains.

CANDELO, Friday.

The annual meeting of the A., H., and Dairy Farmers' Association was held yesterday. Mr. W. J. Collins (vice-president) was chairman. The report and statement read and adopted showed that satisfactory progress had been made. The officers elected were:—President, W. W. Wren; vice-presidents, W. J. Collins, J. A. Brown; hon. treasurer, J. Ferguson; committee, J. T. Collins, A. H. Schuback, H. P. Collins, J. Keys, jun., S. Glenn, Dr. Bruce, P. Isaacs, A. Champney, W. Kemp, E. A. Blomfield, J. Pike, T. Hefferman. It was decided on the motion of Mr. J. A. Brown that meetings be held quarterly, commencing on November 14, for the purpose of discussing matters relating to agriculture and farming. Several special prizes were promised for the next show.

COOMA, Friday.

The medal presented at the Kiandra Snowshoe Carnival for the Alpine race was received yesterday by the winner, E. Harrison, of Cooma. The medal is a gold one, with an inscription, and shows a pair of snowshoes.

One evening last week a fire broke out at Springfield, the residence of Mr. Joseph Alcock, and carpenter and blacksmith's shop and harness-house were destroyed. Mr. Alcock was working at a forge on Monday. It is supposed that sparks caused the fire. All the tools were new and some of the harness had never been used. Not a single article was saved. The building was worth about £80 and the contents £70. Between the shop and the stable, a distance of 20ft., there was a tank full of water. By throwing water on the stable that building and its contents, valued at £100, were saved.

The residents of Adaminaby and district tendered a complimentary concert and social last Friday to Mr. W. G. Harvey, B.A., school teacher, in recognition of his services to the district. Although the weather was wet a good number attended. The chair was occupied by Mr. James Kelly. After the concert appropriate speeches were made, and the chairman, on behalf of the subscribers, presented Mr. Harvey with a handsome gold watch, bearing the following inscription:—"Presented to W. G. Harvey, B.A., as a token of esteem by his Adaminaby friends, 23rd August, 1901."

Mr. C. B. Ross, of Moruya, formerly of Cooma, will act as assistant clerk of Petty Sessions at Cooma until a successor is appointed to Mr. E. Harrison, who has been removed to Gulgong.

The Cooma Town Band visited Dalgety on Tuesday, where, after an open-air programme, a ball was held, at which about 25 couples attended. The band will benefit financially by the visit.

DUBBO, Friday.

A meeting of the Dubbo Railway League was held in the Town Hall on Thursday evening to consider various railway proposals. Owing to the small attendance the meeting was adjourned.

The annual meeting of the Dubbo Permanent Land, Building, and Investment Society was held on Thursday evening. Mr. G. H. Taylor was chairman. The report and balance-sheet were adopted. Mr. C. Grant and Mr. G. Palmer were re-elected directors. Mr. A. W. Phillips and Mr. A. Wurfel were re-elected auditors.

A juvenile dance in aid of the Roman Catholic presbytery fund was held in the Masonic Hall on Thursday evening. There was a good attendance.

Major-General French arrived at Dubbo on Thursday evening, accompanied by Lieutenant-Colonel Bartlett. The annual inspection of the Dubbo (J) Company of the 3rd Infantry Regiment was held this afternoon.

The Dubbo Municipal Council's finances are in a very satisfactory condition. The deficiency in the revenue account has been reduced to £109 18s 5d. Other accounts are in credit thus:—Water, £792; sanitary, £136; gas, £223. The council has paid £300 off the recent loan.

GOULBURN, Friday.

A well-attended meeting of women, convened by the Mayoress in response to a requisition, was held in the Town Hall this afternoon, to take steps to further the interests of the Female Suffrage Bill. The Mayor presided. Addresses were given by Mesdames Burkitt, Sach, Knowlman, Cumming, C. W. Furner, C. J. M'Shane. It was decided to sign a petition, and forward it to Mr. Ashton for presentation to the Legislative Council.

The annual Butterfly Dance for the benefit of the Goulburn Orphanage was held on Tuesday evening last in the Oddfellows' Hall. The arrangements for the evening were excellent, and the ball was much enjoyed. For the decoration of the hall festoons of greenery, hanging baskets of flowers, mirrors, and spring flowers were used with charming effect. The committee consisted of the Mayoress (Mrs. J. J. Roberts), Mesdames F. P. Kelly, C. M'Shane, E. Gillespie, Lillis, Howitt, Knopp, and Warton, and Misses Nellie and Jessie Duncan, Brooks, and Lambert. Messrs. J. W. Grovenor and W. E. Dwyer were the secretaries, and Messrs. T. F. Meyer, J. W. Grovenor, B. Donnelly, and W. H. Mackenzie were the masters of ceremonies.

On Wednesday evening a juvenile dance was held, and was attended with much success. About a hundred couples were present.

GRAFTON, Friday.

A branch of St. John Ambulance Association was formed at South Grafton last night.

To-night returned Trooper Greenaway, of the Bushmen's Contingent, was presented with a silver watch by the citizens.

Mr. J. Griffin, first assistant at Grafton Superior Public School, has been appointed to a similar position at Darlington. Mr. W. Brewer, teacher at South Grafton Public School, has been appointed to Bexhill, Richmond River.

The Rev. B. Winterbotham, who recently arrived from England to undertake the duties of curate of Grafton Cathedral parish, was entertained by the parishioners at a welcome social last night. His father was incumbent of this parish 30 years ago.

HAY, Friday.

The Minister for Works has wired to the Mayor stating that owing to pressure of Parliamentary business his visit to Hay will be brief. He will arrive by train on Monday night, and leave on Tuesday morning for Sydney. He does not propose to address a meeting, and has declined with thanks an invitation to a banquet on Tuesday night. On Monday evening Mr. O'Sullivan will receive deputations.

KEMPSEY, Friday.

The Roman Catholic Church bazaar at Smithtown realised a large sum.

LISMORE, Friday.

Mr. Lawson Dash has been conducting a most successful temperance mission in the district during the week. On Wednesday evening he opened the Richmond and Tweed Rivers District Lodge. The principal officers of the district are:—Chief Templar, Mr. R. R. Jack; counsellor, Mr. A. T. Cochrane; vice-templar, Mr. R. Batterham; chaplain, Mr. G. Towner; secretary, Mr. J. J. Smith; treasurer, Mr. R. H. Southwell; electoral superintendent, Mr. J. P. F. Walker.

Mr. R. A. Bell, manager of the North Coast Company, is at present in Lismore, and intends remaining in the district about a week.

LITHGOW, Friday.

It is reported from Airly that the dispute at Genowlan mine, Capertee, still exists. The manager, Mr. J. Edwards, suggests that the cause of the trouble be submitted to arbitration, and that either the Police Magistrate or Mr. W. J. Galagher, J.P., should act as arbiter. Up to the present no action has been taken.

The New Hartley miners held their meeting on Tuesday night. The company's offer for working inferior shale was not accepted, but a motion was approved of which should prove acceptable to both parties. The result will be known next week.

LIVERPOOL, Friday.

The committee of the Liverpool School of Arts has leased one of the Albion Buildings, situated in a central position in the main street of the town, for the purpose of carrying on the work of the institution.

The petition drafted some time ago protesting against the removal of the Moorbank Post-office to its present position, and urging that the office be located at premises erected by Mr. Waite, at the request of the late postmaster, for postal purposes, has been signed by a number of residents, and was yesterday forwarded to Mr. J. Cook, M.P., for presentation to the Deputy Postmaster-General.

It transpires that among the additional awards secured by local competitors at the recent Juvenile Industrial Exhibition are a medal for an essay by Master Cyril Shearman, son of the rector of St. Luke's, and very highly commended for copy-book by Master Harold Chapman, son of the Mayor.

A new wool-scouring industry has been started by Messrs. Woodward, Davis, and Co., on Mill Creek, Holdsworthy, a few miles from Liverpool. The historic stone building, formerly a flour mill, has been requisitioned in connection with the industry, and is to be renovated and fitted up with the latest machinery.

MILTON, Friday.

Mr. P. Clavin, a resident for 43 years, was tendered a send-off last night on his departure for Sydney, and presented with a souvenir. Mr. A. Warden presided.

A poultry and flower show is to be held annually. Mr. R. Hassall has donated a trophy worth £10 10s for the most successful exhibitor.

MOREE, Friday.

Mr. W. M. Clarke, school teacher, who has been transferred to Mittagong, was yesterday presented with a purse of sovereigns by Mr. H. R. Murray on behalf of the townspeople, and by the school teachers and children with silver plate.

MOLONG, Friday.

The Wesleyan concert held at Cumnock last night was most successful. The local singers were assisted by Miss Hazeltine, of Mudgee, and Miss Helen Hay, of Parramatta.

The Premier has informed Dr. Ross that the subsidy for the Molong Hospital will shortly be paid.

NARRABRI, Friday.

Mr. Higman, teller at the Commercial Bank, has been notified of his transfer to Warialda.

To-day cauliflowers averaging 9lb. in weight and Swede turnips up to 10lb. each were sold. Eggs are plentiful, and are selling at 6½d.

ORANGE, Friday.

A presentation of an address and a purse of sovereigns will be made to Mr. F. Richardson, late stationmaster here, now of Murrurundi, on Tuesday evening.

A presentation was made yesterday afternoon to Mr. James Ferguson, headmaster of the Orange Superior Public school, by the pupils, prior to his departure for Neutral Bay Public school, to which he has been promoted. The presentation included an address of regret at his leaving (read by pupil Oliver Gardiner), and was supplemented by gifts of a clock and silver-mounted walking stick.

General French, accompanied by Lieutenant-Colonel Bartlett, inspected the Orange company of the 3rd Infantry Regiment yesterday.

QUEANBEYAN, Friday.

Mr. D. Leahy, of Bungendore, sent a consignment of cattle to Melbourne this week, selling them at an average of £15 per head.

First-class Constable Clarke, who has been stationed at Bungendore during the past seven years, has been promoted to the station at Dalgety (Buckley's Crossing).

Mr. J. L. Gunnell, teacher at Byong school, has been transferred to the school at Windellama.

TAMWORTH, Friday.

It has been decided to hold an important rifle meeting here in November.

Garvin and Cousens have effected the sale of Mr. T. A. Cain's Cainsbrough property, situated near Manilla, comprising an area of 550 acres of freehold conditional purchase and conditional lands, together with 2500 sheep, as well as cattle and horses, farming implements, working plant, &c. Mr. A. Park is the purchaser.

The death is announced of the Rev. Matthew Morris, who was the first Baptist minister in Tamworth, and who opened the first Baptist church erected here. He died suddenly of heart disease in Brisbane.

The Rev. H. Halmerick, who succeeds the Rev. J. Leech as Baptist minister here, received a public welcome during the week.

WINDSOR, Friday.

Constable Byers, who has for some time been stationed at Windsor, is leaving the district for another station.

WELLINGTON, Friday.

The first general meeting of the newly-formed volunteer fire brigade was held last night in the council-chambers. The captain (Mr. A. Deveson) presided. The only business done was the election of officers, which resulted as follows:—First lieutenant, Mr. C. Broderick; second lieutenant, Mr. J. Gibbs; foreman, Mr. F. W. Everett; secretary, Mr. A. M. Jones; treasurer, Mr. W. Reidy.

The annual tea and public meeting in connection with the Presbyterian Church was held last night in the Protestant Hall, and was a great success. The Rev. George Milne presided over the public meeting, and referred to the satisfactory progress made by the Presbyterian Church during the year. The Rev. A. H. Johnstone (Wesleyan) also occupied a seat on the platform, and delivered a brief address. He referred to the cordial relations existing between the Wesleyan and Presbyterian Churches.

A satisfactory sale of gifts, left over from the late fair, was conducted last evening.

To build up a good constitution and give you a good complexion drink Nicholls' Dandelion Ale.—Advt.

TESTIMONIAL TO MR. W. RIGG.

IMPORTANT GATHERING AT ST. PETERS.

SPEECH BY MR. REID, M.P.

NECESSITY FOR ECONOMY IN EXPENDITURE.

Mr. W. Rigg, who for six years represented the electorate of Newtown-St. Peters in the Legislative Assembly, was presented with an illuminated address from friends among his late constituents last night. The St. Peters Town Hall, where the ceremony took place, was decorated for the occasion. Festoons of bunting were suspended from the ceiling, the front of the dais was embellished with pot plants, and at the rear of the hall was the motto, "Should auld acquaintance be forgot." There was a crowded attendance, quite a large proportion of those present being ladies, and on the platform, in addition to Alderman Campbell (Mayor of St. Peters), who occupied the chair, were Mr. G. H. Reid, M.P., Mr. J. H. Carruthers, M.L.A., Aldermen Spackman and Cox, Messrs. W. Parry, E. Brian, H. M. Reilly, M. M. Noakes, J. P. Franki (managing director of Mort's Dock Company), T. Adamson, J. W. Cooke, T. B. Hall, and Inspector Larkin. Mrs. Rigg occupied a chair in the hall.

Apologies for non-attendance were received from Mr. G. B. Edwards, M.P., Mr. A. Kethel, M.L.C., Mr. N. Hawken, M.L.C., Mr. J. J. Cohen, M.L.A., Mr. D. Storey, M.L.A., and Mr. E. W. Molesworth, formerly M.L.A. for Newtown-Camperdown, the last-named of whom was absent through illness.

The proceedings took the form of a social, at which songs and recitations were given by ladies and gentlemen. Two songs, rendered by Miss Russell, were especially enjoyed, and she received an ovation each time she appeared. The address, which was in a massive frame, was very artistically engrossed.

The chairman said the presentation was to be made to Mr. Rigg, ex-M.L.A. for Newtown-St. Peters, on behalf of his committee and friends, as an acknowledgment of his eminent services to the district during his Parliamentary career, extending over seven years. Mr. Rigg's committee and friends were aware that he would accept what they offered him, not for its intrinsic value, but on account of it having been subscribed for by true friends. Mr. Rigg must indeed feel proud that the Right Hon. G. H. Reid had kindly consented to make the presentation. (Hear, hear.) This being the first time that Mr. Reid had honoured the locality by visiting the St. Peters Town Hall—he hoped it would not be the last time—he wished to extend to him a hearty welcome from the residents. (Hear, hear.)

The address was read to the gathering.

The Right Hon. G. H. Reid, who was received with applause, said he had very great pleasure, at the request of Mr. Rigg's committee, in making the presentation of the most beautiful address before him on behalf of the committee. He had been associated with the presentation of a large number of illuminated addresses, but he had never seen one presented to a gentleman who had a more sterling record of usefulness than Mr. Rigg. It was not his practice now to accept one out of one hundred invitations which would take him away from home at nights when he was in Sydney, but he had a very strong desire to attend on the present occasion, especially as Mr. Rigg did not now stand before the public as a successful candidate for Parliament. The best time to show one's respect for a man was when that man had had misfortune. (Hear, hear.) Mr. Rigg's public career had been such a one as made people rally round him now that the clouds were over him. After Mr. Rigg's return in 1894, he (Mr. Reid) gave him a trip back to his constituency within a year. It was his duty to do it, and Mr. Rigg and all his (Mr. Reid's) friends accepted his decision with perfect loyalty. Mr. Rigg was sent back to Parliament triumphantly in 1895, and again he was sent back triumphantly in 1898. That was a very good record. They must not expect a new leader to know everything at the beginning, and therefore they could hope that Mr. Lee, the present leader of the party, would, when he next appeared before the people, show that experience had enabled him to fight a more successful battle than on the former occasion. He (Mr. Reid) could tell them that he looked back with the greatest possible pleasure to his career in the New South Wales Parliament. It was not without regret that he separated himself from the party which had upheld the flag of Liberalism for so many years. Although the Federal Parliament was a far more important body, he occasionally felt a kind of longing to be back in the old Assembly. He must frankly say that the Federal Parliament behaved itself very much better than the Legislative Assembly of New South Wales ever was able to do. There was not quite so much fighting with the gloves off, and that was a very good thing in politics. He had been charged with creating a deficiency, but no one had yet been able to discover it. (Cheers.) However, the people did not seem much alarmed about it, though there were signs that they were getting uneasy about another deficiency which threatened them. Mr. Rigg, like many other members, had known how not to waste time. He had conquered any inclination to talk, but after all he had been only one of many others who had done the same. Though he (Mr. Reid) had gone to the Federal Parliament, he still cherished very warmly his regard for his own State, and he felt that while he had to represent the people of New South Wales he had also to do his best in the interests of the people of all Australia. He hoped his constituents would forgive him if he was not always in Melbourne, but one had to live, and could not afford to altogether neglect his private interests. Some people might ask why he did not resign from the Federal Parliament if he could not afford to be there constantly. So far as his own private inclinations were concerned it might be an agreeable relief to be able to settle down to his own business; but he had this feeling, that everyone who had played any important part in bringing about the federation of the Australian colonies owed this duty to the people of Australia, and especially to his own State,—that, having got the people to enter upon this federal union, he should give the best efforts he could to initiate the federal union under the best possible auspices. He hoped that the representative men of Australia who had played such a striking part in bringing about this federation would endeavour to bestow some years of their life in seeing to the thorough carrying out of this great enterprise. (Cheers.) As they very well knew, there was a large number of "billets" in the air, and he hoped they would be worthily filled, but that the prominent public men of Australia would display a spirit of self-sacrifice in avoiding temptation to fill the places which these "billets" offered and would remain in the Federal Parliament for at any rate a few years, to give the people the benefit of their wide experience. They all knew that the most critical time in the federation was the present, and unless its beginnings were on proper lines the prospect of the ending being good was remote. (Cheers.) It was of vital consequence that in the beginning of the great public departments and the organisations of the public service certain great public principles should be faithfully observed. In the first place they wanted to see the powers of appointment used without a trace of patronage, without a trace of that sort of application of political office to reward the services of a political friend. They did not want to see in their public life the corruption which had grown into the life of the greatest federation of the world—the United States of America. (Cheers.) It was thus of the greatest consequence that at the beginning they should have the Public Service filled by men without any trace of personal friendship being displayed. What with our federal machinery, and our elaborate political system, and with the six elaborate political systems of the States the public had a tremendous burden upon them, which ought to be lightened. They had to raise sufficient revenue to keep the States in a proper financial condition, and this would be sufficiently arduous for the most rigorous economy to be observed in order to preserve the people in the federation and all the States as well. He believed that the Federal Government at the present moment found that the fiscal question was really not a serious question compared with the financial question. The financial matter would give the greatest trouble and cause the greatest anxiety to the Federal Government and Parliament. The framing of the federal tariff would be an easy task compared with the enormous difficulty of framing a financial system which would be at once economical and sufficient for the needs of the different States. He fervently trusted, although members were separated by patriotic lines in the Federal Parliament, that the labours of the Federal Government would be so wisely controlled that it would produce a policy that would be possible even for the Opposition to support. Members must rise above all temptations to engage in party strife. The supreme anxiety should be that the welfare of the people should be advanced in these critical times of the young federation. He regretted to see so little disposition in even the largest of the States towards rearranging State affairs to meet the new conditions. It really seemed that instead of any great saving being derived from federation another expensive system of government was being set up without making the pre-existing systems less extravagant than they were formerly. He looked forward with very grave apprehension to the financial future of the States. He deplored what seemed to him an utter absence of that zealous and anxious spirit in the way of contracting the unnecessary expenditure of the States which might have been expected. Surely the corollary of the federal system of government ought to have been the immediate reduction of the expenses of the Governments of the different States? But he could see no trace of that. He saw, on the other hand, that fatal disposition to postpone public interest to suit personal convenience. Once men were elected every urgent reform seemed to vanish into the distance, to become again a brilliant panorama when their three years were up. The people almost deserved to be fooled who would stand it. He was surprised that the people of New South Wales were so lethargic that instead of combining to demand an absolute revision of the system of extravagant expenditure which was again prevailing in this country they took no heed. He had once risked his popularity and the position he occupied in the firm determination to reduce the expenditure of the State within the bounds of economy. If he had chosen to embark on a career of extravagance, bribing the electors with all sorts of pecuniary advantages, he supposed his Ministry would have been immortal. Let the public believe him, dangerous times would come on a country when powerful Ministers gained popularity by the use they made of the public money. Popularity should be founded on a much higher and worthier basis. He hoped that the public would sternly repress the unwholesome spirit which was creeping into political institutions. The daily wants of the masses of the people were becoming more and more the subjects of political adventure, more and more intertwined with the political [illegible] tunes of individuals, and that was the beginning of a state of things pregnant with disaster to the people of the country. He hoped he might be forgiven for making such observations. Although he was a member of the Federal Parliament he felt just as much as ever a citizen of New South Wales, and he felt just as keen a desire to see the grand old mother colony pursuing a prudent and successful path. He trusted the public would accept the statement which he had made in the friendly spirit which had prompted him to utter it. (Hear, hear.) Returning to the subject of the meeting, he could not express fully the sentiment of esteem which he entertained for Mr. Rigg. Like most others who were worth anything, when all that could be said had been said about them, the larger half of the secret of their success had been kept out of view. He was glad to see Mrs. Rigg present. (Applause.)

Mr. W. Rigg, who, on rising to respond, was much cheered, said he had been under many obligations to the electors of Newtown-St. Peters during the last seven years, but on the present occasion they had paid him the greatest compliment he had ever received. They were sending him forward with one of the grandest exhibits that one could accept, namely, a certificate that he had carried out his duties, while their representative, honestly, fearlessly, and in such a way as commanded approval. He felt deeply the kindness which was extended to him. If ever an honour had been extended to a defeated candidate for Parliament he felt he was honoured, seeing that Mr. Reid had so magnanimously attended on the occasion. He would never forget Mr. Reid's kindness. It was a calamity to the State that Mr. Reid's services were lost to the State Parliament. Although he (Mr. Rigg) had been defeated at the last election, he could not conceive that he had lost the confidence of the electors. (Hear, hear.) For the first time now the constituency was represented by a gentleman returned on a minority vote. That, perhaps, could be changed. He would much prize the address. In thanking those who gave it to him he must add that he hoped relations between them would remain in the future as in the past. (Hear, hear.)

Miss Parry presented Mrs. Rigg with a large bouquet of beautiful flowers.

The chairman said he was very pleased, indeed, to see Mrs. Rigg had not been forgotten.

Mr. Rigg returned thanks on behalf of Mrs. Rigg.

Mr. Carruthers, M.L.A., then spoke, and said he felt a keen regret at Mr. Rigg's defeat, but the sting to that gentleman himself must be drawn when he was invited to such a gathering as that for such a purpose. He alluded to Mr. Rigg's merit as a business man, and also as a member representing a constituency, and said he hoped to see him again in the Parliament of the State.

The meeting closed with votes of thanks to the artists who had contributed to the success of the social, and to the Mayor for presiding.

PARRAMATTA DISTRICT.

PRESENTATION TO MR. D. RICHARDSON.

Mr. D. Richardson, headmaster of the Granville North Public School, was on Wednesday evening the recipient of a handsome present from the teaching staff, to mark the occasion of his promotion to the Waterloo Public School. On Thursday afternoon, after school hours, Mr. and Mrs. Richardson were presented with an address and a souvenir in the shape of a silver cake dish and breakfast cruet by the scholars. Master Ray Green made the presentation, and Mr. Richardson acknowledged the compliment. Miss Richardson was also the recipient of a parting souvenir from her children.

THE P. D. HOSPITAL.

The committee of the Parramatta District Hospital has decided to have a hot water service installed throughout the new buildings. The committee has also decided upon pulling down two old buildings.

ROAD WORKS.

Mr. Frank Farnell, M.L.A., has been instrumental in getting the Minister for Works to approve of the sum of £1200 being expended in metalling the Pennant Hills Road from Mobb's Hill to Rogan's Hill, and also for completing the metalling from Hockley's. There is a great deal of traffic on this road, and the work has been urgently required for some time. Satisfaction is expressed at the result of Mr. Farnell's efforts.

PARRAMATTA WOOLLEN MILLS.

The management of the Parramatta Woollen Mills have just completed large additions to the mill buildings. A large finishing room has been built, and a milling room is now being erected. The buildings have cost £3000. About 70 hands are now employed at the mills, and nearly 100 hands are engaged at the factory.

CARLINGFORD SCHOOL.

Mr. Frank Farnell, M.L.A., has received the following communication from the Department of Public Instruction:—"With reference to the letter of the 9th instant, forwarded to this office by you from Mr. John R. Gorman, of Carlingford, representing the necessity for improvements at Carlingford Public school, I have the honour to acquaint you that the Minister for Public Instruction has approved of plans and specifications being prepared for enlarging the school building, and effecting other improvements. The matter has been placed in the hands of the Department's architect for immediate attention.

CHURCH BAZAAR.

On Friday afternoon a bazaar and sale of work was opened in the Pennant Hills Wesleyan School-hall by Mrs. Bourne, wife of the Rev. W. Bourne. The proceeds were to be divided between the circuit debt fund and the school-building fund. The hall was very tastefully decorated, and stalls for the sale of fancy and useful articles, refreshments, flowers, sweets, and produce were presided over by the ladies of the district, who have been working assiduously in preparing for the bazaar for some months.

ORCHARD NOTES.

The late rains have had a very beneficial effect on the orchards, and everything is now looking remarkably well. The citrus fruits have benefited greatly, and the summer fruit trees are now all in full bloom. The prospects of a big crop, and a good crop are very favourable. The rains, however, are responsible for the fact that in some of the orchards the oranges are commencing to fall in considerable quantities. This is due to the sap rising rapidly, and forcing the ripened fruit to fall. Orchardists state that if frosts should occur now windfalls will be very prolific. However, it is hoped that the frost has now gone for this winter. On one day this week three truck loads of oranges and mandarins were despatched by rail from Seven Hills to Melbourne. This is the largest consignment that has been sent away in one day by rail to the southern capital for several years.

PUBLIC SERVICE ASSOCIATION.

On Wednesday night last the newly-elected council of the Public Service Association held their inaugural meeting. The principal business was the election of a president, vice-president, treasurer, and the formation of the various committees. Mr. J. W. Turner, principal of the training college and headmaster of the Fort-street Model Public School, was unanimously re-elected president. This is the third time Mr. Turner has been called upon to fulfil the responsibilities of this position. In the first instance, he succeeded Mr. C. J. Delohery upon that gentleman's appointment to the Public Service Board. Mr. Williams, chief clerk of the Justice Department and vice-president of the late council, did not seek re-election. In his place Mr. G. A. M'Kay, chief mining surveyor, was elected without opposition. The late treasurer, Mr. R. T. M'Kay, of the Works Department, who has filled the position of treasurer since the inception of the association, was not a candidate for re-election. In his place Mr. F. H. C. Brownlow, of the Mines Department, was elected to the office.

CHRISTIAN SOCIAL UNION.

A meeting of the Christian Social Union was held last evening in the crypt at St. James' Church, King-street. The chair was occupied by the president, the Rev. W. I. Carr Smith, and there were present, besides a number of ladies, the Rev. S. S. Tovey (hon. secretary of the union), Mr. J. A. Hogue, M.L.A., and several members of the Trades and Labour Council. The business of the meeting was the consideration of questions affecting industrial arbitration. Mr. Hogue delivered an interesting address, in which he explained the salient points of the bill now before the Legislative Assembly, and intimated that personally he proposed to give a general support to the measure, as he was convinced that it—or something like it—must certainly be passed into law; but he reserved to himself the right of endeavouring to bring it more closely into conformity with his views when it reached the committee stage. In this connection Mr. Hogue called attention to the fact that there is now in operation in this State the Conciliation and Arbitration Act, under which good work had already been done in the settlement of such trade disputes as those in connection with the Lithgow collieries, the strike at Bulli, the Pacific collieries dispute, and that at South Bulli. All these differences had been satisfactorily settled under the Act, which still stood on the Statute book, without the assistance of lawyers, and at comparatively little expense. Nevertheless he recognised the necessity of some such law as was proposed, and trusted that provision would be made so that all that was good in the bill would be retained and all that was harmful would be modified as much as possible.

LECTURES AT BALMAIN.

The Rev. W. M. Dill-Macky, D.D., delivered a lecture on Monday night entitled "The Rose, Shamrock, and Thistle," before a large audience in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Balmain West. The Rev. W. Michael Smith (minister in charge of the parish) presided. The lecturer was accorded a vote of thanks. At intervals during the evening selections of music were rendered by the choir, under the conductorship of Mr. H. J. Bowen.

On Wednesday night Mr. Henry Jones gave an interesting lecture in the Balmain Central Wesleyan Mission Hall on "Faces, and How to Read Them." The Rev. W. F. Oakes, superintendent of the mission, presided. The lecture was illustrated and was followed by a public demonstration of character reading. A vote of thanks was accorded the lecturer.

A WOMAN'S LETTER FROM LONDON.

LONDON, July 19.

It is no use shirking the fact that we are prone to hot weather any time from June to August, or even into the gentle month of September. But from the scant preparation made for the summer one would imagine this was a portion of the Arctic Regions. However, we are gradually learning how to combine heat with dignity. In former years three warm days found Londoners prostrate and dressed infamously—men especially. The tall top hat of commerce was as freely worn in the city as in winter. Few gentlemen dreamed of discarding their waistcoats, not a soul carried a sun umbrella, and there were no washing ties to lessen the neck-heat, which sent many a hard-working paterfamilias to his last long home. It is a little better, certainly, but it could be vastly improved. Taken as heat it is nothing extraordinary. People will go abroad to the flat plains of Germany, to Belgium, France, even Northern Italy, and bear a greater degree of temperature, and think it is all in the day's holiday. They dress for it; they wear sensible hats and puggarees, and have their umbrellas covered with holland or Tussore silk. They shade their eyes with gauze spectacles, and go in for thin flannels, tan boots, and all the rest of it, soft-fronted shirts and so on. But a great deal of this could be done in London, not only by the richer classes—it is they who know something of climates other than England—but the working man, the cab-driver, the women who work, and middle-aged ladies who feel heat more than anyone else. This year everyone wears her lace clear against the skin and no collars—a bead necklace, or a strip of velvet against the throat, is all that is done to finish them off at the throat. And there are delightful large Tussore parasols which help to shade the shoulders and are light to hold. You hardly see a veil—never with a large hat; and again the fashion decrees that as long as you carry a pair of gloves in your hand you need not wear them. Daintily manicured fingers, pink-tinted nails, and a well-groomed hand, with innumerable rings, bangles, &c., and you are in the height of fashion. It all tends to coolness. Coachmen wear straw hats. Horses never move uncovered; in fact, there have been the greatest concessions made to the heat wave I have ever seen in this country.

The real sinners against the public comfort are the omnibus companies. You must either walk in the sun or be grilled in a 'bus, unless you are happy enough to live near the Twopenny Tube, and travel in delicious coolness to your destination. I have this good fortune, and moreover tell my cook that if she would only take her jellies or her blancmanges down to the Tube they would set without ice. Electricity is hammering at our doors, and will be the most wonderful factor in the interests of public travelling that we have ever known. Ere long there will be no omnibuses. The electric car has arrived, with its beautiful running, good lighting, and comfortable seats. You go now to Kew Bridge by electric tram, to Ealing, to Hounslow, and many other places. It makes the greatest difference to one's comfort. On Sunday last I went to Hounslow by the tram, and was delighted. You are cool all the time, you go through curious narrow streets and think you must be hundreds of miles from London, so countryfied is the route. Men and women stop work to gaze at the huge cars, which almost fill up the narrow way. Housewives will have to look to their progeny. I know no more certain method of curtailing the growth of population than to lay an electric tram through the narrow streets of some of our near suburbs. Malthus and his methods are out of date; the electric tram has come. Seriously, I do think it delightful, but for pedestrians and cyclists terribly dangerous. And the motor car is an additional terror. All the roads leading out of London, to Ealing, Kew, Hounslow, and other places are alive with an incessant stream of electric cars, cyclist and motor cars coming as rapidly as they dare. As for horses and carts, they are not even considered. One wonders what this hurry and tearing will lead to in the end. Loss of life in the present is sure to be one of its effects.

SOCIETY.

The season is rapidly closing; there is only Goodwood as a function, and it comes to an end. No one retuns to town after Goodwood who can be anywhere else. The House will sit into August; but the relatives of our senators go into the country, or hie themselves to the latest cure on the Continent. Indeed, the first part of a fashionable holiday is spent in ridding the system of the effects of the banquets, dinners, and general high feeding which obtain throughout the year in London.

The preparations for the Coronation are already under discussion. Amongst the more interesting ceremonies to be gone through are those appertaining to the Court of Claims. The claims would appear to be those of Peers who have hereditary rights to perform certain personal services for the Sovereign. They read most curiously in the present day, when our King does so much for himself. But it is certain that the Coronation of King Edward the Seventh will be performed with full rites, and that no ancient custom will be set aside. His Majesty has a genius for the proper carrying out of State ceremonies.

While I am on this subject may I advise those who are coming to the old country next year to make arrangements beforehand, as far as possible, for their accommodation. London is sure to be filled to overflowing. Not alone of our own countrymen from beyond seas, but Americans and foreigners are safe to arrive in astounding numbers. The same advice holds good about dressmakers. I so often meet ladies from the colonies in despair about their clothes, and unable to have work done which is absolutely necessary to their comfort. It is as well to try and secure one dressmaker and tailor on whom you can depend, and give your orders as soon as you arrive home. Coming in June or late May you will find that all the best people are full up with orders for the season, and you are looked at with but little grace if you insist on getting your things at the date you want them. Having found the modiste who suits you, stick to her, and in the end you get some interest taken in you and your wants. The little dressmaker is rather more difficult to find for a new comer. She again is indispensable to most ladies, and she is to be found after a time.

You will of course reap the benefit of the very latest of our summer fashions. Each month up to July seems to bring some fresh development of light dressing. At the present moment, save that a hat is worn with the toilette, you would imagine there had been a ball over night, and that all the women had not thought it worth while to undress. I often wonder what is left for the evening. You see ladies shopping in the early morning in light silks much garnished with clear lace insertions, necks showing through the lace. Some of the gowns are apparently evening dresses, with a chemisette of lace put on over the neck. A huge plaited ruffle of tulle, generally alternate frills of black and white lying flattened out on the shoulders, is all the covering to be seen. All ruffles are much broader and flatter this season. It is astounding all the American tourists, especially that contingent which "do" London in tweed skirts and "shirt waists," and low felt hats with puggarees. I hear them everywhere wondering at women going out so early in the morning in such sumptuous attire. Australian ladies wonder quite as much, and few of them like the picture. Over-dressing is the bane of women's lives, and who knows the strain put on the bread-winners to arrive at it. However, there it is; dress is very dainty, very light, very flimsy—beautiful as is the wing of a delicately-coloured butterfly. Colour will return as soon as people get into the country; in London it is considered better form to adhere to the subdued tints of half-mourning.

In the making of muslin gowns there is endless variety—all of course much trimmed with lace, and all bodices of the blouse order. The newest addition is the little sac to match the dress of glace silk, or of the same material as the gown. In all cases you must be careful to keep the sac in tune with the colour of the gown. It is very short; I see them sometimes so short that the back rarely clears the shoulder blades. Some, again, are cut to show the high-pointed belt; few fall lower than the waist. In Paris they put several rosettes of black velvet on the sides of the sac, and edge it with soft frills of chiffon, or silk muslin matching its colour. One sees sometimes such a sac worn in the theatre over an evening gown, and no better little covering could be devised. All the sleeves are wide and the arms slip easily into them. Lace coats are much worn this hot weather as opera wraps.

Sleeves for the evening are again short worn, with long wrinkled gloves; after the pretty transparent sleeve they look a little archaic, and are not much cared for except at a dance. Of course all the transparency we are rioting in tends to sunburn, and browner necks and hands are seen than we are accustomed to in England. Indeed many of our Australian visitors hesitate to wear them, knowing by experience what the power of the sun is on the unsheltered skin.

The accounts of the visit to Australia of the Duke and the Duchess of York have interested and delighted all those who realise what a great thing the visit has been, and what is its significance. Nothing could have been better managed than this Royal progress and the delight it must have given to all classes of the colonies will cement still stronger the tie between Australia and her British mother. "Things British" are being eagerly bought in London by the crowds of Americans who are travelling in Europe just now.

THE ENGLISH CRICKET TEAM.

The two latest additions to A. C. Maclaren's team, Braund and Robson, bring the number of players definitely to make the trip to 12, two doubtful members being C. B. Fry and R. E. Foster. Braund was particularly successful against the last Australian Eleven in England, running second with an average of 54 in five innings to J. T. Brown's (sen.), 73·25, also for five innings. For W. G. Grace's Eleven v. the Australians at Crystal Palace Braund registered 125. C. Robson will be the second wicket-keeper of the team. Averages to July 22, given below, will give some idea of the strength and weakness of the combination. It is remarkably strong in batting, but capable of much improvement in the bowling. In fielding some excellent work should be shown. The names of the 14 are indicated by an asterisk:—

MILITARY INTELLIGENCE.

SIXTH INFANTRY REGIMENT BALL.

The second annual ball in connection with the 6th Volunteer Infantry Regiment (Australian Rifles) was held at the Paddington Town Hall last evening. The dance was under the patronage of the headquarters' staff, and was well attended. The programme, consisting of 23 dances, opened with a grand march and waltz, led by Colonel F. A. Wright, M.L.A. (officer commanding) and Mrs. Wright. Those present included the Misses Wright (2), Colonel Bayly, D.A.A.G., Captain Cooke (acting-adjutant), and representatives of most of the New South Wales field and naval forces. Dancing began at 8.30 p.m., and was continued until 4 a.m. Colour-sergeant Buckleton acted as hon. treasurer, Sergeant G. A. Vincent hon. secretary, whilst the duties of M's.C. were carried out by Colour-sergeant Stinson, Sergeants Castle and Limbert, and Lance-Corporal May.

During the absence of Major-General French from Sydney the duties connected with the State Commandant's office are being performed by Colonel Mackenzie, Chief Staff Officer.

ROBERTSON, Friday.

A half-day parade of the West Camden Lancers was carried out on Wednesday. There was a good attendance. The men were under the command of Captain M'Evilly and Lieutenant Wood. Staff Sergeant-major Stanley, instructor, was also present. The half-squadron was put through squadron drill and lance exercise, and acquitted themselves in a satisfactory manner.

SHEARING MATTERS.

The acting secretary of the Pastoralists' Union of New South Wales informs us that he has received the following communications:—

From Mr. J. B. Brodie, of Boolcarrol, Narrabri: "We made a start on 22nd under the Pastoralists' Union agreement for both shearers and shed hands, the latter to be paid at the same rate per hour as during last and previous seasons. The shearers, who had signed the agreement some time ahead of shearing, were quite satisfied with the terms."

From Mr. J. L. Brown, of Tondeburine, Gilgandra: "Shearing commenced here yesterday with 23 shearers, all of whom signed readily the P.U. agreement, as also did the rouseabouts."

SYDNEY CITY MISSION.

The Sydney City Mission's thirty-sixth annual tea festival will be held on Wednesday at the Town Hall. Lady Harris, Mrs. John See, Mrs. John Marks, and other ladies closely identified with the mission have promised to preside at the tables. After the tea a grand concert will be given in the Town Hall. The numbers will be rendered by the Pitt-street Congregational Church choir, leading artists assisting. Mr. Lawrence Campbell and little Keith Kennedy will also contribute to the programme. The festival is advertised elsewhere.

RIFLE SHOOTING.

6th REGIMENT (AUSTRALIAN RIFLES) CLUB.

The annual meeting of the 6th Regiment (Australian Rifles) Rifle Club was held on Tuesday night at the rooms, Chancery-square, when Lieutenant-Colonel F. A. Wright (O.C.) presided over a large attendance. The annual report and balance-sheet were of a satisfactory nature, and showed that the club had made good progress. The winners of the aggregate prizes—best eight shootings out of 12—presented by Colonel Wright, were:—Sergeant Barnard, Corporal Wright, and Bugler Towe. The trophies were gold medals. Sergeant Boughton won the silver medal presented by Mr. W. J. Amor. The election of office-bearers resulted as follows:—President, Lieutenant-Colonel F. A. Wright; vice-presidents, the officers commanding companies; hon. secretary, Sergeant Vincent; hon. treasurer, Captain Cooke; committee, Captain Michaelis, Captain J. E. Chuck, Lieutenant Hughes, Lieutenant Dowsett, Colour-sergeant Herrod, Sergeant Sharpe, Sergeant Judd, Corporal H. Lord, Private M'Kern, Private Sheffield, Private Jones, and Private Walker; Captain E. C. Cooke, Warrant-officer Mowbray, and Sergeant Vincent were appointed the selection committee.

BLACKHEATH, Thursday.

The fifth shooting in the quarterly competition, which was postponed from last week through rain, took place on the Blackheath rifle range yesterday afternoon. The weather was very boisterous, with occasional falls of snow. Several competitors retired from the contest. The following are the principal scores:—M. Boyd, 500 yards 31, 600 yards 28, handicap 10—69; H. Neate, 33, 32, scratch—65; A. Slatyer, 28, 28, handicap 8—64; C. Neate, 26, 20, handicap 6—52.

GOULBURN, Wednesday.

The following were successful in the monthly prize shooting of the Railway Ambulance Reserve Rifle Club at the 500 and 600 yards:—C. Hawkesley, 8 points handicap—total 61; L. King, 10—59; W. Coulter, 12—57; J. Pinkney, 5—56; President Milne, scratch—54; Private Cooper, 3—53; Treasurer Ingleton, 3 52; J. M'Gregor, 8—51; J. O'Halloran, 20—51; J. Painter, 7—50.

JUNEE, Thursday.

The annual meeting of the Civilian Rifle Club was held yesterday. The credit balance is £31. The officers are:—President, A. Scobie; secretary, T. Egan; treasurer, A. H. Knox; committee, C. A. F. Hatch, J. Edwards, E. Scrivener, J. M'Guire.

Within the past 70 years the death-rate of soldiers on garrison duty in English towns had fallen from 16 per thousand a year to 6 per thousand.

ART SOCIETY'S EXHIBITION.

AN ATTRACTIVE SHOW.

Visitors to the private view this day of the twenty-second annual exhibition of the Art Society of New South Wales will be confronted by a show of unusually even excellence. The striking pictures of the year, with the exception of a particularly fine cattle painting by Frank P. Mahony, are all landscapes. The genre section is not represented at all, works of imagination are conspicuous only by their absence, and figure paintings are few in number. We have before alluded to the loss sustained by this society in its failure to attract to itself a figure painter of commanding talent. Such a man would be able to remove a certain effect of routine arising from the restricted efforts of the exhibitors as a body. There is plenty of room for a painter of this special class. In the meantime the landscape section is beneficially dominated by the president (Mr. W. Lister Lister), whose works always make for progress. Again this year he displays a generous ambition which does not fall short of its goal. He lifts his own department of art into fascinating prominence, and in his endeavour is so admirably supported by his colleagues that the Art Society's Spring Exhibition of 1901 must be pronounced a success.

It is Mr. W. Lister Lister's great canvas, "Mount Keira, South Coast" (No. 81), that forms one of three central points of interest in the principal room. The painter here shows a great foreground of grassy land, the multifarious detail of which almost escapes the attention, just as it does in nature. A few gum trees occupy the middle distance, with one bare giant that has long been felled, and trails its gleaming white arms across the sward. Beyond this is a beautiful view of purple hills, showing patches of green where the sunlight touches them. The fleecy, almost impalpable shape of rolling vapour is formed wherever the jutting rocks or headlands have provided a shelter for it. The whole, painted with an aerial effect of space and distance, furnishes a veritable feast for the eye, whilst at the same time it presents a typical Australian scene. The second of the three works of distinction referred to is Mr. Frank P. Mahony's "A Spring Morning" (No. 58), which faces the visitor as he enters the room. It is years since Mr. Mahony has painted a work of similar importance, and few will cavil at the decision of the trustees of the Art Gallery to add it to the national collection. The subject chosen by the antipodean "Cooper" is a sparsely covered piece of bush land, across which cattle are walking. The perfect shape and sense of movement conveyed by these handsome dairy cows would not alone make a "picture" in the true sense of the term, but the artist has transferred to canvas all the genial brightness of the crisp, sun-filled atmosphere which gives such beauty to the Australian spring. The question of price, which seems to be purely arbitrary, was in this instance fortunately settled by the artist in his own interests, and no one will grudge him his good luck in cataloguing the work at £200. This year's exhibition is strengthened by pictures contributed by Mr. W. C. Piguenit, now in England. However, his chief work, the third of importance in the first gallery, is an Australian scene, "A Thunderstorm on the Darling" (No. 24). Here the artist treats from a practical standpoint the dreary landscape which surrounds this narrow, tortuous waterway. He has chose a moment of very late afternoon, and from his brush the magic tints, pearly and opalescent, which we know so well, gild the turgid stream, and even throw a halo of glory around its prosaic burthen of barges. The yellow light falls on masses of white clouds, which in one direction are already dark with the rain that drenches the distant bushland. For the eye gazes across the levels beyond the banks, and the ox-team, with its load of wool on the edge of the river, is made visible in the same poetical radiance which has elsewhere transformed the wilderness into a thing of beauty. From England Mr. Piguenit forwards "A Welsh Moor" (No. 55), in which the high bank in the foreground is so richly covered with heather that the purple light from the glowing flower is reflected on the surface of the little pool at its foot. All this is tenderly painted, and a charming glimpse of the more distant portion of the moor is also afforded. "Beddgelert, North Wales" (No. 50), is too absolutely "pretty" to be in this artist's best manner, though the river-side scene, with the old house near the bridge, is wonderfully attractive. This artist also sends in two or three good watercolours, and an oil mono-chrome in the "black and white" division, "The Mill Stream" (No. 273). This fine subject, with its clever massing of foliage in the umbrageous trees, has been purchased by the trustees of the Art Gallery.

Taking the pictures in their catalogued order, we first come to Mr. Albert J. Hanson's "Mount Rolleston, New Zealand" (No. 1). The best portion of this work is the view of mountain steeped in rose and purple hues, the white boulders on the bed of the stream forming the foreground, presenting a peculiar effect—not unlike the indistinct shapes of innumerable sheep—which distracts the attention. Mr. Hanson makes his successes in a whole series of characteristic English scenes in the watercolour room. One of these, "The Weary Horses Seek the Stream" (No. 175), has been added by the trustees to the national collection. The scene depicted is some picturesque old farmyard in Surrey or Sussex, from which the tired beasts, freed from the heavy waggon, are being driven to water. The effect of the gloaming and the soft and tender treatment of the sunset sky are in this artist's well-known manner. Signor Dattilo-Rubbo is a frequent and successful exhibitor. In his most ambitious work, "Voices of the Past" (No. 9), an aged monk handles an ancient treasure-chest that he has placed in the niche beneath the strongly barred window of his cell. The whole interior is full of clever and well-executed detail, and the central figure is well painted. Unfortunately, the weird old face suggests "the missing link," an idea fatal to the conception as a whole. Signor Dattilo-Rubbo paints strongly and well the rather commonplace young woman, entitled "Musetta" (No. 14), the flesh tones, with their lights and shadows, being highly successful. One of this artist's best things is his clever and spirited character sketch, "Street Arab" (No. 127), in the second room. Mr. Arthur Collingridge (vice-president) does not send in so much as usual. His principal work is "Clearing" (No. 6), the best point in which is the harmonious balance of the composition, whilst the soft distance of the picturesque scene may also be noted. Mr. Collingridge has several favourable examples of his method in the water-colour division. Mr. A. J. Daplyn's "Fruits of Autumn" (No. 11) has already been sold, and the purchaser has secured a prize. The painting of the brown bowl of pears and grapes, with the chrysanthemums, vase, and wine bottles is quiet in tone but exceedingly finished, the work throughout, which is in imitation of a past style, being beautifully solid and accomplished. Besides some nice water-colours, Mr. Daplyn has an important oil painting in "The Road Through the Bush" (No. 78). In this charming scene the track winds under thickly branching trees that form the background. The whole is sympathetically treated.

Miss Florence A. Fuller has visited the Blue Mountains to good purpose. The region is one not nearly as much in evidence at these annual shows as its rugged, impressive beauty would lead one to anticipate. One of Miss Fuller's best contributions is "As the Shadows Lengthen" (No. 18), a characteristic view of cliff-encircled valley, clothed with its myriad of undistinguishable trees. Upon this misty surface of innumerable tree tops the shadows are falling. This effect and that of the sunlight on the green bank shelving down in the foreground to the edge of the precipice are felicitously achieved. In "For Empire" (No. 38), Miss Fuller admirably reproduces the clear atmosphere of her bush scene, but the boys "playing at soldiers" are commonplace, so that the whole is not inspiring as it should be with such a title. Miss Fuller sends other works, notably "Morning in the Blue Mountains" (No. 71), another finely-handed scene in which we see the grey-blue shadows and formidable ramparts of stone that give these landscapes their individuality. In No. 32, "The Puritan Maid," is presented an attractive example of Miss E. E. Cusack's talent. There is charm in this portrait of the grey-eyed girl, with oval face, and waving dark hair, who sits so unaffectedly in her grey gown with its Quaker pelerine of white. The colouring is harmonious, and the treatment sincere. Mr. T. Dean paints carefully and well a portrait, Miss Nellie Colvin (No. 36), quite remarkable for the engaging expression he has imparted to a face, the good qualities of which might escape notice under handling less adroitly successful. Mr. H. Moore-Jones is especially happy in No. 22, "He tramped for years," which has the delicacy of effect more generally seen in a water-colour drawing, and his bush figure "Happy-go-Lucky" (No. 48) is spirited. This painter's chief work, "Past Carin'" (No. 91), shows a dilapidated selection, long tangled grasses round the tumble-down home, and an aged woman standing near a cart on which lies the coffin of her husband. The drawing of the principal figure is not convincing, but the subject is treated with feeling, and is welcome as one of the few works which show a little imagination. "Evening Shadows" (No. 54) is a picture by W. A. Moir of cattle walking along a road towards a spectator. The drawing of the animals is good, as are the indications of fading light, but the tracks are too defined, and give the work a careless, half-finished look. The painter makes his success, however, in "Mustering Wild Horses" (No. 101), in which an athletic stockman on a handsome bay horse leaps a log in the flying chase after the "brombies" galloping through the bush. Though the subject is coloured with a view to the picturesque, it is full of animation and vigour, and will find many admirers. Visitors will not fail to notice Mr. W. Lister Lister's "Harmony in Grey" (No. 63), a sea-scape with the shallow water in the foreground exquisitely painted, and the aerial effect of the whole scene beneath the grey sky beautifully expressed.

Mr. J. S. Watkins forwards an important piece of portraiture in "The Lady with the Carnations" (No. 73). Herein the painter has succeeded in suggesting the exuberant vitality of this robust damsel, the expression of the eyes is vividly in character, and the firm and healthy flesh is convincingly treated. This well-known artist sends a fine work in "Chapeau Noir" (No. 108); and some exceedingly clever black and white work. "Golden Light on Golden Fleece" (No 77), by William de Burton Wilson, favourably introduces a new contributor to public notice. The subject, a great flock of sheep huddled together beneath a blinding cloud of yellow dust, is difficult to render. Mr. Wilson has avoided the mistake, so often made, of drawing the forms too definitely, and has achieved the impression he aimed at. Mr. J. Salvana makes a hit this year, and his future will henceforth be watched with interest. He paints "Old Railway Yards, Redfern, Wet Evening" (No. 85), a prosaic subject, indeed, yet not wholly destitute of poetry. Just as Ibsen's master builder represented himself as planning "homes for happy human beings," so here those powerful engines, with their glowing coloured lights, will carry hundreds from the work and turmoil of the city to the rest and recuperative air of the country. The many gleaming tracks, the signalmen attendant on the approaching trains, and the entire scene are enveloped in the gloom of a rainy twilight, so well realised that Mr. Salvana at once steps from student endeavour to artistic achievement in the result.

In the second room by far the most important work is Mr. Henri Tebbitt's "Old Australian Giants" (No. 117). This title does not refer to antediluvian discoveries of interest to ethnologists, but to the straight and stalwart tree trunks that stand out in bold relief against the light. These brown and silver giants are ankle-deep in green fern, well and minutely treated, whilst a distance of mountain screened by luxuriant foliage completes a charming landscape. "The Cloud, Homebush Bay" (No. 115) is a large canvas by Mr. Salvana, in which there is feeling for the effect of night, though rather too heavy a touch is manifest in the huge purple and crimson cloud which gives the scene its title.

The water-colour division has already been mentioned. We find many accomplished examples of Mr. Lister Lister's style, of which the most prominent is "On the South Coast, near Stanwell Park, New South Wales" (No. 171). The execution of the sky above this vast expanse of green herbage on the edge of the low cliff, above the bay, is particularly happy. "Reflections" (No. 261) by the same artist, with the shallow water that takes the shape and colour of the grey and purple clouds high above, is another work which shows a close observation of nature. "A Mountain River" (No. 140), by Robert Ronald, the very light tone of which possibly suggests the vernal season, suffers from the opaque quality of the water, which partially resembles a pavement in mosaic, but this excepted, the treatment is excellent. Mr. Gerald Fitzgerald is a generous contributor. He sends some old-world scenes, principally from village life in Dorsetshire, all of which show feeling. Mr. J. H. Young forwards improved work this year, and "A Wet Day, Circular Quay" (152) is one of several sympathetic sketches of the same character. Mr. John W. Tristram also shows to advantage this year, notably so in "Looking South at Narrabeen" (No. 162). The contrasts of colour along the distant coast in J. A. Bowman's "North Coast" (No. 191) are too abrupt, but the artist has made a capital study of the cliffs and boulders in the foreground. "Still Life, Australian Birds" (No. 192), shows a whole shelf covered with dead birds, and the profusion of plumage so accurately tinted after nature by Mr. Neville Cayley makes the work important. The water-colour section is greatly strengthened by Mr. Charles N. Worsley's "After Mass, Palma, Majorca" (No. 210), the composition and colouring of this uniquely picturesque street scene being beyond praise. The "touch of a vanished hand" will be recognised in "Children of G. Merivale" (No. 223), one of those exquisitely delicate portraits in which the style of the late Mrs. Mary Stoddard is so happily exemplified. Miss E. E. Cusack's "Whispers from the Lips of Spring" (No. 240) is a striking pastel drawing which many will admire. Good work, chiefly of a floral character, is sent in by Ethel A. Stephens, L. Plummer, Ada E. Cooper, Hetty Dymock, C. W. Blackman (landscape), Sophie Steffanoni (picturesque bits of "Old Sydney"), Evelyn N. Pilcher (head of an aboriginal), Mrs. Tom Marshall, Alice Cusack, G. W. Hadfield, B. Doyle, Hilda V. Marks, and Margaret Flockton (finished examples of still life).

In the black and white section, in addition to the old names, the studies by a new contributor, Agnes B. Docker, show especial merit. The chief work in the sculpture is James White's equestrian group entitled "V.C.," in which a bushman in uniform is assisting a comrade to mount behind him. The two soldiers too closely resemble one another, but the modelling of the graceful athletic figures is life-like, as is also that of the spirited horse rearing at the double burden. Portrait busts of the Primate, of Cardinal Moran by Mr. Nelson Illingworth, already favourably reviewed in these columns, and contributions from Messrs. Gregory Macintosh and G. W. Hadfield acceptably complete this division.

The private view will be held to-day, and on Monday afternoon Rear-Admiral Sir Lewis Beaumont will declare the twenty-second annual exhibition of the Art Society formally open to the public.

HOMEBUSH SCHOOL OF ARTS.

ADDRESS BY THE MINISTER FOR PUBLIC INSTRUCTION.

There was a large gathering at Homebush last night, when the official opening of the School of Arts was carried out by the Hon. J. Perry, M.L.A., Minister for Public Instruction. Mr. A. W. S. Gregg, president, occupied the chair, and there were on the platform Messrs. T. F. H. Mackenzie, M.L.A., W. Archer, M.L.A., W. Affleck, M.L.A., the Rev. W. Cunliffe Jones, W. J. Nielsen, H. Green, J. Pomeroy, and others.

Mr. Gregg wished the new institution success, and gave a few words of advice to the officers elected. The residents, he said, had to thank the Minister for Public Instruction for placing the building at the disposal of the residents, in consequence of the representations of Mr. W. Archer, M.L.A., and other people of the district.

Mr. T. F. H. Mackenzie, M.L.A., said that the residents had displayed a great amount of energy in the transference of the old school building to its present position. It was a decided credit to the residents, and would have an educational value which should not be underestimated. (Applause.)

Mr. Perry said that politics was not a money-making game, and he was pleased to see some of his old companions present who had prospered out of politics. Schools of arts were the schools for the old as the Public schools were for the young. He had been surprised that the committee after they had obtained his promise to give them the old Public school had not come to him and said it was not worth shifting, and asked him for a substantial sum for a school of arts. The department had no use for the building, and cheerfully gave it away. (Laughter.) The building would no doubt contain a library. He found that the libraries scattered about the country were doing a great deal of good. They were like social policemen arresting the young and old and taking them out of possible mischief. Many mechanics' schools of arts had, if not a good library, at any rate a good hall where people danced. He doubted the value of these halls when used only as dancerooms, and whenever he was asked for a subsidy for such institutions he was inclined to run his pen through the application. They should be used for educational purposes chiefly, the giving of lectures and the extension of technical education. So long as he occupied his present position, and he thought he would be in it a long time yet, he would encourage the erection of such buildings, and help to establish technical classes and libraries. There were a great number of Public schools—fine buildings—in the State which were only used for a few hours each day by the pupils, and he hoped to work double shifts and establish technical classes in them. He intended that the Government should submit to Parliament a scheme in that direction, in order to see if the people were ready for better technical education. (Applause.) If they were not ready the money would not be voted. He was glad to see what good use the residents had put the old building to, and he hoped that the institution would prosper and its library shortly be extended. He formally declared the building open.

Mr. H. Green narrated the circumstances under which the building had been secured. The committee had collected £50, and spent about £300 in removing and renovating it. They would probably ask Mr. Perry shortly for £100 towards this amount. The building was worth as it stood £600, so that the debt was not a heavy matter. They intended to have a gymnasium, library, lectures, public meetings and entertainments, library, and technical classes, but the hall would not be used for dancing. Many people had cheerfully given their time to the work of removal, and to these and others he tendered the committee's heartiest thanks.

Mr. W. Archer congratulated the residents upon the acquisition of the building. The Rev. Cunliffe Jones also spoke.

The officers of the new institution were as follows:—President, Mr. A. W. S. Gregg; trustees, Messrs. W. H. M'Lelland, W. G. Johnston; vice-presidents, Messrs. H. Green and H. N. Kite; committee, Messrs. E. Chambers, L. Golby, G. Knight, G. Iler, F. J. Lever, and W. Mackay; hon. treasurer, Mr. T. Moroney; hon. secretary, Mr. G. Weir.

EIGHT-HOURS' DEMONSTRATION COMMITTEE.

THE ORDER OF PROCESSION.

The Eight-hours Demonstration Committee met last night at the Trades Hall, Mr. F. Brennan presiding.

Mr. F. Bunting was elected to represent the committee at the Lithgow Eight-hours Demonstration, to be held on October 14, and Mr. J. Travers was appointed to attend a similar demonstration at Newcastle on October 23.

The recommendations of the committee in reference to officers to fill the various positions on the day of the demonstration were endorsed.

It was decided that a band from the Professional Musicians' Association should lead the procession, and play all day at the Royal Agricultural Society's Ground. The following bands were appointed to lead the different societies, and to play along the route:—Britannia, Helensburgh, Olympic, Railway, Ashfield Borough, St. George's District, City, Hibernian, Marrickville, National Guard, and a second combination from the Professional Musicians' Association, which society will also supply a band for the dancing pavilion.

The ballot to decide upon the order in which the unions will march in the procession resulted as follows:—Letterpress Machinists, Tinsmiths, Pressers, Boilermakers, Australasian Engineers, Amalgamated Engineers, Wharf Labourers, Marble Workers, Professional Musicians, Painters, Furniture Trades, Amalgamated Carpenters, Progressive Carpenters, Coopers, Shipwrights, Stonemasons, Bricklayers, Plasterers, Glassworkers, United Labourers, Coachmakers, Ironworkers' Assistants, Plumbers, Cigarmakers, Typographical Association, Lithographers, Bookbinders, Bakers, Butchers, Confectioners, Ironmoulders, Gas-stokers, Painters and Dockers, and Seamen.

Mr. T. J. Hoskins was elected assistant secretary to Mr. T. H. Thrower.

ASSOCIATED LABOUR LEAGUES.

A meeting of the members of the Associated Labour Leagues of Cook, Flinders, Belmore, and Bligh divisions was held during the week at the Warwick Arms Hotel. Dr. Zillman was the chairman. The following officers for the ensuing year were elected:—President, Mr. H. C. Walker; vice-presidents, Messrs. Mason, Gocher, Wigley, and Dr. Zillman; hon. treasurer, Mr. G. A. Jones; general secretary, Mr. F. John Somerhoff; press secretary, Mr. John P. Salmon; committee of management, Messrs. C. Fox, H. Gallagher, D. E. Healey, P. J. Mulholland, and John Donovan.

AMUSEMENTS.

HER MAJESTY'S THEATRE.

This evening, after an interval of many years, Mr. J. C. Williamson will produce Donizetti's opera, "Lucia di Lammermoor," with Mme. De Vere Sapio in the name part, Signor Dani as Edgardo, Signor Bozzoli as Enriquo, Signor Travaglini as Raimondo, and Signor Cannonieri as Arturo. The plot of this favourite work is as follows:—"Henry Ashton, a Scottish laird of proud and ancient lineage, but of dilapidated fortune, is anxious that his sister Lucy should wed the wealthy Sir Arthur Bucklaw. Her affections, however, have already been pledged to Lord Edgar, of Ravenswood, between whom and the house of Ashton there rages a feud akin to that of the Montagues and the Capulets. Before leaving for France on business of state Edgar has pledged his troth to Lucy, but Henry intercepts all the communications he sends her, and by means of a forged document contrives to make his sister believe her lover false to his vows. She reluctantly consents to wed Bucklaw, but Edgar returns as she is signing the marriage contract, and calls down the vengeance of Heaven upon her and her perfidious race. Lucy goes mad, slays her husband in the very bridal chamber, and dies, while Edgar, on hearing of her unhappy end, stabs himself."

"Lucia di Lammermoor" will be repeated on Monday and Friday, whilst on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "I Pagliacci" will be given. "Rigoletto" will be performed at Wednesday's matinee, and "La Boheme" on Thursday evening. Verdi's "Othello" is now in preparation.

THEATRE ROYAL.

The last six nights of "The Amazons" are notified at the Theatre Royal, with a matinee next Thursday, so that playgoers will only have a few more opportunities of witnessing Pinero's charming comedy. It is full of playful wit, and is admirably acted by the Brough company.

Next Saturday R. C. Carton's new play, "Lady Huntworth's Experiment," will be produced by Mr. Robert Brough for the first time. There are laughable complications in this piece, due to Lady Huntworth masquerading as cook to the Rev. Audley Pillenger. He then falls in love with her, being blissfully unaware that she already possesses a tipsy scamp of a husband. Mr. and Mrs. Brough will assume these characters, with Mr. Cecil Ward as Captain Darveston, late Bengal Cavalry, Mr. Leslie Victor as the drunken Crayll, Mr. Ernest Vere as the Rev. Henry Thursby, Miss Susie Vaughan as Miss Hannah Pillenger, and Miss Emma Temple as Lucy Pillenger. Mr. Phil Goatcher has painted the scenery for the new play, the plan for which opens at Elvy's on Monday morning.

CRITERION THEATRE.

Mr. Charles Holloway, who is now entering upon the last two weeks of his long season at the Criterion Theatre, will only give six more performances of "Death or Glory Boys." The picturesque military drama provides abundance of incident and scenic effect, and will doubtless draw large audiences. Next Saturday the Australian actor-manager will revive "The World Against Her," an emotional drama by Frank Harvey, which seems to prove perennially attractive. With this drama the Holloway Dramatic Company will make their farewell appearances, as their final performance will be given on September 14.

LYCEUM THEATRE.

Miss Maggie Moore, whose season at the Lyceum Theatre has been drawing consistently large audiences, will this evening appear in her famous character of Lizzie Stofel in the popular drama "Struck Oil." Mr. William Anderson has engaged Mr. E. B. Russell for the important role of John Stofel, with Mr. J. P. West as Deacon Skinner. The new cast will also include Mr. J. Ennis as Sergeant Flynn, Mr. Charles Blake as Dr. Pearson, and Little Gladys Bashford as Billy Patterson. Miss Maggie Moore will sing, in addition to the favourite songs "Don't Make Me Laugh" and "His Fader Keeps a Brewery," the favourite ballads "Because I Love You So," "Dolly Grey," and "Honeysuckle and Bee." "Arrah-na-Pogue" will be staged next Saturday.

TIVOLI THEATRE.

This afternoon and evening at the Tivoli Theatre Miss Marie Lloyd and Mr. Alec Hurley will enter upon the last five nights of their stay in Sydney, and Mr. Harry Rickards also notifies the last week of Mme. Celina Bobe and Mr. Ted Hanley. Miss Ivy Scott makes her first appearance in the new programme, Misses Florrie and Stella Ranger have been re-engaged, and a long list of artists includes Mlle. Lucrezia, Walker and May, and Lennon, Hyman, and Lennon.

PALACE THEATRE.

This afternoon and evening the "World's Entertainers" will continue their programme of polite vaudeville at the Palace Theatre under the direction of Messrs. Henry Lee and James G. Rial. The new American company has been drawing crowded houses since it first appeared in Sydney, and is evidently likely to enjoy a general patronage for a long time to come.

EMPIRE THEATRE.

Mr. John Fuller's Empire Variety Company will give their usual matinee, in addition to the evening performance, at the Empire Theatre to-day. The new Oriental first part, "The Golden Horn," will be continued, and the list of artists will include Messrs. Charles Faning, Will Stevens, the Leslie Brothers, Ted Herberte, and other leading members of the combination.

THE ORATORIO FESTIVAL.

The Sydney Philharmonic Society has completed arrangements for an oratorio festival, for which the committee has been fortunate in securing the services of Madame Belle Cole and Mr. John Prouse. A strong quartet of soloists will be completed by the appearance of Miss Edith King and Mr. Henry Weir. The Philharmonic Society will in this way perform the "Elijah" on Wednesday, September 18, and the "Messiah" on Saturday, September 21. Mr. John Delany will conduct the full chorus and orchestra in these favourite works, for either of which the hon. secretary (Mr. J. J. Cramp) notifies that subscribers may use their vouchers.

PUBLIC SERVICE SMOKE CONCERT.

A semi-smoke concert will be given at the Town Hall on Monday night under the auspices of the Public Service Association of New South Wales. A strong and varied programme will be contributed to by Misses Hetty Holroyd, Kate Hancock, Annie Perry, Hilda Bevege (recitation), Messrs. Ernest Fitts, Will Robyns, Oliver Reece, W. H. Parkinson, H. Farr, jun., G. W. Whatmore, H. Wilkie, Sid. Shipway, C. B. Bradford, the Australian Banjo and Guitar Society, the Sydney Fencing Club, N.A.V. Band, and others. Mr. Harry Rickards will appear. Mr. Arthur Mason will be organist, and Mr. Hadwen Chandler accompanist.

MISS DORIS BARNETT'S RECITAL.

Miss Doris Barnett, a young pianist who has been studying under Mr. Sydney Moss, will make her debut in public at an invitation recital to be given at the Y.M.C.A. Hall next Thursday evening. Amongst the more novel items on the programme will be Saint Saens' Fourth Concerto, a work that ranks with the second of the series introduced here by Adela Verne some years ago, and Schumann's "Forest Scenes" in their entirety. Miss Barnett will also play familiar classic and romantic pieces.

"THE CHRISTMAS CAROL."

Preparations are now completed for Mr. Lawrence Campbell's recital of Charles Dickens's "Christmas Carol" to be given at the Centenary Hall on Wednesday evening, September 11. Judging from Mr. Campbell's "Kipling Recitals" last season, "The Carol" should excite widespread interest. The patronage of his Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor (Sir F. M. Darley), the Prime Minister of the State (the Hon. John See), and many others has been secured. The box plan will open at Paling's on Tuesday.

"HAMLET."

Mr. F. M. Alexander has arranged for a short Shakespearian season of eight nights at the Criterion Theatre, which he will open on Tuesday, September 24, in the presence of the Lieutenant-Governor, with "Hamlet." Five representations of this tragedy, in which Mr. Alexander will appear as the Prince of Denmark, and Miss Edith Tasca-Page as Ophelia, will be given, after which the "Merchant of Venice" will be revived with the same principals in the two leading characters. In these pieces Mr. Alexander will be supported by members of his Shakespearian classes.

CYCLORAMA AND HALL OF ILLUSIONS.

Frequent representations of the Cyclorama depicting ancient Jerusalem and the Crucifixion are given daily with appropriate lectures and explanations. Each exhibition is followed by a clever programme of novelties in the hall of illusions, and a series of cinematograph views.

"UNCLE TOM'S CABIN."

Marshall's Premier Dramatic Company produced Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe's well-known drama, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," to a very large audience at St. Matthias' Lecture Hall, Oxford-street, Paddington, on Wednesday evening. The various acts were well carried out, and the singing of the company was excellent. Mr. W. S. Marshall acted as Simon Legree, Mrs. Marshall as Casey, Miss Daisy Mansfield as Topsy, and Mr. J. M'Garvan as Uncle Tom. The other characters were represented by Messrs. P. Redit, George Edwards, P. M'Cann, P. Kirkland, H. Neville, V. Burn, A. Griffiths, H. Everard, T. S. Wicked, Sutton, W. H. Leighton, G. Anderson, and the Misses Mildred Murlton, Emily Thompson, Mabel Lockwood, Corrine Martyne, Vera Stapleton, Billingham, Grace Olswick, and Blanche Newton. The various jubilee songs, glees, and choruses were under the direction of Mr. H. Harper, and the plantation songs and dances were arranged by Messrs. Sutton and Holly.

RAILWAY INSTITUTE.

Last evening in the hall of the Railway Institute the Railway and Tramway Musical Society repeated most successfully the performance of the Mikado under the direction of Mr. H. Sherlock. There was a large audience. The choruses were especially good, and all the leading solos and duets were encored.

The following comprise a few of the illustrations appearing in this week's "Sydney Mail":—The Flood at Tramvale, the late William Forrester, the late Captain Jenkins, Mr. T. H. Nesbitt (the new town clerk), the Randwick and Coogee Civilian Rifle Club, Snapshots on the Murray, the Throne in the House of Lords, and N.S.W. A.A.A. at Kensington on Saturday.—Advt.

"Sylvan" contributes to this week's "Sydney Mail" a specially illustrated article entitled "Ayrshire Cattle in Victoria."—Advt.

THE "LLOYD EXPRESS."

Details are now to hand regarding the "de luxe" express train connecting Hamburg-Bremen-Genoa, planned by the International Sleeping-car Company, according to proposals formulated by Dr. Wiegand, the general manager of the Norddeutscher-Lloyd. The new line, bearing the name "Lloyd Express," will constitute a link of the highest importance in the great chain of international railroad and steamer traffic. The tri-weekly service will stand in direct connection with the large transatlantic express and passenger steamships of the Norddeutscher-Lloyd and the Hamburg-America lines, entering and leaving the ports of Bremen and Hamburg, while again in Genoa a like connection with the fast and Imperial mail steamers of both these German companies will be afforded. A further connection is contemplated with the northern countries by the express train service Copenhagen-Korsoer-Kiel-Hamburg, and in the south of Europe by lines from Genoa to the Riviera, and to Rome and Naples. In this way a direct connection is effected with the express steamers of the two German companies arriving at or departing from Bremen and Hamburg respectively on Tuesdays and Thursdays, and with the Imperial mail steamers leaving Genoa on Tuesdays for East Asia and Australia, as well as with the express steamers of the Norddeutscher-Lloyd and the Hamburg-America line sailing from that port on Thursday.

The train will be exclusively first-class, and furnished with all the comforts of the modern "trains de luxe" of Europe and the United States.

THE NORTH GERMAN LLOYD.

The Oldenburg is due at Suez, en route from Sydney to Bremen, on September 2.

The Prinz Regent Luitpold leaves Adelaide, en route from Sydney to Bremen, to-day.

The Weimar arrived at Fremantle from Bremen, via ports, on the 28th instant, and is due at Adelaide on September 2 and in Sydney about September 8.

The Rhein leaves Bremen for Sydney, via ports, on September 11.

The Stettin is due at New Britain, en route from Sydney to Singapore, on September 2.

The Nuen Tung was in New Guinea, en route from Hongkong to Sydney, on September 4.

FEDERAL LINE.

Messrs. Birt and Co., Limited, managing agents for the Federal Steam Navigation Company, Limited, report their steamers and sailers' movements as under:—

The Sussex left Brisbane on August 16 for South Africa and London.

The Fernbank, barque, from New York, is discharging at Dalgety's wharf.

JAPAN MAIL LINE.

Messrs. Burns, Philp, and Co., Limited, advise the following movements of the steamers of the above line:—

The Yawata Maru left Sydney on the 29th instant, and is due at Brisbane on the 31st. She leaves there on the same day, and is due at Townsville on 3rd, Thursday Island 6th, Manila 14th, Hongkong 18th, and Yokohama September 29.

The Kasuga Maru is due at Thursday Island on September 3, Townsville the 6th, Brisbane the 9th, and Sydney the 11th. She leaves for Melbourne on the 14th, and is due back on the 18th, and sails finally for the East on September 26.

The Rosetta Maru leaves Kobe to-day, and is due at Yokohama on September 1. She leaves that port on the 13th, and is due at Sydney on October 16.

THE TYSER LINE.

The Indradevi sails on Tuesday next for Auckland.

The Star of Australia is due on Monday next.

The Indralema is due at Melbourne on September 13.

The Indraghiri leaves New York on September 15.

The Star of England is due at London on September 4.

The Hawkes Bay is due at London on September 30.

The Star of New Zealand is at the Bluff, N.Z.

The Mimiro is at Wellington, N.Z.

The Tomoana is at Lyttelton.

The ship Celestial Empire left New York on July 27.

The ship Armadale is about sailing from New York.

The ship Europa leaves New York the end of September for Melbourne.

THE VILLE DU HAVRE.

Captains Vine Hall, Banks, and Mark Breach have just completed a survey of the above vessel, which went ashore at Tchio, New Caledonia, some months ago, and as everything was complete as regards repairs and equipment, it is probable she will put to sea about Tuesday next.

The Ville du Havre arrived here early in March, and no expense has been spared in having an extensive overhaul made, the cost running into over £10,000.

SPRING FASHIONS, 1901.

SPRING SILKS.

OUR IMPORTS FOR THIS DEPARTMENT have never before been marked by greater judiciousness in the matter of selection than for this season. All that Looms could produce, or Fashion dictate, or Experience could with capital secure for a leading Department of Fashion, appears to have been accomplished. The First Foreign markets have, as anticipated, a considerable representation in the more exclusive lines, but the British Manufacture is not behind in the more solid examples of sterling worth.

THE TOWN CLERKSHIP.

A largely attended public meeting, under the auspices of the Australian Natives' Association, was held on Thursday night for the purpose of protesting against the action of the Mayor and the city aldermen in appointing an officer to the position of town clerk from outside the Commonwealth. Mr. John Finnigan occupied the chair. The speakers addressed the meeting from Prince's Hotel balcony in Market-street.

Mr. J. English was the first speaker. He dealt with the appointment in a trenchant manner, and said that Mr. Palmer, if given the scope that it was proposed to give Mr. Nesbitt, would be found to be all that was required. In concluding, he moved,—"That this meeting of Australian citizens, under the auspices of the Australian Natives' Association, enters its emphatic protest against the appointment of outside persons before exhausting their efforts to obtain a suitable man within federated Australia to fill the position of town clerk.

The resolution was seconded by Mr. W. Martin, J.P., and supported by Mr. A. W. Cleary and Mr. A. M'Guire, and was carried unanimously, amid cheers for Australia.

VICTORIA HOUSE PROVIDENT SOCIETY.

The fourth annual meeting of the members of the Victoria House (Farmer and Co., Limited) Provident Society was held in the warehouse during the week. Mr. John Pope occupied the chair, and there was a large attendance, including Messrs. J. Vallentine and J. Charles. The annual statement showed that the society was in a flourishing condition. After meeting all claims the treasurer reported that there was £421 1s 4d in hand, being an increase of £111 3s on the previous year. The donations received for the year amounted to £54 8s, the subscriptions totalled £269 3s 3d, payments made to members amounted to £187 9s, whilst the working expenses were responsible for £33 10s 11d. On August 1 there were 364 members on the roll, an increase of 82 since the inauguration of the society four years ago. In moving the adoption of the reports the chairman complimented the members of the society upon its excellent standing. He alluded to the many benefits to be derived from membership, and recommended it to those who were not yet members. The election of officers resulted as follows:—Patron, Mr. John Pope; president, Mr. Parke W. Pope; vice-presidents, Messrs. J. Vallentine and J. Charles; trustees, Messrs. W. Roberts, H. N. Pope, and J. Clarke; treasurer, Mr. W. D. Allen; secretary, Mr. W. J. Fleet; committee, Messrs. C. E. Paterson, C. D. Eedy, W. Brandon, L. W. Wright, E. P. Armstrong, W. Bird, W. C. Weaver, M. J. Casey, V. Reid, and W. S. Hawxwell; auditors, Messrs. P. J. Paterson and E. Street.

LAW REPORT.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 30.

BANCO COURT.

(Before the Chief Justice and a jury of four.)

CLAIM FOR ALLEGED SEDUCTION.

Everington v. Schell.

Mr. Gannon and Mr. Pickburn, instructed by Mr. Maurice E. Price, appeared for the plaintiff; and Mr. Garland and Mr. O'Brien, instructed by Mr. J. H. Marsden, for the defendant. This was an action brought by Peter Everington against Joseph Schell (by his guardian, Christiner Schell) to recover £1000 damages from the defendant for the alleged seduction of his (plaintiff's) daughter, Minnie Everington, whereby he lost the services of his daughter and incurred expense in nursing her and in taking care of her child. The plaintiff and defendant reside in the Liverpool district, and the case for the former was that his daughter became acquainted with defendant, and that after the friendship between them had lasted for some time defendant became intimate with her, the result being the birth of a child. Defendant promised to marry her, but had failed to do so, and in consequence of his daughter's illness plaintiff was put to expense and lost the advantage of her services.

Defendant pleaded not guilty, and also that Minnie Everington was not the servant of the plaintiff, as alleged.

Upon the close of the plaintiff's case the further hearing was adjourned till Monday next.

NO. 2 JURY COURT.

(Before Mr. Justice Cohen and a jury of four.)

CLAIM FOR SERVICES RENDERED.

Freeman v. Robertson.

Mr. Mason, instructed by Mr. W. U. Smyth King, appeared for the plaintiff; and Mr. Broomfield, instructed by Messrs. Houston and Barnes, for the defendant. This was an action brought by Herbert George Freeman against W. V. Robertson to recover the sum of £20 for services rendered by plaintiff to the defendant between August 1 and November 30, 1900 in negotiating the transfer of a settlement lease at a place called Stockinbingall. Defendant denied that he was liable for the amount sued for.

The jury returned a verdict for the full amount claimed.

ACTION FOR EXCESSIVE DISTRESS.

Parkinson v. Barry.

Mr. Noble, instructed by Mr. G. Banks Smith, appeared for the plaintiff; and Mr. James, instructed by Mr. Harold T. Morgan, for the defendant. This was an action brought by William Parkinson against John Barry to recover compensation for alleged wrongful distress. It appeared, according to the case stated on behalf of the plaintiff, that he is an employee of the Railway Department, and was a tenant of defendant's house at Alexandria at a rental of 7s per week. Sometime before February last he became ill and had to be taken to the hospital, where for a certain period he only received an allowance from a lodge to which he belonged. This, however, ran out, and he got into arrears with his rent to the extent of three weeks. At first the defendant did not press for the amount, as the plaintiff was ill, but on February 1 last he put a bailiff in and an inventory was taken of the furniture. Mrs. Parkinson, in order to get rid of the difficulty about the bailiff remaining in the house for five days, arranged with him that he should be allowed to have access to the premises during the period named and the bailiff left. On the following day, however, according to plaintiff's case, another bailiff came in under a fresh warrant and distrained on the same goods, notwithstanding that Mrs. Parkinson explained the arrangement made with the first bailiff. The rent was afterwards paid off by Mrs. Parkinson's brother-in-law, and when defendant was interviewed about the matter he said that a mistake had been made and that the first bailiff should have been withdrawn.

Damages were laid at £300.

Defendant pleaded not guilty.

Plaintiff was nonsuited on the ground that there was no proof of the second distress.

ALLEGED DETENTION OF GOODS.

Toohey and another v. Ptolomy.

Mr. Gannon, instructed by J. Gilfillan, of Kempsey (by Mr. A. W. E. Weaver), appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. Scholes, instructed by Mr. J. R. M. Marrack, of Kempsey (by Mr. J. T. Ralston), for the defendant. This was an action brought by Bryan Toohey and Patrick Toohey, residents of the Macleay River, against Thomas James Ptolomy, who belongs to the same district, to recover compensation for the detention by the defendant of certain goods, consisting of stock and agricultural implements, valued at £40. The plaintiffs are the executors of the estate of Anne Ptolomy, deceased, and the defendant is one of her sons; and plaintiffs claimed a return of the goods or their value, and damages for their detention.

Defendant pleaded that he did not detain the goods unlawfully, and that they did not belong to the plaintiffs.

The case stands part heard.

We are requested to state that the actual terms of settlement in connection with the case of Howe v. Smith, heard before Mr. Justice Cohen in No. 2 Jury Court on Thursday, were as follows:—"The defendant, having heard the evidence of the plaintiff, now admits that he spoke under a misapprehension."

IN CHAMBERS.

(Before Mr. Justice Cohen.)

APPEAL BY A CABDRIVER.

REGULATIONS FOR CITY TRAFFIC.

Re John Fletcher (R. Barry and another, respondents.)

Mr. W. A. Walker, instructed by Mr. W. M. Niland, appeared for the applicant, John Fletcher, a cabdriver, and moved to make absolute a rule nisi for a prohibition to restrain Mr. F. W. Edwards, S.M., and Robert Barry, inspector of police, from further proceeding upon an order made by the magistrate on June 21 last at the Water Police Court. Mr. Pring and Mr. Newham, instructed by the Crown solicitor, appeared for respondent, Barry, to oppose the application. It appeared that Fletcher was charged under section 7, sub-section 2, of the General Traffic Regulations framed under the Metropolitan Traffic Act, for that he did between the hours of 10 a.m. and 6.30 p.m., on June 11, permit his cab to stand longer than was necessary for taking up or setting down passengers in Oxford-street, between College and Bourke streets, in the metropolitan traffic district. The evidence of Constable Blair was that he saw Fletcher with his cab standing outside a shop in Oxford-street, and after a lapse of 10 minutes the constable requested him to shift his vehicle to the corner of Palmer-street, directly opposite where his fare was. Fletcher answered, "I would be the last man to give any trouble to the police, but there was a test case at the Water Police Court last week, and we beat the police, and on those grounds I refuse to shift." Fletcher was there for 35 minutes, and did not leave until he took his fare away. The constable told him that he was blocking all the traffic, and while admitting that the request to move was reasonable he refused to obey it. Fletcher in his evidence said that on the occasion in question he was waiting for a fare whom he had driven to a place of business in Oxford-street, and he had about £30 of the fare's property consisting of ostrich feathers in his cab. The constable did not complain that he was obstructing the traffic, and when he saw that repairs had been going on in Palmer-street he decided to stay where he was, on the strength of the case decided during the previous week. The magistrate fined him 10s, 5s 6d costs, in default three days' imprisonment, and he now appealed on the grounds (1) that the evidence disclosed no offence; (2) that there was no evidence of a breach of regulation section 7, subsection 2, of the Traffic Act (No. 8 of 1900), under which the information was laid.

After hearing argument,

His Honor said he had not the slightest doubt that this case was governed by the decision of the Full Court in ex parte Cribb, 4 Weekly Notes, page 105. Substantially the regulation under which the prosecution took place in Cribb's case and that under which the inspector proceeded here was the same, and the only difference was that in Cribb's case the Act only applied to public vehicles while the present Metropolitan Traffic Act included both public and private vehicles and greater scope was given in the latter to make regulations. In ex parte Cribb a licensed driver and licensed cab were involved, and so it was in the present case, and therefore there was really no distinction between the two cases. No doubt the magistrate was misled by the same ingenious argument that had been addressed to the Court by Mr. Pring.

Rule absolute for a prohibition with costs against respondent Barry.

EQUITY COURT.

(Before Mr. Justice A. H. Simpson, Chief Judge.)

THE CONSTRUCTION OF A WILL.

White and others v. Pearse and others.

Mr. Langer Owen, instructed by Mr. F. A. S. Bowden, appeared for the plaintiffs; Mr. H. P. Owen, instructed by Mr. Weaver, for Mrs. Pearse; Mr. Knox, instructed by Messrs. Bradley and Son, for Miss Eva M. B. Pearse; Mr. Murphy appeared for Marian Isabel Russell. The suit was brought by the trustees of the will of the late Joseph Pearse to obtain the declaration of the Court as to the construction of that will as to the rights of Mrs. Pearse and her daughters in respect of the house known as Tivoli, Rose Bay, and the furniture therein. After argument his Honor decided that Miss Eva M. B. Pearse and Mrs. Pearse were entitled to the rent of Tivoli and the income of the proceeds of the sale of the furniture in equal shares so long as Mrs. Pearse lives and remains unmarried; that Mrs. Russell, who is another daughter, inasmuch as she is now married, is not entitled to share in that rent nor in the income from the proceeds of the furniture; and further, that Miss Eva M. B. Pearse is entitled to the interest which the accumulations of her legacy have earned.

DIVORCE COURT.

(Before Mr. Justice Owen.)

HEARING OF CAUSES.

CROSS v. CROSS.

Eliza Cross, formerly Charnley, sought a dissolution of her marriage with Richard Cross, an engineer, on the ground of desertion. The parties were married at Wickham in 1875. The petitioner said the respondent went away in 1896, and she had not seen him since. The respondent had not in the meantime contributed to her support.

His Honor made a decree nisi, returnable in three months.

WATKINS v. WATKINS AND HUND.

Robert Albert Watkins sued for divorce from Deborah Watkins, formerly Dalton, on the ground of her adultery with Angus Hund, who was joined as co-respondent. The parties were married in 1885, at Parramatta, and lived there after marriage. Petitioner stated that they had four children. In November, 1899, respondent left him. He found she was living in a house in Parramatta, taken in the name of the co-respondent Hund. When he served the petition on her, at Granville, he saw the co-respondent in a house there with her. It was a little after 8 o'clock at night. She answered the door. Co-respondent was lying on a bed in his trousers and shirt. She said, "Angus, you are wanted." He came forward and took the petition, but said nothing.

His Honor granted a decree nisi, returnable in three months.

HOUGHTON v. HOUGHTON.

Louisa Houghton, formerly Dawson, sought a dissolution of her marriage with Herbert Jeffries Houghton, a fire brigade man, on the ground of desertion. The parties were married in Sydney in 1893. The petitioner said they lived together for two and a half years, when, through drink, the respondent lost his position. She found him, a week later, in the Yass Hospital. He left her for short periods afterwards, but deserted her altogether in May, 1897, when he stated, after a quarrel, that he was going to South Africa. She got a letter from beyond Tamworth soon afterwards asking her to send him some cigarettes, a bit of comb, and a looking-glass. Respondent had not since contributed to her support.

His Honor granted a decree nisi, returnable in three months.

COLEMAN v. COLEMAN.

Harriet Coleman, formerly Brown, sued for divorce from Thomas Coleman, a drover, on the ground of desertion. Petitioner stated that she was married to the respondent in Sydney in September, 1891. In February, 1892, when she was in Goulburn, the respondent left her to go to Melbourne. He provided her with sufficient support up to July, 1892, but since then she had not seen him, and he had not sent her any money. Afterwards she heard from him from California. She wrote twice to him to that country, but got no reply. Later she heard he was in Melbourne.

His Honor granted a decree nisi, returnable in three months.

TATE v. TATE.

Amelia Tate, formerly Cawthray, sued for a dissolution of her marriage with Robert Wilson Tate, a storeman, on the ground of desertion. The parties were married in Sydney in 1895. Petitioner said on January 25, 1896, the respondent left home and she had never seen him since, neither had she received any money from him. She got out a warrant for his arrest for desertion a fortnight after he left her, but the police had been unable to execute it. There were no children of the marriage.

His Honor granted a decree nisi, returnable in three months.

PITT v. PITT AND JACKSON.

Michael Pitt sued for divorce from Mary Ann Jane Pitt, formerly Sutton, on the grounds of adultery with Thomas Jackson, who was joined as co-respondent, and of desertion. The parties were married in April, 1884, at William Town, about 10 miles from Stockton. There were four children of the marriage. Petitioner said they lived happily at William Town and Newcastle up to September, 1896. The respondent was then guilty of misconduct with a boarder. Petitioner forgave her for that. On July 2, 1898, she went away from home. On July 12 of the same year she came back and said she had been to Sydney with the co-respondent Jackson, adding that as Jackson had coaxed her away Jackson would have to keep her, and she had come back for her clothes. Petitioner tried for the sake of the children to get her to stay with him, but she would not stop. He had since seen her with Jackson, who had told him he intended to keep her. Respondent had admitted to petitioner that she had given birth to a child after she had left the petitioner.

Maria Muller, a nurse, gave evidence that respondent had had a child last year, and had told her its father was a man named Jackson.

His Honor granted a decree nisi on the ground of adultery, returnable in three months.

GRIFFIN v. GRIFFIN.

Mary Ellen Griffin, formerly Murray, sued for divorce from Ernest William Griffin, a boot-heel trimmer, on the ground of desertion. The parties were married in Sydney in June, 1895. Petitioner said the respondent soon after marriage was frequently ill-tempered, and used to knock her about. On April 8, 1898, the respondent left her, as he said, to look for work. He was then friendly in his manner, and added that if he got work he would send money for her to come to him. She had never heard from him since nor received any money.

His Honor granted a decree nisi, returnable in three months.

FAIRLEY v. FAIRLEY.

James Fairley sued for divorce from Elizabeth Ethel Fairley, formerly Jackson, for desertion. The parties were married in Sydney in September, 1895. Four months later, petitioner said, the respondent left him. He understood she was staying with her mother. She returned after a time. Six weeks afterwards she left him again without cause. He had not seen her since November 10, 1896.

His Honor granted a decree nisi, returnable in three months.

CLAYTON v. CLAYTON.

Margaret Clayton, formerly M'Cormack, prayed for a dissolution of marriage with Thomas Patrick Clayton on the ground that 12 months before the presentation of the petition the respondent repeatedly assaulted and beat her and was guilty of cruelty to her. The parties were married at Bathurst in 1889, and afterwards resided at Arkstone, near Bathurst. The petitioner said respondent was a grazier. She described to the Court how, she said, he had ill-treated her. There were, she said, three children now living of the marriage.

His Honor granted a decree nisi, returnable in three months, and asked what the petitioner desired should be done with the children.

The petitioner, through her counsel, said the respondent was a good father to the children, and she was content to leave them with him.

FLANNERY v. FLANNERY.

Elizabeth Flannery, formerly Sharman, sued for divorce from James Flannery on account of desertion. The parties were married in June, 1889, at Nowra. The petitioner said they lived together until July, 1896. They were at that time living on a selection at Cambewarra when respondent left her, about the time her last child was born, he having first, without her knowledge, sold the selection. She had never seen him since. A warrant which she had taken out for his apprehension had been twice renewed.

His Honor granted a decree nisi, returnable in three months, petitioner to have custody of the children.

EDWARDS v. EDWARDS AND HAYWOOD.

Alfred John Edwards sued for divorce from Florence Martha Edwards, formerly Simpson, on the ground of adultery with Archibald Haywood, who was joined as co-respondent. The parties were married in January, 1897, at Newtown. The petitioner gave evidence that some time afterwards the respondent said she would leave him. She got a van and took all the furniture away excepting two articles. He gave her no cause to leave him. At a later date he had seen her with the co-respondent at a certain house in Day-street, Newtown. On July 10 he asked at the house whether Mr. and Mrs. Haywood lived there. The respondent opened the door and said "Yes." Haywood was there. Petitioner served the petition on the co-respondent, who admitted misconduct with the respondent. Respondent told him she was glad to get the petition, and that he need not fret, as she would not appear in court.

His Honor granted a decree nisi, returnable in three months.

SICKER v. SICKER.

Ann Janet M'Pherson Sicker, formerly Maitland, sued for divorce from Otto Sicker on the ground of adultery. The parties were married on March 17, 1897. Petitioner said that one night last year she came home and saw her husband sitting outside on a log. He picked up a brick and threatened to brain her if she entered the place. In consequence, she stayed away all that night. Next day, August 25, on returning she found a woman in her bedroom with her husband. The latter told her he liked the woman best and intended to stick to her. Respondent lived with the woman for some time, but he had ceased to live with her and asked petitioner to return to him. She had declined.

His Honor granted a decree nisi, returnable in three months.

PROBATE COURT.

(Before Mr. Justice Walker, Probate Judge.)

MOTIONS FOR PROBATE.

Probate was granted of the wills of the following deceased persons:—James Woodgate Mackaway, Edward Mackey, Henry Stuart, Richard Brown, Peter Bowser, Robert L. Ward, Jessie Elizabeth Duncan, George Rees.

MOTIONS FOR ADMINISTRATIONS.

DISTRICT COURT.

(Before Judge Docker.)

CLAIM FOR BOARD AND RESIDENCE.

Relton v. Price.

Mr. C. Davis appeared for the plaintiff, Thomas Relton, of Oxford-street, Paddington; Mr. H. F. Robinson appeared for the defendant, George Price, of Great Buckingham-street, Redfern. Plaintiff claimed £73 6s 8d, which he stated was the balance due to him for supplying the defendant with board and residence from March 23, 1896, until August 27, 1897. The defendant pleaded that he was not indebted as alleged, and denied that he had lived with plaintiff in 1896, as he had only rented a room from the plaintiff in November of that year. His Honor gave judgment for plaintiff for £46.

CLAIM UNDER THE EMPLOYERS LIABILITY ACT.

Tomison v. Napier.

In this case, which had been heard on a previous day, the plaintiff, John Tomison, of James-street, Sydney, sued Thomas Napier, stevedore, of Shelley-street, Sydney, claiming £200 damages for personal injuries he had sustained, as he alleged, by reason of negligence on the part of defendant or his servants. The defence was not guilty and contributory negligence. The case was concluded, and his Honor found for the defendant.

(Before Judge Murray.)

COLLISION WITH A TRAM.

Gray v. the Railway Commissioners.

This matter was heard on a previous day, when his Honor gave a verdict for plaintiff (who claimed £75 as damages for injuries he had sustained), but reserved his decision as to the amount of the damage. He now gave judgment for plaintiff for £7 10s.

CLAIM FOR INJURIES RECEIVED.

Mitzkeivitch v. the Harbour Trust Commissioners.

Mr. S. J. Bull appeared for the plaintiff, who claimed £100 as compensation for injuries he had sustained by an accident which occurred on the A.U.S.N. Company's Wharf on March 26 last, and which was alleged to have been caused by the negligence of the defendant's servants. Mr. J. C. Gannon, instructed by the Crown Solicitor, appeared for the defendants, who pleaded not guilty. After hearing the evidence his Honor found a verdict for the defendants mainly on the ground that the injuries sustained by plaintiff were caused by what appeared to be an inevitable accident or mishap which no reasonable care could prevent.

POLICE COURTS.

Committed for Trial.—At the Water Police Court yesterday, before Mr. Macfarlane, D.S.M., Francis Victor Griffiths, aged 45, commercial traveller, was charged that while being the bailee of certain property, to wit a quantity of envelopes, tobacco pouches, pipes, pocket knives, and cigar cutters, valued at about £8, the property of Joseph Marks, he did fraudulently convert the same to his own use. Accused was committed for trial.

Embezzlement.—At the Water Police Court yesterday, before Mr. Macfarlane, D.S.M., George Plunkett, aged 45, a hawker, was charged with embezzling certain money, the property of his masters, Albert M'Crow and William M'Crow, trading as M'Crow and Son, with intent to defraud. The accused was sentenced to six months' imprisonment, the sentence to be suspended under the Crimes Act; the accused also to make restitution of £15 within 12 months.

Fraudulent Appropriation.—At the Water Police Court yesterday, before Mr. Macfarlane, D.S.M., William Tyson, aged 40, commercial traveller, was charged with fraudulently appropriating to his own use the sum of £2 11s, the property of John Kendrick Blogg and Kendrick Henry Blogg, trading as Blogg Brothers, at Sydney, on or about August 6, 1901. Accused was fined £5, or one month's imprisonment.

Committed for Trial.—At the Water Police Court yesterday, before Mr. Macfarlane, D.S.M., Albert Farr, aged 42, labourer, was charged with stealing 15 ingots of lead, valued at £8 10s, the property of the Adelaide Steamship Company, between April 23 and May 4, 1901. Accused was also charged with stealing 12 ox hides, valued at £13 6s, the property of the Australian United Steam Navigation Company, at Sydney, on August 29, 1901. Accused was committed for trial on both charges, bail allowed, accused in £10.

Alleged Illegally Pawning.—At the Water Police Court yesterday, before Mr. Macfarlane, D.S.M., Harry Davis, aged 30, signwriter, was charged with knowingly pawning one silver watch and chain, one gold ring, and one gold brooch, valued at £11, the property of A. Macrow and Son, without the consent of the owners and with a fraudulent intent to deprive them of the use thereof, on August 1. The accused was committed for trial.

Assaulting a Constable.—George Antonelli, 16, cook's assistant, was fined £2 or 14 days' imprisonment at the Central Police Court yesterday, on a charge of assaulting Constable David Owen whilst in the execution of his duty. He was also fined £1 or seven days' imprisonment on a charge of behaving in a riotous manner in Riley-street.

Stealing.—George Townsend, 19, labourer, and Walter Jackson, 18, labourer, were charged at the Central Police Court yesterday with in company stealing two pairs of boots, valued at 10s, the property of Edward Fay, on August 29. The accused were each fined £2 or 14 days' imprisonment with hard labour.

Sale by Lottery.—At the Newtown Police Court yesterday, before Mr. Edwards, S.M., a shopkeeper named Thomas M'Gee, carrying on business at Kogarah, was charged with having, on August 16, sold goods, to wit, an exercise book, to a certain person by means of a device whereby such goods were sold by lottery; that is to say, by the drawing of a numbered ticket, by which the purchaser was entitled to a chance of obtaining a money prize. Defendant, who pleaded guilty, had in his shop a sealed bottle, in which was a ticket bearing a certain number. To each person purchasing school requisites in his shop he gave a ticket, also bearing a number. He announced his intention of opening the bottle at Christmas-time, and the person who had a ticket bearing a corresponding number with that on the ticket in the bottle would receive a prize of 5s. The defendant was fined £2, with 4s 4d costs, in default imprisonment for 14 days.

ALLEGED BETTING.

CASES POSTPONED.

At the Water Police Court yesterday, before Mr. Macfarlane, D.S.M., two young men, described as clerks, appeared on remand charged with assisting in the conduct of the business of a betting-house. Mr. Tillett (Crown Law Office) appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. Lamb, instructed by Mr. Carroll, for the defence.

Mr. Lamb mentioned that the Crown desired a postponement of these cases for a little time. That being so, he suggested that the matter should stand over until the point raised in similar cases recently heard before the Central Police Court had been decided by the Full Court.

By consent the cases were postponed until December 6 next, Mr. Tillett withdrawing his suggestion, previously made, that an undertaking should be given that the accused would plead according to ruling of the Supreme Court on the point reserved in the other cases mentioned.

The question of the confiscation of the things and money, amounting to about £22, found in the alleged betting-house was also allowed to stand over, Mr. Lamb undertaking not to raise any objection to the jurisdiction of the magistrate who might in future hear the application.

LINNEAN SOCIETY.

The monthly meeting of the Linnean Society of New South Wales was held at the Linnean Hall, Ithaca-road, Elizabeth Bay, on Wednesday evening. The president (Mr. J. H. Maiden, F.L.S.) was in the chair. The following paper was read:—Descriptions of new species of Australian coleoptera, by A. M. Lea, Government entomologist, Tasmania. The president exhibited a large photograph of the obelisk in the Botanic Gardens, Sydney, erected to the memory of the late Mr. Allan Cunningham in 1844, and which since June, 1901, has in the upper portion of the obelisk contained his mortal remains. These were removed from the Devonshire-street Cemetery in May, 1901, where they had reposed since June, 1839. A small collection of plants from Sahara, showing the strong superficial resemblance to our own desert flora, was also exhibited. The resemblance was more than superficial in some cases, the same genera being often represented in the two floras.

Mr. T. Steel exhibited several specimens of interest from New Zealand. Mr. David G. Stead exhibited a portion of a hardwood wharf-pile, bored by the Teredo or "ship-worm," which had been excavated from Lower Pitt-street during the recent sewerage operations at a depth of about 12ft. Mr. Walter R. Harper exhibited several Australian ethnological specimens. Mr. W. W. Froggatt exhibited a collection of lac-producing coccids of the genus Tachardia, containing all the Australian species except one, and all the foreign species except three. Mr. Percy Williams exhibited a large specimen of a "funeral stone" from Wilcannia, together with a drawing of the same. Mr. E. G. W. Palmer exhibited a peculiarly twisted, intertwined, and plaited scrub vine or supplejack from a gully at Lawson, Blue Mountains. Mr. G. A. Waterhouse exhibited specimens of Rhopalocera, viz.:—Liphyra brassolis, Westw., Casyapa beata, Hew., Mynes geoffroyi, Bois. Mr. Greig Smith, M.Sc., exhibited some apparatus and appliances used in bacteriological work.

DEPUTATIONS.

GOLD-DREDGING INDUSTRY.

REPRESENTATIONS BY THE CHAMBER OF MINES.

An influential deputation from the New South Wales Chamber of Mines waited upon the Minister for Mines yesterday morning for the purpose of drawing his attention to several disabilities under which the gold-dredging industry labours, and urging that relief be granted in connection therewith. The deputation consisted of Messrs. Harrie Wood (vice-president), D. Davis, F. E. Millett, W. L. Skeet, T. Parson, D. R. Inglis, C. L. Garland, F. Randle, A. Chapple, M. Rogers, J. E. Toole, D. K. Blair, T. Low, A. C. Perkins, W. J. Macdonald, A. H. Rose, J. Perrott, L. Birks, J. E. Cowdern, R. J. Etheridge (secretary), J. J. Horrocks, and C. E. Mayers.

Mr. Harrie Wood, in introducing the deputation, apologised of the absence of the president of the chamber, Sir George Dibbs, who, he stated, was indisposed. The object of the deputation was to bring under the notice of the Minister the following resolutions passed by the Chamber of Mines:—1. "That in regard to ordinary leases the rents do not commence to run until the leases are granted. This is a sound principle, and should be applied to special leases." 2. "That the rents reserved under dredging leases should not exceed 2s 6d per acre, per annum." 3. "That the Minister for Mines should take power in any new legislation to amalgamate any applications for leases that may have been approved, and any leases that have been granted, and in lieu of the existing labour conditions there should be a condition imposing the expenditure of capital on machinery. The Minister should also have power to amalgamate Crown lands with Crown lands without regard to the Act under which the application is made or granted, and Crown lands with private lands." The first resolution spoke for itself. As to the second one, the dredging companies applied for three or four special leases of comparatively small areas, with the object and intention of working them from one central lease. In most cases the amount proposed to be expended on each block would not exceed £1000 to £2000, but as it would be too costly to erect a dredging plant on each block, a plant costing about £8000 was erected on one block with a view of working from one to another. They believed that by expending on one plant as much money as would be expended if each block was worked by separate plants, they were complying in spirit with the conditions imposed in the lease. But when they applied for a lease for each separate block the department replied,—"We can give you a lease as to the one block on which the dredging plant is placed, but we cannot give you a lease as to the other blocks on which no money has been expended." The consequence was the companies were in the position that as to the bulk of the land held under applications for special leases they could not get a title, yet, at the same time, the department said they must pay rent for those blocks. They considered that unfair.

The Minister for Mines said that in order to save time he would say at once that he had given the matter a good deal of consideration. At the outset Parliament and the public were led to believe that large fortunes were going to be made out of dredging, and the rents were fixed rather arbitrarily by Parliament, but sufficient experience had been gained to show that those large fortunes were not to be made, and that, therefore, the rents were excessive. He also intended to permit leases to be amalgamated. The only object the department had was to assist those who were developing the resources of the State. The deputation could rest assured that he would have a bill introduced into Parliament at the earliest possible moment to provide the relief asked for.

The deputation expressed its satisfaction with the Minister's reply, and retired.

RAILWAY FROM CAMDEN TO THE OAKS.

An influential deputation was introduced yesterday morning to the Minister for Works by Mr. J. Kidd, M.L.A., with reference to the making of a trial survey of a line of railway from Camden to The Oaks. The deputation included Alderman E. F. Druitt (Mayor of Camden), Messrs. C. H. Kerry, Mayer, T. Henley, J. N. Bartlett, W. H. Webb, J. T. Hilder, Taylor, and A. Armstrong (representing the mining industry); Captain A. J. Onslow-Thompson, and Messrs. F. W. A. Downs, A. V. Moore, H. Moore, C. Quinn, J. O. Moore, T. M. Inglis, L. Bourke, and J. E. Moore (representing the dairy-farming industry); Messrs. J. E. Moore and F. C. Willis (representing the iron ore and oxide of iron industry); Messrs. W. J. Moulder, J. Petrie, and M. Devitt (representing the fruit-growing industry); Messrs. J. Bensley, M. Holohan, Rodgers, J. E. Taylor, J. M'Evoy, and M. L. Hennessy (representing the timber industry); Mr. A. L. Bennett, representing the bacon-curing industry, and Messrs. J. Lakeman, G. Moore, R. H. Inglis, J. Devitt, and J. Grundy representing the stock-raising industry. After hearing the arguments adduced in favour of the request being complied with,

The Minister for Works said that this year he could only go so far as to obtain a preliminary report as to the desirability or otherwise of making a trial survey. If that report were satisfactory he would take steps to have the survey made next year. If he found from the surveyor's data that the proposed line was justifiable he would ask Parliament to refer the matter to the consideration of the Public Works Committee.

TEMPERANCE LEGISLATION.

A deputation from a conference convened by the council of the churches to consider legislation with regard to the sale of liquor waited upon the Premier yesterday afternoon. The Hon. W. Robson, M.L.C., introduced the deputation, which consisted of the Archbishop of Sydney, the Rev. Canon Boyce, the Rev. J. E. Carruthers, and Mr. J. D. Kent.

Mr. Robson said the object of the deputation was to present to the Premier certain resolutions passed by the conference convened by the Council of the Churches. One of the most important of these resolutions was that the clause in the Liquor Act which permitted a new license to be granted for a hotel giving certain accommodation, despite a local option vote against new licenses, should be eliminated as soon as possible. For years past a considerable injustice had been done to those who were opposed to the granting of new licenses where the local option vote against them had been carried.

The Archbishop of Sydney said the conference which the deputation represented was called together by the Council of the Churches. It was a representative conference, and the resolutions it had come to deserved consideration. He had always been a great advocate of temperance reform, but had always tried to keep himself in a judicious mind.

The Rev. J. E. Carruthers said the resolutions of the conference were unanimously adopted. Among them was one for effective Sunday closing, by putting the onus of proof upon people found in hotels in prohibited hours, and on licensees that they were there for a lawful purpose. The conference was also in favour of the early closing of hotels on week nights, the abolition of private bars, the non-employment of barmaids, a penalty for selling liquor to persons under 17 years of age, and the closing of public-houses on election days. Further the conference had taken advantage of the resumption of the Rocks to ask that the Government should either abolish public-houses within that area or strictly limit their number. At present, he understood, there were 39 public houses in the area, and that was far too many. In cases of the abolition of hotels within that area the conference thought that the same principle of compensation that applied to ordinary property should apply to hotels.

The Premier, in reply, said with regard to new licenses his experience personally had been that the Licensing Court was very careful in granting new licenses. He thought there were too many hotels altogether. It was his intention, if he remained in office long enough, to introduce a new bill with the object of putting the whole traffic on a better footing. Vested interests were difficult things to deal with. As far as the area of the Rocks resumption was concerned there was no doubt the whole of it would be remodelled. A lot of the hotels would have to come down, but of course reasonable compensation must be given, just as much as in the case of a grocer's shop. He thought the number of hotels in the resumed area would be reduced by at least two-thirds. He would give all the assistance he could in the improvement of the social condition of the people.

A SUBURBAN BUILDING ACT.

A deputation representing the suburban municipalities waited upon the Premier yesterday and asked for the passing of a Building Act for the suburbs. Mr. Broughton, M.L.A., introduced the deputation.

Mr. W. W. Clarke, chairman of the conference held with regard to a building Act for the suburbs, presented to the Premier a copy of a draft bill which he said embodied the views of the municipal representatives of the suburbs of Sydney. It provided for the cutting up of estates, the size of allotments, air space, ventilation, and such matters. They desired the Premier to make this draft the basis of an Act of Parliament.

Aldermen Hodgson (North Sydney), T. J. West (Paddington), Thompson (Concord), Purves (North Sydney), and Mr. Power, M.L.A., spoke of the great need of the passing of a bill in the direction indicated.

The Premier said he was thankful to the municipal representatives for the trouble they had taken, and he would have their draft bill looked into by the Parliamentary draftsman. There was no doubt a new building Act was necessary, but the Government had so much work in hand that he was afraid he would not be able to proceed with it this session.

A SELECT COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

A deputation introduced by Mr. Gillies, M.L.A., to the Premier yesterday asked that the report of the select committee in the case of Senior-sergeant P. L. Vaughan, of the police force, recommending his reinstatement, should be carried into effect.

The Premier said he would consult the Inspector-General of Police and see what could be done in the matter.

QUEEN VICTORIA HOME FOR CONSUMPTIVES.

The monthly meeting of the house committee of the Queen Victoria Home for Consumptives at Thirlmere was held on the 28th instant. There were present Dr. Sydney Jones (in the chair), Mr. Hugh Dixson, Dr. Purser (hon. secretary), Mr. H. S. Levy (hon. treasurer), and the secretary. Accounts were passed for payment amounting to £114 17s. The matron's report showed that there were 40 patients in the home, four patients had been discharged, and one had died during the month. An offer made by Mrs. Rosenthal to organise a bazaar in aid of the funds was accepted. The resignations of Mr. J. W. Street from the house committee and of the secretary were received with regret. Dr. Purser was appointed visitor for the month.

THE KENNEL.

By F. F. L.

With the approach of the Kennel Club Show, which will be held the week after next, we are apt to glance back over the year, and ask ourselves about the young stock that has been bred. Australia has imported for many years now, and it is about time that we had something of our own. It is true that in several varieties some very high-class dogs have been bred. We sometimes are given to think that but little good can come out of our kennels, do what we might. It may be that the reason the proportion of first-class animals is so small as compared with England is that the number of breeders is certainly limited. There are thousands upon thousands of rearers of say collies in Great Britain, where we will only find a dozen here. It is for the mathematician to work out the relative and respective chances of getting a real good one. Still we have seen nice Australian-bred collies that are no disgrace to anyone, and these are to be found not only in this State, but in the others and in New Zealand; indeed, it might be that collectively, and perhaps in one or two cases, our neighbours have been the more successful. Go where you list, there are large sections at the shows, and now that the right blood is being gradually distributed among the people who ought to own well-bred sheepdogs—our country friends are referred to—there should in time, with a little care on the part of those who have bitches, be some good ones about. Keep the puppies well; build up their constitutions and frames with the wholesome produce of the country; let them never see a chain or collar; allow them to have plenty, but not forced, exercise; give them bedding up to their hocks when they take their rest, and the blood and the breeding in your puppies will accomplish the rest.

There are, it seems, a lot of young sheepdogs that some day or another are bound to be found in the pedigree forms. A great strong litter is that by Champion Irthlingboro Afton from Shetland Lass. There are perhaps few places in this country where the dogs are granted more indulgence than at Wickham, Arncliffe, the residence of Mrs. C. T. Richardson and her sons. What a place this is to revel in, among the romping of highly-bred collies, Scottish terriers, and gun dogs, while the poultry runs are stocked with Orpingtons, Silver Wyandottes, Indian game, Pile game, and other of the feather tribe! It is certainly not the time of the year to see the famous garden at its best, although gladioli abound, mammoth violets greet you with their purple petals, and glorious perfume on every hand. Great scarlet, pink, white, maroon, salmon, and variegated carnations stand out from their grey-green spiked foliage, warming up, as it were, the coldness and misery of the winter beds. Scottish terriers that will not bark but bite keep sentry here, and thieves break not through and appropriate the costly-raised dahlia roots, and the stately, well-selected standard roses. The Irthlingboro Afton collie puppies have been well reared. One black white and tan, or light and sable, bitch carries a beautiful coat, with an undercoat that is so rarely found in sheepdogs of that colour. If she had better ears she would be hard to beat in our district. A very stylish high quality dog is another. He is of the same colour as the bitch, and of course of a like age, which is nine months. It is the intention of Mrs. Richardson to call him Darley Dictator. Others of the litter are Darley Nears and Darley Norah. During their extended visit to New Zealand they saw much of the owners of dogs there, Mr. H. A. Richardson being invited to attend some of the meetings of the kennel clubs. There is, of course, considerable enthusiasm with our neighbours, and the Scottish varieties are not forgotten. Mr. Noel Richardson is at present on a shooting trip on the Richmond River, and is having excellent sport, there being many quail, plenty of snipe, and a good many "extras" with which to keep from going amiss an eye that is generally considered to be one that is straight. The new Scottish terrier at Wickham is the Melbourne-bred Woldan Chevalier, by Woldan Royal from Woldan Birkie. This youngster should make a good stud dog. He has most beautiful ears, and is otherwise robust.

It is said that Mr. W. Miller, of Forest Lodge, has purchased the rough collie Bookham Merle Binbrook from Inspector Clarke, N.S.W. M.C. This dog has done considerable winning, and, as his name denotes, he is merle in colour. By Darwen Buccaneer, from Darwen Merle Daisy, Binbrook was a year old last February.

The following are the entries for the Kennel Club show:—St. Bernards, 17; Mastiffs, 15; Newfoundlands, 1; Bloodhounds, 4; Great Danes, 1; Deerhounds, 8; Greyhounds, 4; Dalmatians, 6; Pointers, 12; Setters (English), 4; Setters (Gordon), 5; Setters (Irish), 9; Foxhounds, 1; Beagles, 2; Harriers, 1; Retrievers, 2; Collies, 103; Australian Sheepdogs, 1; Fox-terriers, 64; Fox-terriers (wire-haired), 7; Bulldogs, 51; Bull-terriers, 29; Skye-terriers, 14; Irish-terriers, 59; Airedale-terriers, 44; Field Spaniels, 1; Cocker Spaniels, 6; Japanese Spaniels, 2; Blenheim Spaniels, 4; Dachshunds, 16; Yorkshire Terriers, 7; Scottish Terriers, 26; Australian Terriers, 34; pugs, 10; other dogs, 4. Some 15 to 20 more entries will have to be added to this list, so there will be a grand total that may be roughly estimated as 600. The list is composed of nominations from other States, including Victoria, Queensland, and Western Australia. It will therefore be seen that the seventh annual show of the Kennel Club will be of inter-state importance, owners sending and bringing dogs, hundreds, and in some instances thousands, of miles to compete in their sections at Moore Park.

A friend of mine has been good enough to point out a very interesting matter in connection with sledge dogs, such as those that have arrived in Melbourne, and referred to in an earlier contribution. When in 1896 the Sir George Newnes expedition shaped the course of the Southern Cross towards the inhospitable Antarctic they had several dogs. Commander Borchgrevink on his return wished to leave some of them in New Zealand, but the quarantine regulations forbade the introduction of dogs, unless they had been under supervision for six months. It is neither time nor place here to discuss the possibilities of an outbreak of rabies among dogs that had spent a long time far far away from the contaminated domestic dogs of the north, but the laws of the southerners are as of the Medes and the Persians of old, save that there was a little handcart way through them, and by reason of the good offices of the Hon. J. G. Ward the dogs that had faced the difficulties of floe and glacier, with blubber as their rations, were allowed to land on Stewart's Island under the charge of Per You Persen Savio, a Lap. There they have been since, and in a recent issue of the "Otago Witness" Mr. A. W. Traill wrote a very interesting account of these dogs from Siberia and Queensland. Portraits are given of puppies whelped on the island, also of Savio. It is proposed to breed sledge dogs in New Zealand for the use of future expeditions, for the climate is said to suit them admirably. According to Mr. H. W. Lucy in his London letter to the "Herald" sledge dogs are worth close on £20 in England. They were appraised as worth £60 each when they arrived at Adelaide on Friday week. If such be the case the breeding of Esquimaux and the smaller Siberian dogs may not be unprofitable for our friends across the Tasman Sea, since the Antarctic does not appear to be "out of the hunt," or rather out of the minds of the men of science and intrepid explorers.

Mr. Rothery, the courteous secretary of the Animals' Protection Society, Sydney, some time ago wrote to Mr. Hugh Brown, the head kennelman of Queen Victoria's dogs at Windsor. It was in reference to the New South Wales Bushmen's Contingent dog, Bushie, which returned to England with Earl Roberts, and was presented to the late Queen at Osborne. The letter has just been returned endorsed "deceased." Thus, then, has passed away one of the late Queen's most trusted servants, so now, most likely, the duties to the old residents of the Royal kennels in the Home Park, Windsor, will be under the charge of his junior, Mr. Hill. For many years the broad, honest, swarthy, and stout Mr. Hugh Brown was responsible for the health and comfort of the Royal dogs. As I write I have a photograph of Mr. Brown, taken while leaning over the verandah of one of the courts of the kennels. When the Windsor dogs used to be at the London shows Mr. Brown began to get fidgetty during the evening, for he knew his mistress awaited the news of his arrival back with his charges at the Royal borough, for home every night they had to go. "What can I do when her Majesty says they are to go home?" would be his expostulation, as he evidently thought of the journey across London, from Islington to Paddington.

The death of the well-known mastiff bitch Conacia Leda has to be announced. She was the property of Mr. R. P. O'Dwyer, who took great pride in certainly a very fine animal of unmistakable lineage. These are days when good mastiff bitches, and for the matter of that good mastiff dogs, are scarce enough in all conscience. The Crown-street bitch was very successful at the Sydney shows, and good as the condition we are used to seeing in the metropolitan mastiff rings Mr. O'Dwyer always had the daughter of Champion Hazeldene Noble and Hazeldene Dora in lovely form. It is supposed, so I was informed by her breeder, Mr. W. Cardin, of Croydon, that it is possible that a piece of sponge that she was supposed to have eaten was the immediate cause of death. Conacia Leda will be missed from the benches of New South Wales, as we are too badly off in dams of this breed, one that seems to be falling away the world over.

There was a good attendance of the members of the Kennel Club committee at the School of Arts at the last meeting, there being present Mr. T. F. Thompson (chairman), Dr. Seale, and Messrs. H. A. Richardson, Harold Gorman, W. Cardin, Alban Gee, H. Moses, jun., William Hamilton, Sam Hordern, jun., and F. F. Ramsay (hon. secretary). Considerable business was arranged over the coming show, the most important the club will have ever held. The dogs will be benched on straw and sawdust. Exhibitors please themselves on this score free of cost. Mr. Moses is of opinion that sawdust is the better for litter, while others hold a distinctly opposite opinion. Benching generally looks better with straw, and sawdust strewn on the floor beneath the compartments. Mr. W. Wright has wired that he cannot accept the committee's invitation to make the awards in the collie classes. These sections will be placed in Mr. Freeman Lloyd's list, in whose ring Mr. W. Walker will be the steward. Mr. Dellendhal has been asked to officiate as steward in the fox terrier enclosure, Mr. Ruskin Richardson among the collies, and Mr. W. C. Foster in the pointer, setter, and greyhound section. Mr. Theophilus Michell will probably be found acting in Mr. Cardin's ring, and Mr. Sandeman in the neighbourhood of the Scottish and Skye terriers' parades. Mr. Richard Coombes has finally decided to judge the greyhounds single-handed. He would rather have acted with Mr. James Weir and Mr. Percy Lamb, but dual or triple judging is not favoured by the Kennel Club of New South Wales. As a matter of fact, this kind of multi-adjudication gives but little satisfaction, since it often resolves itself into a give-and-take mode of procedure that has even little popularity with the judges themselves, much less the exhibitors. All members of the committee are, of course, ex officio stewards, but the following gentlemen were expressly proposed and seconded as hon. officers of the club during the show week. These are:—Messrs. A. Gee, E. Burns, W. Freeman, W. Cardin, Edwin Palmer, Percy Palmer, W. Dugan, G. R. Hutchinson, Sidney Broomfield, H. Finnemore, Gilchrist, F. Isitt, Brittain, W. D. Sams, Veterinary-Captain Gribben, and Dr. Seale. Duplicate ring numbers, blackboards, and colour favours will be used. Mr. Sam. Hordern, jun., is presenting the last-mentioned distinctions to the club. Blue, red, yellow, and white will be recognised as first, second, third, and reserve respectively; while the awarding of a championship will be recognised by a decoration of purple. The events in the grand arena will be of the greatest interest. The items are the Commonwealth Hunters' Plate, with £35 prize-money; the Federal High Jump, £10 10s; the Hunters' Plate (amateur riders), trophy £10; pony contest, 3ft. jumps, £5, trotting, £10 10s; and Amateur 2-Mile Bicycle Race, trophies £8 8s. It will thus be seen there is a great treat in store for those who are fond of the animals and pastimes that afford all the pleasures of country and town life from the standpoint of the sportsman.

The following new members have been elected to the Kennel Club:—Mr. K. K. Ramsay, Sydney; Mr. C. C. Churchwood, Sydney; Mr. Denis R. Fleming, Sydney; Mr. J. Johnson, Sydney; Mr. F. E. Jago, Sydney; and Mrs. M'Clellan, Melbourne.

FATALITY AT A FACTORY.

The adjourned inquest into the circumstances connected with the death of a lad named George Henry Pinkerton, 14, who was killed through being caught in a revolving belting at Messrs. R. A. Andrews's bedding factory in Collins-street, Surry Hills, on Wednesday, was concluded before the City Coroner (Mr. J. C. Woore) and a jury yesterday.

Matthew Auld (recalled) said that deceased's duties were to go out with him occasionally, and fill pillow and mattress cases on the ground floor. He had nothing to do with the machinery, and witness had never seen him doing anything in connection with it.

Robert Alexander Andrews, proprietor of the factory, said that deceased had been in his employ for about 12 or 15 months. Witness never told him to do anything with the machinery. The boy had been engaged by the manager, and witness did not know what his duties were. He had often cautioned deceased about the machinery and skylarking. He had an engineer to work the machinery, and the engine-room was separate from where the deceased was injured. Witness knew the wheel where deceased was injured, but had never seen him putting the belt on the wheel. He remembered signing a sheet in connection with the Factories Act. Deceased was in his employ then. He told witness that he was 16 years of age. He knew the 30th section of the Shops and Factories Act. He believed the boy when he said he was 16 years of age.

Walter James Falconer said that he was manager of the factory. He engaged the deceased nine or 12 months ago. He told witness that he was 16 years of age. He was engaged to assist his stepfather on the cart. When in the factory he was to make himself generally useful. On Wednesday last witness told him to put some rags out to dry, and bag up those that were already dry. The next he heard was a call to stop the engine. He was in the engine-room at the time, and did not know that deceased was on that floor. He thought he was doing what he (witness) had told him to do. The engine had been slowed down to put the belt on the wheel when a voice called out to start it again. When the call came to stop the engine the engineer did so immediately. Witness went out once to the first floor, and saw deceased jammed under the wheel in question. The belt was broken, and he immediately extricated deceased. The machine which deceased was killed by was in good order, and the belt quite safe for the work it had to do. The belt was always on the shaft when the inspector visited the factory. The inspector had told witness to protect the end of the shaft and he had a box put over it. The box was only removed to oil or clean the machine and it was not necessary to remove it to put the belt on. Witness had carried out all the inspector's orders and the inspector had never drawn his attention to any of the employees as being apparently under age. He had no idea of how deceased got into the position in which he found him.

Percival Tracey said that he was 16 years of age and engaged in the factory as generally useful. On Wednesday he and deceased went to the first floor to teaze some kapok. Soon after witness arrived the machinery started. The belt was on the wheel. There was a hole close to the wheel and deceased was going to call out to the engineer to go faster when he got caught in the belt and was thrown over the wheel and the belt broke. Witness called out for help and the engine was stopped quickly. He could not say for certain whether deceased put the belt on or not.

John Lonergan said that he was the engineer at the factory. He did not know the kapok machine was to be used that day, but when he set the engine working the shafting of the kapok machine would also work. He had just started the engine, when he heard someone upstairs call out to stop the engine. He did so immediately, and ran upstairs with the manager, where he saw deceased jammed under the wheel.

Thomas Joseph Grainger, an inspector under the Shops and Factories Act, said that he had inspected the factory twice. The shaft of the wheel in question was not protected. He ordered it to be protected, and a box was provided. He inspected the premises on August 12, and the box covering on the shaft was then on. The machinery was in fair order, and he had no serious fault to find with the belt in question. Witness did not remember ever seeing deceased there, and he saw no employees that appeared to be under the age of 16 years. He had experienced great difficulty in determining the age of boys. In witness's opinion the box covering of the shaft was sufficient. Everything that he had ordered to be done in the factory had been carried out.

The jury, after a brief retirement, found that deceased died from injuries received on August 28, through becoming entangled in some machinery, but how he became entangled the evidence adduced did not enable them to say.

THE ROYAL SOCIETY.

LECTURE BY THE HON. B. R. WISE.

The Attorney-General, the Hon. B. R. Wise, K.C., delivered a lecture on Thursday evening before the members of the Royal Society on "The Practical Application of Economic Theories, with Special Reference to the Theory of Value and Laissez-faire," it being one of the second annual series of science lectures given by the society. Mr. H. Deane presided over a large attendance of members.

Mr. Wise considered first the doctrine of value and traced the close connection between the theory of value and practical politics. Nothing seemed simpler to a business man than the term value. The value of an article was what he could get for it, but let him ask himself whence this value came. The mediæval view was that value was something intrinsic in every article, something which could be the subject of quantitative analysis. The contrast between mediæval and modern legislation on industrial matters was that in mediæval times, under the influence of scholastic ideas, legislators were always endeavouring to regulate commercial exchanges. How came it that men, regarded as wise and practical, had justified and adopted legislation which seemed to us so foolish. The explanation lay in the mediæval ideas of the doctrine of value. He explained the process and essential feature of exchange, which was that each party to it should get an equivalent. According to mediæval ideas, if a man gained by exchange he must have gained at the expense of the other party. He could not have given a fair equivalent for the goods which he received or he would not have become richer by the process of exchange. This led to a whole system of legislation on trade which finally broke down under the growth of commerce. Value was something which could not be estimated in quantity. Mr. Wise dealt with Karl Marx as an exponent of the doctrine in which he made labour the measure of value. The second part of the lecture was devoted to an historical and analytical explanation of the doctrine of laissez-faire, or free competition. At the conclusion of his address Mr. Wise was accorded a hearty vote of thanks.

QUARTER SESSIONS.

(Before Judge Gibson.)

APPEALS.

Lincoln Kerr appealed against a conviction at the Central Police Court on April 12, before Mr. Wilshire, S.M., for hawking in the city of Sydney vegetables without a license authorising him to do so signed by the town clerk of Sydney. He had been ordered to pay a fine of 10s or suffer imprisonment for four days, with hard labour. Mr. L. C. Russell-Jones appeared for appellant, and Mr. W. H. Edmunds, instructed by Messrs. Waldron and Dawson, for the City Council in support of the conviction. The grounds of appeal were that the conviction was against the evidence and the weight of evidence. Appellant affirmed that he was not hawking, but delivering orders to customers, and that at the time the inspector of the council approached him he was not in the city boundary. The inspector stated that appellant was hawking on the city side of Leinster-street, and on seeing him had crossed the boundary line to the other side of the street. Evidence on these points was adduced. The conviction was sustained, with costs against appellant to the amount of £8 8s, to be paid within 14 days to the Clerk of the Peace.

Percy Dalton appealed against an order made by Mr. W. M. M'Farlane, D.S.M., for the payment of £1 10s a week for 12 months for the support of his wife and the sum of £2 7s 10d costs. Mr. Kelynack, instructed by Mr. Frawley, appeared for appellant, and asked that the order be varied and reduced. Mr. H. A. Moss appeared for respondent, Mrs. Dalton, to oppose the application. His Honor declined to vary the order and dismissed the appeal, with costs £5 5s against appellant, to be paid within 14 days to the Clerk of the Peace.

John Anderson appealed against a conviction on May 3 at the Central Police Court by Mr. Mair, S.M., for unlawfully assaulting William King. Mr. C. Bull appeared for appellant and Mr. Mimna for respondent. The principal grounds of appeal were that the conviction was bad and contrary to law, and against evidence and the weight of evidence. Appellant had been fined £2, with 4s 10d costs of court and £2 2s professional costs. Additional evidence was adduced. The conviction was quashed and the appeal upheld. Costs £3 3s against respondent were allowed.

Thomas Fairbairn appealed against an order made on June 12 by Mr. F. S. Isaacs, S.M., that he should pay 10s per week for the period of six months for the support of his wife. Mr. Kelynack, instructed by Mr. H. T. Morgan, appeared for appellant, and Mr. Cromwell for respondent. The appeal was upheld and the order quashed.

The Court adjourned sine die.

PROMOTES APPETITE, AIDS DIGESTION, INCREASES WEIGHT.

Food, no matter how nutritious it may be in itself, is of no real use to the body unless it is assimilated. Nearly all forms of wasting diseases are associated with an impaired condition of the organs of digestion and assimilation. This may not be apparent in any distressing symptoms of indigestion, but nevertheless the process of assimilation is not perfect or complete, and therefore the nutritious elements of the daily food are not wholly absorbed. It follows, therefore, that in treating wasting diseases the first effort should be to perfect the functions of digestion and assimilation, thus improving nutrition by enabling the body to derive the full benefit from the ordinary daily food. Nothing is equal to Angier's Petroleum Emulsion for accomplishing this result, and it is often wonderful to note the rapid improvement effected in cases of wasting that had failed to respond to other treatment. Puny, delicate children that do not thrive on ordinary remedies, and poorly-nourished persons of all ages, rapidly improve under its use, while it is equally efficacious in chronic bowel disorders, after fevers, measles, &c., and in almost all cases where the digestive organs are impaired and the food not properly assimilated.

ANGIER'S PETROLEUM EMULSION.

PRESCRIBED BY THE MEDICAL PROFESSION.
USED IN THE HOSPITALS.

UNSOLICITED TESTIMONIALS:

DELICATE CHILD.

EATS AND SLEEPS BETTER.
3 Shipstone-road, Magdalen-road, Norwich.
Dear Sirs,—A few weeks back I wrote asking you to send me a sample bottle of your Petroleum Emulsion as I wished to give it a trial for my little boy. We gave it to him, and, as he seemed to be a little better, we decided to give it a further trial, and obtained a supply, and have continued to give it to him with good results. He has gained flesh, and eats and sleeps better than we have ever known him to do. I may add that my child takes the Emulsion readily without any trouble whatever. (Signed) W. S. WILDE.

INFLUENZA. — GASTRIC CATARRH.

APPETITE AND DIGESTION IMPROVED.
71 Elliot-street, Anderston, Glasgow.
Dear Sirs,—About two years ago I had a severe attack of influenza which developed into inflammatory bronchitis, and confined me to my bed for eight weeks. The doctor attended me every day, but his medicine did me no good until he put me on your Petroleum Emulsion, when I began to improve at once. Besides my chest trouble, I had gastric catarrh, with which I have been troubled for years, and your Emulsion did me a lot of good in this respect. It has a soothing effect in the stomach and bowels, and I felt very much better after taking it. My appetite was better, and my food digested better. I take your Emulsion now whenever my stomach troubles me, and it soon puts me right again. (Signed) Mrs. MARY HALL.

CHRONIC INDIGESTION.

EATS WITH A RELISH: GAINED STRENGTH.
Redlion-street, Earby.
Dear Sirs,—Please forward to the above address one of your 4s 6d bottles of Angier's Petroleum Emulsion. I have had a weak stomach all my life, and of late years have also been very weak and poorly. A few weeks ago I took a severe cold, and nothing would stay on my stomach, so that I became very weak indeed. After taking your last bottle of Emulsion (2s 9d) I could eat with a relish without fear of vomiting, and I also rapidly gained in strength. I am feeling very much better, and all my acquaintances say how much better I am looking. If I continue to improve as at present I hope before long to be altogether cured. (Signed) Mrs. NOBLE.

CHRONIC BRONCHITIS.

APPETITE BETTER; MUCH STRONGER.
Lower Wern, near Erwood, Breconshire.
Dear Sirs,—I have for years been a great sufferer from bronchitis, and have been to many doctors, and have tried all sorts of remedies without relief. Recently my daughter persuaded me to try Angier's Petroleum Emulsion, and I have derived more benefit from one small bottle than from all the medicines I have hitherto tried. At the same time, my appetite is better, my food digests better, and I feel a great deal stronger. Please send me another bottle, for which you will find postal order enclosed. (Signed) Mrs. M. EVANS.

"GAINED OVER TWELVE POUNDS."
22 Eastern-lane, Berwick-on-Tweed.
Dear Sirs,—Please send to the above address a box of your Petroleum Tablets, for which I enclose 1s 1½d. My daughter has taken your Emulsion for the last eighteen months, having been recommended to do so by our doctor, for diseased lungs. I am pleased to say the result has been most satisfactory. She has gained over twelve pounds in weight, and I am sure if it had not been for your valuable preparation she would not have been with us to-day. I recommend it to all my friends as the best remedy I know for chest troubles. (Signed) M. J. BELL.

BRINSMEAD PIANOS AT PALING'S.
These well-known Pianos are of British make. The firm of John Brinsmead and Sons are the most progressive of the English manufacturers, and have just been appointed by Royal Warrants Piano Manufacturers to both the KING AND THE QUEEN.
Their reputation dates back to the reign of King William IV, a truly long record. A long record is of little use without progression, but the firm of John Brinsmead and Sons have ever been on the alert to produce a Piano that shall if possible outlive the name it bears.
Have you seen the new scale Brinsmead Mod. 170, also the new scale Mod. 27? Special designs in casework, differing from all others, and at a price within the reach of the many.
Two other Models worthy of notice are their styles 0 and 28, both Models possessing a rich full tone, and a perfect touch—two great essentials in a Piano.
YOU SHOULD CALL AND INSPECT THE BRINSMEAD PIANOS AT PALING'S. THEY WILL BEAR COMPARISON.
Catalogues are free for the asking, by post if desired.
PALING'S EASY TIME-PAYMENT SYSTEM CAN ALSO BE AVAILED OF.

MONETARY AND COMMERCIAL.

Friday Evening.

In the Stock and Share market the state of business continues to be pretty much the same from day to day. Transactions are on an entirely investment basis, and that of a very steady character. There is yet no development in money market conditions to cause change in the values of stocks and shares. Probably prices have reached the top, at all events, while the rates of dividends remain undisturbed, for the opinion is prevalent that they are as high as they should be, having regard to world-wide money market conditions. One or two anomalies are apparent in the relative quotations for such of our stocks as are quoted on both the London and Sydney exchanges. A short time back New South Wales Government stocks were as high here as on the other side of the world; now, however, our 3 per cents are offered here at 98, while 99 is the London quotation. The maintenance of the quotation in London, at a time when other securities have fallen, is probably explained by the better standing of Australia with British creditors. The reduction in the price in Sydney is due to the increasing issues of Government stock in the local market. The movement in banks has not corresponded, for the colonial quotations for the stocks of the Banks of New South Wales, and Australasia, and Union of Australia, are still higher in Sydney than in London. Doubtless this is in part owing to money here being yet abnormally cheap, while in London it is dear. Though not as high as in Australia it is noteworthy that the quotations for the shares of these banks are equal to those of many of the leading English banks. That is explained doubtless by the fact that British bank earnings are as high as they are likely to be, while those of Australian banks are proportionately less and have some prospect of further improvement—a consideration which is better understood, and probably operates more strongly in Australia than in London, and in consequence weighs with the cheaper money market in upholding the quotations here as high as they are. To-day's business was on no more extensive a scale than that of earlier days in the week. Government stocks were steady. In banks Commercial of Sydney brought 31⅞, the last quotation, and offered at close at the same figure. Australian Joint Stock Bank A deposits rose 3d, having a buyer at 15s 3d. United Insurance advanced slightly, and sold at 76s. Nothing transpired in gaslight, the market being unaltered, and brewery shares also may be quoted as without change, the slight movements on the list only being nominal. A sale of Castlemaine Brewery and Wood Brothers' at the last price was the only transaction noticed. Silverton Tram recovered 1s, having a buyer at 66s.

On the Sydney Stock Exchange to-day the following sales were reported:—Forenoon: Castlemaine and Wood Brothers Brewery, 11s. Noon: Nil. Afternoon: Commercial Bank of Sydney, 31⅞; United Insurance, 76s. The closing quotations were:—

* Where dividends are interim the yield is based on a year's distribution; otherwise on the last half-yearly one.

Increasing ease has been developed in the London money market as disclosed in Wednesday's bank return. A further addition of £409,000 was made to the reserve, increasing it to the very substantial total of £27,466,000, and making it equal to 53·4 per cent. of the liabilities—a proportion greater than had been reached since September last. The amount of coin and bullion in both departments likewise increased £339,000, to the very considerable aggregate of £39,410,000. The cause of the increase of the reserve is apparent in the reduction of the advances by the amount of £1,060,000, which exceeds the amount of the decrease of £629,000 in the public and private deposits. The Government deposits only declined £376,000 in the week, and next week these will be supplemented by the unpaid proportion of the 16 per cent. instalment of the £60,000,000 loan then due. These conditions easily account for the further reduction of the open market rate of discount to 2 3-16 per cent., being 13-16 per cent. below the bank minimum rate of discount, which is still kept at 3 per cent.

Goschen's Consols have lost a further ⅛ of the advance noticed a fortnight ago, but are still 2½ above the lowest point touched five or six weeks back. New South Wales stocks quoted in our list have risen ⅛, and Victorian 3½ per cents are up ⅛. At 106 they are about 1½ higher than New South Wales 3½ per cents, allowing for difference in accrued interest and currency; while Victorian 3 per cents are about ¼ lower than New South Wales 3 per cents, after making the necessary adjustments. There is not much difference in the credit of the two States. A few years ago Victorian securities were from 3 to 5 points below those of New South Wales.

The English commercial news of the week is on the whole favourable to Australian producers. It is true that super 60's Bradford tops are down ¼d, but common 60's are up ¼d, and the respective quotations of 18¼d and 19d are ¼d per lb. on the first-named and ¼d per lb. on the second higher than a few weeks back. Tallow maintains the advanced prices quoted last week. Copper, tin, and lead are dearer, and silver, after fluctuating during the week at fractionally lower prices, has recovered to 27d—last Friday's quotation.

The annual meeting of the Parramatta Woollen Mills, Limited, was held at the company's new warehouse to-day; Mr. E. Nicol Murray, managing director, in the chair. The annual report, which was adopted, showed that the woollen mills and clothing factory had been further enlarged and additional machinery of the latest and most improved kind had been installed at the mill. After writing off the whole of the preliminary expenses and 10 per cent. for depreciation of machinery and plant there remained a balance of £2257 to the credit of profit and loss account, which was apportioned as follows:—To dividend at the rate of 6 per cent., £888; reserve account (making the total reserve £1000), £824 0s 9d, leaving a balance to be carried forward, £545. It was resolved, on the motion of Mr. J. P. Wright, to increase the capital of the company to £40,000 by the issue of 20,000 shares of £1 each, and also to increase the board of directors from three to four. Mr. J. P. Wright was re-elected director, and Messrs. James Robertson and Priestley as auditors.

An extraordinary general meeting of the shareholders of the Farmers' Co-operative Company, Limited, was held to-day, when the resolution altering clause in article 46, passed at annual meeting, was confirmed. Mr. G. Plummer (of Smithtown), Mr. J. Monaghan (Shoalhaven), and Mr. W. Dymock (Jamberoo), were elected to the board.

The point on which the Auditor-General in New Zealand has challenged the Government for issuing loans at a price below par though at a nominal rate authorised by Act of Parliament is one that should be kept in mind. It is easy to defeat the object of an Act of Parliament if an authorised 4 per cent. loan can be issued at 98, even at 100, provided some amount of accrued interest is given to the investor. A rate fixed by Parliament may be taken to represent its opinion that the work to be done by the proceeds of the loan shall only be carried out in the event of the money being obtainable at that figure. No other object for fixing a loan is apparent. In ordinary conditions the Government might well be left to determine the nominal rate of interest at which it borrows; for a change in the value of money might make it desirable to alter the interest say from 4 per cent., which would be the most appropriate rate when the Act was passed, to 3½ per cent. when the loan comes to be raised. The fixing of a nominal rate of interest should in ordinary circumstances be the act of an Administration not of the Legislature.

While Australia is the largest producer of raw wool, she is one of the best customers of the mother country for woollen goods. The "Australian Trading World" of July 25 remarks:—

It may not be generally known, but our Australian fellow-subjects rank as the very best buyers on the face of the globe, and in proportion to their numerical strength they buy more goods made outside their own country than any other set of English-speaking people. Although the country has suffered terribly through five years of unparalleled drought, yet the people have made money fast, and are spending it freely on the importation of both necessaries and luxuries. It is well worth remembering that the English Australian trade is a rapidly growing one, and well worth looking after in every sense of the word. Other commercial nations have realised this fact very clearly, for the number of travellers of American and German origin is increasing rapidly every year. On the other hand, most English business houses are content to do their trade through a resident agent, allowing their opponents to gain the mastery over them by having their own man upon the ground.

Though the language used here as to the "making of money fast" during the period of drought will not be accepted by everyone, we believe it is true that the development of the agricultural, dairying, and mineral resources of the country particularly has produced a very considerable measure of wealth, and greatly helped towards the restoration of what may be regarded as normal Australian conditions; and if the politicians will only let the development proceed, under the influence of good seasons we shall literally see "money made fast," and at the same time a large increment of immigrants to share in and contribute to the general prosperity.

The "Journal of the Institute of Bankers of New South Wales" for August as usual has matter of general banking and financial interest. A list of the successful candidates in the junior examinations also is given.

The Australian Brewery half-yearly meeting is postponed for six weeks, not six months as stated yesterday.

BREADSTUFFS.

Wheat ruled a shade easier again to-day, buyers being by no means numerous. Holders who pressed for sales found it difficult to secure more than 2s 10½d, and even at that figure the demand was not buoyant. Flour remained fairly firm, the associated millers quoting £6 15s for their best brands, and £6 12s 6d for second brands. These prices could occasionally be shaded by outsiders.

The aspect of the world's wheat market has been materially changed of late, not through any material deficiency in the world's production of wheat, but owing to a partial failure of the United States maize crop. The "Cincinnati Price Current" considers that 50,000,000 more bushels of wheat will be required for home consumption in the States owing to the deficit in maize, or 475,000,000 bushels in all, out of a crop estimated at 700,000,000 bushels, leaving a surplus of 225,000,000 bushels. Say that America can spare 30 million quarters as a maximum, "Beerbohm" estimates that Europe will require 50 million quarters as a minimum. The same authority having carefully considered the position doubts whether the remaining 20 million quarters "will be obtained with ease at a level of price below 30s in view of the moderate quantities in prospect from India, the practical absence of Argentina during the next six months, and the unfavourable crop reports from Russia. There is no question of course of present scarcity; the stocks and quantity afloat are too ample for that, but with the chances of bad weather for the crop in France, which would hasten the French demand, one feels more inclined to invest in wheat than perhaps one has done for some considerable time past." This news will be received with considerable satisfaction by our wheatgrowers, who have the prospect of being able to ship next season at a much lower level of freights than obtained during the current year.

The barque Northern Monarch sailed to-day with 15,030 bags of wheat for Callao, shipped by Messrs. John Darling and Son.

IMPORT MARKET.

There are evident signs of a further outbreak of speculative activity in certain directions. Fish of all kinds, for instance, is subject to a movement of this character. Many other articles coming under the general heading of oilmen's stores were also operated in as opportunity presented itself. Tea sold freely at auction, a further advance being established in certain grades of Ceylons. This doubtless has the same impulse behind it as the other articles referred to. Rice sold at advanced rates. Tinplates were well held without any further rise being established.

Tea.—Privately 30 half-chests of Ceylon pekoe and 70 chests ditto sold at 5½d to 6d ex recent arrivals, also 70 half-chests of Ceylon broken pekoes at 8d to 9d per lb. 70 packages of Indians went at market rates, and 150 packages of Chinas at 6½d per lb.

Messrs. H. W. Carey and Co. offered at their saleroom this afternoon to a representative attendance of the trade a catalogue of 760 packages of Ceylon tea, under instructions from Messrs. Gibbs, Bright, and Co., Burns, Philp, and Co., and Deacon and Co.; also, 200 packages Java teas, and 19 packages Java coffee, under instructions from Messrs. Brown and Co. They report having quitted all but a few lots of the Ceylons to brisk biddings at prices showing a decided improvement on the low values current for some time past. Prices were as follow:—Good common to fair pekoe souchongs and pekoes, 5d to 6½d, and medium to good medium broken pekoes, 7½d to 9½d. 160 packages Java tea changed hands at 5d to 7d for pekoes, and 5d to 6½d broken pekoes. The small shipment of Java coffee realised 7d per lb.

The following comparison of the stocks of tea in bond in Sydney may be made:—

	Aug. 16, 1901.	Aug. 23, 1901.	Aug. 30, 1901.
Chests	2,590	1,224	1,231
Half-chests	4,392	4,005	4,003

Messrs. Cyril Trower and Co. will offer 293 packages new season's Ceylons and 87 new Indians for next Tuesday, under instructions from Messrs. Gerber, Michaut, and Co., ex Rome and Orizaba.

Messrs. Fraser, Uther, and Co. have arranged to offer at the City Mart, on Thursday next, 296 packages of Ceylon teas ex Polynesien and Rome, on account of the consignees.

Messrs. Alfred Harvey and Co. will offer, at their saleroom, 63 Pitt-street, on Thursday afternoon next, 486 packages of Ceylon teas, ex Clitus, under instructions from Dalgety and Co., Limited.

Sugar.—Holders of sugar, both on this market and in Queensland, continue to manifest an indisposition to sell at present, preferring to take their chance of doing better when the federal tariff is imposed. German beet sugar was quoted at £19, and Mauritius at up to £19 15s per ton.

The C.S.R. Company's quotations are as follows:—Tablets, £24 10s; icing or powdered sugar, £24 10s; castor sugar, £20 10s; brewers' crystals, £20; IX or confectioners' crystals, £19 10s; IA, £19 10s; No. 1 (IW or Snowdrop), £19 5s; No. 2 (IC or No. 1 pieces), £19; No. 3, £16 10s per ton.

The following are the bond returns of sugar:—

	Imported. Tons.	Duty Paid. Tons.	Exported. Tons.	In Bond. Tons.
August 2	1,420	1,077	198	8,064
August 9	5	820	378	6,870
August 16	4,664	1,384	281	8,777
August 23	4	783	591	7,407
August 30	693	986	39	6,095

Our cable to-night advises a decline from par to 1½d per cwt. in the price of sugar in London. Prices ruling on the corresponding dates of the last four years compare as follows:—

—	German 88 per cent. beet. Per Cwt. s. d.	First Marks German granulated. Per Cwt. s. d.
August 30, 1898	9 6½	11 6
1899	10 1½	12 1½
1900	12 4	13 6
1901	8 8	10 7½

Groceries.—400 boxes of Colman's packet starch changed hands at 2s 6d; 1000 boxes of D.R.J. candles, to arrive at late rates, holders now looking for an advance. Fifty cases of Moir's fresh herrings were placed at 5s 3d; 50 cases Aberdeen ditto, 4s; 100 cases of Traynier's ditto, 4s 6d; 300 cases of Milne's ditto at market rates; 50 cases Trefavenne ½-sardines, 5s; 100 cases quarter ditto, 3s 7½d; 50 cases of Leader salmon, 5s 3d; 50 cases C. and B. vinegar, 7s; 100 cases Desaux vinegar, 5s; 50 dozen Neaves' food, 8s 9d; 100 cases Bidwell's axle grease, 5s 6d; 100 boxes Weatherspoon's cornflour, 2½d. Gold medal milk was fairly booked ex Australasian to arrive at 4s 9½d. 1000 cases of Nestle's also changed hands. Ten cases of Dutch cheese went at 9½d; 1 ton of bulk cornflour, £16 10s; 100 boxes Grave's cornflour packets, 2½d; 2 tons haricot beans, 9s 6d per bushel; 100 cases Island brand asparagus, 9s; 30 cases American tomatoes, 3s 9d.

Dried Fruits.—200 cases of currants moved off at 6½d, 100 boxes of elemes at 6d, 100 boxes of prime sultanas at 7½d, and 250 boxes ditto, 7d. Skinner's Tasmanian apples sold at 6½d.

New season's currants were quoted by cable for September steamer shipment at 28s 6d c.i.f. and e., against 21s 6d a month or so back.

The following prices for dried fruits for forward shipment were quoted by Messrs. Gilbert J. M'Caul and Co. under date July 26:—Figs per Itzehoe, the first direct steamer, at 28s c.i.f. Sydney; soft-shelled almonds, 30s 6d c.i.f. Sydney, per Australien, to sail September 12s; dates, Hallawi 10s 6d, Kadrawi 9s 6d, Sair 8s 6d c.i.f. London or Port Said. The following will be the shipping opportunities from the Mediterranean via Marseilles or Genoa with the Patras date, and the probable date of arrival at Sydney in each case:—

—	Patras.	Due Sydney.
Tonkin	July 29	September 13
Karlsruhe	August 14	October 6
Australien	August 26	October 11
Rhein	September 11	November 3
Ville de la Ciotat	September 23	November 8
Barbarossa	October 3	November 25
Polynesien	October 21	December 6
Grosser Kurfurst	October 20	December 15

The direct steamer will be the Itzehoe to leave Antwerp August 24, loading at Patras September 7 to 10 and Smyrna September 12 to 15.

The Victorian Government Statist has issued a return showing the outturn of dried fruits in Victoria during the past two years. These figures have an added interest with the prospect of a speedy abolition of the border duties which will make dried fruits from the southern State much better known locally in the future than they have been in the past. The actual figures are:—

	1900. Lb.	1901. Lb.
Raisins	1,988,882	3,280,416
Currants	371,319	416,116
Prunes	12,595	35,931
Peaches	138,090	97,254
Apricots	290,224	411,526
Figs	101,948	62,639
Apples	11,876	29,944

The total weight of dried fruit produced was 4,341,826lb., against 2,920,524lb. in the previous season.

Eastern Produce.—Ten tons of Japan rice sold at £16 15s, most holders asking £17. Five tons of canary seed went at £11 15s to £12 per ton.

Brewers' Goods.—Small sales of English malt were made at 6s 9d per bushel. The hop production in Victoria has fallen off very materially during the past year, the official returns showing a total outturn of 2741cwt., or a decrease of 143cwt. as against the previous year. There was, moreover, a falling off of 52 growers and 310 acres out of a total of 131 growers and 712 acres in 1899-1900. This would almost indicate that Victorian growers do not expect to be able to stand up against Tasmanian competition under inter-State freetrade.

Liquors.—500 cases of Johnstone's stout moved off to arrive at agents' prices. Revolver ale also sold freely.

Metals.—Fencing wire met with a good demand, 200 tons being taken up to arrive at full current rates. Tinplates ruled firm at 20s 6d for I.C. Cokes on spot. 200 cases of wire nails were taken up at 20 per cent. off list. Cement was in better request, and some large sales have recently been made, with the result that the market is somewhat firmer. 500 casks of Anchor went at 11s 3d. 250 casks of plaster moved off at 10s 9d c.i.f. and e. to arrive.

Oils.—2500 cases of Snowflake kerosene were distributed at 8¼d. 150 cases of turps sold to arrive at 2s 9d. 150 drums each of raw and boiled linseed oil, second brands, sold at 3s 8d and 3s 10d respectively. Small parcels of castor were placed at 2s 9d to 2s 9½d. The exports of castor to Sydney from Calcutta this year are large compared with previous years. During the first seven months of 1901 no less than 11,007 cases have been shipped against 2379 cases during the same period in 1900, 8994 cases in 1899, and 10,013 cases in 1898. The great increase is probably due to the wholesale preparations that have been made to escape paying the federal duty for as long a period as possible.

Jute Goods.—Cornsacks ruled fairly firm at 5s 4d to 5s 4½d for season's delivery. Branbags were quiet at 4s nominally. Woolpacks continued to move off in 25-bale lots at 2s for 11½lb. and 2s 1d for 12lb.

	1900. Bales.	1901. Bales.
Cornsacks	4,124	3,327
Woolpacks	15,324	9,713
Branbags	1,135	3,435

The falling off in cornsacks is material, that of woolpacks being, however, striking. The increase in the shipments of branbags is the cause of the present weakness in that market.

Chemicals.—Fifteen bottles of quicksilver went at 2s 9½d. Twenty-five tons of soda ash sold to arrive at £7 5s to £7 7s 6d. The scarcity on spot has been relieved by vessels now in the harbour, and holders are asking £7 15s ex ship. Bicarbonate of soda is going at £8 5s to £8 10s, 200 kegs of Brunner, Mond, and Co.'s selling at the lower figure. Five tons of Muspratt's caustic soda went at £12 10s; one ton of tartaric acid sold at 1s 2½d.

The Customs revenue received at Sydney to-day amounted to £3669. The principal items were:—

Spirits, £2235; wine, £61; tobacco, cigars, and cigarettes, £660; tea, £11; sugar and molasses, £23; dried and candied fruits, £96; preserves, £58; harbour and light rates, £15; pilotage, £29; harbour removals, £10; excise on tobacco, cigars, and cigarettes, £300; excise on beer, £116. Total, £3669.

EXPORT MARKET.

Wool Receipts.—At Darling Harbour to-day 198 bales of wool were manifested to arrive by rail, 22 were received coastwise, and 56 came forward by rail from Newcastle yesterday.

MONEY MARKET.

The Bank of England rate of discount is 3 per cent. The market rate of discount for three months' bills is 2 3-16 per cent, being 1-16 lower.

METAL MARKET.

The copper market is nominal. Spot quotations are ⅛ higher at 66⅞, and three months ⅛ higher at 67 per ton.

Tin is very firm. Spot is quoted 2 higher on the week at 118½, and three months 2½ higher on the week at 114⅝.

SUGAR.

The sugar market is quiet. German beet, 88 per cent., is quoted 1½d lower at 8s 3d per cwt., and first granulated Hamburg unchanged at 10s 7½d per cwt.

BRADFORD TOPS.

WHEAT.

The wheat markets are easier, owing to American holders forcing sales. Prices are 6d per quarter lower. Cargoes are steady, South Australian and Victorian for September-October shipment being offered at 29s 6d, and New South Wales for August at 29s per 480lb., c.f.i.

COMMERCIAL TELEGRAMS.

ADELAIDE, Friday.

Inquiry for wheat for shipment to South Africa is made up to 2s 9½d. Business during the day was quiet. Flour was unaltered at £6 5s to £6 7s. The Melbourne market is bare of oatmeal, which has advanced. Five tons sold at £13. None is available under £14.

BRISBANE, Friday.

Heavy lines of produce were in good supply at the markets. Chaff, lucerne, 2s to 3s 4d; mixed prime, 3s 5d; hay, lucerne, 1s 11d to 2s 5d; potatoes, English, 2s 2d to 7s 6d; sweet, 2s 1d to 2s 6d; butter, 1s; eggs, 6½d to 7d.

MELBOURNE, Friday.

On the Stock Exchange to-day: Victorian 4 per cents (1913-1923) sold at £106; Metropolitan Board of Works 4½ per cents (1906) £103 and 3½ per cents, £99 7s 6d; Commercial Bank, ordinary shares, sold at 13s 6d, 13s, and preferential, £6 8s; Royal Bank, 17s 4d; Special Assets Trust Company, 15s 4d; Castlemaine Brewery, 16s; Melbourne Tram, 21s 10d; Silverton Tram, 65s, 66s; Melbourne Hydraulic, 20s, and paid, 40s; Kauri Timber, 1s 7d; Monte de Piete, 16s 8d; Mutual Store, 37s.

About 10,000 bags of wheat sold at 2s 10d ex Store, but otherwise the market is quiet. Flour is £6 5s to £6 7s 6d. Bran, 10½d, prompt 10d, forward delivery. Pollard, 10½d. A good business was done in barley at 2s 4d to 2s 6d. Algerian oats are strong, feed up to 2s 5d, prime shipping 2s 5½d to 2s 6d. Maize is scarce, 2s 7½d. Prime chaff is £3 12s 6d, medium to good £4 to £4 5s. Potatoes are firm at £6 10s to £6 12s 6d; onions up to £14.

A fair business was done in yellow sugar for export. At the tea auction most of the Indians were sold at fair prices, but business in Ceylons was limited, lower grades not being in demand. 157 chests of Indian were offered, and 125 chests were sold at 6½d to 8½d. 387 packages of Ceylon were offered, and 150 packages were sold at 6½d to 8½d. Private sales cover 100 chests Ceylon, 6d to 7½d; 100 half-chests Panyong, 5½d. Provincial currants are selling at 7½d to 7½d. Bicarb. of soda is in good inquiry at £7 7s 6d to £7 10s. Ten tons of whiting sold at 70s. A good business was done in woolpacks, including a parcel of 150 bales. Small lots brought up to 1s 11½d. Cornsacks were rather quiet at 5s 4d to 5s 4½d forward and 5s 3d on spot; branbags, on spot, 3s 9½d to 3s 10½d. 600 tons of pig iron sold to land. Fencing wire is in good demand. 500 casks of German cement sold. Considerable sales of pure linseed oil were made. Butter has been in good local and export demand at lower rates; factory is 1s to 1s 0½d; choice, 1s 0½d. Eggs, 7½d to 7½.

DAIRY NEWS.

ALBION PARK, Wednesday.

The Dairy Farmers Co-operative Milk Company, Limited, held its annual meeting here to-day in the Town Hall. Mr. W. R. Atkinson, chairman of the board, was in the chair. All the other directors were present. The attendance of shareholders was very large. The report and balance-sheet were read, and their adoption was moved by the chairman, seconded by Mr. H. Fryer, and supported by Messrs. E. R. Evans, L. Mood, W. Walker, Thompson, Burns, and others. Each gentleman spoke in the highest terms of the great success of the company. The motion was carried unanimously. On a motion by Messrs. W. Brownlee and J. Fraser, the directors were empowered to erect cold rooms. Mr. R. Wilson was re-elected director unopposed. Votes of thanks were accorded to the chairman, directors, and manager.

BATHURST, Wednesday.

A meeting called to consider the prospectus of the proposed co-operative dairying company was held in the Town Hall to-day. The gathering was representative. The Mayor (Alderman W. J. M'Phillamy) presided. It was decided to form a co-operative dairying company, and Mr. C. R. Pickworth was elected hon. secretary pro tem. Upwards of 1000 shares were taken in the room. The following were selected as provisional directors:—Messrs. J. Lee, jun., P. Furness, W. Dowling, G. E. Machattie, and Dr. Machattie. Mr. J. M'Phillamy was appointed solicitor to the company.

GOULBURN, Friday.

A movement is on foot to establish a creamery at Taralga. If the company is formed it will take over the assets of the Taralga Butter Factory Company.

PRODUCE MARKETS.—Friday.

TRADE IN SUSSEX-STREET.

A moderate turnover was done in most departments of general produce to-day. Butter continued scarce, as did local chaff, while supplies of other lines were plentiful. Movements in prices were again few, the principal being a rise in chaff and a fall in turnips. The market for maize remained quiet, the inquiry being steady up to 2s 7d for prime grain. Oats were in moderate request, while prime chickwheat continued scarce and dear. Both bran and pollard moved off slowly at about late rates. A further improvement occurred in chaff, as the result of the exceptionally small supplies received by rail during the past couple of days. Prime samples were in active demand up to £4 17s 6d, good varieties going off freely up to £4 5s per ton. Imported makes also had good sale at firmer rates. In lucerne hay no change transpired, sales being steady at late values. Potatoes had a little attention, choice Circulars being scarce and dearer. Onions moved off at the prices quoted. In dairy produce a fairly brisk trade was done in all lines. Poultry was scarce and prices were firmer. In other items no changes in values occurred.

Wholesale quotations were:—

REDFERN SALE.

At the Redfern railway terminus market this morning a moderate supply of produce was offered for sale. There was a good attendance of buyers, who operated with a considerable amount of freedom in most lines. Owing to the small supply to hand the inquiry for chaff was again active at further advanced rates. Prime green samples made 4s 6d to 4s 10d, good medium to 4s 3d, and indifferent from 3s 3d per cwt. Prime green lucerne in small bales fetched 3s 2d, a good sample in large bales going at 2s 6d per cwt. Rough varieties of oaten hay had attention at 2s 9d to 3s 9d, a small lot of good hay making the high figure of 5s 7d per cwt. Straw in bundles found a purchaser at 2s per cwt. Bran was offered without leading to business. Turnips were more plentiful, and in demand at cheaper rates. Prime realised to 2s 3d, and other sorts from 2s 6d to 2s 11d per cwt. A choice lot of chickwheat brought 2s 10½d, while a very rough sample was taken at 2s 1½d per bushel.

Appended are the proportions of the various descriptions of produce actually submitted at to-day's sale:—Chaff, 15 trucks; lucerne, 4; oaten hay, 4; bran, 1; turnips, 6; and wheat, 3.

Among the consignees were:—Messrs. J. W. Gray and Co., R. Little and Co., H. Prescott and Co., Farmers' and Settlers' Association, H. M. Suttor and Co., Farmers' Co-operative Company, Ellis and Co., G. Wells and Matthews, R. Hall and Son, J. Bridge and Co., Dent and Perry, Walker and Oxby, J. Campbell and Sheppard, Harvey and Walker.

FRUIT MARKETS.

Plentiful supplies of all varieties of seasonable fruits were under offer at the Bathurst-street markets this morning. The Oonah arrived from Hobart with a shipment of over 8000 cases of Tasmania apples, which were not available until late in the day. Apples moved off quietly at late rates. Citrus fruits were exceptionally plentiful and dull of sale. Oranges suffered a further decline without leading to any perceptible increase in the demand. Mandarins and lemons continued slow, the former being a trifle cheaper. A moderate amount of business was done in the export trade. Strawberries had steady sale. Passionfruit moved more freely at improved rates. Bananas sold fairly well at firm values.

The current quotations were:—

Lemons.—Rough, 1s 6d to 2s 6d; good, 3s to 3s 6d; choice 4s to 4s 6d per gin-case.

CITY YARDS.

Pigs.—To-day's yarding of 515 head embraced a variety of qualities and sizes, heavy sorts predominating. Bacon curers again operated freely, and values in consequence showed a still further slight advance. Prime quality handy weights had ready sale, while heavy porkers were hardly as dear as during the early part of the week. Good quality light descriptions met with a strong demand, and were quickly absorbed at highly satisfactory rates. Back fatters and slips also sold readily. Quotations:—Big heavy back fatters 50s to 65s, extra weighty to 75s; best pens of baconers to 54s, good 44s to 48s 6d, medium from 37s, light from 32s 6d; best pens of porkers to 31s, good 23s 6d to 27s 6d, light from 19s; stores, best to 20s, good 14s to 16s 6d; slips from 10s each.

STOCK AND STATION PRODUCE.

The Australasian Mortgage and Agency Company, Limited, John Bridge and Co., Limited, Harrison, Jones, and Devlin, Limited, Hill, Clark, and Co., Pastoral Finance Association, Limited, Winchcombe, Carson, and Co., Limited, report:—

Hides.—At yesterday's sales supplies were only moderate, and with strong competition previous rates were firmly maintained, odd lots of good-conditioned New South Wales hides showing a slight advance. Quotations Queensland Meatwork hides (ticky): Heavy (60lb. to 62lb.), 6½d to 6¾d per lb.; medium (50lb. to 58lb.), 5½d to 5¾d; light (36lb. to 45lb.), 5d to 5½d. Queensland butchers' hides: Heavy (60lb. and upwards), 5½d to 6d; ditto (ticky), 5d to 5¾d; medium (46lb. to 56lb.), 4¾d to 5½d; ditto (ticky), 4½d to 5d; light (36lb. to 46lb.), 4½d to 4¾d; ditto (ticky), 4¼d to 4½d. New South Wales butchers' hides: Extra heavy (70lb. and upwards), 4¼d to 5½d; heavy (60lb. to 69lb.), 4½d to 4¾d; medium (45lb. to 56lb.), 4½d to 4¾d; light (35lb. to 46lb.), 4½d to 4½d; inferior and faulty, 2d to 2½d; dry station, 4½d to 5½d; yearlings, 3s to 8s 9d each; calfskins, 2s to 2s 6d; horse hides, 2s 6d to 9s.

Tallow.—Values in this market declined 5s to 7s 6d per ton all round. Quotations:—Prime mutton none offering, medium ditto (nominal) to £23 10s per ton; prime beef (none offering), prime mixed to £23 10s, medium ditto to £23, inferior and broken packages to £20 10s. 351 casks were offered and 167 sold.

The New Zealand Loan and Mercantile Agency Company, G. H. Moxham and Co., and the Co-operative Wool Company also report holding sales.

HORSE MARKET.

Messrs. Inglis and Son's report for week ending August 29:—The supply of good horses still continues well within requirements and prices satisfactory, while for good animals high rates were obtained. Superior light horses were again very scarce, and many buyers had to go unsupplied, while good young heavy draughts still continue in strong request. We have numerous inquiries for ponies all heights, from 11 to 14 hands. Our sales through the bazaar comprised consignments from the following country districts, viz., Bathurst, Blayney, Penrith, Milton, Ourimbah, Helensburgh, Picton, and Campbelltown, also the usual number from town and suburbs. Through the Camperdown yards we sold drafts on account of the following, viz., James Tulloch, Scone; G. Marks, Burrandulla, Mudgee; Thomas Riley, Hay; Western agents, Bathurst; Western agents, Orange; H. Rofe, Picton; J. M'Cauley, Glen Innes; and Northern agents, Muswellbrook. We also sold privately two draught stallions, one for 70 and one for 150 guineas. Quotations:—Carriage pairs, best quality 80 guineas to 130 guineas, good 40 guineas to 60 guineas; high-class light horses £20 to £30, good £14 to £18; useful light horses, strong and thick set, £8 to £15; light buggy and saddle descriptions, £5 to £10; 'bus and cab horses, £8 to £12; extra heavy draughts (young and sound), best quality £25 to £35, good £18 to £25; aged heavy draughts, £14 to £20; medium draughts, £14 to £18; light draughts, £5 to £13; van and butchers' cart horses, £11 to £17; light weeds, £2 to £4; strong ponies, 13 to 14 hands, £8 to £14; small ponies, £3 to £7.

FAT STOCK SALES.

TAMWORTH, Friday.

At the fat stock sales yesterday there was a large attendance of buyers, and the demand was extremely brisk, and values were equal to late high rates. Best bullocks made £11, cows £9 5s; best merino wethers 14s 3d, crossbred ewes 15s 4d.

One of the largest sales of fat sheep known in these parts was effected by Johnston and Turner, of Tamworth, this week namely, 28,000 fat wethers—belonging to W. Borthwick, of Muscotte, near Narrabri, to W. Richards and Sons, butchers, of Sydney.

PROPERTY SALES.

There is no slackening in the demand for good rent-producing properties at prices that on the whole have an upward tendency, and good competition is shown in the auction rooms for all that are offered. But as no considerable amount is submitted, and owners sometimes place too high reserves on those on the lists, the reported transactions do not present any remarkable features. Richardson and Wrench, Limited, advertise for sale to-morrow (Saturday) afternoon allotments at Homebush. The following details of business have been supplied:—

Richardson and Wrench, Limited, report having sold by auction and private contract during the week the following properties: Hotel property, Elizabeth and Underwood streets, Paddington, for the sum of £6500; two shops and dwellings, fronting Regent-street, Redfern, for £800; block of land, fronting Bourke-street, Darlinghurst, for the sum of £733 8s 4d; leasehold property, Harris and Pyrmont streets, Pyrmont, for £675; block of land, fronting Botany-street, Redfern, for £290; block of land, fronting High-street, North Botany, for £122; allotment of land, fronting Young-street, North Annandale, for £120; two portions of Waitara Estate, Waitara, for £110 12s 11d; two blocks of land, forming part of Silver Park Estate, Canterbury, fronting the Canterbury-road, for £100; small leasehold property, fronting St. James-road, Waverley, for £50; and a small allotment of land, fronting Brandling-street, Alexandria (Camellia Grove Estate), for £36.

Messrs. Hardie and Gorman report having sold the following properties by public auction and private treaty:—City, block of land fronting Castlereagh-street, with old buildings thereon, for the sum of £5485 13s 6d; Richmond, farm property, known as Triangle Farm, 115¼ acres, for £1600; Elizabeth Bay, leasehold residence and ground, for £725; Surry Hills, cottage, fronting Riley-street, and dwelling, Little Norton-street, at rear, £800; Leichhardt, block of land, Henry-street, sheds thereon, for £280; Hornsby, block of land, containing 5 acres 15½ perches, for £300; Hornsby, block of land, fronting Hunter-street, for £100; Marrickville, six allotments, fronting May-street, portion of Glebe Estate, at 17s 6d per foot, £306 3s; Marrickville, block of land, O'Hara-street, for £80.

NEWCASTLE TRADE REPORT.

NEWCASTLE, Friday.

Wholesale houses report that business has been exceptionally brisk during the week just closing, retailers generally having booked orders on an extensive scale for September account. Now that the federal tariff is within measurable distance buyers are in a speculative mood, and a good demand is being experienced for all leading lines of groceries. The general exports for the week include: For New Zealand 87,375ft. timber and 7000 sleepers, and for Victoria 12 bales millet and 10,000 spokes.

The produce market is still very excited. Onions are very firm and scarce at £16 10s. Chaff, best green, is quoted at £4 10s, and inferior samples are worth £4. The market is very bare at present. Pollard and bran are both easier, and can now be purchased at £4 5s. Maize is still very firm at 3s. Oaten hay is scarce and firm at £5 5s for prime samples. Lucerne hay is quoted at £2 15s to £2 17s 6d for large bales, and small bales are scarce and firm at £3 10s. Barley is in fair demand at 2s 9d. Oats are in very short supply, and the demand is very keen. New Zealand B grade is quoted at 2s 6d per bushel. Wheat is nominally quoted at 2s 10d, although holders are asking as high as 3s. Potatoes are quiet at prices ranging from £6 10s to £7, according to samples.

In the dairy produce market all lines have met with fair inquiry, butter having been particularly in demand. A shipment of 1½ tons of the local Rosebud Creamery butter has been despatched to China and Eastern ports. Eggs have again receded in value, and are now quoted at 6d to 6½d. To-day's quotations are:—Butter, N.S.W., creamery, bulk 1s, prints 1s 1d, factory 11d, separator 11d, pastry 10d; hams, New South Wales light weights in cloth 9½d, heavy weights 8d, Queensland 9d, New Zealand (Titihua brand), 9d; bacon, New South Wales longsides 6½d to 7d, flitches 6½d to 6¾d, middles 7¼d to 7½d, shoulders 4½d. New Zealand longsides 7½d; honey, 2s to 11s; cheese, New Zealand, large 5½d, medium 5½d to 5½d, loaf 5½d to 6d; eggs, 6d to 6½d per dozen; lard, bulk, 6½d, prints and bladders 7d.

In chemicals the only alteration to record is in the price of soda bicarb, which has advanced to 9s 6d (firm). Other lines are quoted at:—Cream of tartar, 99 per cent., 10½d; soda crystals, £5 15s; whiting, £4; tartaric acid, 1s 2½d; borax, powdered, 25s; sulphur, 11s; bluestone, 32s; saltpetre, 24s; citric acid, 1s 10d.

Current rates for foreign freights are:—San Francisco, 12s 6d; Portland, 16s; Manila, 20s; Ilo Ilo, 21s; Cebu, 21s; Singapore, 12s 6d; Java, 11s 6d; Valparaiso, 17s 6d; Acapulco, 19s; Hongkong, 14s; Shanghai, 20s; Panama, 22s.

MINING INTELLIGENCE.

Business on the Mining market yesterday was on a fairly liberal scale with a firm tone generally, and prices showing marked advances in several instances. Western Australian Gold Companies had a large share of attention, and prices were well maintained. Lake View Consols sold at £8 12s 6d, Great Boulder Perseverance at £8 5s, Associated Northern Blocks at 69s 6d to 70s, and 71s 6d prompt delivery. Great Boulder Proprietary, with business at 19s 10½d to 20s, and Queensland Menzies, at 10s 6d to 10s 10d, were firmer. Local silver companies had a fair volume of business. Broken Hill Block 10 had sales at 42s to 43s, afterwards advancing to 45s, compared with business on the previous day at 40s. Sulphide Corporation changed hands freely at 9s 8d to 9s 9d on the forenoon exchange with business in the afternoon at 10s 4½d, and buyers still prepared to operate at that quotation. South Blocks, paid, sold at 5s 10d, and Broken Hill South, paid, at 21s 9d. Copper companies were somewhat weaker with Chillagoe Railway and Mines selling at 12s 10½d to 12s 9d, and Mungana at 8s 1½d. Business in coal companies was represented by sales of Wallsend at £30 15s. In Queensland ventures Smithfield and Phoenix Golden Pile advanced to 4s 11d and 5s. No. 1 North Columbia were firmer at 7s. Victoria and Caledonia Blocks, paid, sold at 11s 3d, and No. 2 South Great Eastern at 38s. The only business in dredging companies was a sale of Jerricknorra at 3s 6d.

Our Launceston correspondent telegraphed last night that the Tasmania Gold-mining Company crushed 2400 tons of quartz for 6715oz. amalgam, which will be retorted to-day.

Mr. R. N. Kirk, agent for the Broken Hill Proprietary Company, Limited, advises the receipt of the following cable:—"London, August 29:—Silver, 2s 3d (official quotation); lead, £11 15s (buyer's price); shares, £1 16s 6d (buyer's price)."

CHILLAGOE RAILWAY AND MINES.

Mr. Stewart has addressed a letter to the Chillagoe Railway and Mines' directors explaining that he has been suffering from the effects of sunstroke, and has been too ill to transact business. He refers to his estimates of June 28, 1897 and June 13, 1900, and fully confirms them. Mr. Stewart also resigns his position as consulting engineer. The board in accepting the resignation expressed regret at Mr. Stewart's ill-health and pleasure at his reiterated assurance of the correctness of the estimates.

MINING IN NEW SOUTH WALES.

HILLGROVE, Friday.

The Baker's Creek battery for the fortnight crushed 530 tons for a yield of 362oz. of smelted gold, and 13 tons of concentrates containing approximately 40oz., total, 402oz.

The Eleanora tributers have resumed work under conditions reported to be satisfactory to all parties.

PAMBULA, Friday.

The Pambula Mines Company has treated 100 tons of tailings by cyanide for 73oz. of gold. The battery is now crushing ore of low grade from the company's mine. Work in the mine has been retarded by rain. Gleeson and party's Belle mine is also flooded. Grant and Robinson are still obtaining very rich silver ore at Jingera.

LITHGOW, Friday.

Wattle Flat reports that the solitary washing up after three weeks' run was 90 tons for 85oz. of gold, and 27 tons from the 414ft. level for 31oz. Crawford Brothers report a payable wash-up after five weeks' run on "tailings." At Bullock Flat good gold is being got by Johnson and party, as high as 2oz to the "tub" being washed out. Several small nuggets have been picked up since the rainfall.

WEST WYALONG, Friday.

At the Red Flag line of reef some excellent quality stone is being raised at the lower levels. Hoxon's original Red Flag treated 1½ ton at Sully's chlorination works for 16½oz. The True Blue Company treated 1040 tons at their own battery for 348½oz. smelted gold; 12½ tons of sulphide ore for an average yield of 6oz. 8dwt. 7gr. per ton; 15¾ tons of concentrates for an average yield of 5oz. 1dwt. 7gr. per ton; 300 tons of stone are paddocked, mostly battery. The monthly escort took 1500oz. of gold. Warden Stevenson has granted three months' suspension of labour to the Daisy mine owners.

A NEW COPPER FIND.

MOLONG, Friday.

Mr. George Hayman and party have brought to town rich specimens of copper from the new find at Cundumbul. One specimen, though small, weighs 14lb. Pure metal can be seen all through, and it is estimated to contain between 80 and 90 per cent. of copper. The shaft is now down 70ft., and the lode at this depth is 5ft. wide, showing signs of improving. The specimens are on view at the Commercial Bank.

TINGHA TIN MINING.

TINGHA, Friday.

Hobbs and party at the old Baal-Gammon have about 50 loads of wash at grass, and are still raising fair wash. Gorman and party on the same run have been sinking a new shaft which they have bottomed, and are now raising some good wash. Sutter and Cain have about 150 loads of wash at grass, but are unable to cart to their washing plant owing to the boggy state of the roads. Seagrott and party are busy ground sluicing their wash, of which they have a large quantity at grass. S. Cooper and party have about 300 loads, and are now washing. Scott and Cooper, at the Gilgai, have washed up with a return of four tons, which they consider very satisfactory. Sullings and party are still getting some good dirt, and have about 70 loads at grass.

Beckett and party are still washing, and have sent away a further lot of 10 tons. James Mannix and party, working their reef near the Brickwood Extended, have taken out about two tons of tin, and there is every indication of this reef being permanent. Morris and party are still on good wash, and have about 60 loads at grass. Schuman and party, working the adjoining block, have just completed washing with a return of 2½ tons, which is considered satisfactory.

BARRIER MINING.

BROKEN HILL, Friday.

The Broken Hill Proprietary mill will be closed down from 8 o'clock to-morrow morning until 8 o'clock on Monday morning. Underground work ceases from 4 o'clock to-morrow afternoon until 8 o'clock on Monday morning.

The new section of the North mine plant will be ready for active operations within four weeks. The six Wilfley tables are in position and ready for detail work.

A LADY 67 YEARS OF AGE cured of BRIGHT'S DISEASE, ERYSIPELAS, and LIVER COMPLAINT by VITADATIO.

READ Mrs. H. FLYNN'S TESTIMONY.

Nowra, 16th July, 1901.

The Proprietor of VITADATIO.

Dear Sir,—This is to certify that I have taken VITADATIO, and it has completely cured me of Bright's Disease, Erysipelas, and Liver Complaint, and has also cured me of Swelling in the Legs and Arms, which I had suffered from for the last 40 years. I can now go about my work and do it as well as I could 30 years ago, which is saying a good deal. I am over 67 years old. I procured the VITADATIO from Woodhill and Co.'s Store.

Yours very gratefully,

TWELVE YEARS A SUFFERER.
DOCTORS DIFFERED.
VITADATIO CURED.

READ Mr. EDWARD ELLIS'S TESTIMONY.

Newcastle, April 24, 1900.

Mr. S. A. PALMER.

Dear Sir,—For the past twelve years I have been a sufferer. I have been treated by doctors in Wallsend, Hamilton, Sydney, Rockhampton, and various places, but without success; they all failed to diagnose my case. Some said I suffered from kidneys out of order, ulcers on stomach, enlarged liver, pleurisy, &c.; but Vitadatio soon showed the disease, and I am now heavier than ever I was in my life. The hydatids have come away in great quantities, as witness to this I have given two bottles of same to your manager in Newcastle. I am thankful for the good health Vitadatio has given me, and will be willing at all times to tell others of its marvellous virtues.

SPORTING INTELLIGENCE

THE TURF.

The Invader horse Lord Monmouth, who is engaged in the A.J.C. spring campaign, has arrived from Brisbane in charge of his trainer, Arthur Nond.

Our Narrabri correspondent telegraphs that at a meeting of the combined Jockey Club and hospital committees it was decided to hold a two days' race meeting and a one day's pigeon match in aid of the hospital funds on the 29th, 30th, and 31st proximo. Much enthusiasm was evident, and liberal offers of support were made in the room to ensure the success of the project. Messrs. Bishop, Lynes, W. Macdonald, H. Thurlow, and J. M'Cutcheon each donated £5. Messrs. Levey and Bennett guaranteed a half-holiday purse of £5 or £10. Mr. Thurlow offered to start a publicans' purse, while a number of members of the hospital committee donated £10.

A departure is being made this year in the days on which the A.J.C. Spring Meeting will be held. Hitherto it has been the custom to race on Saturday, Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday, but this year the days will be Saturday, Monday, Wednesday, and Saturday. Under the new arrangement the benefit of the Wednesday half-holiday will be obtained.

Attention is directed to the programme to be found in the advertising columns for the spring race meeting of City Tattersall's Club to be held at Randwick. Entries for the events enumerated therein close with the secretary (Mr. F. Walton), at the office of the Moorefield R. C. on Tuesday, September 10.

The following scratchings were recorded yesterday for the Hawkesbury Spring Meeting:—Park Stakes: Culverin, The Idler. Stewards' Mile: Negrito. Hawkesbury Handicap: Fireman, Edna Lyall, Cyanide. The Welter: Negrito, The Idler.

A meeting of the committee of the Forrester Subscription Fund was held yesterday at Tattersall's Club, when it was reported that the donations to date total about £700, including 100 sovs. given by Mr. G. Adams and 20 sovs. by Mr. W. E. Sparke. Mr. A. Hill was appointed chairman of the fund, and it was decided to open subscription lists in the various States and to cable to Mr. W. T. Jones, an old friend of Mr. Forrester's, to do the same in England among the leading colonists now living there.

Mr. T. S. Clibborn will hold a sale of racehorses, brood mares, and untried two and three year olds at the Newmarket Stables, Randwick, on Tuesday, September 10. Among the lots already catalogued are untried half-brothers to Sam, Longford, and Creeper. Early intimation is requested from intending vendors.

Mr. S. Watson has named the bay gelding by Invermay from Idol, Inveray.

It will be noticed by the advertising columns that Jeweller, by Splendor (imp.) from Souvenir, is to stand this season at Ravensworth, near Muswellbrook, on the line of the Great Northern railway. Jeweller was a great racehorse, and all his stock that have been raced so far have done well. The fee is 8 guineas. Particulars can be obtained from Mr. R. A. Hill, Ravensworth, or Mr. A. Hooke, Cassilis.

Messrs. H. Chisholm and Co. will offer for sale on Friday, September 13, at Randwick, a number of stallions, racehorses, and untried stock. The stallions already placed in their hands comprise Cobbity, Prince Carbine, Loch Long, and Brazen Boy, while the untried division, as will be seen by reference to the advertising columns, promise well on the score of breeding. The Wilton Park draft can be inspected at Mr. Hordern's stables, Randwick.

Attention is directed to the catalogue, contained in the advertising columns, of the stud of the late Mr. William Forrester. Among the brood mares is Rose Flaneur, the dam of Watchdog, and the young mare Saraswati, who did so well on the turf. The well-known and successful sire Niagara is on the list, while among the horses in training is The Watchdog and a number of well-bred young horses who have not yet appeared in public. The whole of the stud will be submitted for sale by auction by Messrs. H. Chisholm and Co. on Thursday, September 12, at the firm's new stables, Randwick.

In the local betting market yesterday Cretonne weakened in the quotations for the Epsom Handicap, and in the evening 10 to 1 was on offer against her. Abington in consequence became firmer, occupying the position of favourite at prices varying from 8 and 9 to 1 according to the state of the layer's book. Sequence was quoted at 10 to 1, and Kenley and Allinga at 12 to 1 each. Beauclere found steady support at 100 to 5, the best price offering in the evening being 16 to 1. Undaunted, Leapfrog, and Ferryman remained at 100 to 5 each, while 100 to 4 each was obtainable about Reviver and Womerah. For the Metropolitan, 100 to 8 each was on offer against April Fool, Cyanide, Sir Leonard and Bruntwood, 100 to 7 v. Patronage, 100 to 6 v. Robato, and 100 to 5 v. others.

The entries, which close on September 2, for the jumping events which are to take place on the Royal Agricultural Society's Grounds during the currency of the annual show of the Kennel Club of New South Wales on September 11 and 14 next, are very satisfactory. The different events should prove of an attractive nature, as some of the best horses in the State have been nominated for the Commonwealth Hunters' Plate, the Federal High Jump, and trotting and pony jumping contests.

HAWKESBURY RACE CLUB SPRING MEETING.

What promises to be a most enjoyable outing is provided for city folk to-day, when the Hawkesbury Race Club hold their spring reunion on the well-appointed convincing ground at Clarendon. The track is reported to be in splendid condition, and in the catering, as in all other departments, due provision has been made for the comfort of visitors. The service by rail includes special trains leaving Redfern at 10.15 a.m. (horses and attendants), 11.10, and 11.50 a.m. (first and second class), 12.22 p.m. (first-class), and 1 p.m. (first and second class). The last-mentioned train will be run specially for those taking advantage of the half-holiday, and will not reach the course until after the first race, but passengers by it will be in ample time to witness the remainder of the programme. Racing commences at 2 p.m. with the Park Stakes, in which Hazel Girl, Alannah, Lady Arlington, Bingle, Malmaison, and Carnia appear to have the best prospects, and the places may be filled by Malmaison, Lady Arlington, and Hazel Girl. An interesting race is promised for the Stewards' Mile, in which prominent parts should be played by Chryso-Keras, Edna, Goodooga, Bengonia, and Miss Marion, and the numbers may go up for Chryso-Keras, Miss Marion, and Bengonia. Dalmore, Royal King, Plain Tom, Klimbo, and Aladdin read as well as anything in the Flying Handicap, and Royal King, Aladdin, and Klimbo may claim the attention of the judge in the order named. A good contest may be expected for the Hawkesbury Spring Handicap, and at the weights Brazen Lad, Redeemed, Linden, Chassepot, and Acrasia should run well, while the judge may declare for Brazen Lad, Linden, and Redeemed. The sport will be brought to a close with the Welter Handicap, in which the chances of Cranbourne, Zone, Klimbo, Bivalve, Negrito, and Blaxland seem to be about the best, and the situations may be occupied by Bivalve, Cranbourne, and Negrito. Appended is the programme:—

COOTAMUNDRA RACES.

COOTAMUNDRA, Friday.

Races were held to-day, and despite the wet weather there was a good attendance. Results:—

Trial Stakes.—Mr. Norton's Irrawaddy, 1; Mr. Palmer's Miss Trenchant, 2; Mr. Mason's Rosebank, 3.

Hurdle Race.—Crick, 1; Railway, 2. The only other starter fell.

Spring Handicap.—Corn Cob, by Cobbity—sister to Lord Grenville, 1; Matong, 2; Cyrus, 3.

Flying Handicap.—Mrs. Flannery's Caroline, by Blairgowrie—Winnie, 1; Mr. Whitehouse's Peeping Tom, 2; Mr. M'Grath's Kipling, 3. A protest on the ground that the trainer of the winner had been disqualified was lodged. After evidence was heard the stewards postponed their decision to admit of further evidence being called.

Welter Handicap.—Mr. E. Ball's Sea Spray, by Invermay—Sea Breeze, 1; Mr. Boyd's Zeno II., 2; Corn Cob, 3.

Farewell Handicap.—Mr. Ball's Smokedrift, by Invermay—Alarm, 1; Mr. Wemenerton's Wag, 2; Mr. Whitehouse's Peeping Tom, 3.

COURSING.

BELMORE COURSING CLUB.

Three stakes will be decided at the Belmore Coursing Park this afternoon. Ample entries were received, the course is in good order, and the hares are in fine condition. Should there be any "saplings" on the ground, an extra stake will be placed on the programme.

DUBBO, Friday.

A coursing meeting was held on the Dubbo racecourse on Wednesday afternoon, under the auspices of the Dubbo Sporting Club. The Ladies' Bracelet, for eight all-aged dogs, was won by M. Manning's Marie Narelle. The Midget Stakes for fox-terriers was won by E. Sullivan's Bushranger.

MELBOURNE, Friday.

At the Mooney Valley plumpton to-day the Farewell Stakes were won by Messrs. Hodges Bros.' Duke M'Pherson, with A. B. Pearson's Pure Gold runner-up. The Final Stakes were won by Clarendon Bros.' Verse, with the same owners' Killess runner-up.

CYCLING.

LEAGUE OF WHEELMEN.

A meeting of the council was held on Thursday night in the league rooms. The Forbes Bicycle Club withdrew their application for a race meeting on November 11 in favour of the Molong Club. The League of Victorian Wheelmen wrote saying that in future cyclists requiring the railway concession from Melbourne to Sydney would have to first obtain a certificate from the secretary of the league in Sydney that they were competitors in certain races. The secretary was instructed to give sanction to any races that the Eight-hour Sports Committee might desire to place on their programme for Eight-hour Day. Messrs. J. Davis, G. Brown, and A. Sabiel were elected to fill vacancies on the council. The secretary pointed out that some cyclists resident in this colony join the Victorian League, and so take part in races held in any State in which the intercolonial agreement existed, and that the clause in the agreement which compelled cyclists to join the league of the State in which they reside should be put into force. This recommendation the council adopted.

NEW SOUTH WALES CYCLISTS' UNION.

The Cyclists' Union will to-day run a five miles handicap for two open orders for £1 1s and 10s 6d, over the Bunnerong-Maroubra course. The event is limited to the riders who assisted the union with the pacing in the recent 10 miles road championship. The race is to start at a point on the Bunnerong-road about a mile past the Kensington racecourse, and will finish in nearly the same place, the course being a circular one. The following officials will have control of the race:—Judges, Messrs. A. B. Smith, J. H. Harris, and F. W. C. Crane; starter, Mr. S. Clark, check starter, Mr. J. C. Cameron; referees, Messrs. J. L. Fraser, W. H. Brown, J. H. Smith, J. P. C. Grimes, and J. A. Branch; timekeepers, Messrs. S. J. Wyatt and W. T. Kerr. The union handicapper has declared the following starts:—R. Clark, O. H. Bell (scratch), D. Ellis (20 seconds), R. M. Pontey, O. E. Bell (30), O. V. Daly, J. Park (50), J. E. Foulis, E. Gillies, W. W. Goodall, A. H. Maidment (60), T. Wilson, J. Ashdown (70), M. A. Moss (90), A. W. Barton, J. Blestowe (110), A. H. Short (120).

25 MILES INTER-CLUB ROAD TEAM CHAMPIONSHIP.

This event, which is to take place on September 28, is causing considerable interest amongst many of the clubs of the union. The recent 10 miles' road championship was productive of good racing, and if that is to be taken as a guide as to the condition of the many competitors then the 25 miles race should approach record time. Each club will be allowed to send only one team of four riders, so that the best men will compete. The race is to be unpaced with a time limit of one hour and 40 seconds, and the course is an out and home one on the Western-road, starting and finishing a little out of Parramatta. The winning team and the first man home if not a member of that team will receive gold medals. Suburban, Redfern, Balmain, Glebe, Newtown, Burwood, Western Suburbs, Palace Emporium, Annandale, and Newcastle Federal clubs competed in the 10 miles championship, and all these clubs may also take part in the 25 miles championship, and there probably will be added the North Sydney and Sydney.

PADDINGTON CLUB.

The committee of the Paddington club has decided that the prizes for the recent road race shall be presented at the next meeting of the club. The members who were successful in passing the ambulance examination will also receive their certificates.

The week-end run is fixed for Ryde and Eastwood.

BURWOOD CYCLING CLUB.

A ten-mile unpaced club road race, for the benefit of Wednesday afternoon riders, took place over the Burwood-Bankstown course on Wednesday afternoon and resulted as follows:—A. Craw, handicap 2 minutes 5 seconds, 1—riding time, 30 minutes 5 seconds; W. Kain, handicap 1 minute 5 seconds, 2—riding time, 30 minutes 25 seconds; W. M'Kay, scratch, 3—riding time, 30 minutes 5 seconds. Fastest time, W. M'Kay and A. Craw, 30 minutes 5 seconds each. The slow time was on account of the boisterous wind that was blowing in the riders' faces during the first five miles. The winner rode a splendid race. Starting off the limit, he held his handicap to the finish and won easily.

NEW SPORTS GROUND.

Considerable progress is being made in preparing the new sports ground at Moore Park. The ground has already been enclosed, and certain drainage works are in progress. Mr. G. Fowle, one of the trustees, waited on a number of members of Parliament at Parliament House on Wednesday night with a view to seeking their support in order that an additional sum of money might be obtained from the Government for the purpose of building the track and other improvements. A deputation is to wait on the Minister for Lands on Friday, when he is to be asked to place £1000 on the Estimates in order to complete the ground for athletic purposes as soon as possible.

BALMAIN BICYCLE CLUB.

The club held a very successful social on Tuesday night at the Temperance Hall, Balmain. The committee have agreed to hold a tour to Richmond and Kurrajong on September 7 and 8 next, and it has been decided that the annual 10-mile club road race shall be held early in September. Messrs. H. A. Scott and J. Morgan offered prizes for the event. The run for next Saturday has been fixed for Belmore and Hurstville.

CYCLE PATHS.

The opening of the Pittwater cycle path, which has been postponed till Saturday next, September 7, promises to attract a large attendance of cyclists. Club runs are being fixed for that date, and much interest is being displayed in connection with the event. It is calculated that had it been fine on August 17 the gathering would have numbered about a thousand. Even in spite of the rain a number of people, unaware of the postponement, journeyed to Manly.

The recent enthusiastic meeting at Aarons' Exchange Hotel, at which the whole question of cycle paths was discussed, has had the effect of bringing the movement more closely under the notice of cyclists. Several speakers said frankly that they knew little or nothing of the subject and that they came to be enlightened. The speeches of several of those who addressed the meeting were full of information, and should be productive of good. A further active agent in the dissemination of the knowledge necessary to make cyclists realise what cycle paths mean to them was the pretty little American "Cycle Paths" book which was distributed among the audience. The Public Cycle Paths Committee ordered 500 copies of this booklet from the American League of Wheelmen, and this bright little publication is expected to prove a potent factor in educating the mass of riders in New South Wales on the question of paths and good roads.

Now that the Pittwater path is coming to be freely used, a word of caution is required to warn cyclists to keep to their right side of the road. As the path consists of a narrow strip on each side of the road, if two riders going in opposite directions meet on one strip a collision is inevitable. An accident of this kind occurred at the Manly end of the path a few days ago.

"Cyclist's-avenue" at Moore Park has been somewhat overshadowed of late by the renown of its more pretentious brother at Manly, but its claims have not been overlooked. At the present time it stands somewhat in need of repair, and during the coming week, if funds permit, a workman will be engaged to effect the necessary improvements.

On Tuesday last Mr. D. C. Williamson, hon. secretary Railway Service Bicycle club, while riding in Cyclist's-avenue, met two carts driving on the path. They were coming from the direction of Kensington, and entered the avenue through a gap in the fence. They proceeded along the path until nearly up to Cleveland-street, where they crossed the tramline into the Centennial Park. Mr. Williamson assumed from their appearance that they were Corporation carts, and he wrote to the Mayor, Sir James Graham, asking him to put a stop to this proceeding. If other cyclists took a similar interest in protecting their property, it would be easier to keep paths in proper order. In America stringent laws have been passed for the protection of cycle paths, and it would seem that legislation of the same kind is necessary here.

An interesting point raised at the meeting to discuss the question of a cycle tax, was how many cyclists there are in New South Wales. It was possible to affix the number affiliated through club membership to the Cyclists' Union and the League of Wheelmen, but the various speakers found themselves quite at a loss to gauge the number of unattached riders. It was generally admitted that the number was a large one. These cyclists do little or nothing to advance the welfare of the sport, and one advantage of the imposition of a tax would be that they would be made to contribute to the making of cycle paths which they share in common with their self-sacrificing fellow cyclists.

FOOTBALL.

NEW SOUTH WALES v. QUEENSLAND.

The concluding match for the season between this State and Queensland will be played at Brisbane to-day. Last year the two engagements in Sydney were won by New South Wales, and the two in Brisbane by Queensland. There is a big prospect of this season's programme resulting similarly. The matches in Sydney this year were won by 17 to 10 and 11 to 8; that at Brisbane last Saturday went to Queensland's credit by no fewer than 25 points to 11. The mid-week contest against Brisbane during the present tour was secured by New South Wales by 21 points to 13, and the success thus gained may do a lot towards reversing the decision of the opening match of the trip.

BRISBANE, Friday.

The following players have been selected to represent Queensland in the return match to be played against New South Wales at the Exhibition Ground to-morrow afternoon:—

Full back, A. Dennis; three-quarters, J. D. M'Lean, S. A. Spragg, L. Dixon, E. Christenson; half-backs, A. Gralton, L. Evans; forwards, J. J. Walsh, F. Nicholson, J. O'Connor, P. S. Carew, C. S. Freestone, D. Gillies, W. H. Austin, P. Thomas. Emergencies: Backs, P. Redwood, E. Lissner; forwards, A. Smith, W. J. Bennett.

METROPOLITAN TEAMS AT NEWCASTLE.

Newcastle will be visited to-day by two metropolitan teams, a first and a third grade. They are under the management of Mr. C. Matthews Drew. The important match will be against the Northern Union fifteen, and the other against a junior team. The first grade combination consists of:—Back, Howe; three-quarters, A. Fisher, R. Evers, Brown, and G. Roberts; halves, A. Johnston and D'Alpuget; forwards, Clarken, W. Barton, W. Flegg, Redgrave, E. Hooper, R. Harris, J. Bourke, and J. J. Garry. And the "third graders" are:—Back, Lawler; three-quarters, Golding, Taylor, Moore, and Warland; five-eighth, Franklin; half, Regan; forwards, Rogers, Abercrombie, Wareham, Englefield, C. Davies, Webster, Blair, and Boulton.

The Northern Union will be represented by:—Seniors: Full-back, J. Woolley; three-quarters, D. Woolley, W. Jones, E. Gallagher, and W. Pike; halves, S. Morris, C. Jones; forwards, A. M'Donald, W. Price, R. Derkeune, C. Ellis, J. Street, J. Shakespeare, Matthews, and Carpenter. Emergencies: back, S. Gallagher; forwards, J. Bernard. Juniors: Full-back, J. Matthews; three-quarters, Dix, Brien, Neve, Froome; halves, Fetherstone, Woods; forwards, Armstrong, Roberts, Jackson (2), Tonks, Young, Heffner, and Smith. Emergencies: Back, Bevan; forward, Smith.

NEW SOUTH WALES v. NEW ZEALAND.

The most important match of the tour of the New South Wales team in New Zealand will take place to-day at Wellington, and will be against a representative New Zealand team. So far the New South Wales combination has been defeated at Wellington, Invercargill, Dunedin, and Christchurch, having failed to secure a victory. Should success be its portion to-day much of the failure will be written off. The New Zealand team was chosen as follows:—W. H. M'Kenzie (Auckland), full-back; Smith (Auckland), M'Gregor (Thames), and Jacobs (Southland), three-quarters; Allen and Humphries (Taranaki), Wood (Wellington), and Duncan (Otago), halves; Dodd, (Wellington), Udy (Wairarapa), Drake and Cross (Canterbury), Cunningham (Thames), O'Dowda (Taranaki), and Purdue (Southland), forwards. The "Evening Post" of August 19 says:—"The team selected is very strong. M'Kenzie, full-back, of Auckland, was formerly a brilliant three-quarter for Otago. Smith, one of the centre three-quarters, recently announced that he would not seek a place in the team. M'Gregor, wing three-quarter, has been spoken very highly of, and the play of Jacobs, the other wing, is well known in Wellington. It has been urged against Jacobs that he is rather a five-eighth than a three-quarter, and there is certainly some justification for the objection. For the earlier part of the season in Wellington he played five-eighth for the Petone Club, and he has occupied the same position since his arrival at Invercargill. Only on one occasion has he played three-quarter for Wellington. In dropping the wing forward game the selectors have made a radical change in the Rugby game as played in New Zealand, and it is an open question whether it is for the better. Three halves will be played, with Duncan as extra back. Duncan will put the ball into the scrum, and when the New Zealand pack get possession he will drop back for offensive work. On occasions when the New South Wales team get the ball in the scrum Duncan will remain on the wing to smother the opposing half, if possible. The manner of play will practically be that which has been in vogue in Dunedin for years. Wood is a splendid attacking man, especially good at dribbling. Humphries, if he is playing in anything like his old form, is worth his place, and the same may be said of Allen. The forwards are a fine lot. Dodd and Udy, as front rankers, will be hard to beat; Cunningham, the lock, is a man with a big reputation; the supports, Drake and Cross, have been playing splendidly for Canterbury; and O'Dowda and Purdue, at the back, are well known as really good players. Four of the 15—Duncan, Smith, Allen, and Humphries—were members of the New Zealand team which visited Australia in 1897."

The injuries that have been sustained by some of the visiting team will prevent the best 15 being chosen. In our cable messages from Wellington published in yesterday's issue it was stated that heavy rain was falling and that the ground would be sodden for the match; this would favour the New Zealand team, who are heavier than the New South Wales men.

NEW SOUTH WALES v. SOUTHLAND.

The New Zealand Press Association's report of the New South Wales v. Southland match at Invercargill on August 21 was:—"The weather conditions were decidedly against the New South Wales team, and they failed to score, the game ending: Southland, 17 points (five tries and a goal), to nil. Rain fell all night, and although the ground was not in its worst condition, there was water over the part to which the game often gravitated. A steady wind blew in the line of the ground, and the visitors, winning the toss, took advantage of it. They were expected to score, but the local team battled against the wind, quite holding their own, and Maley managed to score a try. In the second spell they secured four tries, Jacobs getting two, Bain one, and Stead one, from the last of which E. Purdue kicked a goal. It was generally held that Bain should have been credited with another try. The play of the visitors was much admired, and had the ground been in better order the scores would probably have been more equal. Hughes, Lindsay, and W. A. Shortland did good work in the visitors' back division, C. Shortland being prominent among the forwards. The result does not indicate the merits of the team, as the ground was very greasy, but it seems probable that Southland would have won under any conditions. Some of the visitors who were knocked about in the Wellington match stood out, and the strongest team was not in the field. Jacobs, Bush, Maley, Purdue, Stead, and Jenkins were prominent for the home team. The visitors gained golden opinions for their style of play, and for the absence of protests and wrangling."

CROOKWELL, Thursday.

The protest lodged by Wheeo against Pejar Pirates has been dismissed. The latter is therefore the winner of this season's badges.

GOULBURN, Thursday.

In connection with the protest in the final of the football match, the Goulburn Club has declined to re-play the match, but will forward the protest to the Referees' Association for decision. The umpire blew his whistle unintentionally which enabled Wallaroo Club to score 5 points, thus winning the match.

WEST MAITLAND, Thursday.

The district schools' competition was advanced another stage yesterday. The Maitland High School and the Sacred Heart College played a draw at East Maitland, each team scoring three points after a splendid game. Eldridge scored a try for the school and Fogarty kicked a penalty goal for the college.

West Maitland Superior Public School defeated Cotterill School by 7 points to 6. Walker kicked a field goal and Holmwood scored a try for the winners, while Jennings and Laybut scored tries for Cotterill School.

Arrangements are being made for a representative match between combined teams from the Maitland and Newcastle schools.

CRICKET.

THE GRADE COMPETITIONS.

Until the dates for the inter-state programme for the season have been definitely decided upon, it will be impossible for the New South Wales Cricket Association to bring out its list of fixtures in the grade competitions. Home and home matches between this State and South Australia will be continued; it was proposed that for this season they should be suspended, but the question of the date for the Sydney engagement has not yet been settled. The two States could agree upon November 30, but the Victorian Association has to be considered. The following week was proposed for the South Australia-Victoria match, but the Austral Wheel Race is set down for December 7; now November 23 has been suggested, and if approved the South Australians will play the first match of their tour at Melbourne. The New South Wales Cricket Association is awaiting a reply, and as soon as it is received the grade fixture lists will be issued.

It is notified by advertisement that match wickets with practice wickets are to let on the Domain for the forthcoming season.

LIVERPOOL, Friday.

At the annual meeting of the Liverpool Independent Cricket Club arrangements were made for the coming season. It was decided to enter for the Washington H. Soul competitions, and to appoint a delegate to the Parramatta Cricket Association. Mr. J. Perry was appointed secretary, and Mr. C. Stubbs treasurer.

GOLF.

MARRICKVILLE GOLF CLUB.

The tie in the ladies' monthly medal match between Mrs. Cearns and Mrs. Holp was played off yesterday, and was won by Mrs. Cearns.

AUSTRALIAN GOLF CLUB.

The final tie of the championship of the above club between Messrs. H. Macneil and E. P. Simpson was played at Botany on Thursday, and resulted in a win for Mr. Macneil. At the end of the first round Mr. Macneil led by one up, but in the second round he went away from his opponent at the outset, taking four of the first five holes, and finally defeated Mr. Simpson 7 up and 6 to play. Mr. Macneil played his best game, while on the other hand it was one of Mr. Simpson's off-days.

ROYAL SYDNEY GOLF CLUB.

The final match in the ladies' championship of the above club was played at Bondi yesterday, when Mrs. G. E. Fairfax defeated Mrs. Macneil, six up and five to play.

TO-DAY'S FIXTURES.

The engagements for to-day are:—

Australian G. C. v. Combined Suburban Clubs, A and B teams, at Botany. Mr. W. S. Cook (Lindfield) will take the place of Mr. Fitzgerald, who is ill, in A suburban team. Mr. K. J. Newman is unable to play with the B team, and the vacancy will be filled by Mr. H. R. Lysaght, of Hunter's Hill. The suburban teams, who will be captained by Mr. James Kidd, will be entertained at luncheon by the A.G.C.

Dobroyde G.C.—Medal competition.

Hunter's Hill G.C.—Stroke competition.

Lindfield G.C.—Stroke competition.

ATHLETICS.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS' AMATEUR ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION.

The entries for the Public Schools' Amateur Athletic Association Sports Meeting, to be held at the Agricultural Grounds on Wednesday, September 18, close to-day at the committee rooms, 78 Castlereagh-street, at 1 p.m. Up to yesterday afternoon over 3000 entries had been received for the various athletic events, and nearly every school in the metropolitan and sub-metropolitan areas is participating in the various displays.

CHURCH OF ENGLAND GRAMMAR SCHOOL SPORTS.

The following are the handicaps for the Old Boys' 100 yards race, to be run at the Church of England Grammar School sports meeting on the Sydney Cricket Ground on Wednesday next:—

First Heat.—N. G. Levick, 2 yards (behind); H. V. Jaques, 5; A. J. Senior, 6; R. R. H. Moore, H. M. Barker, 7; A. G. Gunning, 9; G. H. Varnon, 10.

Second Heat.—A. D. Fisher, 1 yard (behind); C. E. Hale, 5; R. C. Wilson, A. E. Binny, 7; R. S. Reid, S. C. Binney, J. B. St. V. Welch, 8; E. R. Way, 10.

In addition to the events already arranged to take place at the East Sydney District A.A.C.'s sports on the Rushcutter Bay oval this afternoon, the Suburban B.C. will decide a 1-Mile Members' Handicap, for which post entries will be taken. His Excellency the Admiral has granted permission to the Royal Arthur Band to play a selection of music during the afternoon, and has also authorised the sailors of the different boats in the harbour to take part in the inter-ship tug-of-war and the naval sports.

A 100 yards' handicap will be decided at the Botany track this afternoon. The promoter, Mr. A. M'Grory, has been favoured with a large entry, and the sport promises to be very good. Information concerning the event may be obtained from advertisement in this issue.

LACROSSE.

The fixtures set down for to-day may set at rest the doubts which exist as to which direction the premiership in the A division will go for this season. The engagements are as follows:—

Glebe v. Balmain, North Sydney Oval, 2 p.m.

North Sydney v. Wentworth, North Sydney Oval, 3.30 p.m.

Newtown have received a forfeit. Granville-Mohican and University have byes.

BOWLS.

DINNER TO THE CHAMPION OF CHAMPIONS.

Mr. Joseph E. Bradbury, the winner of the champion of champions competition of New South Wales for two years in succession, was on Wednesday evening entertained at a dinner and smoke social by Mr. W. Rigg, president of the Victoria Park Club, of which club Mr. Bradbury is the hon. secretary. The gathering was a large and representative one, and included the following officers of the New South Wales Bowling Association:—Mr. W. M'Leod (vice-president), Mr. G. S. Arthur (vice-president), Mr. John Wheeler (hon. secretary), and Mr. H. Evans (hon. treasurer). There was also present Mr. James Fallick, M.L.A., and representatives from all the city and suburban bowling clubs, including Mr. J. Briton (president Petersham Club), Mr. Evans (secretary Waverley Club), Mr. F. Thomas, Mr. Alfred Horricks, Dr. West, Mr. S. Hordern, jun., and Mr. Bartlett (representing Mr. Samuel Hordern, the donor of the valuable trophy which comprised the prize for this competition), Mr. Hogue, M.L.A., Alderman Dolman, Dr. Magnus, Dr. M'Ilroy, Mr. A. J. Lander, and many others. The club's pavilion, in which the dinner was laid, was tastefully decorated, and presented an attractive appearance. Mr. Rigg, as president of the club, presided, having on his right the guest of the evening and Messrs. S. Hordern, jun., and Bartlett, and on his left Mr. M'Leod (vice-president of the New South Wales Bowling Association).

The toast of the evening, "The Champion of Champions," was proposed by the chairman, and was honoured with enthusiasm.

Mr. Bradbury was loudly cheered when he rose to respond. He thanked Mr. Rigg and the company for the honour they had done him that evening, an honour that he would not soon forget. He was pleased to have won the distinction. Although he would fight to retain the position next year he would not be at all disappointed if he lost it. (Cheers.)

Mr. J. E. Lee proposed "The New South Wales Bowling Association."

Mr. W. M'Leod (vice-president), Mr. G. S. Arthur (vice-president), Mr. Wheeler (secretary), and Mr. Evans (treasurer) responded.

LAWN TENNIS.

BADGE COMPETITIONS.

The following postponed matches are to be played to-day, in each case on the courts of the first-named club. One match in the "C" class—University v. Strathfield—has been further postponed:—

Class B.—Ashfield v. Wahgunyah No. 1, Kuring-gai v. North Sydney, Waverley v. Strathfield No. 2, Strathfield No. 1 v. Manly, Wahgunyah No. 2 v. Stanmore Institute, University No. 2 v. Neutral Bay, University No. 1 a bye. Class C.—Victoria Park No. 1 v. Waverley, Sydney Grammar School v. Kuring-gai, Summer Hill v. Victoria Park No. 2, Wahgunyah v. North Petersham, Centennial a bye.

INTER-STATE MATCH AND CHAMPIONSHIP TOURNAMENT.

Matters in connection with this meeting, which begins on September 27, are progressing favourably, and indications point to a successful fixture. Competition is keen amongst the local players for inclusion in the team, and New South Wales is sure to be strongly represented. The programme of the open events is now available, and in addition to the usual events a Singles Country Championship of New South Wales has been included, and it is to be hoped that this attempt to encourage country players will be rewarded by a good entry. Programmes and entry forms may be obtained from the office of the Sydney Cricket Ground, 60 Castlereagh-street, or the hon. secretaries of the Lawn Tennis Association and Sydney Lawn Tennis Club.

SYDNEY CLUB'S CAPTAINCY.

Some good play should be seen this afternoon, when most of the following matches are to be played:—Reading v. Carr, Keiynack v. Colquhoun, Fox v. Kidston, Irving v. Blaxland, Bull v. Edwards, Poidevin v. Liebius, Clark v. Wright, Gaden v. M'Kenzie.

N.S.W. v. QUEENSLAND.

The match between New South Wales and Queensland will be played at Brisbane to-day.

LONDON CHAMPIONSHIPS.

The final tie of the Gentlemen's Open Singles in the championship of London resulted in a win for G. P. Dixon, who defeated G. Greville by three sets to one (6-1, 6-0, 4-6, 6-4). In the final of the Ladies' Open Singles (championship of London), Mrs. Greville beat Miss E. W. Thompson by two sets to love.

BADGE COMPETITIONS.

The following are the best averages of pairs in the A and D badge matches just finished. Edwards and Wright win the trophies given by the Hon. H. E. Kater, M.L.C., for the pair doing best in the senior grade:—

	Matches Played.	Average.
CLASS A.
Edwards and Wright	6	22 1-6
Newman and Sharp	6	21 7-10
Irving and Swanston	4	21½
Poidevin and Jones	5	20 3-5
CLASS D.
Harris and Gregson	8	22⅞
A. H. and F. Goodman	6	22 1-6
Friend and Chapman	5	22
Kingsmill and R. Goodman	7	20 6-7

BOWRAL, Wednesday.

It has been decided to resuscitate the Bowral Lawn Tennis Club, and the following officers have been elected:—Patron, Mr. B. M. Osborne; president, Mr. T. H. Keigwin; vice-presidents, Messrs. C. W. Marsden and S. Dickinson; treasurer, Mr. E. Davis; secretary, the Rev. A. W. Parton.

BRISBANE, Friday.

The visiting tennis team was welcomed at Brisbane to-day by the Mayor in the presence of a large number of local players. The Mayor said that hitherto the visitors had been able to beat the local team every time, but he hoped this time the results would be different. The welcome was received with musical honours. Mr. Rice responded on behalf of the visiting team. This, he said, was the first time he had been able to come to Brisbane. If they did lose, they could assuredly go back feeling that they had been right royally received.

ROWING.

THE SCULLING CHAMPIONSHIP.

News by the last mail makes it clear that Towns and Gaudaur will row for the championship of the world next Wednesday, September 4, at Rat Portage, on Lake of the Woods, in Canada. For some time it was not at all clear whether the race was to be rowed on September 7, or a day or two before. George Towns, Tom Sullivan, and Harry Pearce, of Double Bay, left England on July 25, and would arrive at Rat Portage just about four weeks before the race day. They took a new double sculler boat, built by G. Sims, the dimensions of which are:—31ft. long, 16in. beam, 7¼in. deep amidships. This is indeed a "stumpy" of pronounced type, no doubt designed by Sullivan. It is an open secret that Towns and Sullivan will use this boat in any match they can arrange for a double sculling contest against the Americans. Up to the time of the championship race the boat will be used by Sullivan and Pearce in training Towns. Another boat taken over by Towns and company is a best sculler for the would-be champion to race in. This has been built by Clasper, and is 25ft. long, 11in. beam, with depths of 4½in. forward and 4in. aft. The midships depth is not given, but would probably be 6in. The boat is very light, and well built, and is very similar to the one used by Towns with such marked success against Barry and Wray. Towns was given a very hearty send off at Sullivan's hotel in Battersea, when a number of well-known rowers attended. Towns promised to return to England after his race with Gaudaur. This is evidently a new resolution, as his father understood that his son would come on to Sydney, and would spend Christmas at his old home at Dempsey Island, on the Hunter River. Mr. Gollan, who is believed to be Towns's chief backer, intended to reach Rat Portage two weeks before the race day. Towns, at the time of his leaving England, was in splendid health, and had been rowing remarkably well up to the time he left. Nothing further has been heard of Gaudaur, but his friends and he himself are evidently counting on a comparatively easy win. If he, a man of 44, can endure to the end each pushing along as Towns should give him, he must have a wonderfully sound heart and great lung power. As a rule a man at Gaudaur's time of life gets "winded" when worked at high pressure. The race to the turn, which is a mile and a half away from the start, should bring matters to a crisis. Local feeling, no doubt, will be strongly sympathetic for the Canadian.

The seventy-first annual contest for the Wingfield Sculls, which is the trophy associated with the amateur championship sculling race of England, was rowed a month ago over the Thames championship course, from Putney to Mortlake. Lieutenant C. V. Fox, the holder of the title, decided not to compete, entries being made by H. T. Blackstaffe (11st 3lb), St. G. Ashe (10st 9lb), and A. H. Cloutte (11st 1lb). Blackstaffe took the lead and drew away, leading three lengths at the old mile post, and steadily increased this to 12 lengths at the finish, with Ashe second, a couple of lengths in front of Cloutte. The time was 24 minutes 10 seconds. Blackstaffe was the champion in 1897, and in the following year was defeated by B. H. Howell, who put up the excellent record of 22 minutes 56 seconds. The winner has been a successful sculler for about seven years. The most remarkable men who have won the Wingfields Sculls are, A. A. Casamajor, who won in 1855 and in all for six years; F. L. Playford, who won in 1875 and each year to 1879; and Guy Nickalls, who held the sculls in 1887, 1888, 1889, and 1891, and then retired in favour of his brother. When Hanlan went to England in 1879 he had many rows with Playford, and pronounced him the best sculler in England, either amateur or professional. He was son of a champion, and nephew of another holder of the sculls. The race has been held annually since 1830, and is open only to English amateurs.

Edward Ayling, the founder of the great oar-making firm, died last month. He was greatly respected, and widely known. Oars made by the firm can be found almost everywhere, and are quite familiar to the amateurs in Australia and New Zealand.

YACHTING.

Dr. W. C. Williamson, of Parramatta, formerly owner of the 10-ton yacht Meteor, has recently purchased the Thisbe from Mr. Tooth. This craft was for many years owned by the late Mr. T. H. Kelly, and is a very comfortable cruiser with a fair turn of speed.

SAILING.

JOHNSTONE'S BAY CLUB.

The annual meeting of the Johnstone's Bay Sailing Club was held on Tuesday night at the clubroom, Pacific Hotel, Stephen-street, Balmain. The chair was occupied by Mr. E. H. Vale, and there was a large number of members present. Correspondence was received from Messrs. C. E. Mariette, R. C. Broomfield, Alderman A. M. Milne (Mayor of Balmain), J. H. Bradley, W. M'Pherson, Sir James Graham (Mayor of Sydney), Messrs. Arthur C. J. Wood, J. H. Harris, Dr. A. Burne, Sir William Lyne, accepting positions as vice-presidents, and in most cases enclosing donations towards the prize funds.

The annual report and balance-sheet were submitted by the secretary (Mr. A. E. Elliott), and adopted. The report showed that the past season, although not so successful as the previous one, was, so far as the dingies class was concerned and from a sailing point of view, one of the most successful in the club's history. The season was opened on September 29, 1900, and closed on April 2, 1901. During the year a programme of no less than 18 events was successfully carried out for prize money amounting to £63 5s, which was distributed as follows:—Fourteen-feet class, six races, £26; 10ft. class, seven races, £23 15s; 8ft. class, seven races, £13 10s. The winners were:—Fourteen-feet class: Ena (B. B. Lloyd), two firsts, one second, £7; Clio (W. Dunn), two firsts, one second, £7 10s; Cutty Sark (P. Cowie), one first, two seconds, £4; Rene (J. M. Firth), one first, one second, £3 10s; Pastime (W. Read), one second, £1; Othello (J. Mustin), three seconds, £3. Ten-feet class: Procella (H. C. Pritchard), two firsts, £4; Crescent II. (C. Dunn), two firsts, £4 10s; Planet (T. Cuneo), two firsts, one second, £6; Pheasant (N. Doran), one first, one second, one third, £3 10s; Zanita (J. Hartland), two seconds, £1 15s; Elma (J. Hawkes), two seconds, one third, £2 10s; Ina (A. S. Andrews), one second, one third, £1 10s. Eight-feet class: Britannia (J. Thompson), three firsts, £5; Inez (T. Timbrell), two firsts, three seconds, £4 10s; Valkyrie (J. Hartland), one first, two seconds, £2 10s; Zephyr (V. Holmes), one first, £1; Era (J. Mills), one second, 10s. The club also held championship races for the various classes, the following boats annexing the blue ribbon in each class:—Fourteen-footers, Clio (W. Dunn); 10-footers, Planet (T. Cuneo); 8-footers, Britannia (J. Thompson). The receipts for the season amounted to £132 3s 10d, and the expenditure £112 19s 3d, leaving a credit balance of £19 4s 7d. The donations from the senior officers of the club totalled £45 7s 6d. The report referred with extreme regret to the death of Mr. T. H. Kelly, who had occupied the position as vice-president to the club for many years.

The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows:—Patron, his Excellency the Governor-General; president, Mr. Q. L. Deloitte; commodore, Mr. A. W. Sommerville; vice-commodore, Mr. George Ellis; secretary, Mr. Alfred E. Elliott; treasurer, Mr. H. Brett; trustees, Messrs. E. H. Vale and W. Read; press correspondent, Mr. Alfred E. Elliott; handicapper, Mr. E. H. Vale. A vote of thanks was carried to the retiring officers.

SYDNEY DINGY CLUB.

ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual general meeting of the Sydney Dingy Club was held at Dodson's Hotel, Pitt and King streets, on Wednesday evening. Mr. R. King occupied the chair. The committee's annual report was read, and showed that the past season had been a very prosperous one for the club. The boats registered numbered 24, and 61 members were enrolled. During the season a programme of 18 races was carried out, the principal winners being:—Fourteen-footers: Othello (W. J. Holmes), Cutty Sark (P. Cowie), and Rene (J. M. Firth). Ten-footers: Planet (T. Cuneo), Ina (A. S. Andrews), and Elma (J. Hawkes). Eight-footers: Britannia (J. Thompson), Inez (T. Timbrell), and Valkyrie (A. West). The 14-footers' championship was annexed by Ena (B. B. Lloyd), the 10-footers' championship by Elma (J. Hawkes), and the 8-footers' "blue ribbon" by Inez (T. Timbrell). The committee regretted the death of Mr. T. H. Kelly, who had been a prominent supporter and vice-president of the club. The season was concluded with the annual ball, and as in previous years this proved a social success. The report thanked several gentlemen for their assistance during the year, and especially Messrs. Mark Foy, S. Hordern, and F. Josephson.

The hon. treasurer's balance-sheet set out that the receipts amounted to £151 7s 4d, of which £59 represented donations. The expenditure totalled £151 3s, the principal item being prizes, £68 10s. This was divided amongst the classes as follows:—14-footers, £33; 10-footers, £27 10s; and 8-footers, £8.

The chairman moved the adoption of the report and balance-sheet, and the motion was seconded by Mr. A. C. Welch and carried unanimously.

The following officers were elected for the forthcoming season:—Patron, Mr. Mark Foy; president, Mr. A. E. Cutler; commodore, Mr. H. D. Hill; vice-commodore, Mr. H. N. Colley; hon. treasurer, Mr. W. J. Goodall, hon. secretary, Mr. A. C. Welch; auditors, Messrs. A. E. Boyd and R. King; hon. measurer, Mr. F. Hollings; delegates to the New South Wales Sailing Council, Messrs. Colley, Welch, and Cowie; trustees, Messrs. Hill and King.

The Sydney Dingy Club's programme has been arranged as follows: October 26, 14ft., 10ft., 8ft., and 6ft. handicaps; November 30, 14ft. and 8ft. handicaps; December 7, 10ft. and 6ft. handicaps; January 11, 14ft. and 8ft. handicaps; January 25, 10ft. and 6ft. championships; February 8, 14ft. and 8ft., championships; February 22, 10ft. handicap; March 29, 14ft., 10ft., and 6ft. handicaps. A steamer is to be provided to follow each of the 14ft. events, and it is expected that more than usual interest will be centred in the contests between the 14-footers this season.

After two conferences the delegates of the Sydney Flying Squadron, Sydney Sailing Club, and Sydney Dingy Club have been unable to come to an agreement with reference to the arrangement of programmes for the ensuing season. The chief object with which the conferences were held was to allot the clubs named certain dates for holding races and providing steamers to follow them, so as to avoid the clashing of each club's fixtures. At the second conference the Dingey Club's representatives chose and applied for four dates, but these the other delegates would not agree to grant. The Sydney Flying Squadron and Sydney Sailing Club delegates required 10 and 8 suitable dates respectively, and ultimately agreed upon the following allotment, which, however, is subject to adoption by these clubs:—Sydney Flying Squadron: October 5 and 19, November 9, December 7, January 11 and 25, February 22, March 1, 15, and 29. Sydney Club: October 12, November 2 and 16, December 21, January 18, February 1, March 8 and 22.

SYDNEY HOMING PIGEON SOCIETY.

The second Grand National Race takes place to-day from Cootamundra, the distance by air line being 192 miles from Sydney. There are seven valuable prizes presented by Mr. S. Hordern. The number of competitors is 69. The branding and ringing of the pigeons took place last night at the Redfern Railway Station at 7 o'clock. The secretaries (Mr. John Wright and Mr. P. Conway) of the Sydney Homing Pigeon Society, assisted by their committee, got the birds away by the 9.20 mail train in charge of the official liberator, Mr. Charles Lucre.

PIGEON SHOOTING.

NEW SOUTH WALES GUN CLUB.

The last competition for the Federal Cup, presented by the club and to be won three times, took place at the above club's ground on Wednesday, and *Walter (27), killing 19 out of 20, secured the cup outright. The previous winners of the cup were:—*Walter (2), *Herbert (2), *Tierce, H. Riddick, *Locksley, and G. Modini. This cup, to which is attached a £2 sweepstake, and is shot off club handicap marks with penalties included, at 15 birds each, takes the form of a challenge trophy. The holder was G. Modini, and he was challenged by *Tierce, and 21 other members joined in. The shooting boundary being shortened to 40 yards, a good breeze and good birds tested the powers of the competitors, and none was able to kill the whole 15. *Walter (27) and *Vincent (29) scoring 14. In shooting off they killed to round 20, when *Vincent's bird escaped him, leaving *Walter to kill to win. This he did, and secured the cup. Other competitors:—Garratt (31), *Herbert (34), and F. W. Hill (29), 13; A. J. Usher (31) and Tierce (23), 11; G. R. M'Intosh (29) and *Jonah (21), 10; *Kosciusco (29) and P. Glenister (21), 9 out of 12; *Canuck (22), 8 out of 12; G. Modini (24), E. D. Clarke (26), *Charles (23), *Locksley (32), 8 out of 11; H. Riddick (24), W. F. Lawson (27), A. H. Emanuel (22), A. W. Eales (23), and L. N. Walford (26), 7 out of 11; H. J. Merewether (28), 6 out of 11; H. Roarty (25), 2 out of 7.

The fifth competition for the Queen's Trophy, to be won twice, took place at the N.S.W. Gun Club's grounds yesterday, and 21 competed. Previous winners were:—F. Kirby, *Warrane, L. Manchee, and G. Modini. At round 4 Messrs. P. Glennister (21), A. Hooke, jun. (26), and *Walter (28) had killed all; *Walter let his eighth escape and retired. Hooke missed his eleventh, leaving Glennister to kill to win, but this he failed to do. Hooke again missed on his twelfth, and this time Glennister killed, and secured a leg in. Other competitors:—*Beanly (27), 5; H. Garratt (31), E. D. Clarke (26), and Walford (28), 4; *Locksley (32), 3; *Vincent (29), 2; *Herbert (34), Roarty (25), G. R. M'Intosh (29), W. F. Lawson (27), and E. P. Andreas (21), 1; *Charles (23), *Canuck (22), *Orphan (22), A. H. Emanuel (22), *Bondi (21), G. Modini (24), and H. Riddick (24), nil.

Sweepstake shooting resulted as follows:—

First sweep: *Vincent (29), Roarty (25), Modini (24), and Glennister (22) divided, killing 6. Second sweep: *Walter (28), Modini (24), and *Bondi (21) divided, killing 10. Third sweep: *Vincent (29), *Locksley (32), Roarty (25), Glennister (22), Andreas (21), and Modini (24) divided, owing to darkness setting in, killing 4.

Entries for the champion match of New South Wales, to be shot for on Friday, September 6, close this day, Saturday.

*Assumed.

THE RAILWAY COMMISSIONERS.

NEW GOODS RATES.

The Railway Commissioners have issued a new merchandise and live stock rates book, which will come into operation as from the 2nd proximo.

The general conditions of carriage of goods have been rearranged, and a new class, entitled CC, introduced with a view to uniformity between the States, in accordance with an agreement entered into at the last conference between the Commissioners of the several States. The most important reductions appear in the rates for meat, wool, woolpacks, fencing wire, standards, droppers, leather (on the up journey), bags, and sugar, also in grain and flour on the down journey.

The following will indicate the extent to which the rates for wool have been reduced:—

To Darling Harbour from—

	Greasy. Old.	New.
Bathurst	£1 16 6	£1 14 9
Harden	2 13 9	2 8 3
Narromine	3 9 0	2 14 3
Moree	4 0 0	3 0 0
Bourke	4 0 0	3 3 9

Woolpacks and grain bags (new) have been largely reduced; for instance, the rate Sydney to Dubbo under the old classification was £1 19s 3d; it is now £1 3s. Fencing wire and standards have been reduced from the first to B class in 6-ton lots, a concession of 50 per cent. On flour, bran, pollard, and grain on the down journey a reduction of 20 per cent. has been made. In regard to sugar, a material change has been made, as shown by the rates for the following mileages:—

Miles.	Old, per ton.	New, per ton.
100	£1 16 8	£1 5 9
150	2 12 0	1 16 9
200	3 8 0	2 8 8
250	3 16 6	2 15 0

The charge for the carriage of stud stock has also been under review, and it has been decided to charge bulls, stallions, and mares conveyed by goods trains in either horse-boxes or cattle-trucks at 5d per mile up to 100 miles, and 3d for each succeeding mile, and when travelling from September to December for stud purposes freight will be charged in one direction only, i.e., they will be returned free.

The minimum distance for which the passes are to be issued to drovers has been altered from 60 to 30 miles.

Store stock which is carried at a reduction of 25 per cent. will in future be conveyed at the reduced rate for any distance, that is to say, the condition that the haul shall not be less than 100 miles has been abolished. In future also the rebate will be allowed after the stock has been depastured at its destination for one month instead of three months as heretofore.

SYDNEY LABOUR COUNCIL.

The weekly meeting of the Sydney Labour Council was held on Thursday night at the Trades Hall, Mr. T. Thrower presiding.

Messrs. G. Ware, T. Bavister, J. Tocknell, J. O. Moroney, J. R. Eddy, E. H. Hurley, and A. Vernon were appointed as a committee to draw up new standing orders.

A letter was received from the Hotel, Club, and Restaurant Employees' Association, stating that a deputation from the association had recently waited upon the Premier with a view towards securing better conditions of labour. The members of the Parliamentary Labour party had been asked to be present. None were in attendance, however, when the deputation went before the Premier. The association asked the council to take action in the matter, and to indicate to the Labour members where their duty lay in such a case. Messrs. H. Dierks and H. Club, delegates from the association, supported the request.

After discussion, in which Messrs. G. Ware, E. Riley, J. O. Moroney, and Richards took part, it was resolved to forward the letter to the Labour party with the request that the council might be furnished with an explanation.

Messrs. T. Torning and T. Hoskins were elected to the organising committee, to fill the vacancies caused by the retirement of Messrs. J. O. Moroney and H. Brier.

NEW SOUTH WALES CHAMBER OF MINES.

PAPER BY LIEUTENANT-COLONEL PARROTT.

The monthly meeting of the New South Wales Chamber of Mines was held at the rooms, Equitable-building, George-street, last night, when Lieutenant-Colonel Parrott, V.D., read a paper dealing with the mining outlook in the Transvaal. Mr. Harrie Wood occupied the chair.

Lieutenant-Colonel Parrott said that in spite of the difficulties encountered by the miners the Transvaal had become the greatest gold-producing country in the world. From 1886 to 1899 the production of gold was 22,477,544oz., and although it was known that there were extensive areas of mineral producing country it was mainly along the line of Witwatersrand that the industrial invasion had been able to make a prominent stand against the disabilities created by the late Government. The monopolies and concessions to favoured companies were explained at length, yet in spite of all drawbacks the value of gold produced for the first eight months of the year in which the war broke out exceeded £14,000,000. By the aid of a map the districts in which the various mineral deposits occurred—principally gold, diamond, coal, tin, copper, and iron—were carefully pointed out, and the values of the outputs of the great mines detailed. In concluding, the Colonel said that what appealed to him with peculiar force was the intimate connection between agriculture and mining, and under a freer form of government the outlook for the country was a very bright one indeed. A hearty vote of thanks was accorded to Lieutenant-Colonel Parrott at the conclusion of his paper.

SAMPLES AND PRICE LIST SENT TO COUNTRY RESIDENTS FREE OF CHARGE.

WE CAN'T AFFORD TO SELL POOR TEA—WHY?

Because we know that poor tea won't bring you back to our stores for more. Because we want to see you come back week after week, year after year for Lloyd's Tea. That's why! We sell good tea only, and charge a reasonable price for it. Years of experience rightly applied are the result of LLOYD'S TEA supremacy and low prices.

We buy only the fresh young leaves of undoubted purity. Every package is carefully examined and tested before being offered for sale. There are teas that are not half the time and money that are spent on LLOYD'S TEA, but the saving is not yours, and those who value purity and health DON'T DRINK THEM. Buy a small parcel of LLOYD'S TEA for a trial. If you don't think it worth what you paid for it, send it back and we'll return your money.

WE KNOW YOU CAN'T DO BETTER, and we doubt if you can do as well elsewhere. We make a specialty of fine teas, but we sell all good kinds as well. Our prices are 10d, 1s, 1s 3d, 1s 6d, 1s 9d lb. We don't stock common grades. Lloyd's 1s 3d and 1s 6d Teas offer special value.

WHEN

WE MEAN IT,

and we stick by it. We don't tell you one day that our goods only carry one small profit and the next day that our prices have been reduced to bedrock, because we should then expect you to wonder how we were going to get on without the "one small profit." Our Teas always carried a profit, and they carry a profit still. We reduced our prices because we adopted a vastly cheaper method of selling our teas, and we sell them cheaper by just so much as we saved. They are CHEAPER now than any other teas you can purchase, and they are BETTER, too.

GLOBE TEAS HAVE NO EQUAL IN QUALITY.

N.S.W. MASTER BAKERS' ASSOCIATION
TRADE NOTICE.
In consequence of the increased rates of labour and the advance in the price of flour, the MINIMUM PRICE OF BREAD to SHOPS, HOTELS, and RESTAURANTS is fixed at 2½d per 2lb. loaf, less 10 per cent., from MONDAY NEXT, the 2nd September, 1901.
The question of the ADVANCEMENT in the RETAIL PRICE will be fixed this evening, and advertised on MONDAY NEXT, the 2nd proximo.
By order of the Board of Management.
H. C. HILLIARD, Secretary.

ENGLISH AGENCY.—The undersigned, established in London upwards of 40 years, confine themselves exclusively to a General Commission Business, are well acquainted with Australian requirements, and possess special facilities for purchasing goods to the best advantage in the English and Continental markets.
Indents should be accompanied by cash remittances or bank letters of credit, to ensure full trade discounts. Account sales of produce under consignment rendered promptly, and net proceeds remitted or invested to order.
The shipping department has been largely developed of late years, and where indents are sent direct to manufacturers the shipment and insurance of the goods is effected upon the most favourable terms.

(6210) RICHARDSON and WRENCH, Ltd.

DARLING-STREET, BALMAIN.

BY ORDER OF THE MORTGAGEE.

THREE SHOPS and Dwellings, Nos. 627 to 631 DARLING-STREET, between Merton and Nelson streets, an improving position in this important thoroughfare. They are of brick, cemented, on stone, awnings in front, and each containing shop, 3 rooms, kitchen, and washshed.

RENTAL, £109 4s PER ANNUM.

RICHARDSON and WRENCH, Ltd., have received instructions to sell by auction, at the Rooms, on FRIDAY, 20th September, at 11.30 a.m.,

The above-mentioned Good Investment on Heights of Balmain. TORRENS TITLE. (6208)

BAYLEY PARK, APPIN-ROAD, CAMPBELLTOWN.

SEVENTY-FIVE ACRES, being a DELIGHTFULLY-SITUATED COTTAGE RESIDENCE, NINE ACRES HEALTHY VINEYARD, 420 TREES (a choice Orchard), FARM and GRASS PADDOCKS.

The approach from Appin-road is by a carriage drive, bordered by numerous ornamental trees and shrubs, lawns, paths, &c. The COTTAGE is of weatherboard, (lath and plaster interior), and contains hall, 9 rooms, pantry, besides kitchen, barns, stables, stockyard, and every convenience for a homestead.

A portion is growing crops, paddocks, waterholes, &c., all fenced in.

The VINEYARD should prove a valuable return to a diligent man, as the soil is splendid, and varieties of the best, in addition to which the property forms a charming country yet suburban residence, as Campbelltown (only 34 miles distant) enjoys frequent quick trains to and from the city.

A splendid road leads from railway station to the property, which is well known as Mr. Larcombe's, who only sells as he is leaving the colony.

INSPECTION INVITED.

RICHARDSON and WRENCH, Limited, will sell by public auction, at the Rooms, 98 Pitt-street, Sydney, on FRIDAY, 4th OCTOBER, 1901, at 11 o'clock,

Above pleasant property near Campbelltown. (6200)

CORNER of MERLIN and ERNEST STREETS, 4 Really CHOICE BUILDING SITES and STONE COTTAGE of 4 Rooms and Offices, for AUCTION SALE on the Ground, THIS DAY, at 3.30 p.m., in one line, or in lots having 40ft. Frontages.

TITLE, FREEHOLD.

Only 100 yards from Electric Trams. Opposite Cammeray Park and close to Reserve.

D. J. M'INTYRE and CO., Auctioneers, Junction-st., N. Sydney, 94 Pitt-st., Sydney, and at Mosman.

TUESDAY, 17th SEPTEMBER, AT GOULBURN, WINGELLO PARK ESTATE, COMPRISING 1278 ACRES of SPLENDID AGRICULTURAL AND RICH PASTORAL LAND, situated 24 miles from the city of Goulburn, 6 miles from Marulan, 5 miles from Wingello Platform, 23 miles from Moss Vale, ALSO 4 HOURS' RAILWAY TRAVELLING FROM SYDNEY.

We sell by auction Mr. Alfred W. Holt's Right, Title, and Interest in and to "Wingello Park," to which he has an absolute unexpired lease of about 82 years from the late Hon. Thomas Holt. THE ONLY CHARGE AGAINST THE PROPERTY IS £100 PER ANNUM, WHICH ONLY COMMENCES FROM AND AFTER THE DEATH OF MR. ALFRED W. HOLT.

FINLAY and CO. (Goulburn) have received instructions from Alfred W. Holt, Esq., to sell by auction, at their Rooms, Belmore-square, Goulburn, on TUESDAY, 17th SEPTEMBER, at 11 o'clock,

HIS RIGHT, TITLE, and INTEREST IN AND TO THE UNEXPIRED PORTION OF A DIRECT LEASE OF 99 YEARS to him from the late Hon. Thomas Holt, 82 YEARS OF WHICH HAS TO RUN, with a CHARGE OF ONLY £100 A YEAR, COMMENCING FROM BUT NOT UNTIL Mr. ALFRED WM. HOLT'S DEATH.

THIS MAGNIFICENT PROPERTY COMPRISES an area of 1278 acres of splendid agricultural and pastoral property, including 50 acres of conditional purchase, which C.P. will pass absolutely to the purchaser.

WINGELLO PARK IS WATERED BY THE URINGALLA CREEK, which meanders right through the Estate. The whole is entirely fenced in, and subdivided into various-sized paddocks, the fencing throughout being in first-class order. The buildings comprise a beautiful stone villa residence of 10 rooms, large kitchen of stone, bath and store rooms, a very large wooden fruit-storage house, large stone barn with shearing floor, granary floor, and stables attached, implement house, cattle, sheep, and pig yards, and every convenience and appliance for the comfort and well working of the property. "In this respect it is perfect." The Homestead is beautifully situated, and attached thereto is an orchard of about 8 acres of very choice and varied fruits, apples of the very best kind predominating.

IT WOULD BE DIFFICULT TO REALISE a more perfect and attractive property. The Homestead and Appointments are all that a Family could desire—"perfect, solid, and good," without being lavish—while the Estate of itself, from its proximity to the Railway Line and short distance to the Metropolis or Goulburn market, every acre of it being good for the production of fruits, the fattening or breeding of sheep, the piggery interest, which has yielded such splendid results, renders it one of the best and most profitable investments that has been offered for years; or as a depot for stock or growing purebred sheep or horses it is all that can be desired, whilst for dairying it is unequalled.

INSPECTION CAN BE MADE FROM MARULAN, 6 miles from Wingello Park. Trains pass through twice a day from Sydney and Goulburn.

Terms, Cash, or One-third Cash; Balance at 2 and 4 years at 5 per cent.

CORSETS.

There is nothing in Ladies' Wearables more worthless than a Damaged Corset.
The collapse of the "stiffening," the perished elastic, the crumpling or ruffling of the "shape," the rusting of the steel, and twisting of the whalebone, any or either of these defects make a pair of Corsets absolutely worthless.
OUR CORSETS ARE FRESH,
being just opened from the cases, direct from the Manufacturers.
LADIES!!! Buy Fresh Corsets. YOU KNOW HOW MUCH COMFORT DEPENDS on their perfection.
OUR PERFECT CORSETS
we are selling at the following prices:—

ADVERTISEMENTS.

All Advertisements charged to account must bear the authorisation of insertion. The number of times they are to appear must be stated, otherwise they will be inserted till countermanded. No verbal communication can be attended to.
While every care is exercised, the proprietors do not hold themselves responsible for non-insertion of advertisements through accident or otherwise; and they reserve to themselves the right of omitting advertisements received and paid for in the usual course of business if they appear to be objectionable.
For the convenience of advertisers, replies to advertisements may be sent to the Herald Office, Hunter-street; also the Branch Office, King-street; but the proprietors do not accept any responsibility in this respect.
Advertisements are classified as far as possible for the convenience of readers. Advertisers will oblige by indicating, in the first line of the manuscript or order, under which particular heading the advertisement should appear. While every care is taken in classification, no responsibility is accepted.
Advertisers in the country can remit payment by Cheque, Money Order, Postal Notes, or Postage Stamps.
Births, Deaths, and Marriages, 3s each insertion. This includes publication in the Sydney Mail.
Notices of BIRTHS and DEATHS cannot be inserted unless this journal unless endorsed with the name and address of the person by whom they are sent.
Notices of MARRIAGES cannot be inserted unless certified as correct by the officiating Minister or Registrar.
This rule is rendered necessary in consequence of the ill and malicious notices having been sent for publication for the purpose of annoying respectable persons.
IN MEMORIAM advertisements and RETURN THANKS, 3s each insertion.
The Pillar Box at Redfern Railway Station for receipt of advertisements and communications is cleared every evening at 8.30, 9.30, and 10.30.
